16 For, lo, I will raise up a shepherd in the land, which shall not visit those that be ⁵cut off, neither shall seek the young one, nor heal that that is broken, nor feed that that standeth still: but he shall eat the flesh of the fat, and tear their claws in pieces.

17 ⁶Woe to the idol shepherd that leaveth the flock! the sword shall be upon his arm, and upon his right

³ The “poor of the flock”: i.e. the “remnant according to the election of grace” (Rom. 11. 5); those Jews who did not wait for the manifestation of Christ in glory, but believed on Him at His first coming, and since. Of them it is said that they “waited upon Me,” and “knew.” Neither the Gentiles nor the Gentile church, corporately, are in view: only the believers out of Israel during this age. The church, corporately, is not in O.T. prophecy (Eph. 3. 8-10).

5 And the governors of Judah shall say in their heart, The inhabitants of Jerusalem shall be my strength in the LORD of hosts their God.

6 ^eIn that day will I make the governors of Judah like an hearth of fire among the wood, and like a torch of fire in a sheaf; and they shall devour all the people round about, on the right hand and on the left: and Jerusalem shall be inhabited again in her own place, even in Jerusalem.

7 The LORD also shall save the tents of Judah first, that the glory of the house of David and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem do not magnify themselves against Judah.

8 In that day shall the LORD defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and he that is feeble among them at that day shall be as David; and the house of ²David shall be as God, as the angel of the LORD before them.

9 And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will seek to destroy

² Kingdom in O.T., Summary:

I. Dominion over the earth before the call of Abraham.

(1) Dominion over creation was given to the first man and woman (Gen. 1. 26, 28). Through the fall this dominion was lost, Satan becoming "prince of this world" (Mt. 4. 8-10; John 14. 30).

(2) After the flood, the principle of human government was established under the covenant with Noah (Gen. 9. 1, note). Biblically this is still the charter of all Gentile government.

II. The Theocracy in Israel. The call of Abraham involved, with much else, the creation of a distinctive people through whom great purposes of God toward the race might be worked out (see "Israel" Gen. 12. 1-3; Rom. 11. 26, summary). Among these purposes is the establishment of a universal kingdom. The order of the development of the Divine rule in Israel is:

(1) The mediatorship of Moses (Ex. 3. 1-10; 19. 9; 24. 12).

(2) The leadership of Joshua (Josh. 1. 1-5).

(3) The institution of Judges (Jud. 2. 16-18).

(4) The popular rejection of the Theocracy, and choice of a king—Saul (1 Sam. 8. 1-7; 9. 12-17).

III. The Davidic kingdom.

(2) The giving of the Davidic Covenant (2 Sam. 7. 8-16; Psalms. 89. 3, 4, 20, 21, 28-37).

all the nations that come against Jerusalem.

The Spirit poured out: the pierced One revealed to the delivered remnant.

10 And I will pour upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the "spirit of grace and of supplications: and they shall look upon me ^bwhom they have pierced, and they shall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his firstborn.

The repentance of the remnant.

11 In that day shall there be a great mourning in Jerusalem, as the mourning of Hadadrimmon in the valley of Megiddon.

12 And the land shall mourn, every family apart; the family of the house of David apart, and their wives apart; the family of the house of Nathan apart, and their wives apart;

(3) The exposition of the Davidic Covenant by the prophets (Isa. 1. 25, 26 to Zech. 12. 6-8. See marg. Isa. 1. 25, "Kingdom" and refs.). The kingdom as described by the prophets is:

(a) Davidic, to be established under an heir of David, who is to be born of a virgin, therefore truly man, but also "Immanuel," "the mighty God, the everlasting Father, the Prince of Peace" (Isa. 7. 13, 14; 9. 6, 7; 11. 1; Jer. 23. 5; Ezk. 34. 23; 37. 24; Hos. 3. 4, 5).

(b) A kingdom heavenly in origin, principle, and authority (Dan. 2. 34, 35, 44, 45), but set up on the earth, with Jerusalem as the capital (Isa. 2. 2-4; 4. 3, 5; 24. 23; 33. 20; 62. 1-7; Jer. 23. 5; 31. 38-40; Joel 3. 1, 16, 17).

(c) The kingdom is to be established first over regathered, restored, and converted Israel, and is then to become universal (Psa. 2. 6-8; 24. 22; Isa. 1. 2, 3; 11. 1, 10-13; 60. 12; Jer. 23. 5-8; 30. 7-11; Ezk. 20. 33-40; 37. 21-25; Zech. 9. 10; 14. 16-19).

(d) The moral characteristics of the kingdom are to be righteousness and peace. The meek, not the proud, will inherit the earth; longevity will be greatly increased; the knowledge of the LORD will be universal; beast ferocity will be removed; absolute equity will be enforced; and outbreking sin visited with instant judgment; while the enormous majority of earth's inhabitants will be saved (Isa. 11. 4, 6-9; 65. 20; Psa. 2. 9; Isa. 26. 9; Zech. 14. 16-21). The N.T. (Rev. 20. 1-5) adds a detail of immense significance—the removal of Satan from the scene. It is impossible to conceive to what heights of spiritual, intellectual, and physical perfection humanity will attain in this, its coming age of righteousness and peace (Isa. 11. 4-9; Psa. 72. 1-10).

(e) The kingdom is to be established by power, not persuasion, and is to follow divine judgment upon the Gentile world-powers (Psa. 2. 4-9; Isa. 9. 7; Dan. 2. 35, 44, 45; 7. 26, 27; Zech. 14. 1-19). See Zech. 6. 11, note.

(f) The restoration of Israel and the establishment of the kingdom are connected with an advent of the Lord, yet future (Deut. 30. 3-5; Psa. 2. 1-9; Zech. 14. 4).

(g) The chastisement reserved for disobedience in the house of David (2 Sam. 7. 14; Psa. 89. 30-33) fell in the captivity and world-wide dispersion, since which time, though a remnant returned under prince Zerubbabel, Jerusalem has been under the overlordship of Gentiles. But the Davidic Covenant has not been abrogated (Psa. 89. 33-37), but is yet to be fulfilled (Acts 15. 14-17).

his father and his mother that begat him shall say unto him, Thou shalt not live; for thou speakest lies in the name of the LORD: and his father and his mother that begat him shall thrust him through when he prophesieth.

4 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the prophets shall be ashamed every one of his vision, when he hath prophesied; neither shall they wear a rough garment to deceive:

5 But he shall say, I am no prophet, I am an husbandman; for man taught me to keep cattle from my youth.

Résumé: Result of the Gentile invasion under the Beast.

8 ¹And it shall come to pass, that in all the land, saith the LORD, two parts therein shall be cut off and die; but the third shall be left therein.

9 And I will bring the third part through the fire, and will refine them as silver is refined, and will try them as gold is tried; they shall call on my name, and I will hear them: I will say, It is my people: and they shall say, The LORD is my God.

CHAPTER 14.

Summary of events at the return of the LORD in glory: (1) Armageddon.

BEHOLD, the day of the LORD cometh, and thy spoil shall be divided in the midst of thee.

2 For I will gather all nations against Jerusalem to battle; and the city shall be taken, and the houses rifled, and the women ravished; and half of the city shall go forth into captivity, and the residue of the people shall not be cut off from the city.

3 Then shall the LORD go forth, and fight against those nations, as when he fought in the day of battle.

(2) The visible return in glory: physical changes in Palestine (vs. 4, 10).

4 And his feet shall stand in that day upon the mount of Olives, which is before Jerusalem on the east, and the mount of Olives shall cleave in the midst thereof toward the east and toward the west, and there shall be a very great valley; and half of the mountain shall remove toward the north, and half of it toward the south.

5 And ye shall flee to the valley of the mountains; for the valley of the mountains shall reach unto Azal: yea, ye shall flee, like as ye fled from before the earthquake in the days of Uzziah king of Judah: and the LORD my God shall come, and all the saints with thee.

6 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the light shall not be clear, nor dark:

7 But it shall be one day which shall be known to the LORD, not day, nor night: but it shall come to pass, that at evening time it shall be light.

² Verse 5 implies that the cleavage of the Mount of Olives is due to an earthquake, and this is confirmed by Isa. 29. 6; Rev. 16. 19. In both passages the context, as in Zech. 14. (see vs. 1-3) associates the earthquake with the Gentile invasion under the Beast (Dan. 7. 8; Rev. 19. 20). Surely, in a land seamed by seismic disturbances it should not be difficult to believe that another earthquake might cleave the little hill called the Mount of Olives. Not one of the associated events of Zech. 14. occurred at the first coming of Christ, closely associated though He then was with the Mount of Olives.

(3) The river of the sanctuary. (Cf. Ezk. 47. 1-12; Rev. 22. 1, 2.)

8 And it shall be in that day, that living waters shall go out from Jerusalem; half of them toward the former sea, and half of them toward the hinder sea: in summer and in winter shall it be.

(4) The kingdom set up on the earth.

9 And the LORD shall be king over all the ¹earth: in that day shall there be one LORD, and his name one.

10 All the land shall be turned as a plain from Geba to Rimmon south of Jerusalem: and it shall be lifted up, and inhabited in her place, from Benjamin's gate unto the place of the first gate, unto the corner gate, and from the tower of Hananeel unto the king's winepresses.

11 And men shall dwell in it, and there shall be no more utter destruction; but Jerusalem shall be safely inhabited.

12 And this shall be the plague wherewith the LORD will smite all the people that have fought against Jerusalem; Their flesh shall consume away while they stand upon their feet, and their eyes shall consume away in their holes, and their tongue shall consume away in their mouth.

13 And it shall come to pass in that day, that a great tumult from the LORD shall be among them; and they shall lay hold every one on the hand of his neighbour, and his hand shall rise up against the hand of his neighbour.

14 And Judah also shall fight at 15 And so shall be the plague of the horse, of the mule, of the camel, and of the ass, and of all the beasts that shall be in these tents, as this plague.

16 And it shall come to pass, that every one that is left of all the nations which came against Jerusalem shall even go up from year to year to worship the ³King, the LORD of hosts, and to keep the feast of tabernacles.

17 And it shall be, that whoso will not come up of all the families of the earth unto Jerusalem to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, even upon them shall be no rain.

18 And if the family of Egypt go not up, and come not, that have no rain; there shall be the plague, wherewith the LORD will smite the heathen that come not up to keep the feast of tabernacles.

19 This shall be the punishment of Egypt, and the punishment of all nations that come not up to keep the feast of tabernacles.

20 In that day shall there be upon the ⁴bells of the horses, ⁵HOLINESS UNTO THE LORD; and the pots in the LORD'S house shall be like the bowls before the altar.

21 Yea, every pot in Jerusalem and in Judah shall be holiness unto the LORD of hosts: and all they that sacrifice shall come and take of them, and see the therein: and in that day there shall be no more the ⁶Canaanite in ⁷the house of the LORD of hosts.

MALACHI, "my messenger," the last of the prophets to the restored remnant after the 70 years' captivity, probably prophesied in the time of confusion during Nehemiah's absence (Neh. 13. 6). The burden of his message is, the love of Jehovah, the sins of the priests and of the people, and the day of the LORD. Malachi, like Zechariah, sees both advents, and predicts two forerunners (Mal. 3. 1 and 4. 5, 6). As a whole, Malachi gives the moral judgment of God on the remnant restored by His grace under Ezra and Nehemiah. He had established His house among them, but their worship was formal and insincere.

The book is in four natural divisions: I. The love of God for Israel, 1. 1-5. II. The sins of the priests rebuked, 1. 6-2. 9. III. The sins of the people rebuked, 2. 10-3. 18. IV. The day of the LORD, 4. 1-6.

CHAPTER 1.

Part I. The love of God for Israel (vs. 1-5).

THE burden of the word of the LORD to Israel by Malachi.

2 I have ^aloved you, saith the LORD. Yet ye say, Wherein hast thou loved us? Was not Esau Jacob's brother? saith the LORD: yet I loved ^bJacob,

3 And I hated Esau, and laid his mountains and his heritage waste for the dragons of the wilderness.

4 Whereas ^cEdom saith, We are impoverished, but we will return and build the desolate places; thus saith the LORD of hosts, They shall build, but I will throw down; and they shall call them, The border of wickedness, and, The people against whom the LORD hath indignation for ever.

5 And your eyes shall see, and ye shall say, ^dThe LORD will be magnified from the border of Israel.

Part II. The sins of the restoration priests (Mal. 1. 6-2. 9).

6 A son ^ehonoureth his father, and a servant his master: ^fif then I be a ^gfather, where is mine honour? and if I be a master, where is my fear? saith the LORD of hosts unto you, O priests, that despise my name. And ye say, Wherein have we despised thy name?

say, The table of the LORD is contemptible.

8 And if ye offer the blind for sacrifice, is it not evil? and if ye offer the lame and sick, is it not evil? offer it now unto thy governor; will he be pleased with thee, or accept thy person? saith the LORD of hosts.

9 And now, I pray you, beseech God that he will be gracious unto us: this hath been by your means: will he regard your persons? saith the LORD of hosts.

10 Who is there even among you that would shut the doors for nought? neither do ye kindle fire on mine altar for nought. I have no pleasure in you, saith the LORD of hosts, neither will I accept an offering at your hand.

11 ^hFor from the rising of the sun even unto the going down of the same my name shall be great among the Gentiles; and in every place incense shall be offered unto my name, and a pure offering: for my name shall be great among the heathen, saith the LORD of hosts.

12 But ye have profaned it, in that ye say, The table of the LORD is polluted; and the fruit thereof, even his meat, is contemptible.

13 Ye said also, Behold, what a weariness is it! and ye have snuffed at it, saith the LORD of hosts; and ye brought that which was torn, and the lame, and the sick; thus ye brought an offering: should I accept this of your hand? saith the LORD.

¹ Cf. Isa. 63. 16, note. The relationship here is national, not personal (Jer. 3. 18, 19); here, apparently, the Jews were calling Jehovah "Father," but yielding Him no filial obedience. See John 8. 37-39; Rom. 9. 1-8.

14 But cursed be the deceiver, which hath in his flock a male, and voweth, and sacrificeth unto the Lord a corrupt thing: for I am a great King, saith the LORD of hosts, and my name is dreadful among the heathen.

AND now, O ye priests, this commandment is for you.

2 If ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory unto my name, saith the LORD of hosts, I will even send a curse upon you, and I will ^bcurse your blessings: yea, I have cursed them already, because ye do not lay it to heart.

3 Behold, I will corrupt your seed, and spread dung upon your faces, even the dung of your solemn feasts; and one shall take you away with it.

4 And ye shall know that I have sent this commandment unto you, that my covenant might be with Levi, saith the LORD of hosts.

5 My covenant was with him of life and peace; and I gave them to him for the fear wherewith he feared me and was afraid before my name.

6 The law of truth was in his mouth, and iniquity was not found in his lips: he walked with me in peace and equity, and did turn many away from iniquity.

7 For the priest's lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the law at his mouth: for he is the messenger of the LORD of hosts.

8 But ye are departed out of the way; ye have caused many to stumble at the law; ye have corrupted the covenant of Levi, saith the LORD of hosts.

B.C. 397.

9 Therefore have I also made you contemptible and base before all the people, according as ye have not kept my ways, but have been partial in the law.

Part III. (Mal. 2. 10-3. 18.) The sins of the people: (1) sins against brotherhood.

10 ^aHave we not all one father? hath not one God created us? why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother, by profaning the covenant of our fathers?

(2) Sins against God in the family.

11 Judah hath dealt treacherously, and an abomination is committed in Israel and in Jerusalem; for Judah hath profaned the holiness of the LORD which he loved, and hath married the daughter of a strange god.

12 The LORD will cut off the man that doeth this, the master and the scholar, out of the tabernacles of Jacob, and him that offereth an offering unto the LORD of hosts.

13 And this have ye done again, covering the altar of the LORD with tears, with weeping, and with crying out, insomuch that he regardeth not the offering any more, or receiveth it with good will at your hand.

14 Yet ye say, Wherefore? Because the LORD hath been witness between thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast dealt treacherously: yet is she thy companion, and the wife of thy covenant.

15 And did not he make one? Yet had he the residue of the ^espirit. And wherefore one? That he might seek a godly seed. Therefore take heed to your spirit, and let none deal treacherously against the wife of his youth.

2 But who may abide the day of his coming? and who shall stand when he appeareth? for he is like a refiner's fire, and like fullers' soap:

3 And he shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver: and he shall purge the sons of Levi, and purify them as gold and silver, that they may offer unto the LORD an offering in righteousness.

4 Then shall the offering of Judah and Jerusalem be pleasant unto the LORD, as in the days of old, and as in former years.

N.T.) by complying with which any one may receive the Spirit. The indwelling of every believer by the abiding Spirit is a N.T. blessing consequent upon the death and resurrection of Christ (John 7. 39; 16. 7; Acts 2. 33; Gal. 3. 1-6). (5) The O.T. contains predictions of a future pouring out of the Spirit upon Israel (Ezk. 37. 14; 39. 29), and upon "all flesh" (Joel 2. 28, 29). The expectation of Israel, therefore, was twofold—of the coming of Messiah-Immanuel, and of such an effusion of the Spirit as the prophets described. See Mt. 1. 18, refs.

1 The f.c. of verse 1 is quoted of John the Baptist (Mt. 11. 10; Mk. 1. 2; Lk. 7. 27), but the second clause, "the Lord whom ye seek," etc., is nowhere quoted in the N.T. The reason is obvious: in everything save the fact of Christ's first advent, the latter clause awaits fulfilment (Hab. 2. 20). Verses 2-5 speak of judgment, not of grace. Malachi, in common with other O.T. prophets, saw both advents of Messiah blended in one horizon, but did not see the separating interval described in Mt. 13. consequent upon the rejection of the King (Mt. 13. 16, 17). Still less was the Church-age in his vision (Eph. 3. 3-6; Col. 1. 25-27). "My messenger" (v. 1) is John the Baptist; the "messenger of the covenant" is Christ in both of His advents, but with especial reference to the events which are to follow His return.

CLASS.	ENGLISH FORM.	HEBREW EQUIVALENT.
Primary	{ God LORD Lord	El, Elah, or Elohim (Gen. 1.1, note) Jehovah (Gen. 2.4, note) Adon or Adonai (Gen. 15.2, note)
Compound (with El = God)	{ Almighty God Most High, or most high God everlasting God	El Shaddai (Gen. 17.1, note) El Elyon (Gen. 14.18, note) El Olam (Gen. 21.33, note)
Compound (with Jehovah = LORD)	{ LORD God LORD GOD LORD of hosts	Jehovah Elohim (Gen. 2.4, note) Adonai Jehovah (Gen. 15.2, note) Jehovah Sabaoth (1 Sam. 1.3, note)

The Trinity is suggested by the three times repeated groups of threes. This is not an arbitrary arrangement, but inheres in the O.T. itself.

This revelation of God by His names is invariably made in connection with some particular need of His people, and there can be no need of man to which these names do not answer as showing that man's true resource is in God. Even human failure and sin but evoke new and fuller revelations of the divine fulness.

(2) The O.T. Scriptures reveal the existence of a Supreme Being, the Creator of the universe and of man, the Source of all life and of all intelligence, who is to be worshipped and served by men and angels. This Supreme Being is One, but, in some sense not fully revealed in the O.T., is a unity in plurality. This is shown by the plural name, Elohim, by the use of the plural pronoun in the interrelation of Deity as evidenced in Gen. 1.26; 3.22; Psa. 110.1; and Isa. 6.8. That this plurality is really a Trinity is intimated in the three primary names of Deity, and in the threefold ascription of the Seraphim in Isa. 6.3. That the interrelation of Deity is that of Father and Son is directly asserted in Psa. 2.7 (with Heb. 1.5); and the Spirit is distinctly recognized in His personality, and to Him are ascribed all the divine attributes (e.g. Gen. 1.2; Num. 11.25; 24.2; Jud. 3.10; 6.34; 11.29; 13.25; 14.6, 19; 15.14; 2 Sam. 23.2; Job 26.13; 33.4; Psa. 106.33; 139.7; Isa. 40.7; 59.19; 63.10. See Mal. 2.15, note). (3) The future incarnation is intimated in the theophanies, or appearances of God in human form (e.g. Gen. 18.1, 13, 17-22; 32.24-30), and distinctly predicted in the promises connected with redemption (e.g. Gen. 3.15) and with the Davidic Covenant (e.g. Isa. 7.13, 14; 9.6, 7; Jer. 23.5, 6).

3 And ye shall tread down the wicked; for they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet in the day that I shall do this, saith the LORD of hosts.

Elijah to come again before the day of the LORD. (Cf. Rev. 11.3-6.)

5 Behold, I will send you Elijah the prophet before the coming of the great and dreadful day of the LORD:

6 And he shall turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers, lest I come and smite the earth with a curse.

The revelation of Deity in the N.T. so illuminates that of the O.T. that the latter is seen to be, from Genesis to Malachi, the foreshadowing of the coming incarnation of God in Jesus the Christ. In promise, covenant, type, and prophecy, the O.T. points forward to Him. (4) The revelation of God to man is one of authority and of redemption. He requires righteousness from man, but saves the unrighteous through sacrifice; and in His redemptive dealings with man all the divine persons and attributes are brought into manifestation. The O.T. reveals the justice of God equally with His mercy, but never in opposition to His mercy. The flood, e.g., was an unspeakable mercy to unborn generations. From Genesis to Malachi He is revealed as the seeking God who has no pleasure in the death of the wicked, and who heaps up before the sinner every possible motive to persuade to faith and obedience. (5) In the experience of the O.T. men of faith their God inspires reverence but never slavish fear; and they exhaust the resources of language to express their love and adoration in view of His loving-kindness and tender mercy. This adoring love of His saints is the triumphant answer to those who pretend to find the O.T. revelation of God cruel and repellent. It is in harmony, not contrast, with the N.T. revelation of God in Christ. (6) Those passages which attribute to God bodily parts and human emotions (e.g. Ex. 33. 11, 20; Deut. 29. 20; 2 Chr. 16. 9; Gen. 6. 6, 7; Jer. 15. 6) are metaphorical and mean that in the infinite being of God exists that which answers to these things—eyes, a hand, feet, etc.; and the jealousy and anger attributed to Him are the emotions of perfect Love in view of the havoc of sin. (7) In the O.T. revelation there is a true sense in which, wholly apart from sin or infirmity, God is like His creature man (Gen. 1. 27), and the supreme and perfect revelation of God, toward which the O.T. points, is a revelation in and through a perfect Man.

FROM MALACHI TO MATTHEW.

THE close of the Old Testament canon left Israel in two great divisions. The mass of the nation were dispersed throughout the Persian Empire, more as colonists than captives. A remnant, chiefly of the tribe of Judah, with Zerubbabel, a prince of the Davidic family, and the survivors of the priests and Levites, had returned to the land under the permissive decrees of Cyrus and his successors (Dan. 5. 31, note; 9. 25, note), and had established again the temple worship. Upon this remnant the interest of the student of Scripture centres; and this interest concerns both their political and religious history.

I. Politically, the fortunes of the Palestinian Jews followed, with one exception—the Maccabean revolt—the history of the Gentile world-empires foretold by Daniel (Dan. 2., 7.).

(1) The Persian rule continued about one hundred years after the close of the O.T. canon, and seems to have been mild and tolerant, allowing to the high priest, along with his religious functions, a measure of civil power, but under the overlordship of the governors of Syria. The sources of the history of the Jewish remnant during the Persian period were purely legendary when Josephus wrote. During this period the rival worship of Samaria (John 4. 19, 20) was established.

Palestine suffered much from the constant wars between Persia and Egypt, lying as it did "between the anvil and the hammer."

(2) In 333 B.C. Syria fell under the power of the third of the world-empires, the Græco-Macedonian of Alexander. That conqueror, as Josephus relates, was induced to treat the Jews with much favour; but, upon the breaking up of his empire, Judæa again fell between the hammer and the anvil of Syria and Egypt, falling first under the power of Syria, but later under Egypt as ruled by the Ptolemaic kings. During this period (B.C. 320-198) great numbers of Jews were established in Egypt, and the Septuagint translation of the O.T. was made (B.C. 285).

(3) In B.C. 198 Judæa was conquered by Antiochus the Great, and annexed to Syria. At this time the division of the land into the five provinces familiar to readers of the Gospels, Galilee, Samaria, Judæa (often collectively called Judæa), Trachonitis and Peræa, was made. The Jews at first were permitted to live under their own laws under the high priest and a council. About B.C. 180 the land became the dowry of Cleopatra, a Syrian princess married to Ptolemy Philometor, king of Egypt, but on the death of Cleopatra was reclaimed by Antiochus Epiphanes (the "little horn" of Dan. 8. 9, note), after a bloody battle. In 170 B.C., Antiochus, after repeated interferences with the temple and priesthood, plundered Jerusalem, profaned the temple, and enslaved great numbers of the inhabitants. December 25, B.C. 168, Antiochus offered a sow upon the great altar, and erected an altar to Jupiter. This is the "desolation" of Dan. 8. 13, type of the final "abomination of desolation" of Mt. 24. 15. The temple worship was forbidden, and the people compelled to eat swine's flesh.

(4) The excesses of Antiochus provoked the revolt of the Maccabees, one of the most heroic pages of history. Mattathias, the first of the Maccabees, a priest of great sanctity and energy of character, began the revolt. He did little more than to gather a band of godly and determined Jews pledged to free the nation and restore the ancient worship, and was succeeded by his son Judas, known in history as Maccabæus, from the Hebrew word for hammer. He was assisted by four brothers of whom Simon is best known.

In B.C. 165 Judas regained possession of Jerusalem, purified and rededicated the temple, an event celebrated in the Jewish Feast of the Dedication. The struggle with Antiochus and his successor continued. Judas was slain in battle, his brother Jonathan succeeding. In him the civil and priestly authority were united (B.C. 143). Under Jonathan, his brother Simon, and his nephew John Hyrcanus, the Hasmonæan line of priest-rulers was established, under sufferance of other powers. They possessed none of the Maccabean virtues.

(5) A civil war followed, which was terminated by the Roman conquest of Judæa and Jerusalem by Pompey (B.C. 63), who left Hyrcanus, the last of the Hasmonæans, a nominal sovereignty, Antipater, an Idumean, wielding the actual power. B.C. 47 Antipater was made procurator of Judæa by Julius Cæsar, and appointed his son, Herod, governor of Galilee. After the murder of Cæsar disorder ensued in Judæa, and Herod fled to Rome. There he was appointed (B.C. 40) king of the Jews, and returning, he conciliated the people by his marriage (B.C. 38) with Mariamne, the beautiful grand-daughter of Hyrcanus, and appointed her brother, the Maccabean Aristobulus III., high priest. Herod was king when Jesus Christ was born.

II. The religious history of the Jews during the long period from Malachi (B.C. 397) to Christ followed, as to outer ceremonial, the high-priestly office, and the temple worship, the course of the troublous political history, and is of scant interest.

Of greater moment are the efforts and means by which the real faith of Israel was kept alive and nurtured.

(1) The tendency to idolatry seems to have been destroyed by the Jews' experience and observation of it during the captivity. Deprived of temple and priest, and of the possibility of continuing a ceremonial worship, the Jewish people were thrown back upon that which was fundamental in their faith, the revelation of God as One, the Creator, to be conceived of as having made man in His own image, and therefore as having such analogies to the nature and life of man as to be comprehensible by man, while remaining the Eternal Spirit, God. This conception of God, enforced by the mighty ministries of the pre-exilic and exilic prophets, finally prevailed over all idolatrous conceptions, and this ministry was continued amongst the returned remnant by Haggai, Zechariah, and Malachi. The high ethics of the older prophets, their stern rebuke of mere formalism, and their glowing prophecies of the ultimate restoration of Israel in national and religious supremacy under Messiah, were all repeated by the three prophets of the restoration.

The problem was to keep alive this exalted ideal in the midst of outward persecutions and sordid and disgraceful divisions within.

(2) The organic means to this end was the synagogue, an institution which formed no part of the biblical order of the national life. Its origin is obscure. Probably, during the captivity, the Jews, deprived of the temple and its rites, met on the Sabbath day for prayer. This would give opportunity for the reading of the Scriptures. Such meetings would require some order of procedure, and some authority for the restraint of disorder. The synagogue doubtless grew out of the necessities of the situation in which the Jews were placed, but it served the purpose of maintaining familiarity with the inspired writings, and upon these the spiritual life of the true Israel (see Rom. 9. 6, note) was nourished.

(3) But during this period, also, was created that mass of tradition, comment and interpretation, known as Mishna, Gemara (forming the Talmud), Halachoth, Midrashim and Kabbala, so superposed upon the Law that obedience was transferred from the Law itself to the traditional interpretation.

(4) During this period also rose the two great sects known to the Gospel narratives as Pharisees and Sadducees. (See Mt. 3. 7, notes 2, 3.) The Herodians were a party rather than a sect.

Amongst such a people, governed, under the suzerainty of Rome, by an Idumean usurper, rent by bitter and unspiritual religious controversies, and maintaining an elaborate religious ritual, appeared Jesus, the Son and Christ of God.

THE NEW TESTAMENT

THE FOUR GOSPELS.

THE four Gospels record the eternal being, human ancestry, birth, death, resurrection, and ascension of Jesus the Christ, Son of God, and Son of Man. They record also a selection from the incidents of His life, and from His words and works. Taken together, they set forth, not a biography but a Personality.

These two facts, that we have in the four Gospels a complete Personality, but not a complete biography, indicate the spirit and intent in which we should approach them. What is important is that through these narratives we should come to see and know Him whom they reveal. It is of relatively small importance that we should be able to piece together out of these confessedly incomplete records (John 21. 25) a connected story of His life. For some adequate reason—perhaps lest we should be too much occupied with “Christ after the flesh”—it did not please God to cause to be written a biography of His Son. The twenty-nine formative years are passed over in a silence which is broken but once, and that in but twelve brief verses of Luke’s Gospel. It may be well to respect the divine reticencies.

But the four Gospels, though designedly incomplete as a story, are divinely perfect as a revelation. We may not through them know everything that He did, but we may know the Doer. In four great characters, each of which completes the other three, we have Jesus Christ Himself. The Evangelists never describe Christ—they set Him forth. They tell us almost nothing of what they thought about Him, they let Him speak and act for Himself.

This is the essential respect in which these narratives differ from mere biography or portraiture. “The words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life.” The student in whom dwells an ungrieved Spirit finds here the living Christ.

The distinctive part which each Evangelist bears in this presentation of the living Christ is briefly noted in separate Introductions, but it may be profitable to add certain general suggestions.

I. The Old Testament is a divinely provided Introduction to the New; and whoever comes to the study of the four Gospels with a mind saturated with the Old Testament foreview of the Christ, His person, work, and kingdom, will find them open books.

For the Gospels are woven of Old Testament quotation, allusion, and type. The very first verse of the New Testament drives the thoughtful reader back to the Old; and the risen Christ sent His disciples to the ancient oracles for an explanation of His sufferings and glory (Lk. 24. 27, 44, 45). One of His last ministries was the opening of their understandings to understand the Old Testament.

Therefore, in approaching the study of the Gospels the mind should be freed, so far as possible, from mere theological concepts and presuppositions. Especially is it necessary to exclude the notion—a legacy in Protestant thought from post-apostolic and Roman Catholic theology—that the Church is the true Israel, and that the Old Testament foreview of the kingdom is fulfilled in the Church.

Do not, therefore, assume interpretations to be true because familiar. Do not assume that “the throne of David” (Lk. 1. 32) is synonymous with “My Father’s throne” (Rev. 3. 21), or that “the house of Jacob” (Lk. 1. 33) is the Church composed both of Jew and Gentile.

II. The mission of Jesus was, primarily, to the Jews (Mt. 10. 5, 6; 15. 23-25; John 1. 11). He was “made under the law” (Gal. 4. 4), and was “a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, to confirm the promises made unto the fathers” (Rom. 15. 8), and to fulfil the law that grace might flow out.

Expect, therefore, a strong legal and Jewish colouring up to the cross (e.g. Mt. 5. 17-19; 6. 12; cf. Eph. 4. 32; Mt. 10. 5, 6; 15. 22-28; Mk. 1. 44; Mt. 23. 2, etc.). The Sermon on the Mount is law, not grace, for it demands as the condition of blessing (Mt. 5. 3-9) that perfect character which grace, through divine power, creates (Gal. 5. 22, 23).

III. The doctrines of grace are to be sought in the Epistles, not in the Gospels; but those doctrines rest back upon the death and resurrection of Christ, and upon the great germ-truths to which He gave utterance, and of which the Epistles are the unfolding. Furthermore, the only perfect example of perfect grace is the Christ of the Gospels.

IV. The Gospels do not unfold the doctrine of the Church. The word occurs in Matthew only. After His rejection as King and Saviour by the Jews, our Lord, announcing a mystery until that moment "hid in God" (Eph. 3. 3-10), said, "I will build my church" (Mt. 16. 16, 18). It was, therefore, yet future; but His personal ministry had gathered out the believers who were, on the day of Pentecost, by the baptism with the Spirit, made the first members of "the church which is his body" (1 Cor. 12. 12, 13; Eph. 1. 23).

The Gospels present a group of Jewish disciples, associated on earth with a Messiah in humiliation; the Epistles a Church which is the body of Christ in glory, associated with Him in the heavenlies, co-heirs with Him of the Father, co-rulers with Him over the coming kingdom, and, as to the earth, pilgrims and strangers (1 Cor. 12. 12, 13; Eph. 1. 3-14, 20-23; 2. 4-6; 1 Pet. 2. 11).

V. The Gospels present Christ in His three offices of Prophet, Priest, and King. As Prophet His ministry does not differ in kind from that of the Old Testament prophets. It is the dignity of His Person which makes Him the unique Prophet. Of old, God spoke through the prophets; now He speaks in the Son (Heb. 1. 1, 2). The old prophet was a voice from God; the Son is God Himself (Deut. 18. 18, 19).

The prophet in any dispensation is God's messenger to His people, first to establish truth, and, secondly, when they are in declension and apostasy to call them back to truth. His message, therefore, is, usually, one of rebuke and appeal. Only when these fall on deaf ears does he become a foreteller of things to come. In this, too, Christ is at one with the other prophets. His predictive ministry follows His rejection as King.

The sphere and character of Christ's Kingly office are defined in the Davidic Covenant (2 Sam. 7. 8-16, and refs.), as interpreted by the prophets, and confirmed by the New Testament. The latter in no way abrogates or modifies either the Davidic Covenant or its prophetic interpretation. It adds details which were not in the prophet's vision. The Sermon on the Mount is an elaboration of the idea of "righteousness" as the predominant characteristic of the Messianic kingdom (Isa. 11. 2-5; Jer. 23. 5, 6; 33. 14-16). The Old Testament prophet was perplexed by seeing in one horizon, so to speak, the suffering and the glory of Messiah (1 Pet. 1. 10, 11). The New Testament shows that these are separated by the present church-age, and points forward to the Lord's return as the time when the Davidic Covenant of blessing through power will be fulfilled (Lk. 1. 30-33; Acts 2. 29-36; 15. 14-17); just as the Abrahamic Covenant of blessing through suffering was fulfilled at His first coming (Acts 3. 25; Gal. 3. 6-14).

Christ is never called King of the Church. "The King" is indeed one of the divine titles, and the Church in her worship joins Israel in exalting "the king, eternal, immortal, invisible" (Psa. 10. 16; 1 Tim. 1. 17). But the Church is to reign with Him. The Holy Spirit is now calling out, not the subjects, but the co-heirs and co-rulers of the kingdom (2 Tim. 2. 11, 12; Rev. 1. 6; 3. 21; 5. 10; Rom. 8. 15-18; 1 Cor. 6. 2, 3).

Christ's Priestly office is the complement of His prophetic office. The prophet is God's representative with the people; the priest is the people's representative with God. Because they are sinful he must be a sacrificer; because they are needy he must be a compassionate intercessor (Heb. 5. 1, 2; 8. 1-3). So Christ, on the cross, entered upon His high-priestly work, offering Himself without spot unto God (Heb. 9. 14), as now He compassionates His people in an ever-living intercession (Heb. 7. 25). Of that intercession John 17. is the pattern.

VI. Distinguish, in the Gospels, interpretation from moral application. Much in the Gospels which belongs in strictness of interpretation to the Jew or the kingdom, is yet such a revelation of the mind of God, and so based on eternal principles, as to have a moral application to the people of God whatever their position dispensationally. It is always true that the "pure in heart" are happy because they "see God," and that "woe" is the portion of religious formalists whether under law or grace.

VII. Especial emphasis rests upon that to which all four Gospels bear a united testimony. That united testimony is sevenfold:

1. In all alike is revealed the one unique Personality. The one Jesus is King in Matthew, Servant in Mark, Man in Luke, and God in John. But not only so: for Matthew's King is also Servant, Man, and God; and Mark's Servant is also King, and Man, and God; Luke's Man is also King, and Servant, and God; and John's eternal Son is also King, and Servant, and Man.

The pen is a different pen; the incidents in which He is seen are sometimes different incidents; the distinctive character in which He is presented is a different character; but He is always the same Christ. That fact alone would mark these books as inspired.

2. All the Evangelists record the ministry of John the Baptist.
3. All record the feeding of the five thousand.
4. All record Christ's offer of Himself as King, according to Micah.
5. All record the betrayal by Judas; the denial by Peter; the trial, crucifixion, and literal resurrection of Christ. And this record is so made as to testify that the death of Christ was the supreme business which brought Him into the world; that all which precedes that death is but preparation for it; and that from it flow all the blessings which God ever has or ever will bestow upon man.
6. All record the resurrection ministry of Christ; a ministry which reveals Him as unchanged by the tremendous event of His passion, but a ministry keyed to a new note of universality, and of power.
7. All point forward to His second coming.

HOW TO USE THE SUBJECT REFERENCES.

THE subject references lead the reader from the first clear mention of a great truth to the last. The first and last references (in parenthesis) are repeated each time, so that wherever a reader comes upon a subject he may recur to the first reference and follow the subject, or turn at once to the Summary at the last reference.

ST. MATTHEW.

WRITER. The writer of the first Gospel, as all agree, was Matthew, called also Levi, a Jew of Galilee who had taken service as a tax-gatherer under the Roman oppressor. He was, therefore, one of the hated and ill-reputed publicans.

The date of Matthew has been much discussed, but no convincing reason has been given for discrediting the traditional date of A.D. 37.

Theme. The scope and purpose of the book are indicated in the first verse. Matthew is the "book of the generation of Jesus Christ, the Son of David, the Son of Abraham" (Mt. 1. 1). This connects Him at once with two of the most important of the Old Testament covenants: the Davidic Covenant of kingship, and the Abrahamic Covenant of promise (2 Sam. 7. 8-16; Gen. 15. 18).

Of Jesus Christ in that twofold character, then, Matthew writes. Following the order indicated in the first verse, he writes first of the King, the Son of David; then of the Son of Abraham, obedient unto death, according to the Isaac type (Gen. 22. 1-18; Heb. 11. 17-19).

But the prominent character of Christ in Matthew is that of the covenanted King, David's "righteous Branch" (Jer. 23. 5; 33. 15). Matthew records His genealogy; His birth in Bethlehem the city of David, according to Micah (5. 2); the ministry of His forerunner according to Malachi (3. 1); the ministry of the King Himself; His rejection by Israel; and His predictions of His second coming in power and great glory.

Only then (Mt. 26.-28.) does Matthew turn to the earlier covenant, and record the sacrificial death of the Son of Abraham.

This determines the purpose and structure of Matthew. It is peculiarly the Gospel for Israel; and, as flowing from the death of Christ, a Gospel for the whole world.

Matthew falls into three principal divisions:

I. The manifestation to Israel and rejection of Jesus Christ the Son of David, born King of the Jews, 1. 1-25. 46. The subdivisions of this part are: (1) The official genealogy and birth of the King, 1. 1-25; (2) the infancy and obscurity of the King, 2. 1-23; (3) the kingdom "at hand," 3. 1-12. 50 (the order of events of this subdivision is indicated in the text); (4) the mysteries of the kingdom, 13. 1-52; (5) the ministry of the rejected King, 13. 53-23. 39; (6) the promise of the King to return in power and glory, 24. 1-25. 46.

II. The sacrifice and resurrection of Jesus Christ, the Son of Abraham, 26. 1-28. 8.

III. The risen Lord in ministry to His own, 28. 9-20.

The events recorded in Matthew cover a period of 38 years (Ussher).

CHAPTER 2.

Visit of the Magi.

NOW when Jesus was ^kborn in Bethlehem of Judæa in the days of ^kHerod the king, behold, there

¹ Six Marys are to be distinguished in the N.T.: (1) Mary the mother of Jesus; always clearly identified by the context. (2) Mary Magdalene, a woman of Magdala, "out of whom went seven demons" (Lk. 8. 2). She is never mentioned apart from the identifying word "Magdalene." (3) The mother of James (called "the less," Mk. 15. 40) and Jesus, the apostles. A comparison of John 19. 25. Mt. 27. 56, and Mk. 15. 40 establishes the inference that this Mary, the mother of James the less, and of Jesus, was the wife of Alphæus (called also Cleophas, John 19. 25), and a sister of Mary the mother of Jesus. Except in Mt. 27. 61, and 28. 1, where she is called "the other Mary" (i.e. "other" than her sister, Mary the Virgin); and John 19. 25, where she is called "of Cleophas," she is mentioned only in connection with one or both of her sons. (4) Mary of Bethany, sister of Martha and Lazarus, mentioned by name only in Lk. 10. 39, 42; John 11. 1, 2, 19, 20, 28, 31, 32, 45; 12. 3, but referred to in Mt. 26. 7; Mk. 14. 3-9. (5) The mother of John Mark, and sister of Barnabas (Acts 12. 12). (6) A helper of Paul in Rome (Rom. 16. 6).

² The changed expression here is important. It is no longer, "who begat," but, "Mary, of whom was born Jesus." Jesus was not "begotten" of natural generation.

³ Christ (Christos = anointed), the Greek form of the Hebrew "Messiah" (Dan. 9. 25, 26), is the official name of our Lord, as Jesus is His human name (Lk. 1. 31; 2. 21). The name, or title, "Christ," connects Him with the entire O.T. foreview (Zech. 12. 8, note) of a coming Prophet (Deut. 18. 15-19), Priest (Psa. 110. 4), and King (2 Sam. 7. 7-10). As these were typically anointed with oil (1 Ki. 19. 16; Ex. 29. 7; 1 Sam. 16. 13), so Jesus was anointed with the Holy Spirit (Mt. 3. 16; Mk. 1. 10, 11; Lk. 3. 21, 22; John 1. 32, 33), thus becoming officially "the Christ."

2 Saying, Where is he that is born ^{1a}King of the Jews? for we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him.

3 When Herod the king had heard these things, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him.

4 And when he had gathered all the chief priests and ²scribes of the people together, he demanded of them where ^bChrist should be born.

5 And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judæa: for thus it is written by the prophet,

6 And thou Bethlehem, in the land of Juda, art not the least among the princes of Juda: for out of thee shall come a Governor, that shall ^drule my people Israel.

7 Then Herod, when he had privily called the wise men, enquired of them diligently what time the ^estar appeared.

8 And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Go and search diligently for the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship him also.

9 When they had heard the king, they departed; and, lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was.

10 When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy.

11 And when they were come into the house, they saw the young

The flight into Egypt.

13 And when they were departed, behold, ^fthe angel of the Lord appeareth to Joseph in a dream, saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there until I bring thee word: for Herod will seek the young child to destroy him.

14 When he arose, he took the young child and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt:

17 Then was fulfilled that which

¹ "The King" is one of the divine titles (Psa. 10. 16), and so used in the worship of the Church (1 Tim 1. 17), but Christ is never called "King of the Church." He is "King of the Jews" (Mt. 2. 2) and Lord and "Head of the Church" (Eph. 1. 22, 23). See "Church" (Mt. 16. 18; Heb. 12. 23).

² Gr. grammateis, "writer." Heb. sopherim, "to write," "set in order," "count." The scribes were so called because it was their office to make copies of the Scriptures; to classify and teach the precepts of the oral law (see "Pharisees," Mt. 3. 7, note), and to keep careful count of every letter in the O.T. writings. Such an office was necessary in a religion of law and precept, and was an O.T. function (2 Sam. 8. 17; 20. 25; 1 Ki. 4. 3; Jer. 8. 8; 36. 10, 12, 26). To this legitimate work the scribes added a record of rabbinical decisions on questions of ritual (Halachoth); the new code resulting from those decisions (Mishna); the Hebrew sacred legends (Gemara, forming with the Mishna the Talmud); commentaries on the O.T. (Midrashim); reasonings upon these (Hagada); and, finally, mystical interpretations which found in Scripture meanings other than the grammatical, lexical, and obvious ones (the Kabbala); not unlike the allegorical method of Origen, or the modern Protestant "spiritualizing" interpretation. In our Lord's time, to receive this mass of writing superposed upon the Scriptures was to be orthodox; to return to the Scriptures themselves was heterodoxy—our Lord's most serious offence.

³ The words quoted are in Hos. 11. 1, and the passage illustrates the truth that prophetic utterances often have a latent and deeper meaning than at first appears. Israel, nationally, was a "son" (Ex. 4. 22), but Christ was the greater "Son." See Rom. 9. 4, 5; Isa. 41. 8, with Isa. 42. 1-4; 52. 13, 14, where the servant-nation and the Servant-Son are both in view.

Ministry of John the Baptist (Mk. 1. 3-8; Lk. 3. 2-17; John 1. 6-8, 19-28).

IN those days came John the Baptist, preaching in the wilderness of Judæa,

2 And ^asaying, Repent ye: for ^bthe kingdom of heaven is ^cat hand.

3 For this is he that was spoken of by the prophet Esaias, saying, The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

1 (1) The phrase, kingdom of heaven (lit. of the heavens), is peculiar to Matthew and signifies the Messianic earth rule of Jesus Christ, the Son of David. It is called the kingdom of the heavens because it is the rule of the heavens over the earth (Mt. 6. 10). The phrase is derived from Daniel, where it is defined (Dan. 2. 34-36, 44; 7. 23-27) as the kingdom which "the God of heaven" will set up after the destruction by "the stone cut out without hands" of the Gentile world-system. It is the kingdom covenanted to David's seed (2 Sam. 7. 7-10, refs.); described in the prophets (Zech. 12. 8, note); and confirmed to Jesus the Christ, the Son of Mary, through the angel Gabriel (Lk. 1. 32, 33).

(2) The kingdom of heaven has three aspects in Matthew: (a) "at hand" from the beginning of the ministry of John the Baptist (Mt. 3. 2) to the virtual rejection of the King, and the announcement of the new brotherhood (Mt. 12. 46-50); (b) in seven "mysteries of the kingdom of heaven," to be fulfilled during the present age (Mt. 13. 1-52), to which are to be added the parables of the kingdom of heaven which were spoken after those of Mt. 13., and which have to do with the sphere of Christian profession during this age; (c) the prophetic aspect—the kingdom to be set up after the return of the King in glory (Mt. 24. 29-25. 46; Lk. 19. 12-19; Acts 15. 14-17). See "Kingdom (N.T.)" (Lk. 1. 33; 1 Cor. 15. 28). Cf. "Kingdom of God," Mt. 6. 33, note.

2 So called from a Heb. word meaning "separate." After the ministry of the post-exilic prophets ceased, godly men called "Chasidim" (saints) arose who sought to keep alive reverence for the law amongst the descendants of the Jews who returned from the Babylonian captivity. This movement degenerated into the Pharisaism of our Lord's day—a letter-strictness which overlaid the law with traditional interpretations held to have been communicated by Jehovah to Moses as oral explanations of equal authority with the law itself (cf. Mt. 15. 2, 3; Mk. 7. 8-13; Gal. 1. 14).

The Pharisees were strictly a sect. A member was "chaber" (i.e. "knit together," Jud. 20. 11), and took an obligation to remain true to the principles of Pharisaism. They were correct, moral, zealous, and self-denying, but self-righteous (Lk. 18. 9), and destitute of the sense of sin and need (Lk. 7. 39). They were the foremost persecutors of Jesus Christ and the objects of His unsparing denunciation (e.g. Mt. 23. 13-29; Lk. 11. 42, 43).

3 Not strictly a sect, but rather those amongst the Jews who denied the existence of angels or other spirits, and all miracles, especially the resurrection. They were

10 And now also the axe is laid unto the root of the trees: therefore every tree which bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

11 I intend to baptize you with water unto repentance: but he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear: he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost, and with fire:

CHAPTER 4.

The temptation of Jesus (Mk. 1. 12, 13; Lk. 4. 1-13; cf. Gen. 3. 6).

¹THEN was Jesus led up of the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted of the devil.

2 And when he had fasted forty days and forty nights, he was afterward an hungred.

3 And when the tempter came to him, he said, If thou be the Son of God, command that these stones be made bread.

4 But he answered and said, It is written, 1Man shall not live by bread alone, but by 2every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of 3God.

the religious rationalists of the time (Mk. 12. 18-23; Acts 5. 15-17; 23. 8), and strongly entrenched in the Sanhedrin and priesthood (Acts 4. 1; 5. 17). They are identified with no affirmative doctrine, but were mere deniers of the supernatural.

² For the first time the Trinity, foreshadowed in many ways in the O.T., is fully manifested. The Spirit descends upon the Son, and at the same moment the Father's voice is heard from heaven.

7 Jesus said unto him, It is written again, Thou shalt not tempt the ^dLord thy God.

8 Again, the devil taketh him up into an exceeding high mountain, and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the ²world, and the glory of them;

9 And saith unto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me.

10 Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the ^dLord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.

11 Then the devil leaveth him, and, behold, ^bangels came and ministered unto him.

The call of James and John, sons of Zebedee.

from the god of this world to prove Himself indeed the Son of God (vs. 3, 6). The third was the offer of the usurping prince of this world to divest himself of that which rightfully belonged to Christ as Son of man and Son of David, on the condition that He accept the sceptre on Satan's world-principles (cf. John 18. 36; Rev. 13. 8, note). Christ defeated Satan by a means open to His humblest follower, the intelligent use of the word of God (vs. 4, 7). In his second temptation Satan also used Scripture, but a promise available only to one in the path of obedience. The scene gives emphasis to the vital importance of "rightly dividing the word of truth" (2 Tim. 2. 15).

² The Greek word kosmos means "order," "arrangement," and so, with the Greeks, "beauty"; for order and arrangement in the sense of system are at the bottom of the Greek conception of beauty.

When used in the N.T. of humanity, the "world" of men, it is organized humanity—humanity in families, tribes, nations—which is meant. The word for chaotic, unorganized humanity—the mere mass of men—is thalassa, the "sea" of men (e.g. Rev. 13. 1). For "world" (kosmos) in the bad ethical sense, see John 7. 7, refs.

³ "At hand" is never a positive affirmation that the person or thing said to be "at hand" will immediately appear, but only that no known or predicted event must intervene. When Christ appeared to the Jewish people, the next thing, in the order of revelation as it then stood, should have been the setting up of the Davidic kingdom. In the knowledge of God, not yet disclosed, lay the rejection of the kingdom (and King), the long period of the mystery-form of the kingdom, the world-wide preaching of the cross, and the out-calling of the Church. But this was as yet locked up in the secret counsels of God (Mt. 13. 11, 17; Eph. 3. 3-10).

22 And they immediately left the ship and their father, and followed him.

23 And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the ^bgospel of the ^ckingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people.

24 And his fame went throughout all Syria: and they ^dbrought unto him all sick people that were taken with divers diseases and torments, and those which were ^epossessed with devils, and those which were lunatick, and those that had the palsy; and he healed them.

25 And there followed him great ^fmultitudes of people from Galilee, and from Decapolis, and from Jerusalem, and from Judæa, and from beyond Jordan.

¹ Two persons are called by this name in the N.T.: (1) James the son of Zebedee, an apostle (Mt. 10. 2), and the brother of the Apostle John, apart from whom he is never mentioned, and with whom, together with Peter, he was admitted to the especial intimacy of our Lord (Mt. 17. 1; Mk. 5. 37; 9. 2; 14. 33). He was martyred by Herod (Acts 12. 2). (2) A son of Alphæus (or Cleopas) and of Mary the sister of Mary the mother of Jesus (see Mt. 1. 16, note), and brother of Joses (Mk. 15. 40). He was, therefore, a cousin of the Lord Jesus. He is called James "the less" (Mk. 15. 40; lit. little, i.e. of shorter stature than James the son of Zebedee). He was an apostle (Mt. 10. 3). It has been conjectured that "Lebbæus, whose surname was Thaddæus" (Mt. 10. 3) was identical with the Judas of Lk. 6. 16, who is there called "of i.e. 'son' or 'brother' as it has been variously translated] James." A Juda is mentioned with a James and Joses and Simon in Mk. 6. 3 as "brother" of our Lord (see Mt. 13. 55, marg.). The Gospels mention no other James who could be called the brother of the Lord Jesus, but James the less was certainly the son of Alphæus and Mary the sister of our Lord's mother. The conclusion seems, therefore, most probable that Mt. 10. 3; 13. 55; Mk. 3. 18; 6. 3; Lk. 6. 15; Acts 1. 13; 12. 17; 15. 13; 21. 18; Gal. 1. 19; 2. 9, 12; and Jas. 1. 1 refer to James the less, son of Alphæus and Mary, and cousin, or, according to Jewish usage, "brother" of the Lord Jesus. He was the author of the Epistle of James.

² Having announced the kingdom of heaven as "at hand," the King, in Mt. 5.-7., declares the principles of the kingdom. The Sermon on the Mount has a twofold application: (1) Literally to the kingdom. In this sense it gives the divine constitution for the righteous government of the earth. Whenever the Relation of Christ to the law.

17 Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets: ¹I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil.

18 For verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass, ^aone jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from ^bthe law, till all be fulfilled.

19 Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven.

20 For I say unto you, That except your righteousness shall exceed the ^arighteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven.

21 Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, ^aThou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of the judgment:

22 But I say unto you, That whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause shall be in danger of the judgment: and whosoever shall say to his brother, Raca, shall be in danger of the council; but whosoever shall say, Thou fool, shall be in danger of hell fire.

23 Therefore if thou bring thy gift to the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath ought against thee;

24 Leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way; first be rec-kingdom of heaven is established on earth it will be according to that constitution, which may be regarded as an explanation of the word "righteousness" as used by the prophets in describing the kingdom (e. g. Isa. 11, 4, 5; 32, 1; Dan. 9, 24). In this sense the Sermon on the Mount is pure law, and transfers the offence from the overt act to the motive (Mt. 5, 21, 22, 27, 28). Here lies the deeper reason why the Jews rejected the kingdom. They had reduced "righteousness" to mere ceremonialism, and the Old Testament idea of the kingdom to a mere affair of outward splendour and power. They were never rebuked for expecting a visible and powerful kingdom, but the words of the prophets should have prepared them to expect also that only the poor in spirit and the meek could share in it (e. g. Isa. 11, 4). The seventy-second Psalm, which was universally received by them as a description of the kingdom, was full of this. For these reasons the Sermon on the Mount in its primary application gives neither the privilege nor the duty of the Church. These are found in the Epistles. Under the law of the kingdom, for example, no one may hope for forgiveness who has not first forgiven (Mt. 6, 12, 14, 15). Under grace the Christian is exhorted to forgive because he is already forgiven (Eph. 4, 30-32).

(2) But there is a beautiful moral application to the Christian. It always remains true that the poor in spirit, rather than the proud, are blessed, and those who mourn because of their sins, and who are meek in the consciousness of them, will hunger and thirst after righteousness, and hungering will be filled. The merciful are "blessed," the pure in heart do "see God." These principles fundamentally reappear in the teaching of the Epistles.

¹ Christ's relation to the law of Moses may be thus summarized: (1) He was made under the law (Gal. 4, 4); (2) He lived in perfect obedience to the law (John 8, 46; Mt. 17, 5; 1 Pet. 2, 21-23); (3) He was a minister of the law to the Jews, clearing it from rabbinical sophistries, enforcing it in all its pitiless severity upon those who professed to obey it (e. g. Lk. 10, 25-37), but confirming the promises made to the fathers under the Mosaic Covenant (Rom. 15, 8); (4) He fulfilled the types of the law by His holy life and sacrificial death (Heb. 9, 11-26); (5) He bore, vicariously, the curse of the law that the Abrahamic Covenant might avail all who believe (Gal. 3, 13, 14); (6) He brought out by His redemption all who believe from the place of servants under the law into the place of sons (Gal. 4, 1-7); (7) He mediated by His blood the New Covenant of assurance and grace in which all believers stand (Rom. 5, 2; Heb. 8, 6-13), so establishing the "law of Christ" (Gal. 6, 2; refs.) with its precepts of higher exaltation made possible by the indwelling Spirit.

² Gr. Geenna = Gehenna, the place in the valley of Hinnom where, anciently, human sacrifices were offered (2 Chr. 33, 6; Jer. 7, 31). The word occurs, Mt. 5, 22, 29, 30; 10, 28; 18, 9; 23, 15, 33; Mk. 9, 43, 45, 47; Lk. 12, 5; Jas. 3, 6. In every instance except the last the word comes from the lips of Jesus Christ in most solemn warning of the consequences of sin. He describes it as the place where "their" worm never dies and of fire never to be quenched. The expression is identical in meaning with "lake of fire" (Rev. 19. 20; 20. 10, 14, 15). See "Death, the second" (John 8. 24; Rev. 21. 8); also Lk. 16. 23, note.

¹ The word implies full development, growth into maturity of godliness, not sinless perfection. See Eph. 4. 12, 13. In this passage the Father's kindness, not His sinlessness, is the point in question. Cf. Lk. 6. 35, 36.

2 Therefore when thou doest thine alms, do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

3 But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth:

4 That thine alms may be in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret himself shall reward thee openly.

5 And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

6 But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly.

7 But when ye pray, use not vain repetitions, as the heathen do: for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking.

countenance: for they disfigure their faces, that they may appear unto men to fast. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

17 But thou, when thou fastest, anoint thine head, and wash thy face;

18 That thou appear not unto men to fast, but unto thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly.

The kingdom law of riches.

19 Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal:

20 But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal:

21 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

22 The light of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light.

23 But if thine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is that darkness!

24 No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

The cure of anxiety: trust in the Father's care.

25 Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment?

26 Behold the fowls of the air: for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they?

27 Which of you by taking thought can add one cubit unto his stature?

28 And why take ye thought for raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin:

29 And yet I say unto you, That even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

30 Wherefore, if God so clothe the grass of the field, which to day is, and to morrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith?

31 Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed?

32 (For after all these things do the Gentiles seek:) for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things.

33 But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you.

34 Take therefore no thought for the morrow: for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.

Encouragements to pray.
(See Lk. 11. 1-13, note.)

8 For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened.

¹ The kingdom of God is to be distinguished from the kingdom of heaven (Mt. 3. 2, note) in five respects: (1) The kingdom of God is universal, including all moral intelligences willingly subject to the will of God, whether angels, the Church, or saints of past or future dispensations (Lk. 13. 28, 29; Heb. 12. 22, 23); while the kingdom of heaven is Messianic, mediatorial, and Davidic, and has for its object the establishment of the kingdom of God in the earth (Mt. 3. 2, note; 1 Cor. 15. 24, 25). (2) The kingdom of God is entered only by the new birth (John 3. 3, 5-7); the kingdom of heaven, during this age, is the sphere of a profession which may be real or false (Mt. 13. 3, note; 25. 1, 11, 12). (3) Since the kingdom of heaven is the earthly sphere of the universal kingdom of God, the two have almost all things in common. For this reason many parables and other teachings are spoken of the kingdom of heaven in Matthew, and of the kingdom of God in Mark and Luke. It is the omissions which are significant. The parables of the wheat and tares, and of the net (Mt. 13. 24-30, 36-43, 47-50) are not spoken of the kingdom of God. In that kingdom there are neither tares nor bad fish. But the parable of the leaven (Mt. 13. 33) is spoken of the kingdom of God also, for, alas, even the true doctrines of the kingdom are leavened with the errors of which the Pharisees, Sadducees, and the Herodians were the representatives. (See Mt. 13. 33, note.) (4) The kingdom of God "comes not with outward show" (Lk. 17. 20), but is chiefly that which is inward and spiritual (Rom. 14. 17); while the kingdom of heaven is organic, and is to be manifested in glory on the earth. (See "Kingdom (O.T.)," Zech. 12. 8, note; (N.T.), Lk. 1. 31-33; 1 Cor. 15. 24, note; Mt. 17. 2, note.) (5) The kingdom of heaven merges into the kingdom of God when Christ, having "put all enemies under His feet," "shall have delivered up the kingdom to God, even the Father" (1 Cor. 15. 24-28). Cf. Mt. 3. 2, note.

Summary of O.T. righteousness.

12 Therefore all things ^awhatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets.

The two ways. (Cf. Psa. 1.)

13 Enter ye in at the ^bstrait gate: for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat:

14 Because strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it.

Warning against false teachers: the test.

15 Beware of ^dfalse prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves.

16 Ye shall know them by their fruits. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles?

17 Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit; but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit.

18 A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.

19 Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is ^ehewn down, and cast into the fire.

20 Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them.

¹ Devils, lit. demons. To the reality and personality of demons the N.T. Scriptures bear abundant testimony. As to their origin nothing is clearly revealed, but they are not to be confounded with the angels mentioned in 2 Pet. 2. 4; Jude 6. Summary: Demons are spirits (Mt. 12. 43, 45); are Satan's emissaries (Mt. 12. 26, 27; 25. 41); and so numerous as to make Satan's power practically ubiquitous (Mk. 5. 9). They are capable of entering and controlling both men and beasts (Mk. 5. 8, 11-13), and earnestly seek embodiment, without which, apparently, they are powerless for evil (Mt. 12. 43, 44; Mk. 5. 10-12). Demon influence and demon possession are discriminated in the N.T. Instances of the latter are Mt. 4. 24; 8. 16, 28, 33; 9. 32; 12. 22; Mk. 1. 32; 5. 15, 16, 18; Lk. 8. 36; Acts 8. 7; 16. 16. They are unclean, sullen, violent, and malicious (Mt. 8. 28; 9. 33; 10. 1; 12. 43; Mk. 1. 23; 5. 3-5; 9. 17, 20; Lk. 6. 18; 9. 39). They know Jesus Christ as Most High God, and recognize His supreme authority (Mt. 8. 31, 32; Mk. 1. 24; Acts 19. 15; Jas. 2. 19). They know their eternal fate to be one of torment (Mt. 8. 29; Lk. 8. 31). They inflict physical maladies (Mt. 12. 22; 17. 15-18; Lk. 13. 16), but mental disease is to be distinguished from the disorder of mind due to demoniacal control. Demon influence may manifest itself in religious asceticism and formalism (1 Tim. 4. 1-3), degenerating into uncleanness (2 Pet. 2. 10-12). The sign of demon influence in religion is departing from the faith, i.e. the body of revealed truth in the Scriptures (1 Tim. 4. 1). The demons maintain especially a conflict with believers who would be spiritual (Eph. 6. 12; 1 Tim. 4. 1-3). All unbelievers are open to demon possession (Eph. 2. 2). The believer's resources are, prayer and bodily control (Mt. 17. 21), "the whole armour of God" (Eph. 6. 13-18). Exorcism in the name of Jesus Christ (Acts 16. 18) was practised for demon possession. One of the awful features of the apocalyptic judgments in which this age will end is an irruption of demons out of the abyss (Rev. 9. 1-11).

² Gr. kurios. The first occurrence of the word as applied to Jesus with His evident sanction. In itself the word means "master," and is so used of mere human relationships in, e.g., Mt. 6. 24; 15. 27; Mk. 13. 35; Eph. 6. 9. Both uses, divine and human, are brought together in Col. 4. 1. It is the Gr. equivalent of the Heb. Adonai (see Gen. 15. 2, note), and is so used by Jesus Christ in Mt. 22. 43-45. In the N.T. the distinctive uses of kurios (Lord) are: (1) As the N.T. translation of the Heb. Jehovah (LORD), e.g. Mt. 1. 20, 22; 2. 15; 3. 3; 4. 7, 10; 11. 25; 21. 9; Mk. 12. 29, 30; Lk. 1. 68; 2. 9. (2) Jesus Himself so uses kurios, e.g. Mt. 4. 7, 10; 11. 25; Mk. 12. 11, etc. (3) But the great use of kurios is as the divine title of Jesus, the Christ. In this sense it occurs in the N.T. 663 times. That the intent is to identify Jesus Christ with the O.T. Deity is evident from Mt. 3. 3; 12. 8; 21. 9 (Psa. 118. 26); 22. 43-45; Lk. 1. 43; John 8. 58; 14. 8-10; 20. 28; Acts 9. 5; 13. 33 (Psa. 2.). See John 20. 28. note.

26 And he saith unto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the winds and the sea; and there was a great calm.

27 But the men marvelled, saying, What manner of man is this, that even the winds and the sea obey him!

Jesus casts out demons at Gadara (Mk. 5. 1-21; Lk. 8. 26-40).

28 And when he was come to the other side into the country of the Gergesenes, there met him two possessed with devils, coming out of the tombs, exceeding fierce, so that no man might pass by that way.

6 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth

¹ Cf. Ezk. 2. 1, note. Our Lord thus designates Himself about eighty times. It is His racial name as the representative Man, in the sense of 1 Cor. 15. 45-47; as Son of David is distinctively His Jewish name, and Son of God His divine name. Our Lord constantly uses this term as implying that His mission (e.g. Mt. 11. 19; Lk. 19. 10), His death and resurrection (e.g. Mt. 12. 40; 20. 18; 26. 2), and His second coming (e.g. Mt. 24. 37-44; Lk. 12. 40), transcended in scope and result all merely Jewish limitations. When Nathanael confesses Him as "King of Israel," our Lord's answer is, "Thou shalt see greater things . . . the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of man." When His messengers are cast out by the Jews, His thought leaps forward to the time when the Son of man shall come, not then to Israel only but to the race (Mt. 10. 5, 6 with v. 23). It is in this name, also, that universal judgment is committed to Him (John 5. 22, 27). It is also a name indicating that in Him is fulfilled the O.T. foreview of blessing through a coming man (Gen. 1. 26, note; 3. 15; 12. 3; Psalms. 8. 4; 80. 17; Isa. 7. 14; 9. 6, 7; 32. 2; Zech. 13. 7).

Parables of the garment and bottles (Mk. 2. 21, 22; Lk. 5. 36-39).

Jesus heals the woman with an issue of blood, and raises the daughter of a ruler (Jairus) (Mk. 5. 22-43; Lk. 8. 41-56).

18 While he spake these things unto them, behold, there came a ^acertain ruler, and worshipped him, ^bsaying, My daughter is even now dead: but come and lay thy hand upon her, and she shall live.

19 And Jesus arose, and followed him, and so did his disciples.

20 And, behold, a woman, which was diseased with an issue of blood twelve years, came behind him, and ^ctouched the hem of his garment:

21 For she said within herself, If I may but touch his garment, I shall be whole.

22 But Jesus turned him about, and when he saw her, he said, Daughter, be of good comfort; thy ^dfaith hath made thee whole. And the woman was made whole from that hour.

23 And when Jesus came into the ruler's house, and saw the minstrels and the people making a noise,

24 He said unto them, Give place: for the maid is not dead, but ^esleep-eth. And they laughed him to scorn.

25 But when the people were put forth, he went in, and ^ftook her by the hand, and the maid ^garose.

26 And the fame hereof went abroad into all that land.

Two blind men healed: a demon cast out.

27 And when Jesus departed thence, two blind men followed him, crying, and ^hsaying, ^wThou son of David, have mercy on us.

28 And when he was come into the house, the blind men came to him: and Jesus saith unto them, Believe ye that I am able to do this? They said unto him, Yea, Lord.

29 Then touched he their eyes, saying, According to your ⁱfaith be it unto you.

30 And their eyes were opened; and Jesus straitly charged them, saying, See ^jthat no man know it.

31 But they, when they were departed, spread abroad his fame in all that country.

32 As they went out, behold, they brought to him a dumb man ^kpossessed with a ^ldevil.

33 And when the ^mdevil was cast out, the dumb spake: and the multitudes marvelled, saying, It was never so seen in Israel.

34 But the Pharisees said, He casteth out ^adevils through the prince of the devils.

Jesus preaches and heals in Galilee (Mk. 6. 5, 6).

35 And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the ^bgospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people.

36 But when he saw the multitudes, he was moved with compassion on them, because they fainted, and were scattered abroad, as sheep having no shepherd.

37 Then saith he unto his disciples, ^cThe harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few;

38 Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth labourers into his harvest.

spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease.

2 Now the ⁿnames of the twelve apostles are these: The first, Simon, who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother; ^oJames the son of Zebedee, and John his brother;

3 Philip, and Bartholomew; Thomas, and Matthew the publican; ^pJames the son of Alphaeus, and Lebbaeus, whose surname was Thaddaeus;

4 Simon the Canaanite, and Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed him.

5 These twelve Jesus sent forth, and commanded them, saying, ^qGo not into the way of the ^rGentiles, and into any city of the Samaritans enter ye not:

6 But go rather to the ^slost sheep of the house of Israel.

7 And as ye go, preach, saying, ^tThe kingdom of heaven is at hand.

8 ^uHeal the sick, cleanse the lepers, ^vraise the dead, cast out ^wdevils: freely ye have received, freely give.

9 ^xProvide neither gold, nor silver, nor brass in your purses,

10 Nor scrip for your journey, neither two coats, neither shoes, nor yet staves: for the ^yworkman is worthy of his meat.

The "signs of an apostle" were: (1) They were chosen directly by the Lord Himself, or, as in the case of Barnabas, by the Holy Spirit (Mt. 10. 1, 2; Mk. 3. 13, 14; Lk. 6. 13; Acts 9. 6, 15; 13. 2; 22. 10, 14, 15; Rom. 1. 1). (2) They were endowed with sign gifts, miraculous powers which were the divine credentials of their office (Mt. 10. 1; Acts 5. 15, 16; 16. 16-18; 28. 8, 9). (3) Their relation to the kingdom was that of heralds, announcing, to Israel only (Mt. 10. 5, 6), the kingdom as at hand (Mt. 4. 17, note), and manifesting kingdom powers (Mt. 10. 7, 8). (4) To one of them, Peter, the keys of the kingdom of heaven, viewed as the sphere of Christian profession, as in Mt. 13., were given (Mt. 16. 19). (5) Their future relation to the kingdom will be that of judges over the twelve tribes (Mt. 19. 28). (6) Consequent upon the rejection of the kingdom, and the revelation of the mystery hid in God (Mt. 16. 18; Eph. 3. 1-12), the Church, the apostolic office was invested with a new endowment, the baptism with the Holy Spirit (Acts 2. 1-4); a new power, that of imparting the Spirit to Jewish-Christian believers; a new relation, that of foundation stones of the new temple (Eph. 2. 20-22); and a new function, that of preaching the glad tidings of salvation through a crucified and risen Lord to Jew and Gentile alike. (7) The indispensable qualification of an apostle was that he should have been an eye-witness of the resurrection (Acts 1. 22; 1 Cor. 9. 1).

² Cf. Mk. 6. 8, 9; Lk. 9. 3. The central thought here, urgency, must be kept in mind. The emphasis is upon "provide." Time is not to be taken to search for additional staves or shoes. The disciples were to go in their ordinary sandals, with such staff as they might have, or with none. Cf. Paul, Rom. 1. 15.

11 And into whatsoever city or town ye shall enter, enquire who in it is worthy; and there abide till ye go thence.

12 And when ye come into an house, salute it.

13 And if the house be worthy, let your peace come upon it: but if it be not worthy, let your peace return to you.

14 And whosoever shall not receive you, ^anor hear your words, when ye depart out of that house or city, ^bshake off the dust of your feet.

15 Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah ^cin the day of judgment, than for that city.

16 Behold, I ^dsend you forth as ^esheep in the midst of wolves: be ye therefore wise as ^fserpents, and harmless as ^gdoves.

17 But ^hbeware of men: for they will deliver you up to the councils, and they will scourge you in their synagogues;

18 And ye shall be brought before governors and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them and the Gentiles.

19 But when they deliver you up, ⁱtake no thought how or what ye shall speak: ^jfor it shall be given you in that same hour what ye shall speak.

20 For it is not ye that speak, but the ^kSpirit of your Father which speaketh in you.

21 And the brother shall deliver up the brother to death, and the father the child: and the children shall rise up against ^ltheir parents, and cause them to be put to death.

22 And ye shall be hated of all ^mmen for my name's sake: but he that ⁿendureth to the end shall be saved.

² Cf. John 14. 27. Peace is spoken of in Scripture in three ways: (1) "Peace with God" (Rom. 5. 1); this is the work of Christ into which the individual enters by faith (Eph. 2. 14-17; Rom. 5. 1). (2) "The peace of God" (Phil. 4. 7); inward peace, the state of soul of that believer who, having entered into peace with God through faith in Christ, has also committed to God through prayer and supplication with thanksgiving all his anxieties (Lk. 7. 50; Phil. 4. 6). (3) Peace "on earth" (Lk. 2. 14; Psa. 72. 7; 85. 10; Isa. 9. 6, 7; 11. 1-12); the universal prevalence of peace in the earth under the kingdom. Mt. 10. 34 was Christ's warning that the truth which He was proclaiming would not bring in the kingdom-age of peace, but conflict rather. (Cf. John 14. 27.)

¹ Positionally greater, not morally. John Baptist was as great, morally, as any man "born of woman," but as to the kingdom he but announced it at hand. The kingdom did not then come, but was rejected, and John was martyred, and the King presently crucified. The least in the kingdom when it is set up in glory (see "Kingdom (N.T.)," Lk. 1. 31-33; 1 Cor. 15. 24) will be in the fullness of power and glory. It is not heaven which is in question, but Messiah's kingdom. (See Mt. 3. 2, note; 6. 33, note.)

² It has been much disputed whether the "violence" here is external, as against the kingdom in the persons of John the Baptist and Jesus; or that, considering the opposition of the scribes and Pharisees, only the violently resolute would press into it. Both things are true. The King and His herald suffered violence, and this is the primary and greater meaning, but also, some were resolutely becoming disciples. (Cf. Lk. 16. 16.)

a man gluttonous, and a wine-bibber, a friend of publicans and sinners. But wisdom is justified of her children.

Jesus, rejected, predicts judgment.

20 ¹Then began he to upbraid the cities wherein most of his mighty works were done, because they repented not:

21 Woe unto thee, Chorazin! woe unto thee, Bethsaida! for if the mighty works, which were done in you, had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes.

22 But I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the day of judgment, than for you.

23 And thou, Capernaum, which art exalted unto heaven, shalt be brought down to hell: for if the mighty works, which have been done in thee, had been done in Sodom, it would have remained until this day.

24 But I say unto you, That it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom in the day of judgment, than for thee.

25 At that time Jesus answered and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because

The new message of Jesus: not the kingdom, but personal discipleship.

28 Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.

29 Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls.

CHAPTER 12.

Jesus declares himself Lord of the sabbath (Mk. 2. 23-28; Lk. 6. 1-5).

AT that time Jesus went on the sabbath day through the corn; and his disciples were an hungred, and began to pluck the ears of corn, and to eat.

¹ The kingdom of heaven announced as "at hand" by John the Baptist, by the King Himself, and by the twelve, and attested by mighty works, has been morally rejected. The places chosen for the testing of the nation, Chorazin, Bethsaida, etc., having rejected both John and Jesus, the rejected King now speaks of judgment. The final official rejection is later (Mt. 27. 31-37).

³ (1) The sabbath ("cessation") appears in Scripture as the day of God's rest in the finished work of creation (Gen. 2. 2, 3). For 2500 years of human life absolutely no mention is made of it. Then the sabbath was revealed (Ex. 16. 23; Neh. 9. 13, 14); made a part of the law (Ex. 20. 8-11); and invested with the character of a "sign" between Jehovah and Israel, and a perpetual reminder to Israel of their separation to God (Ex. 31. 13-17). It was observed by complete rest (Ex. 35. 2, 3), and by Jehovah's express order a man was put to death for gathering sticks on the sabbath day (Num. 15. 32-36). Apart from maintaining the continued burnt-offering (Num. 28. 9), and its connection with the annual feasts (Ex. 12. 16; Lev. 23. 3, 8; Num. 28. 25), the seventh-day sabbath was never made a day of sacrifice, worship, or any manner of religious service. It was simply and only a day of complete rest for man and beast, a humane provision for man's needs. In Christ's words, "The sabbath was made for man, and not man for the sabbath" (Mk. 2. 27). (2) Our Lord found the observance of the day encrusted with rabbinical evasions (Mt. 12. 2) and restrictions, wholly unknown to the law, so that He was Himself held to be a sabbath-breaker by the religious authorities of the time. The sabbath will be again observed during the kingdom-age (Isa. 66. 23). (3) The Christian first day perpetuates in the dispensation of grace the principle that one-seventh of the time is especially sacred, but in all other respects is in contrast with the sabbath. One is the seventh day, the other the first. The sabbath commemorates God's creation rest, the first day Christ's resurrection. On the seventh day God rested, on the first day Christ

2 But when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto him, Behold, thy disciples do that which is not lawful to do upon the sabbath day.

3 But he said unto them, Have ye not ^aread ^bwhat ^cDavid did, when he was an hungred, and they that were with him;

4 How he entered into the house of God, and did eat the ^dshewbread, which was not lawful for him to eat, neither for them which were with him, but only for the priests?

5 Or have ye not read in the law, how that on the sabbath days the ^epriests in the temple profane the sabbath, and are blameless?

6 But I say unto you, That in this place is one ^fgreater than the temple.

7 But if ye had known what this meaneth, I will have ^gmercy, and not sacrifice, ye would not have condemned the guiltless.

9 And when he was departed thence, he went into their synagogue:

10 And, behold, there was a man which had his hand withered. And they asked him, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath days? that they might accuse him.

11 And he said unto them, What man shall there be among you, that shall have one sheep, and if it fall into a pit on the sabbath day, will he not lay hold on it, and lift it out?

12 How much then is a man better than a sheep? Wherefore it is lawful to do well on the sabbath days.

Jesus and the multitudes (at the sea of Tiberias) (Mk. 3. 7-12).

17 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying,

18 Behold my ^tservant, whom I have chosen; my beloved, in whom my soul is well pleased: I will put my ^uspirit upon him, and he shall shew judgment to the ^vGentiles.

19 He shall not strive, nor cry; neither shall any man hear his voice in the streets.

20 A bruised reed shall he not break, and smoking flax shall he not quench, till he send forth judgment unto victory.

A demoniac healed: the Pharisees blaspheme (Mk. 3. 22-30; Lk. 11. 14-23).

22 Then was brought unto him one ^xpossessed with a devil, blind, and dumb: and he healed him, inasmuch that the blind and dumb both spake and saw.

23 And all the people were amazed, and said, Is not this the ^yson of David?

was ceaselessly active. The sabbath commemorates a finished creation, the first day a finished redemption. The sabbath was a day of legal obligation, the first day one of voluntary worship and service. The sabbath is mentioned in the Acts only in connection with the Jews, and in the rest of the N.T. but twice (Col. 2. 16; Heb. 4. 4). In these passages the seventh-day sabbath is explained to be to the Christian not a day to be observed, but a type of the present rest into which he enters when "he also ceases from his own works" and trusts Christ.

¹ Jesus' action (Mt. 12. 1-7) is highly significant. "What David did" refers to the time of his rejection and persecution by Saul (1 Sam. 21. 6). Jesus here is not so much the rejected Saviour as the rejected King; hence the reference to David.

² This too is most significant. The rejected King of Israel will turn to the Gentiles (cf. Mt. 10. 5, 6). In fulfillment this awaited the official rejection, crucifixion, and resurrection of Christ, and the final rejection of the risen Christ (Lk. 24. 46, 47; Acts 9. 15; 13. 46; 28. 25-28; Rom. 11. 11).

divided against itself is brought to desolation; and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand:

26 And if ^aSatan cast out Satan, he is divided against himself; how shall then his kingdom stand?

27 And if I by Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do your ^bchildren cast them out? therefore they shall be your judges.

28 But if I cast out devils by the Spirit of God, then the kingdom of God is come unto you.

29 Or else how can one enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man? and then he will spoil his house.

30 He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad.

The unpardonable sin: ascribing to Satan the works of the Spirit (Mk. 3. 29, 30).

31 Wherefore I say unto you, All manner of ^csin and blasphemy shall be ^dforgiven unto men: but the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men.

32 And whosoever speaketh a word against the Son of man, it shall be ^dforgiven him; but whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this ^eworld, neither in the world to come.

34 O ⁱgeneration of vipers, how can ye, being evil, speak good things? for out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh.

35 A good man out of the good treasure of the heart bringeth forth good things: and an evil man out of the evil treasure bringeth forth evil things.

36 But I say unto you, That every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the ^jday of judgment.

¹ Again the rejected King announces judgment (cf. Mt. 11. 20-24). Israel, in the midst of the Pharisaic revival of outward religious strictness, was like a man out of whom a demon had "gone," i.e. of his own volition. He would come back and find an empty house, etc. The personal application is to a mere self-cleansed moralist.

fell by the way side, and the fowls came and devoured them up:

5 Some fell upon stony places, where they had not much earth: and forthwith they sprung up, because they had no deepness of earth:

6 And when the sun was up, they were scorched; and because they had no root, they withered away.

7 And some fell among thorns; and the thorns sprung up, and choked them:

8 But other fell into good ground, and brought forth fruit, some an hundredfold, some sixtyfold, some thirtyfold.

9 Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.

10 And the disciples came, and said unto him, Why speakest thou unto them in parables?

11 He answered and said unto them, Because it is given unto you to know the ^{3d}mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given.

12 For whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have more abundance; but whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away even that he hath.

13 Therefore speak I to them in parables: because they seeing see not; and hearing they hear not, neither do they understand.

Lord intimates the formation of the new family of faith which, overstepping mere racial claims, receives "whosoever" will be His disciple (vs. 49, 50. Cf. John 6. 28, 29).

² The figure marks a new beginning. To labour in God's vineyard (Israel, Isa. 5. 1-7) is one thing, to go forth sowing the seed of the word in a field which is the world, quite another (cf. Mt. 10. 5). One-fourth of the seed takes permanent root, but the result is "wheat" (v. 25; 1 Pet. 1. 23), or "children of the kingdom" (v. 38). This parable (vs. 3-9, 18-23) is treated throughout as foundational to the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven. It is interpreted by our Lord Himself.

14 And in them is fulfilled the ^aprophecy of Esaias, which saith, By hearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand; and seeing ye shall see, and shall not perceive:

15 For this people's heart is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes they have closed; lest at any time they should see with their eyes and hear with their ears, and should understand with their heart, and should be ^bconverted, and I should heal them.

16 But 'blessed are your eyes, for they see: and your ears, for they hear.

17 For verily I say unto you, That many prophets and righteous men have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.

18 Hear ye therefore the parable of the sower.

19 When any one heareth the word of the kingdom, and understandeth it not, then cometh the wicked one, and catcheth away that which was sown in his heart. This is he which received seed by the way side.

20 But he that received the seed into stony places, the same is he that heareth the word, and anon with joy receiveth it;

21 Yet hath he not root in himself, but dureth for a while: for when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, by and by he is offended.

23 But he that received seed into the good ground is he that heareth the word, and understandeth it; which also beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some an hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty.

Second mystery, the tares among the wheat (vs. 24-30, 36-43).

24 ²Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man which sowed good seed in his field:

25 But while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way.

26 But when the blade was sprung up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also.

27 So the servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst not thou sow good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares?

28 He said unto them, An enemy hath done this. The servants said

¹ The O.T. prophets saw in one blended vision the rejection and crucifixion of the King (see "Christ, sacrifice," Gen. 4. 4; Heb. 10. 18, note), and also His glory as David's Son (Zech. 12. 8, note), but "what manner of time the Spirit of Christ which was in them did signify when it testified beforehand the sufferings of Christ and the glory that should follow," was not revealed to them—only that the vision was not for themselves (1 Pet. 1. 10-12). That revelation Christ makes in these parables. A period of time is to intervene between His sufferings and His glory. That interval is occupied with the "mysteries of the kingdom of heaven" here described.

² This parable (vs. 24-30) is also interpreted by our Lord (vs. 36-43). Here the "good seed" is not the "word," as in the first parable (vs. 19, 23), but rather that which the word has produced (1 Pet. 1. 23), viz.: the children of the kingdom. These are, providentially (v. 37), "sown," i.e. scattered, here and there in the "field" of the "world" (v. 38). The "world" here is both geographical and ethnic—the earth-world, and also the world of men. The wheat of God at once becomes the scene of Satan's activity. Where children of the kingdom are gathered, there, "among the wheat" (vs. 25, 38, 39), Satan "sows" "children of the wicked one," who profess to be children of the kingdom, and in outward ways are so like the true children that only the angels may, in the end, be trusted to separate them (vs. 28-30, 40-43). So great is Satan's power of deception that the tares often really suppose themselves to be children of the kingdom (Mt. 7. 21-23). Many other parables and exhortations have this mingled condition in view (e.g. Mt. 22. 11-14; 25. 1-13, 14-30; Lk. 18. 10-14; Heb. 6. 4-9). Indeed, it characterizes Matthew from Chapter 13. to the end. The parable of the wheat and tares is not a description of the world, but of that which professes to be the kingdom. Mere unbelievers are never called children of the devil, but only religious unbelievers are so called (cf. v. 38; John 8. 38-44; Mt. 23. 15).

unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up?

29 But he said, Nay; lest while ye gather up the tares, ye root up also the wheat with them.

30 Let ^aboth grow together until the harvest: and in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, ^bGather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn.

Third mystery, the grain of mustard seed (Mk. 4. 30-32).

31 ^aAnother parable put he forth unto them, saying, The ^bkingdom of heaven is like to a grain of ^cmustard seed, which a man took, and sowed in his field:

32 Which indeed is the least of all seeds: but when it is grown, it is the greatest among herbs, and becometh a ^atree, so that the birds of the air come and lodge in the branches thereof.

Fourth mystery, the leaven (Lk. 13. 20, 21).

33 ^aAnother parable spake he unto them; The kingdom of heaven is like unto ^bleaven, which a woman took, and ^chid in ^dthree measures of meal, till the ^ewhole was leavened.

34 All these things spake Jesus unto the multitude in parables; and without a parable spake he not unto them:

35 That it might be ^afulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying, I will open my mouth in

³ That interpretation of the parable of the Leaven (v. 33) which makes (with variation as to details) the leaven to be the Gospel, introduced into the world ("three measures of meal") by the church, and working subtly until the world is converted ("till the whole was leavened") is open to fatal objection: (1) It does violence to the unvarying symbolical meaning of leaven, and especially to the meaning fixed by our Lord Himself (Mt. 16. 6-12; Mk. 8. 15. See "Leaven," Gen. 19. 3; Mt. 13. 33, note). (2) The implication of a converted world in this age ("till the whole was leavened"), is explicitly contradicted by our Lord's interpretation of the parables of the Wheat and Tares, and of the Net. Our Lord presents a picture of a partly converted kingdom in an unconverted world; of good fish and bad in the very kingdom-net itself. (3) The method of the extension of the kingdom is given in the first parable. It is by sowing seed, not by mingling leaven. The symbols have, in Scripture, a meaning fixed by inspired usage. Leaven is the principle of corruption working subtly; is invariably used in a bad sense (see "Leaven," Gen. 19. 3, refs.), and is defined by our Lord as evil doctrine (Mt. 16. 11, 12; Mk. 8. 15). Meal, on the contrary, was used in one of the sweet-savour offerings (Lev. 2. 1-3), and was food for the priests (Lev. 6. 15-17). A woman, in the bad ethical sense, always symbolizes something out of place, religiously (see Zech. 5. 6, note). In Thyatira it was a woman teaching (cf. Rev. 2. 20 with Rev. 17. 1-6). Interpreting the parable by these familiar symbols, it constitutes a warning that the true doctrine, given for the nourishment of the children of the kingdom (Mt. 4. 4; 1 Tim. 4. 6; 1 Pet. 2. 2), would be mingled with corrupt and corrupting false doctrine, and that officially, by the apostate church itself (1 Tim. 4. 1-3; 2 Tim. 2. 17, 18; 4. 3, 4; 2 Pet. 2. 1-3).

parables; I will utter things which have been kept secret from the foundation of the world.

The second mystery explained.

36 Then Jesus sent the multitude away, and went into the house: and his disciples came unto him, saying, "Declare unto us the parable of the tares of the field."

37 He answered and said unto them, He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man;

38 The field is the world; the good seed are the children of the kingdom; but the tares are the children of the wicked one;

39 The enemy that sowed them is the devil; the harvest is the end of the world; and the reapers are the angels.

40 As therefore the tares are gathered and burned in the fire; so shall it be in the end of this world.

41 The Son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that offend, and them which do iniquity;

42 And shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

43 Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. "Who hath ears to hear, let him hear."

Fifth mystery, the hid treasure.

44 Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto treasure hid in a field; the which when a man hath found, he hideth, and for joy thereof goeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

Sixth mystery, the pearl.

45 Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a merchant man, seeking goodly pearls:

46 Who, when he had found one pearl of great price, went and sold all that he had, and bought it.

Seventh mystery, the drag-net.

47 Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a net, that was cast into the sea, and gathered of every kind:

48 Which, when it was full, they

² The interpretation of the parable of the treasure, which makes the buyer of the field to be a sinner who is seeking Christ, has no warrant in the parable itself. The field is defined (v. 38) to be the world. The seeking sinner does not buy, but forsakes, the world to win Christ. Furthermore, the sinner has nothing to sell, nor is Christ for sale, nor is He hidden in a field, nor, having found Christ, does the sinner hide Him again (cf. Mk. 7. 24; Acts 4. 20). At every point the interpretation breaks down.

Our Lord is the buyer at the awful cost of His blood (1 Pet. 1. 18), and Israel, especially Ephraim (Jer. 31. 5-12, 18-20), the lost tribes hidden in "the field," the world (v. 38), is the treasure (Ex. 19. 5; Psal. 135. 4). Again, as in the separation of tares and wheat, the angels are used (Mt. 24. 31; Jer. 16. 16). The divine Merchantman buys the field (world) for the sake of the treasure (v. 44; Rom. 11. 28), beloved for the fathers' sakes, and yet to be restored and saved. The note of joy (v. 44) is also that of the prophets in view of Israel's restoration (Deut. 30. 9; Isa. 49. 13; 52. 1-3; 62. 4-7; 65. 18, 19). (See "Israel," Gen. 11. 10; Rom. 11. 26.)

³ The true Church, "one body" formed by the Holy Spirit (1 Cor. 12. 12, 13). As Israel is the hid treasure, so the Church is the pearl of great cost. Covering the same period of time as the mysteries of the kingdom, is the mystery of the Church (Rom. 16. 25, 26; Eph. 3. 3-10; 5. 32). Of the true Church a pearl is a perfect symbol: (1) A pearl is one, a perfect symbol of unity (1 Cor. 10. 17; 12. 12, 13; Eph. 4. 4-6). (2) A pearl is formed by accretion, and that not mechanically, but vitally, through a living one, as Christ adds to the Church (Acts 2. 41, 47; 5. 14; 11. 24; Eph. 2. 21; Col. 2. 19). (3) Christ, having given Himself for the pearl, is now preparing it for presentation to Himself (Eph. 5. 25-27). The kingdom is not the Church, but the true children of the kingdom during the fulfilment of these mysteries, baptized by one Spirit into one body (1 Cor. 12. 12, 13), compose the true Church, the pearl.

drew to shore, and sat down, and ^agathered the good into vessels, but cast the bad away.

49 So shall it be at the ^bend of the world: the angels shall come forth, and sever the wicked from among the just,

50 And shall cast them into the ^cfurnace of fire: there shall be weeping and gnashing of ^dteeth.

51 Jesus saith unto them, Have ye understood all these things? They say unto him, Yea, Lord.

52 Then said he unto them, Therefore every scribe which is instructed unto the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is an householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things new and old.

Jesus returns to Nazareth: again rejected (Mk. 6. 1-6; cf. Lk. 4. 16-32).

53 And it came to pass, that when Jesus had finished these parables, he departed thence.

54 And when he was come into his own country, he taught them in their synagogue, inasmuch that they were ^eastonished, and said, Whence hath this man this wisdom, and these mighty works?

55 Is not this the ^fcarpenter's son? is not his mother called Mary? and his brethren, ^gJames, and ^hJoses, and Simon, and Judas?

56 And his sisters, are they not all with us? Whence then hath this man all these things?

57 And they were offended in him. But Jesus said unto them, A prophet is not without honour, save in his own country, and in his own house.

CHAPTER 14.

Herod's troubled conscience. Murder of John the Baptist (Mk. 6. 14-29; Lk. 9. 7-9).

AT that time ^aHerod the tetrarch heard of the fame of Jesus,

2 And said unto his servants, This is John the Baptist; he is risen from the dead; and therefore mighty works do shew forth themselves in him.

3 For ^bHerod had laid hold on John, and bound him, and put him in prison for ^cHerodias' sake, his brother Philip's wife.

4 For John said unto him, It is not lawful for thee to have her.

5 And when he would have put him to death, he feared the multitude, because they counted him as a prophet.

6 But when Herod's birthday was kept, the daughter of Herodias danced before them, and pleased Herod.

7 Whereupon he promised with an oath to give her whatsoever she would ask.

8 And she, being before instructed of her mother, said, Give me here John Baptist's head in a charger.

9 And the king was ^dsorry: nevertheless for the oath's sake, and them which sat with him at meat, he commanded ^eit to be given her.

10 And he sent, and beheaded John in the prison.

12 And his disciples came, and wheat and tares of the mysteries of the kingdom as the sphere of profession, but with this difference: there Satan was the active agent; here the admixture is more the result of the tendency of a movement to gather to itself that which is not really of it. The kingdom of heaven is like a net which, cast into the sea of humanity, gathers of every kind, good and bad. And these remain together in the net (v. 49), and not merely in the sea, until the end of the age. It is not even a converted net, much less a converted sea. Infinite violence has been done to sound exegesis by the notion that the world is to be converted in this age. Against that notion stands our Lord's own interpretation of the parables of the Sower, the Wheat and Tares, and the Net.

Such, then, is the mystery form of the kingdom (see Mt. 3. 2, note; 6. 33, note). It is the sphere of Christian profession during this age. It is a mingled body of true and false, wheat and tares, good and bad. It is defiled by formalism, doubt, and worldliness. But within it Christ sees the true children of the true kingdom who, at the end, are to "shine forth as the sun." In the great field, the world, He sees the redeemed of all ages, but especially His hidden Israel, yet to be restored and blessed. Also, in this form of the kingdom, so unlike that which is to be, He sees the Church, His body and bride, and for joy He sells all that He has (2 Cor. 8. 9) and buys the field, the treasure, and the pearl.

took up the body, and buried it, and went and ^atold Jesus.

13 When Jesus heard of it, he ^bdeparted thence by ^cship into a desert place apart; and when the people had heard ^dthereof, they followed him on foot out of the cities.

14 And Jesus went forth, and saw a great multitude, and was moved with ^ecompassion toward them, and he healed their sick.

The five thousand fed (Mk. 6. 30-44; Lk. 9. 10-17; John 6. 1-14).

15 And when it was evening, his disciples came to him, saying, This is a desert place, and the time is now past; send the multitude away, that they may go into the villages, and buy themselves victuals.

16 But Jesus said unto them, They need not depart; ^fgive ye them to eat.

17 And they say unto him, We have here but five loaves, and two fishes.

18 He said, ^gBring them hither to me.

19 And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the grass, and took the ^hfive loaves, and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he ⁱblessed, and brake, and gave the loaves to ^jhis disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

20 And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up of the fragments that ^kremained twelve baskets full.

CHAPTER 15.

Jesus rebukes scribes and Pharisees (Mk. 7. 1-23).

THEN came to Jesus scribes and Pharisees, which were of Jerusalem, saying,

2 Why do thy disciples transgress the ^atradition of the elders? for they wash not their hands when they eat bread.

3 But he answered and said unto them, Why do ye also transgress the ^bcommandment of God by your tradition?

4 For God commanded, saying, ^cHonour thy father and mother: and, ^dHe that curseth father or mother, let him ^edie the death.

5 But ye say, Whosoever shall say to ^fhis father or his mother, It is a ^ggift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me;

6 And honour not his father or his mother, he shall be free. Thus have ye made the commandment of God of none effect by your tradition.

7 Ye hypocrites, well did ^aEsaias prophesy of you, saying,

8 This people draweth nigh unto me with their ^bmouth, and honour^ceth me with ^dtheir lips; but their heart is far from me.

9 But in vain they do worship me, teaching ^efor doctrines the commandments of men.

10 And he called the multitude, and said unto them, Hear, and understand:

11 Not that which goeth into the mouth defileth a man; but that which ^fcometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man.

12 Then came his disciples, and said unto him, Knowest thou that the Pharisees were offended, after they heard this saying?

13 But he answered and said, Every plant, which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be ^grooted up.

14 Let them alone: they be blind leaders of the blind. And if the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch.

15 Then answered Peter and said unto him, Declare unto us this parable.

16 And Jesus said, Are ye also ^hyet without understanding?

17 Do not ye yet understand, that whatsoever entereth in at the mouth goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught?

18 But those things which proceed out of the mouth come forth from the ⁱheart; and they defile the man.

19 For out of the heart proceed ^jevil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies:

20 These are ^kthe things which defile a man: but to eat with unwashen hands defileth not a man.

¹ For the first time the rejected Son of David ministers to a Gentile. It is a precurseful fulfilment of Mt. 12. 18. Addressed by a Gentile as Son of David, He makes no reply, for a Gentile has no claim upon Him in that character (see Mt. 2. 2, note; Eph. 2. 12). Addressing Him as "Lord," she obtained an immediate answer. See Rom. 10. 12, 13.

THE Pharisees also with the Sadducees came, and "tempting desired him that he would shew them a sign from heaven.

3 And in the morning, It will be foul weather to day: for the sky is red and lowing. O ye hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the sky; but can ye not discern the signs of the times?

Peter's confession. (Cf. Mk. 8. 27-30; Lk. 9. 18-21; John 6. 68, 69.)

13 When Jesus came into the coasts of Cæsarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, Whom do men say that I the Son of man am?

14 And they said, Some say that thou art John the Baptist: some, Elias; and others, Jeremias, or one of the prophets.

15 He saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am?

16 And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God.

First mention of the church.

17 And Jesus answered and said unto him, Blessed art thou, Simon Bar-jona: for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven.

18 And I say also unto thee, That thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.

¹ There is in the Greek a play upon the words, "thou art Peter [petros—literally, 'a little rock'], and upon this rock [Petra] I will build my church." He does not promise to build His church upon Peter, but upon Himself, as Peter himself is careful to tell us (1 Pet. 2. 4, 9).

² Gr. ecclesia (ek = "out of," kaleo = "to call"), an assembly of called-out ones. The word is used of any assembly; the word itself implies no more, as, e.g., the town-meeting at Ephesus (Acts 19. 39), and Israel, called out of Egypt and assembled in the wilderness (Acts 7. 38). Israel was a true "church," but not in any sense the N.T. church—the only point of similarity being that both were "called out" and by the same God. All else is contrast. See Acts 7. 38, note; Heb. 12. 23, note.

19 And I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.

20 Then ^{2b}charged he his disciples that they should tell no man that he was Jesus the Christ.

Christ foretells his death and resurrection (Mk. 8. 31-38; Lk. 9. 22-27).

21 From that time forth began Jesus to shew unto his disciples, how that he must go unto Jerusalem, and suffer many things of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and be raised again the third day.

22 Then Peter took him, and began to rebuke him, saying, Be it far from thee, Lord: this shall not be unto thee.

23 But he turned, and said unto Peter, Get thee behind me, Satan: thou art an offence unto me: for thou savourest not the things that be of God, but those that be of men.

24 Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me.

25 For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it.

26 For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?

27 For the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his angels; and then he shall reward every man according to his works.

The transfiguration: a picture of the future kingdom (Mk. 9. 2-13; Lk. 9. 28-36).

28 Verily I say unto you, There be some standing here, which shall not taste of death, till they see the Son of man coming in his kingdom.

CHAPTER 17.

AND after six days Jesus taketh Peter, James, and John his brother, and bringeth them up into an high mountain apart,

2 And ^{3a}was transfigured before them: and his face did shine as the sun, and his raiment was white as the light.

3 And, behold, there appeared unto them Moses and Elias talking with him.

4 Then answered Peter, and said unto Jesus, Lord, it is good for us to be here: if thou wilt, let us make here three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

5 While he yet spake, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them: and behold a voice out of the cloud, which said, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; hear ye him.

6 And when the disciples heard it, they fell on their face, and were sore afraid.

7 And Jesus came and touched them, and said, Arise, and be not afraid.

¹ Not the keys of the church, but of the kingdom of heaven in the sense of Mt. 13., i.e. the sphere of Christian profession. A key is a badge of power or authority (cf. Isa. 22. 22; Rev. 3. 7). The apostolic history explains and limits this trust, for it was Peter who opened the door of Christian opportunity to Israel on the day of Pentecost (Acts 2. 38-42), and to Gentiles in the house of Cornelius (Acts 10. 34-46). There was no assumption by Peter of any other authority (Acts 15. 7-11). In the council James, not Peter, seems to have presided (Acts 15. 19; cf. Gal. 2. 11-15). Peter claimed no more for himself than to be an apostle by gift (1 Pet. 1. 1), and an elder by office (1 Pet. 5. 1).

The power of binding and loosing was shared (Mt. 18. 18; John 20. 23) by the other disciples. That it did not involve the determination of the eternal destiny of souls is clear from Rev. 1. 18. The keys of death and the place of departed spirits are held by Christ alone.

² The disciples had been proclaiming Jesus as the Christ, i.e. the covenanted King of a kingdom promised to the Jews, and "at hand." The church, on the contrary, must be built upon testimony to Him as crucified, risen from the dead, ascended, and made "Head over all things to the church" (Eph. 1. 20-23). The former testimony was ended, the new testimony was not yet ready, because the blood of the new covenant had not yet been shed, but our Lord begins to speak of His death and resurrection (v. 21). It is a turning-point of immense significance.

³ The transfiguration scene contains, in miniature, all the elements of the future kingdom in manifestation: (1) The Lord, not in humiliation, but in glory (v. 2), 8 And when they had lifted up their eyes, they saw no man, save Jesus only.

9 And as they came down from the mountain, Jesus charged them, saying, Tell the vision to no man, until the Son of man be risen again from the dead.

10 And his disciples asked him, saying, Why then say the scribes that Elias must first come?

11 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Elias truly shall first come, and restore all things.

12 But I say unto you, That Elias is come already, and they knew him not, but have done unto him whatsoever they listed. Likewise shall also the Son of man suffer of them.

13 Then the disciples understood that he spake unto them of John the Baptist.

The powerless disciples: the mighty Christ (Mk. 9. 14-29; Lk. 9. 37-43).

14 And when they were come to the multitude, there came to him a certain man, kneeling down to him, and saying,

15 Lord, have mercy on my son: for he is lunatick, and sore vexed: for ofttimes he falleth into the fire, and oft into the water.

16 And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not cure him.

17 Then Jesus answered and said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? bring him hither to me.

18 And Jesus rebuked the devil; and he departed out of him: and the child was cured from that very hour.

19 Then came the disciples to Jesus again foretells his death and resurrection (Mk. 9. 30-32; Lk. 9. 43-45).

22 And while they abode in Galilee, Jesus said unto them, The Son of man shall be betrayed into the hands of men:

23 And they shall kill him, and the third day he shall be raised again. And they were exceeding sorry.

The miracle of the tribute money. (Cf. Mk. 12. 13.)

24 And when they were come to Capernaum, they that received tribute money came to Peter, and said, Doth not your master pay tribute?

25 He saith, Yes. And when he was come into the house, Jesus prevented him, saying, What thinkest thou, Simon? of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own children, or of strangers?

26 Peter saith unto him, Of strangers. Jesus saith unto him, Then are the children free.

(2) Moses, glorified, representative of the redeemed who have passed through death into the kingdom (Mt. 13. 43; cf. Lk. 9. 30, 31). (3) Elijah, glorified, representative of the redeemed who have entered the kingdom by translation (1 Cor. 15. 50-53; 1 Thes. 4. 14-17). (4) Peter, James, and John, not glorified, representatives (for the moment) of Israel in the flesh in the future kingdom (Ezk. 37. 21-27). (5) The multitude at the foot of the mountain (v. 14), representative of the nations who are to be brought into the kingdom after it is established over Israel (Isa. 11. 10-12, etc.).

¹ Cf. Mt. 11. 14; Mk. 9. 11, 12, 13; Lk. 1. 17; Mal. 3. 1; 4. 5, 6. All the passages must be construed together. (1) Christ confirms the specific and still unfulfilled prophecy of Mal. 4. 5, 6: "Elias shall truly first come and restore all things." Here, as in Malachi, the prediction fulfilled in John the Baptist, and that yet to be fulfilled in Elijah, are kept distinct. (2) But John the Baptist had come already, and with a ministry so completely in the spirit and power of Elijah's future ministry (Lk. 1. 17) that in an adumbrative and typical sense it could be said: "Elias is come already." Cf. Mt. 10. 40; Phm. 12, 17, where the same thought of identification, while yet preserving personal distinction, occurs (cf. John 1. 27).

thou shalt find a piece of money: that take, and give unto them for me and thee.

CHAPTER 18.

The sermon on the child-text
(Mk. 9. 33-37; Lk. 9. 46-48).

AT the same time came the disciples unto Jesus, saying, "Who is the greatest in the ^bkingdom of heaven?"

2 And Jesus called a little ^cchild unto him, and set him in the midst of them,

3 And said, Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven.

4 Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is ^dgreatest in the kingdom of heaven.

5 And whoso shall receive one such little child in my name receiveth me.

6 But whoso shall ^eoffend one of these little ones which believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and ^fthat he were drowned in the depth of the sea.

7 Woe unto the ^gworld because of offences! for it must needs be that offences come; but woe to that man by whom the offence cometh!

8 Wherefore ^hif thy hand or thy foot offend thee, cut them off, and cast ⁱthem from thee: it is better for thee to enter into ^jlife halt or maimed, rather than having two hands or two feet to be cast into ^keverlasting fire.

9 And if thine eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast ^lit from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into ^mhell fire.

10 Take heed that ye despise not one of these little ones; for I say unto you, That in heaven their ⁿangels do always behold the face of my Father which is in heaven.

The lost sheep: the seeking Lord. (Cf. Lk. 15. 3-7.)

11 For the ^oSon of man is come to ^psave that which was ^qlost.

12 How think ye? ^rIf a man have an ^shundred sheep, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leave the ninety and nine, and goeth into the mountains, and seeketh that which is gone astray?

Discipline in the future church.

15 Moreover if thy ^bbrother shall ^ctrespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: if he shall hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother.

16 But if he will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that in the mouth of ^dtwo or three witnesses every word may be established.

17 And if he shall neglect to hear them, tell ^eit unto the ^fchurch: but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as an ^gheathen man and a publican.

18 Verily I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall ^hbind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever ye shall loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.

19 Again I say unto you, That if two of you shall ⁱagree on earth as touching any thing that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of my Father which is in heaven.

The law of forgiveness (Lk. 17. 3,4).

21 Then came Peter to him, and said, Lord, how ^koft shall my brother ^lsin against me, and I ^mforgive him? till seven times?

22 Jesus saith unto him, I say not unto thee, Until seven times: but, Until ⁿseventy times seven.

23 Therefore is the ^okingdom of heaven likened unto a certain king, which would ^ptake account of his servants.

24 And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought unto him, which owed him ten thousand talents.

25 But forasmuch as he had ^qnot to pay, his lord commanded him to be sold, and his wife, and children, and all that he had, and payment to be made.

26 The servant therefore fell down, and worshipped him, saying,

Lord, have patience with me, and I ^awill pay thee all.

27 Then the lord of that servant was moved with compassion, and loosed him, and ^bforgave him the debt.

28 But the same servant went out, and found one of his fellow-servants, which owed him an hundred pence: and he laid hands on him, and took him by the throat, saying, Pay me that thou owest.

29 And his fellow-servant fell down at his feet, and besought him, saying, Have patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

30 And he ^dwould not: but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay the debt.

31 So when his fellow-servants saw what was done, they were very sorry, and came and told unto their lord all that was done.

32 Then his lord, after that he had called him, said unto him, O thou wicked servant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou desiredst me:

33 Shouldest not thou also have had compassion on thy fellow-servant, even as I had pity on thee?

34 And his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the tormentors, till he should pay all that was due unto him.

35 So likewise shall my heavenly Father do also unto you, if ye from your hearts forgive not every one his brother their trespasses.

shall cleave to his wife: and ^mthey twain shall be one flesh?

6 Wherefore they are no more twain, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder.

7 They say unto him, Why did ^mMoses then command to give a writing of divorce, and to put her away?

8 He saith unto them, ^mMoses because of the ^hhardness of your hearts suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it was not so.

9 And I say unto you, ^mWhosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery: and whoso marrieth her which is put away doth commit adultery.

11 But he said unto them, ^mAll men cannot receive this saying, save they to whom it is given.

Jesus receives and blesses little children (Mk. 10. 13-16; Lk. 18. 15-17).

13 Then were there brought unto him little children, that he should put his hands on them, and pray: and the disciples rebuked them.

16 And, behold, one came and said unto him, Good Master, what good thing shall I do, that I may have ^meternal life?

17 And he said unto him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is, God: but if thou wilt enter into life, ^mkeep the commandments.

18 He saith unto him, Which?

Jesus said, "Thou shalt do no murder, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, 19 ^bHonour thy father and thy mother: and, ^cThou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

20 The young man saith unto him, All these things have I ^dkept from my youth up: what lack I yet?

21 Jesus said unto him, If thou wilt be ^eperfect, go and sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come and follow me.

22 But when the young man heard that saying, he went away sorrowful: for he had great possessions.

23 Then said Jesus unto his disciples, Verily I say unto you, That a rich man shall hardly enter into the ^fkingdom of heaven.

24 And again I say unto you, It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

25 When his disciples heard it, they were exceedingly amazed, saying, Who then can be ^gsaved?

26 But Jesus beheld them, and said unto them, With men this is ^himpossible; but with God all things are possible.

The apostles' future place in the kingdom.

29 And ^mevery one that hath forsaken houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my name's sake, shall receive an hundredfold, and shall inherit everlasting life.

CHAPTER 20.

Parable of the labourers in the vineyard.

FOR the kingdom of heaven is ^alike unto a man that is an householder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his ^bvineyard.

2 And when he had agreed with the labourers for a penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard.

3 And he went out about the third hour, and saw ^cothers standing idle in the marketplace,

4 And said unto them; Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right I will give you. And they went their way.

5 Again he went out about the sixth and ninth hour, and did likewise.

6 And about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing idle, and saith unto them, ^dWhy stand ye here all the day idle?

7 They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us. He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard; and whatsoever is right, that shall ye receive.

8 So when ^eeven was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his steward, Call the labourers, and give them ^ftheir hire, beginning from the last unto the first.

9 And when they came that ^gwere hired about the eleventh hour, they ^hreceived every man a penny.

10 But when the first came, they supposed that they should have received more; and they likewise received every man a penny.

11 And when they had received ⁱit, they ^jmurmured against the Goodman of the house,

12 Saying, These last have wrought ^kbut one hour, and thou hast made them ^lequal unto us, which have borne the burden and heat of the day.

13 But he answered one of them, and said, Friend, I do thee no wrong: didst not thou agree with me for a penny?

² Disclosing how the promise (Isa. 1. 26) will be fulfilled when the kingdom is set up. The kingdom will be administered over Israel through the apostles, according to the ancient theocratic judgeship (Jud. 2. 18).

14 Take that thine is, and go thy way: I will give unto this last, even as unto thee.

15 Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with mine own? Is thine eye evil, because I am good?

16 So the ^{last} shall be first, and the first last: for many be called, but few chosen.

Jesus again foretells his death and resurrection (Mk. 10. 32-34; Lk. 18. 31-34. See Mt. 12. 38-42; 16. 21-28; 17. 22, 23).

17 And Jesus going up to Jerusalem took the twelve disciples apart in the way, and said unto them,

18 Behold we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be betrayed unto the chief priests and unto the scribes, and they shall condemn him to death,

19 And shall deliver him to the Gentiles to mock, and to scourge, and to crucify him: and the third day he shall rise again.

James and John, through their mother, make an ambitious request (Mk. 10. 35-45).

20 Then came to him the mother of Zebedee's children with her sons, worshipping him, and desiring a certain thing of him.

21 And he said unto her, What wilt thou? She saith unto him, Grant that these my two sons may sit, the one on thy right hand, and the other on the left, in thy kingdom.

22 But Jesus answered and said, Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink of the cup that I shall drink of, and to be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with? They say unto him, We are able.

23 And he saith unto them, Ye shall drink indeed of my cup, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with: but to sit on my right hand, and on my left, is not mine to give, but it shall be

27 And whosoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant:

The healing of two blind men (Mk. 10. 46-52. Cf. Lk. 18. 35-43).

29 And as they departed from Jericho, a great multitude followed him.

30 And, behold, two blind men sitting by the way side, when they heard that Jesus passed by, cried out, saying, Have mercy on us, O Lord, thou son of David.

31 And the multitude rebuked them, because they should hold their peace: but they cried the more, saying, Have mercy on us, O Lord, thou son of David.

32 And Jesus stood still, and called them, and said, What will ye that I shall do unto you?

33 They say unto him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened.

34 So Jesus had compassion on them, and touched their eyes: and immediately their eyes received sight, and they followed him.

¹ A discrepancy has been imagined between this account and those in Mk. 10. 46; Lk. 18. 35. Matthew and Mark obviously refer to a work of healing as Jesus departed from Jericho. Bartimæus, the active one of the two, the one who cried, "Jesus, thou Son of David," is specifically mentioned by Mark. Of the other one of the "two," we know nothing. The healing described by Luke (18. 35) occurred before Jesus entered Jericho. As to the form of appeal, "Son of David" (cf. Mt. 9. 27; 15. 22; 21. 9), Jesus must have been so addressed constantly. The narratives therefore supplement, but in no wise contradict each other.

Olives, then sent Jesus two disciples,

2 Saying unto them, Go into the village over against you, and straightway ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her: loose them, and bring them unto me.

3 And if any man say ought unto you, ye shall say, The Lord hath need of them; and straightway he will send them.

4 All this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying,

5 Tell ye the daughter of Sion, Behold, thy King cometh unto thee, meek, and sitting upon an ass, and a colt the foal of an ass.

6 And the disciples went, and did as Jesus commanded them,

7 And brought the ass, and the colt, and put on them their clothes, and they set him thereon.

8 And a very great multitude spread their garments in the way; others cut down branches from the trees, and strawed them in the way.

9 And the multitudes that went before, and that followed, cried, saying, Hosanna to the son of David: Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hosanna in the highest.

10 And when he was come into Jerusalem, all the city was moved, saying, Who is this?

11 And the multitude said, This is Jesus the prophet of Nazareth of Galilee.

13 And said unto them, It is written, My house shall be called the house of prayer; but ye have made it a den of thieves.

14 And the blind and the lame came to him in the temple; and he healed them.

15 And when the chief priests and scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children crying in the temple, and saying, Hosanna to the son of David; they were sore displeased,

20 And when the disciples saw it, they marvelled, saying, How soon is the fig tree withered away!

21 Jesus answered and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, If ye have faith, and doubt not, ye shall not only do this which is done to the fig tree, but also if ye shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; it shall be done.

35 And the husbandmen took his servants, and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another.

36 Again, he sent other servants more than the first: and they did unto them likewise.

37 But last of all he sent unto them his son, saying, They will reverence my son.

38 But when the husbandmen saw the son, they said among themselves, This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and let us seize on his inheritance.

CHAPTER 22.

Parable of the marriage feast (Lk. 14. 16-24).

AND Jesus answered and spake unto them again by parables, and said,

2 The kingdom of heaven is like unto a certain king, which made a marriage for his son,

3 And sent forth his servants to call them that were bidden to the wedding: and they would not come.

4 Again, he sent forth other servants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I have prepared my dinner: my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come unto the marriage.

5 But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his farm, another to his merchandise:

from the official representatives of the nation, He was soon to hear the multitude shout: "Crucify Him."

¹ Note that Matthew here as in verse 31 uses the larger word, kingdom of God. (Cf. Mt. 6. 33, note.) The kingdom of heaven (Mt. 3. 2, note; 1 Cor. 15. 24, summary) will yet be set up. Meantime the kingdom of God and His righteousness is taken from Israel nationally and given to the Gentiles (Rom. 9. 30-33).

² Christ as the "Stone" is revealed in a threefold way: (1) To Israel Christ,

6 And the remnant took his servants, and entreated them spitefully, and slew them.

7 But when the king heard thereof, he was wroth: and he sent forth his armies, and destroyed those murderers, and burned up their city.

8 Then saith he to his servants, The wedding is ready, but they which were bidden were not worthy.

9 Go ye therefore into the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage.

10 So those servants went out into the highways, and gathered together all as many as they found, both bad and good: and the wedding was furnished with guests.

11 And when the king came in to see the guests, he saw there a man which had not on a wedding garment:

12 And he saith unto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither not having a wedding garment? And he was speechless.

13 Then said the king to the servants, Bind him hand and foot, and take him away, and cast him into outer darkness; there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

Jesus answers the Sadducees (Mk. 12. 18-27; Lk. 20. 27-38).

23 The same day came to him the Sadducees, which say that there is no resurrection, and asked him,

24 Saying, Master, Moses said, If a man die, having no children, his brother shall marry his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.

25 Now there were with us seven brethren: and the first, when he had married a wife, deceased, and, having no issue, left his wife unto his brother:

26 Likewise the second also, and the third, unto the seventh.

27 And last of all the woman died also.

28 Therefore in the resurrection whose wife shall she be of the seven? for they all had her.

29 Jesus answered and said unto them, Ye do err, not knowing the scriptures, nor the power of God.

30 For in the resurrection they neither marry, nor are given in marriage, but are as the angels of God in heaven.

31 But as touching the resurrection of the dead, have ye not read that which was spoken unto you by God, saying,

32 I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? God is not the God of the dead, but of the living.

33 And when the multitude heard this, they were astonished at his doctrine.

Jesus answers the Pharisees (Mk. 12. 28-34. Cf. Lk. 10. 25-28).

34 But when the Pharisees had heard that he had put the Sadducees to silence, they were gathered together.

35 Then one of them, which was a ¹lawyer, asked him a question, tempting him, and saying,

43 The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool?

44 If David then call him Lord, how is he his son?

45 And no man was able to answer him a word, neither durst any man from that day forth ask him any more questions.

The marks of a Pharisee (Mk. 12. 38-40; Lk. 20. 45-47).

THEN spake Jesus to the multitude, and to his disciples,

2 Saying, The scribes and the Pharisees sit in Moses' seat:

3 All therefore whatsoever they bid you observe, that observe and do; but do not ye after their works: for they say, and do not.

4 For they bind heavy burdens and grievous to be borne, and lay them on men's shoulders; but they themselves will not move them with one of their fingers.

5 But all their works they do for to be seen of men; they make broad their phylacteries, and enlarge the borders of their garments,

6 And love the uppermost rooms at feasts, and the chief seats in the synagogues,

Jesus denounces woe upon the Pharisees (Mk. 12. 38-40; Lk. 20. 47).

13 But woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye shut up the kingdom of heaven against men: for ye neither go in yourselves, neither suffer ye them that are entering to go in.

14 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayer: therefore ye shall receive the greater damnation.

15 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte, and when he is made, ye make him twofold more the child of hell than yourselves.

16 Woe unto you, ye blind guides, which say, Whosoever shall swear by the temple, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by the gold of the temple, he is a debtor!

17 Ye fools and blind: for whether is greater, the gold, or the temple that sanctifieth the gold?

18 And, Whosoever shall swear by the altar, it is nothing; but whosoever sweareth by the gift that is upon it, he is guilty.

19 Ye fools and blind: for whether is greater, the gift, or the altar that sanctifieth the gift?

20 Whoso therefore shall swear by the altar, sweareth by it, and by all things thereon.

21 And whoso shall swear by the temple, sweareth by it, and by him that dwelleth therein.

¹ Gr. nomikos, "of the law"; occurs also, Lk. 7. 30; 10. 25; 11. 45, 46, 52; 14. 3; Tit. 3. 13. Except in the last instance, "lawyer" is another name for "scribe" (Mt. 2. 4, note). In Tit. 3. 13 the term has the modern meaning.

22 And he that shall swear by heaven, sweareth by the throne of God, and by him that sitteth thereon.

23 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye pay ^atithe of mint and anise and cummin, and have omitted the ^bweightier matters of the law, judgment, mercy, and faith: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone.

26 Thou blind Pharisee, cleanse first that which is within the cup and platter, that the outside of them may be clean also.

27 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye are like unto ^ewhited sepulchres, which indeed appear beautiful outward, but are within full of dead men's bones, and of all uncleanness.

28 Even so ye also outwardly appear righteous unto men, but within ye are full of hypocrisy and ^finiquity.

CHAPTER 24.

The Olivet discourse: (1) destruction of the temple foretold (Mk. 13. 1, 2; Lk. 21. 5, 6).

AND Jesus went out, and ^adeparted from the temple: and his disciples came to him for to shew him the buildings of the temple.

2 And Jesus said unto them, See ye not all these things? verily I say unto you, ^bThere shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.

The Olivet discourse: (2) the threefold question (Mk. 13. 3, 4; Lk. 21. 7).

3 And ^cwas he sat upon the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, ^dTell us, ^ewhen shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy ^fcoming, and of the ^gend of the world?

The Olivet discourse: (3) the course of this age (Mk. 13. 5-13; Lk. 21. 8-19).

4 And Jesus answered and said

¹ The three "untils" of Israel's blessing: (1) Israel must say, "Blessed is He" (Mt. 23. 39; cf. Rom. 10. 3, 4). (2) Gentile world-power must run its course (Lk. 21. 24; Dan. 2. 34, 35). (3) The elect number of the Gentiles must be brought in. Then "the Deliverer shall come out of Zion," etc. (Rom. 11. 25-27).

² Mt. 24. with Lk. 21. 20-24 answers the threefold question. The order is as follows: "When shall these things be?"—i.e. destruction of the temple and city.

unto them, Take heed that no man deceive you.

5 For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and shall deceive many.

6 And ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars: see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet.

7 For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes, in divers places.

8 All these are the beginning of sorrows.

9 Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all nations for my name's sake.

10 And then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another.

11 And many false prophets shall rise, and shall deceive many.

12 And because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold.

13 But he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.

14 And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come.

19 And woe unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days!

20 But pray ye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on the sabbath day:

21 For then shall be great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be.

22 And except those days should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved: but for the elect's sake those days shall be shortened.

23 Then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is Christ, or there; believe it not.

Answer, Lk. 21. 20-24. Second and third questions: "And what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the age?" Answer, Mt. 24. 4-33. Verses 4 to 14 have a double interpretation: They give (1) the character of the age—wars, international conflicts, famines, pestilences, persecutions, and false Christs (cf. Dan. 9. 26). This is not the description of a converted world. (2) But the same answer (vs. 4-14) applies in a specific way to the end of the age, viz. Daniel's seventieth week (Dan. 9. 24-27, note 2). All that has characterized the age gathers into awful intensity at the end. Verse 14 has specific reference to the proclamation of the good news that the kingdom is again "at hand" by the Jewish remnant (Isa. 1. 9; Rev. 14. 6, 7; Rom. 11. 5, note). Verse 15 gives the sign of the abomination (Dan. 9. 27, note)—the "man of sin," or "Beast" (2 Thes. 2. 3-8; Dan. 9. 27; 12. 11; Rev. 13. 4-7).

This introduces the great tribulation (Psa. 2. 5; Rev. 7. 14, note), which runs its awful course of three and a half years, culminating in the battle of Rev. 19. 19-21, note, at which time Christ becomes the smiting Stone of Dan. 2. 34. The detail of this period (vs. 15-28) is: (1) The abomination in the holy place (v. 15); (2) the warning (vs. 16-20) to believing Jews who will then be in Jerusalem; (3) the great tribulation, with renewed warning as to false Christs (vs. 21-26); (4) the sudden smiting of the Gentile world-power (vs. 27, 28); (5) the glorious appearing of the Lord, visible to all nations, and the regathering of Israel (vs. 29-31); (6) the sign of the fig-tree (vs. 32, 33); (7) warnings, applicable to this present age over which these events are ever impending (vs. 34-51; Phil. 4. 5). Careful study of Dan. 2., 7., 9., and Rev. 13, will make the interpretation clear. See, also, "Remnant" (Isa. 1. 9; Rom. 11. 5).

¹ Cf. Lk. 21. 20-24. The passage in Luke refers in express terms to a destruction of Jerusalem which was fulfilled by Titus, A.D. 70; the passage in Matthew to a future crisis in Jerusalem after the manifestation of the "abomination." See "Beast" (Dan. 7. 8; Rev. 19. 20); and "Armageddon" (Rev. 16. 14; 19. 17). As the circumstances in both cases will be similar, so are the warnings. In the former case Jerusalem was destroyed; in the latter it will be delivered by divine interposition.

shall shew great signs and wonders; insomuch that, if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect.

25 Behold, I have told you before.

26 Wherefore if they shall say unto you, Behold, he is in the desert; go not forth: behold, he is in the secret chambers; believe it not.

The Olivet discourse: (5) the return of the King in glory (Mk. 13. 24-37; Lk. 21. 25-36).

27 For as the lightning cometh out of the east, and shineth even unto the west; ^bso shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

28 For whosoever the ^dcarcase is, there will the eagles be gathered together.

29 Immediately after the tribulation of ^cthose days shall the sun be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken:

30 And then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven: and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, and they shall see ^ethe Son of man coming in the clouds of heaven with power and great glory.

¹ Gr. genea, the primary definition of which is, "race, kind, family, stock, breed." (So all lexicons.) That the word is used in this sense here is sure because none of "these things," i.e. the world-wide preaching of the kingdom, the great tribulation, the return of the Lord in visible glory, and the regathering of the elect, occurred at the destruction of Jerusalem by Titus, A.D. 70. The promise is, therefore, that the generation—nation, or family of Israel—will be preserved unto "these things"; a promise wonderfully fulfilled to this day.

THEN ¹shall the kingdom of ²heaven be ³likened unto ten ⁴virgins, which took their lamps, and went forth to meet the bridegroom.

¹⁵ But the wise answered, saying, Not so; lest there be not enough for us and you: but go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for yourselves.

¹⁶ And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came; and they that were ¹⁷ready went in with him to the marriage: and the door was shut.

¹⁵ And unto one he gave five talents, to another two, and to another one; to every man according to his several ability; and straightway took his journey.

¹⁶ Then he that had received the five talents went and ¹⁷traded with the same, and made ¹⁸them other five talents.

¹⁷ And likewise he that ¹⁹had received two, he also gained other two.

¹⁹ After a long time the lord of those servants cometh, and ²⁰reckoneth with them.

²⁰ And so he that had received five talents came and brought other five talents, saying, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me five talents: behold, I have gained beside them five talents more.

²¹ His lord said unto him, ²²Well done, ²³thou good and faithful servant: thou hast been ²⁴faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

²⁵ And I was afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: lo, ²⁶there thou hast ²⁷that is thine.

²⁶ His lord answered and said unto him, ²⁸Thou ²⁹wicked and sloth-

² The kingdom of heaven here is the sphere of profession, as in Mt. 13. All alike have lamps, but two facts fix the real status of the foolish virgins: They "took no oil," and the Lord said, "I know you not." Oil is the symbol of the Holy Spirit, and "If any man have not the spirit of Christ, he is none of his" (Rom. 8. 9). Nor could the Lord say to any believer, however unspiritual, "I know you not."

ful servant, thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not, and gather where I have not strawed:

27 Thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the exchangers, and then at my coming I should have received mine own with usury.

28 Take therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him which hath ten talents.

29 For unto every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but from him that hath not shall be taken away even that which he hath.

30 And cast ye the unprofitable servant into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

The Olivet discourse: (8) the Lord's return tests the Gentile nations. (Cf. Joel 3. 11-16.)

31 When the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory:

32 And before him shall be gathered all nations: and he shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats:

33 And he shall set the sheep on his right hand, but the goats on the left.

34 Then shall the King say unto them on his right hand, Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world:

35 For I was an hungred, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me in:

36 Naked, and ye clothed me: I was sick, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came unto me.

CHAPTER 26.

The Jewish authorities consult to put Jesus to death (Mk. 14. 1, 2; Lk. 22. 1, 2).

AND it came to pass, when Jesus had finished all these sayings, he said unto his disciples,

2 Ye know that after two days is the feast of the passover, and the Son of man is betrayed to be crucified.

3 Then assembled together the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders of the people, unto the palace of the high priest, who was called Caiaphas,

¹ This judgment is to be distinguished from the judgment of the great white throne. Here there is no resurrection; the persons judged are living nations; no books are opened; three classes are present, sheep, goats, brethren; the time is at the return of Christ (v. 31); and the scene is on the earth. All these particulars are in contrast with Rev. 20. 11-15. The test in this judgment is the treatment accorded by the nations to those whom Christ here calls "my brethren." These "brethren" are the Jewish Remnant who will have preached the Gospel of the kingdom to all nations during the tribulation. See "Remnant" (Isa. 1. 9; Rom. 11. 5). The test in Rev. 20. 11-15, is the possession of eternal life. See, for the other six judgments, John 12. 31, note; 1 Cor. 11. 31, note; 2 Cor. 5. 10, note; Ezk. 20. 37, note; Jude 6, note; Rev. 20. 12, note.

Jesus anointed by Mary of Bethany (Mk. 14. 3-9; John 12. 1-8).

6 Now when Jesus was in Bethany, in the house of Simon the ^cleper,

7 There came unto him a woman having an alabaster box of very precious ointment, and poured it on his ^dhead, as he sat at meat.

8 But when his disciples saw it, they had indignation, saying, To what purpose is this waste?

9 For this ointment might have been sold for much, and given to the poor.

10 When Jesus understood it, he said unto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good work upon me.

11 For ye have the poor always with you; but ^eme ye have not always.

12 For in that she hath poured this ointment on my body, she did it ^ffor my ^gburial.

13 Verily I say unto you, Where-soever this ^hgospel shall be preached in the whole ⁱworld, there shall also this, that this woman hath done, be told for a memorial of her.

Judas Iscariot sells the Lord (Mk. 14. 10, 11; Lk. 22. 3-6).

14 Then one of the twelve, called Judas Iscariot, went unto the chief priests,

15 And said unto them, What will ye give me, and I will deliver him unto you? And they covenanted with him for ^jthirty pieces of silver.

17 Now the first day of the feast of unleavened bread the disciples came to Jesus, saying unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eat the passover?

18 And he said, Go into the city to such a man, and say unto him, The Master saith, My time is at hand; I will keep the passover at thy house with my disciples.

19 And the disciples did as Jesus had appointed them; and they made ready the passover.

The last passover (Mk. 14. 17-21; Lk. 22. 14-20, 24-30).

20 Now when the even was come, he ^qsat down with the twelve.

(Here read John 13. 2-30.)

21 And as they did eat, he said, Verily I say unto you, that one of you shall ^rbetray me.

22 And they were exceeding sorrowful, and began every one of them to say unto him, Lord, is it I?

Jesus institutes the Lord's Supper (Mk. 14. 22-25; Lk. 22. 17-20; 1 Cor. 11. 23-25).

26 And as they were eating, Je-

¹ No contradiction of John 12. 3 is implied. The ordinary anointing of hospitality and honour was of the feet (Lk. 7. 38) and head (Lk. 7. 46). But Mary of Bethany, who alone of our Lord's disciples had comprehended His thrice repeated announcement of His coming death and resurrection, invested the anointing with the deeper meaning of the preparation of His body for burying. Mary of Bethany was not among the women who went to the sepulchre with intent to embalm the body of Jesus.

² The "cup" must be interpreted by our Lord's own use of that symbol in speaking of His approaching sacrificial death (Mt. 20. 22; John 18. 11). In view of John 10. 17, 18, He could have been in no fear of an unwilling death. The value of the account of the agony in the Garden is in the evidence it affords that He knew fully what the agony of the cross would mean when His soul was made an offering for sin (Isa. 53. 10) in the hiding of the Father's face. Knowing the cost to the utmost, He voluntarily paid it.

The second prayer (Mk. 14. 39; Lk. 22. 44).

42 He went away again the second time, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cup may not pass away from me, except I drink it, thy will be done.

43 And he came and found them asleep again: for their eyes were heavy.

The third prayer (Mk. 14. 41).

44 And he left them, and went away again, and prayed the third time, saying the same words.

45 Then cometh he to his disciples, and saith unto them, "Sleep on now, and take your rest: behold, the hour is at hand, and the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.

46 Rise, let us be going: behold, he is at hand that doth betray me.

The betrayal and arrest of Jesus (Mk. 14. 43-50; Lk. 22. 47-53; John 18. 3-11).

47 And while he yet spake, lo, Judas, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and elders of the people.

48 Now he that betrayed him gave them a sign, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is he: hold him fast.

49 And forthwith he came to Jesus, and said, Hail, master; and kissed him.

50 And Jesus said unto him, Friend, wherefore art thou come? Then came they, and laid hands on Jesus, and took him.

51 And, behold, one of them which were with Jesus stretched out his hand, and drew his sword, and struck a servant of the high priest's, and smote off his ear.

52 Then said Jesus unto him, Put up again thy sword into his place:

for all they that take the sword shall perish with the sword.

53 Thinkest thou that I cannot now pray to my Father, and he shall presently give me more than twelve legions of angels?

54 But how then shall the scriptures be fulfilled, that thus it must be?

55 In that same hour said Jesus to the multitudes, Are ye come out as against a thief with swords and staves for to take me? I sat daily with you teaching in the temple, and ye laid no hold on me.

56 But all this was done, that the scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled. Then all the disciples forsook him, and fled.

Jesus brought before Caiaphas and the Sanhedrin (Mk. 14. 53-65. Cf. John 18. 12, 19-24).

57 And they that had laid hold on Jesus led him away to Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were assembled.

58 But Peter followed him afar off unto the high priest's palace, and went in, and sat with the servants, to see the end.

59 Now the chief priests, and elders, and all the council, sought false witness against Jesus, to put him to death;

60 But found none: yea, though many false witnesses came, yet found they none. At the last came two false witnesses,

61 And said, This fellow said, I am able to destroy the temple of God, and to build it in three days.

62 And the high priest arose, and said unto him, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witness against thee?

63 But Jesus held his peace. And the high priest answered and said unto him, I adjure thee by the living God, that thou tell us whether thou be the Christ, the Son of God.

¹ A comparison of the narratives gives the following order of events on the crucifixion day: (1) Early in the morning Jesus is brought before Caiaphas and the Sanhedrin. He is condemned and mocked (Mt. 26. 57-68; Mk. 14. 55-65; Lk. 22. 63-71; John 18. 19-24). (2) The Sanhedrin lead Jesus to Pilate (Mt. 27. 1, 2, 11-14; Mk. 15. 1-5; Lk. 23. 1-5; John 18. 28-38). (3) Pilate sends Jesus to Herod (Lk. 23. 6-12; John 19. 4). (4) Jesus is again brought before Pilate, who releases Barabbas and delivers Jesus to be crucified (Mt. 27. 15-26; Mk. 15. 6-15; Lk. 23. 13-25; John 18. 39, 40; 19. 4-16). (5) Jesus is crowned with thorns, and mocked (Mt. 27. 26-30; Mk. 15. 15-20; John 19. 1-3). (6) Suicide of Judas (Mt. 27. 3-10). (7) Led forth to be crucified, the cross is laid upon Simon: Jesus discourses to the women (Mt. 27. 31, 32; Mk. 15. 20-23; Lk. 23. 26-33; John 19. 16, 17). For the order of events at the crucifixion see Mt. 27. 33, note.

65 Then the high priest rent his clothes, saying, He hath spoken blasphemy; what further need have we of witnesses? behold, now ye have heard his blasphemy.

66 What think ye? They answered and said, He is guilty of death.

67 Then did they ^cspit in his face, and buffeted him; and others ^dsmote him with the palms of their hands,

Peter denies the Lord (Mk. 14. 66-72; Lk. 22. 55-62; John 18. 15-18, 25-27).

69 Now Peter ^esat without in the palace: and a damsel came unto him, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus of Galilee.

70 But he denied before them all, saying, I know not what thou sayest.

71 And when he was gone out into the porch, another ^fmaid saw him, and said unto them that were there, This fellow was also with Jesus of Nazareth.

72 And again he denied with an oath, I do not know the man.

73 And after a while came unto him they that stood by, and said to Peter, Surely thou also art one of them; for thy ^gspeech bewrayeth thee.

74 Then began he to ^hcurse and to swear, saying, I know not the man. And immediately the ⁱcock crew.

75 And Peter remembered the word of Jesus, which said unto him, Before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice. And he went out, and wept bitterly.

3 Then Judas, which had betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented himself, and brought again the ^kthirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders,

4 Saying, I have ^lsinned in that I have betrayed the innocent blood. And they said, What is that to us? see thou to that.

6 And the chief priests took the silver pieces, and said, It is not lawful for to put them into the treasury, because it is the price of blood.

8 Wherefore that field was called, The field of blood, unto this day.

Jesus interrogated by Pilate (Mk. 15. 2-5; Lk. 23. 2, 3; John 18. 29-38).

11 And Jesus stood before the governor; and the governor ^rasked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And Jesus said unto him, ^sThou sayest.

12 And when he was accused of the chief priests and elders, he answered ^tnothing.

13 Then said Pilate unto him, Hearest thou not how many things they witness against thee?

14 And he answered him to never a word; insomuch that the governor marvelled greatly.

¹ Cf. v. 69; Mk. 14. 69; Lk. 22. 58; John 18. 25. A discrepancy has been imagined in these accounts. Let it be remembered that an excited crowd had gathered, and that Peter was interrogated in two places: "With the servants" (Mt. 26. 58) where the first charge was made (v. 69); "the porch" where a great number of people would be gathered, and where the second and third interrogations were made by "another maid" and by the crowd, i.e. "they" (vs. 71, 73; John 18. 25).

Jesus or Barabbas? (Mk. 15. 6-15; Lk. 23. 13-25; cf. John 18. 38-40).

15 Now at that feast the governor was ^wont to release unto the people a prisoner, whom they would.

16 And they had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas.

17 Therefore when they were gathered together, Pilate said unto them, Whom will ye that I release unto you? Barabbas, or Jesus which is called Christ?

18 For he knew that for ^benvy they had delivered him.

19 When he was set down on the judgment seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with that just man: for I have suffered many things this day in a ^dream because of him.

20 But the chief priests and elders persuaded the multitude that they should ask Barabbas, and destroy Jesus.

21 The governor answered and said unto them, Whether of the twain will ye that I release unto you? They said, ^aBarabbas.

22 Pilate saith unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ? They all say unto him, Let him be ^ccrucified.

23 And the governor said, Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out the more, saying, Let him be crucified.

¹ The order of events at the crucifixion: (1) The arrival at Golgotha (Mt. 27. 33; Mk. 15. 22; Lk. 23. 33; John 19. 17). (2) The offer of the stupefying drink refused (Mt. 27. 34; Mk. 15. 23). (7) The thieves rail on Him, but one repents and believes (Mt. 27. 44; Mk. 15. 32; Lk. 23. 39-43). (8) The second cry from the cross, "To-day shalt thou be with me," etc. (Lk. 23. 43). "It is finished" (John 19. 30). (14) The seventh cry, "Father, into thy hands," etc. (Lk. 23. 46). (15) Our Lord dismisses His spirit (Mt. 27. 50; Mk. 15. 37; Lk.
23. 46; John 19. 30).

¹ Cf. Mk. 15. 26; Lk. 23. 38; John 19. 19. These accounts supplement, but do not contradict each other. No one of the Evangelists quotes the entire inscription.
All have "The King of the Jews." Luke adds to this the further words,
"This is"; Matthew quotes the name, "Jesus"; whilst John gives the additional words "of Nazareth." The narratives combined give the entire inscription: "This is [Matthew, Luke] Jesus [Matthew, John] of Nazareth [John] the King of the Jews"

² Literally, "dismissed His spirit." The Gr. implies an act of the will. This expression, taken with Mk. 15. 37; Lk. 23. 46; John 19. 30, differentiates the death of Christ from all other physical death. He died by His own volition when He could say of His redemptive work, "It is finished." "No man taketh it from me, but I lay it down of myself" (John 10. 18).

³ The veil which was rent was the veil which divided the holy place into which the priests entered from the holy of holies into which only the high priest might enter on the day of atonement (Ex. 26. 31, note; Lev. 16. 1-30). The rending of that veil, which was a type of the human body of Christ (Heb. 10. 20) signified that a "new and living way" was opened for all believers into the very presence of God with no other sacrifice or priesthood save Christ's (cf. Heb. 9. 1-8; 10. 19-22).

⁴ That these bodies returned to their graves is not said and may not be inferred.
The wave-sheaf (Lev. 23. 10-12) typifies the resurrection of Christ, but a sheaf implies plurality. It was a single "corn of wheat" that fell into the ground in the crucifixion and entombment of Christ (John 12. 24); it was a sheaf which came forth in resurrection. The inference is that these saints, with the spirits of "just men made perfect" (Heb. 12. 23) from Paradise, went with Jesus (Eph. 4. 8-10) into heaven.

57 When the even was come, there came a rich man of Arimathea, named Joseph, who also himself was Jesus' disciple:

CHAPTER 28.

The resurrection of Jesus Christ, and events of that day (Mk. 16. 1-4; Lk. 24. 1-49; John 20. 1-23.)

IN the end of the sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.

2 And, behold, there was a great earthquake: for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it.

3 His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow:

4 And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.

5 And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified.

6 He is not here: for he is risen, as he said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay.

7 And go quickly, and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead; and, behold, he goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him: lo, I have told you.

8 And they departed quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great joy; and did run to bring his disciples word.

9 And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came and held him by the feet, and worshipped him.

10 Then said Jesus unto them, Be

¹ The order of events, combining the four narratives, is as follows: Three women, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome, start for the sepulchre, followed by other women bearing spices. The three find the stone rolled away, and Mary Magdalene goes to tell the disciples (Lk. 23. 55-24. 9; John 20. 1, 2). Mary, the mother of James and Jose, draws nearer the tomb and sees the angel of the Lord (Mt. 28. 2). She goes back to meet the other women following with the spices. Meanwhile Peter and John, warned by Mary Magdalene, arrive, look in, and go away (John 20. 3-10). Mary Magdalene returns weeping, sees the two angels and then Jesus (John 20. 11-18), and goes as He bade her to tell the disciples. Mary (mother of James and Jose), meanwhile, has met the women with the spices and, returning with them, they see the two angels (Lk. 24. 4, 5; Mk. 16. 5). They also receive the angelic message, and, going to seek the disciples, are met by Jesus (Mt. 28. 8-10).

² The order of our Lord's appearances would seem to be: On the day of His resurrection: (1) To Mary Magdalene (John 20. 14-18). (2) To the women returning not afraid: go tell my ^abrethren that they go into Galilee, and there shall they see me.

11 Now when they were going, behold, some of the watch came into the city, and shewed unto the chief priests all the things that were done.

12 And when they were assembled with the elders, and had taken counsel, they gave large ^bmoney unto the soldiers, 13 Saying, Say ye, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept.

14 And if this come to the governor's ears, we will ^cpersuade him, and secure you.

15 So they took the money, and did as they were taught: and this saying is commonly reported among the Jews until this day.

(5) To the apostles, except Thomas (Lk. 24. 36-43; John 20. 19-24). Eight days afterward: (1) To the apostles, Thomas being present (John 20. 24-29). In Galilee: (1) To the seven by the Lake of Tiberias (John 21. 1-23). (2) On a mountain, to the apostles and five hundred brethren (1 Cor. 15. 6). At Jerusalem and Bethany again: (1) To James (1 Cor. 15. 7). (2) To the eleven (Mt. 28. 16-20; Mk. 16. 14-20; Lk. 24. 33-53; Acts 1. 3-12). To Paul: (1) Near Damascus (Acts 9. 3-6; 1 Cor. 15. 8). (2) In the temple (Acts 22. 17-21; 23. 11). To Stephen, outside Jerusalem (Acts 7. 55). To John on Patmos (Rev. 1. 10-19).

¹ With the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ begins the "dispensation of the grace of God" (Eph. 3. 2), which is defined as "his kindness toward us through Christ Jesus"; and, "the gift of God: not of works, lest any man should boast" (Eph. 2. 7-9). Under grace God freely gives to the believing sinner eternal life (Rom. 6. 23); accounts to him a perfect righteousness (Rom. 3. 21, 22; 4. 4, 5); and accords to him a perfect position (Eph. 1. 6). The predicted results of this sixth testing of man are: (1) The salvation of all who believe (Acts 16. 31); (2) judgment upon an unbelieving world and an apostate church (Mt. 25. 31-46; 2 Thes. 1. 7-10; 1 Pet. 4. 17, 18; Rev. 3. 15, 16).

(1) Man's state at the beginning of the dispensation of grace (Rom. 3. 19; Gal. 3. 22; Eph. 2. 11, 12). (2) Man's responsibility under grace (John 1. 11, 12; 3. 36; 6. 28, 29). (3) His predicted failure (Mt. 24. 37-39; Lk. 18. 8; 19. 12-14). (4) The judgment (2 Thes. 2. 7-12).

² The word is in the singular, the "name," not names. Father, Son, and Holy Spirit is the final name of the one true God. It affirms: (1) That God is one. (2) That He subsists in a personality which is threefold, indicated by relationship as Father and Son; by a mode of being as Spirit; and by the different parts taken by the Godhead in manifestation and in the work of redemption, e.g. John 3. 5, 6 (Spirit), 16, 17 (Father and Son). In Mt. 3. 16, 17; Mk. 1. 10, 11; Lk. 3. 21, 22, the three persons are in manifestation together. (3) The conjunction in one name of the Three affirms equality and oneness of substance. See O.T. ST. MARK.

WRITER. The writer of the second Gospel, Mark, called also John, was the son of one of the New Testament Marys, and nephew of Barnabas. He was an associate of the apostles, and is mentioned in the writings of Paul and of Luke (Acts 12. 12, 25; 15. 37, 39; Col. 4. 10; 2 Tim. 4. 11; Phm. 24).

The date of Mark has been variously placed between A.D. 57 and 63.

Theme. The scope and purpose of the book are evident from its contents. In it Jesus is seen as the mighty Worker, rather than as the unique Teacher. It is the Gospel of Jehovah's "Servant the Branch" (Zech. 3. 8), as Matthew is the Gospel of the "Branch . . . unto David" (Jer. 33. 15).

Everywhere the servant character of the incarnate Son is manifest. The key-verse is 10. 45, "For even the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister." The characteristic word is "straightway," a servant's word. There is no genealogy, for who gives the genealogy of a servant? The distinctive character of Christ in Mark is that set forth in Phil. 2. 6-8.

But this lowly Servant, who emptied Himself of the "form of God," "and was found in fashion as a man," was, nevertheless, "the mighty God" (Isa. 9. 6), as Mark distinctly declares (1. 1), and therefore mighty works accompanied and authenticated His ministry. As befits a Servant-Gospel, Mark is characteristically a Gospel of deeds, rather than of words.

The best preparation of heart for the study of Mark is the prayerful reading of Isa. 42. 1-21; 50. 4-11; 52. 13-53. 12; Zech. 3. 8; Phil. 2. 5-8.

Mark is in five principal divisions: I. The manifestation of the Servant-Son, 1. 1-11. II. The Servant-Son tested as to His fidelity, 1. 12, 13. III. The Servant-Son at work, 1. 14-13. 37. IV. The Servant-Son "obedient unto death," 14. 1-15. 47. V. The ministry of the risen Servant-Son, now exalted to all authority, 16. 1-20.

The events recorded in this book cover a period of 7 years.

CHAPTER 1.

The ministry of John the Baptist (Mt. 3. 1-11; Lk. 3. 1-16; John 1. 6-8, 19-28).

3 The ^dvoice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the ^eLord, make his paths straight.

4 John did baptize in the wilderness, and preach the baptism of ^frepentance for the remission of ^gsins.

5 And there went out unto him all the land of Judæa, and they of Jerusalem, and were all baptized of him in the river of Jordan, confessing their ^hsins.

6 And John was ⁱclothed with camel's hair, and with a girdle of a skin about his loins; and he did eat locusts and wild honey;

7 And preached, saying, There cometh one mightier than I after 8 I indeed have baptized you with water: but he shall baptize you with the ^jHoly Ghost.

The baptism of Jesus (Mt. 3. 13-17; Lk. 3. 21, 22).

9 And it came to pass in those days, that Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized of John in Jordan.

10 And straightway coming up out of the water, he saw the ^kheavens opened, and the Spirit like a dove descending upon him:

11 And there came a voice from heaven, saying, Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

The temptation of Jesus (Mt. 4. 1-11; Lk. 4. 1-13).

12 And immediately the spirit ^ldriveth him into the wilderness.

13 And he was there in the wilderness forty days, tempted of ^mSatan; and was with the wild beasts; and the angels ministered unto him.

The first Galilean ministry
(Mt. 4. 12-17; Lk. 4. 14).

14 Now after that John was put in prison, Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the gospel of the ^akingdom of God,

15 And saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: repent ye, and believe the gospel.

The call of Peter and Andrew
(Mt. 4. 18-22; Lk. 5. 10, 11. Cf. John 1. 35-42).

16 Now as he walked by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon and Andrew his brother casting a net into the sea: for they were fishers.

17 And Jesus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you to become ^bfishers of men.

18 And straightway they forsook their nets, and followed him.

19 And when he had gone a little farther thence, he saw ^cJames the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, who also were in the ^dship mending their nets.

20 And straightway he called them: and they left their father Zebedee in the ship with the hired servants, and went after him.

Jesus casts out demons in Capernaum (Lk. 4. 31-37).

21 And they went into Capernaum; and straightway on the sabbath day he entered into the ^esynagogue, and taught.

22 And they were ^fastonished at his doctrine: for he taught them as one that had authority, and not as the scribes.

23 And there was in their synagogue a man with an ^gunclean spirit; and he cried out,

24 Saying, Let us alone; what have we to do with thee, ^hthou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? I ⁱknow thee who thou art, the Holy One of God.

25 And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him.

26 And when the unclean spirit had torn him, and cried with a loud voice, ^jhe came out of him.

27 And they were all amazed, inasmuch that they questioned among themselves, saying, What thing is this? what new doctrine is this? for with authority commandeth he even the unclean spirits, and they do obey him.

Simon's wife's mother healed of a fever (Mt. 8. 14, 15; Lk. 4. 38, 39).

29 And ^kforthwith, when they were come out of the synagogue, they entered into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John.

30 But Simon's wife's mother lay sick of a fever, and anon they tell him of her.

31 And he came and took her by the hand, and lifted her up; and ^kimmediately the fever left her, and she ^mministered unto them.

Demons cast out: many healed (Mt. 8. 16, 17; Lk. 4. 40, 41).

32 And at ⁿeven, when the sun did set, they brought unto him ^oall that were diseased, and them that were possessed with ^pdevils.

33 And all the city was gathered together at the door.

34 And he healed many that were sick of divers diseases, and cast out many ^pdevils; and ^qsuffered not the devils to speak, because they knew him.

Jesus prays: a preaching tour in Galilee (Lk. 4. 42-44).

35 And in the morning, ^rrising up a great while before day, he went out, and departed into a solitary place, and there prayed.

36 And Simon and they that were with him followed after him.

37 And when they had found him, they said unto him, All ^smen seek for thee.

38 And he said unto them, Let us go into the next towns, ^tthat I may preach there also: for ^utherefore came I forth.

39 And he preached in their synagogues throughout all Galilee, and cast out ^vdevils.

A leper healed (Mt. 8. 2-4; Lk. 5. 12-14).

40 And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeling down to him, and saying unto him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

41 And Jesus, moved with compassion, put forth ^whis hand, and touched him, and saith unto him, ^xI will; be thou clean.

42 And as soon as he had spoken, ^kimmediately the leprosy departed from him, and he was cleansed.

43 And he straitly charged him, and forthwith sent him away;

44 And saith unto him, "See thou say nothing to any man: but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing ^bthose things which ^cMoses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

45 But he went out, and began to publish it much, and to blaze abroad the matter, insomuch that Jesus could no more openly enter into the city, but was without in ^adesert places: and they came to him from every quarter.

CHAPTER 2.

The palsied man healed (Mt. 9. 1-8; Lk. 5. 18-26).

AND again he entered into Capernaum after some days; and it was noised that he was in the house.

2 And straightway many were gathered together, insomuch that there was no room to receive them, no, not so much as about the door: and he preached the word unto them.

3 And they come unto him, bringing one sick of the 'palsy, which was borne of four.

4 And when they could not come nigh unto him for the press, they uncovered the roof where he was: and when they had ^bbroken it up, they let down the bed wherein the sick of the palsy lay.

5 When Jesus saw their faith, he said unto the sick of the palsy, Son, thy ^asins be ^bforgiven thee.

6 But there were certain of the scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts,

7 Why doth this man thus speak blasphemies? who can forgive sins but ^cGod only?

8 And ^dimmediately when Jesus ^eperceived in his spirit that they so reasoned within themselves, he said unto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts?

9 Whether is it easier ^fto say to the sick of the palsy, Thy ^asins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and take up thy bed, and walk?

10 But that ye may know that the ^gSon of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (he saith to the sick of the palsy,)

11 I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy bed, and go thy way into thine house.

12 ^hAnd ⁱimmediately he arose, took up the bed, and went forth before them all; insomuch that they

13 And he went forth again by the sea side; and all the multitude resorted unto him, and he taught them.

14 And as he ^bpassed by, he saw Levi the son of Alphaeus sitting at the receipt of custom, and said unto him, Follow me. And he arose and followed him.

15 And it came to pass, that, as Jesus sat at meat in his house, many publicans and ^csinners sat also together with Jesus and his disciples: for there were many, and they followed him.

16 And when the scribes and Pharisees saw him eat with publicans and ^dsinners, they said unto his disciples, How is it that he eateth and drinketh with publicans and sinners?

17 When Jesus heard it, he saith unto them, They that are ^ewhole have no need of the physician, but they that are sick; I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to ^frepentance.

18 And the disciples of John and of the Pharisees ^gused to fast: and they come and say unto him, Why do the disciples of John and of the Pharisees fast, but thy disciples fast not?

19 And Jesus said unto them, Can the children of the bridechamber fast, while the ^hbridegroom is with them? as long as they have the bridegroom with them, they cannot fast.

20 But the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be ⁱtaken away from them, and then shall they fast in those days.

21 No man also ^jseweth a piece of new cloth on an old garment: else the new piece that filled it up taketh away from the old, and the rent is made worse.

22 And ^kno man putteth new wine into old ^lbottles: else the new wine doth burst the bottles, and the wine is spilled, and the bottles will be ^mmarred: but new wine must be put into new bottles.

Jesus Lord of the sabbath
(Mt. 12. 1-8; Lk. 6. 1-5).

23 And it came to pass, that he went through the corn fields on the sabbath day; and his disciples began, as they went, to pluck the ears of corn.

24 And the Pharisees said unto him, Behold, why do they on the sabbath day that which is not lawful?

25 And he said unto them, Have ye never read what David did, when he had need, and was an hungred, he, and they that were with him?

26 How he went into the house of God in the days of Abiathar the high priest, and did eat the shewbread, which is not lawful to eat but for the priests, and gave also to them which were with him?

27 And he said unto them, The sabbath was made for man, and not man for the sabbath:

28 Therefore the Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath.

CHAPTER 3.

Jesus heals the withered hand on the sabbath (Mt. 12. 10-14; Lk. 6. 6-11).

AND he entered again into the synagogue; and there was a man there which had a withered hand.

2 And they watched him, whether he would heal him on the sabbath day; that they might accuse him.

3 And he saith unto the man, which had the withered hand, Stand forth.

4 And he saith unto them, Is it lawful to do good on the sabbath days, or to do evil? to save life, or to kill? But they held their peace.

5 And when he had looked round about on them with anger, being grieved for the hardness of their hearts, he saith unto the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it out: and his hand was restored whole as the other.

The multitudes healed (Mt. 12. 15, 16; Lk. 6. 17-19).

6 And the Pharisees went forth, and straightway took counsel with the Herodians against him, how they might destroy him.

7 But Jesus withdrew himself with his disciples to the sea: and a great multitude from Galilee followed him, and from Judea,

8 And from Jerusalem, and from Idumaea, and from beyond Jordan; and they about Tyre and Sidon, a great multitude, when they had heard what great things he did, came unto him.

9 And he spake to his disciples, that a small ship should wait on him because of the multitude, lest they should throng him.

10 For he had healed many; inso-much that they pressed upon him for to touch him, as many as had plagues.

11 And unclean spirits, when they saw him, fell down before him, and cried, saying, Thou art the Son of God.

12 And he straitly charged them that they should not make him known.

The twelve chosen (Mt. 10. 1-4; Lk. 6. 12-16).

13 And he goeth up into a mountain, and calleth unto him whom he would: and they came unto him.

14 And he ordained twelve, that they should be with him, and that he might send them forth to preach,

15 And to have power to heal sicknesses, and to cast out devils:

16 And Simon he surnamed Peter; 17 And James the son of Zebedee, and John the brother of James, and he surnamed them Boanerges, which is, The sons of thunder:

18 And Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and Matthew, and Thomas, and James the son of Alphæus, and Thaddæus, and Simon the Canaanite, 19 And Judas Iscariot, which also betrayed him: and they went into an house.

20 And the multitude cometh together again, so that they could not so much as eat bread.

21 And when his friends heard of it, they went out to lay hold on him: for they said, He is beside himself.

The unpardonable sin (Mt. 12. 24-29; Lk. 11. 14-20).

22 And the scribes which came down from Jerusalem said, He hath Beelzebub, and by the prince of the devils casteth he out devils.

23 And he called them unto him, and said unto them in parables, How can Satan cast out Satan?

24 And if a kingdom be divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand.

25 And if a house be divided against itself, that house cannot stand.

26 And if ^aSatan rise up against himself, and be divided, he cannot stand, but hath an end.

27 No man can enter into a ^bstrong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he will first ^cbind the strong man; and then he will spoil his house.

28 Verily I say unto you, All ^dsins shall be forgiven unto the sons of men, and blasphemies wherewith soever they shall blaspheme;

29 But he that shall ^eblaspheme against the ^fHoly Ghost hath never forgiveness, but is ^gin danger of eternal damnation:

30 ^hBecause they said, He hath an unclean spirit.

The new relationships (Mt. 12. 46-50; Lk. 8. 19-21).

31 There came then his ⁱbrethren and his mother, and, standing without, sent unto him, calling him.

32 And the multitude sat about him, and they said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren without seek for thee.

33 And he answered them, saying, Who is my mother, or my brethren?

34 And he looked round about on them which sat about him, and said, Behold my mother and my brethren!

35 For whosoever shall do the ^jwill of God, the same is my brother, and my sister, and mother.

CHAPTER 4.

The parable of the sower (Mt. 13. 1-23; Lk. 8. 4-15)

AND he began again to teach by the ^ksea side: and there was gathered unto him a great multitude, so that he entered into a ship, and sat in the sea; and the whole multitude was by the sea on the land.

2 And he taught them many things by parables, and said unto them in his doctrine,

3 Hearken; Behold, there went out a ^lsower to sow:

4 And it came to pass, as he sowed, some fell by the way side, and the ^mfowls of the air came and devoured it up.

5 And some fell on stony ground, where it had not much earth; and immediately it sprang up, because it had no depth of earth:

6 But when the sun was up, it was scorched; and because it had no root, it withered away.

7 And some fell among thorns, and the thorns grew up, and choked it, and it yielded no fruit.

8 And other fell on good ground, and did yield fruit that sprang up and increased; and brought forth, some thirty, and some sixty, and some an hundred.

9 And he said unto them, He that hath ^wears to hear, let him hear.

10 And when he was alone, they that were about him with the twelve asked of him the parable.

11 And he said unto them, Unto you it is given to know the ^xmystery of the kingdom of God: but unto them that are without, all ^ythese things are done in parables:

12 That ^zseeing they may see, and not perceive; and hearing they may hear, and not understand; lest at any time they should ^abe converted, and ^btheir ^csins should be forgiven them.

The parable of the sower explained (Mt. 13. 18-23; Lk. 8. 11-15).

13 And he said unto them, Know ye not this parable? and how then will ye know all parables?

14 The sower soweth the word.

15 And these are they by the way side, where the word is sown; but when they have heard, ^dSatan cometh immediately, and taketh away the word that was sown in their hearts.

16 And these are they likewise which are sown on stony ground; who, when they have heard the word, immediately receive it with gladness;

17 And have no root in themselves, and so endure but for a time: afterward, when ^eaffliction or persecution ariseth for the word's sake, immediately they are of-fended.

18 And these are they which are sown among thorns; such as hear the word,

19 And the ^fcares of this ^gworld, and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things entering in, choke the word, and it becometh unfruitful.

20 And these are they which are sown on good ground; such as hear the word, and ^hreceive it, and bring forth fruit, some thirtyfold, some sixty, and some an hundred.

Parable of the candle. (Cf. Mt. 5. 15, 16; Lk. 8. 16; 11. 33.)

21 And he said unto them, Is a candle brought to be put under a bushel, or under a bed? and not to be set on a candlestick?

22 For there is nothing hid, which shall not be manifested; neither was any thing kept secret, but that it should come abroad.

23 If any man have ears to hear, let him hear.

24 And he said unto them, Take heed what ye hear: with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you: and unto you that hear shall more be given.

25 For he that hath, to him shall be given: and he that hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he hath.

The unconscious growth.

26 And he said, So is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seed into the ground;

27 And should sleep, and rise night and day, and the seed should spring and grow up, he knoweth not how.

28 For the earth bringeth forth fruit of herself; first the blade, then the ear, after that the full corn in the ear.

29 But when the fruit is brought forth, immediately he putteth in the sickle, because the harvest is come.

Parable of the mustard seed (Mt. 13. 31, 32, note; Lk. 13. 18, 19).

30 And he said, Whereunto shall we liken the kingdom of God? or with what comparison shall we compare it?

31 It is like a grain of mustard seed, which, when it is sown in the earth, is less than all the seeds that be in the earth:

32 But when it is sown, it groweth up, and becometh greater than all herbs, and shooteth out great branches; so that the fowls of the air may lodge under the shadow of it.

33 And with many such parables spake he the word unto them, as they were able to hear it.

34 But without a parable spake he not unto them: and when they were alone, he expounded all things to his disciples.

Jesus stills the storm (Mt. 8. 23-27; Lk. 8. 22-25).

35 And the same day, when the even was come, he saith unto them, Let us pass over unto the other side.

36 And when they had sent away the multitude, they took him even as he was in the ship. And there were also with him other little ships.

37 And there arose a great storm of wind, and the waves beat into the ship, so that it was now full.

38 And he was in the hinder part of the ship, asleep on a pillow: and they awake him, and say unto him, Master, carest thou not that we perish?

39 And he arose, and rebuked the wind, and said unto the sea, Peace, be still. And the wind ceased, and there was a great calm.

40 And he said unto them, Why are ye so fearful? how is it that ye have no faith?

41 And they feared exceedingly, and said one to another, What manner of man is this, that even the wind and the sea obey him?

CHAPTER 5.

The maniac of Gadara (Mt. 8. 28-34; Lk. 8. 26-37).

AND they came over unto the other side of the sea, into the country of the Gadarenes.

2 And when he was come out of the ship, immediately there met him out of the tombs a man with an unclean spirit,

3 Who had his dwelling among the tombs; and no man could bind him, no, not with chains:

4 Because that he had been often bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been plucked asunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces: neither could any man tame him.

5 And always, night and day, he was in the mountains, and in the tombs, crying, and cutting himself with stones.

6 But when he saw Jesus afar off, he ran and worshipped him,

7 And cried with a loud voice, and said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of the most high God? I adjure thee by God, that thou torment me not.

8 For he said unto him, Come out of the man, thou unclean spirit.

9 And he asked him, What is thy name? And he answered, saying, My name is Legion: for we are many.

10 And he besought him much that he would not send them away out of the country.

11 Now there was there nigh unto the mountains a great herd of swine feeding.

12 And all the devils besought him, saying, Send us into the swine, that we may enter into them.

13 And forthwith Jesus gave them leave. And the unclean spirits went out, and entered into the swine: and the herd ran violently down a steep place into the sea, (they were about two thousand;) and were choked in the sea.

14 And they that fed the swine fled, and told it in the city, and in the country. And they went out to see what it was that was done.

15 And they come to Jesus, and see him that was possessed with the devil, and had the legion, sitting, and clothed, and in his right mind: and they were afraid.

16 And they that saw it told them how it befell to him that was possessed with the devil, and also concerning the swine.

17 And they began to pray him to depart out of their coasts.

18 And when he was come into the ship, he that had been possessed with the devil prayed him that he might be with him.

19 Howbeit Jesus suffered him not, but saith unto him, Go home to thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and hath had compassion on thee.

20 And he departed, and began to publish in Decapolis how great things Jesus had done for him: and all men did marvel.

Jesus heals the woman with an issue of blood, and raises the daughter of Jairus (Mt. 9. 18-26; Lk. 8. 41-56).

21 And when Jesus was passed over again by ship unto the other side, much people gathered unto him: and he was nigh unto the sea.

22 And, behold, there cometh one of the rulers of the synagogue, Jairus by name; and when he saw him, he fell at his feet,

23 And besought him greatly, saying, My little daughter lieth at the point of death: I pray thee, come and lay thy hands on her, that she may be healed; and she shall live.

24 And Jesus went with him; and much people followed him, and thronged him.

25 And a certain woman, which had an issue of blood twelve years,

26 And had suffered many things of many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was nothing bettered, but rather grew worse,

27 When she had heard of Jesus, came in the press behind, and touched his garment.

28 For she said, If I may touch but his clothes, I shall be whole.

29 And straightway the fountain of her blood was dried up; and she felt in her body that she was healed of that plague.

30 And Jesus, immediately knowing in himself that virtue had gone out of him, turned him about in the press, and said, Who touched my clothes?

31 And his disciples said unto him, Thou seest the multitude thronging thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me?

32 And he looked round about to see her that had done this thing.

33 But the woman fearing and trembling, knowing what was done in her, came and fell down before him, and told him all the truth.

34 And he said unto her, Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole; go in peace, and be whole of thy plague.

35 While he yet spake, there came from the ruler of the synagogue's house certain which said, Thy daughter is dead: why troublest thou the Master any further?

36 As soon as Jesus heard the word that was spoken, he saith unto the ruler of the synagogue, Be not afraid, only believe.

37 And he suffered no man to follow him, save Peter, and James, and John the brother of James.

38 And he cometh to the house of the ruler of the synagogue, and seeth the tumult, and them that wept and wailed greatly.

39 And when he was come in, he saith unto them, Why make ye this ado, and weep? the damsel is not dead, but sleepeth.

40 And they laughed him to scorn. But when he had put them all out, he taketh the father and the mother of the damsel, and them that were with him, and entereth in where the damsel was lying.

41 And he took the damsel by the hand, and said unto her, Talitha cumi; which is, being interpreted, Damsel, I say unto thee, arise.

42 And straightway the damsel arose, and walked; for she was of the age of twelve years. And they were astonished with a great astonishment.

43 And he charged them straitly that no man should know it; and commanded that something should be given her to eat.

CHAPTER 6.

Jesus again at Nazareth (Mt. 13. 54-58. See Lk. 4. 16, note).

AND he went out from thence, and came into his own country; and his disciples follow him.

2 And when the sabbath day was come, he began to teach in the synagogue; and many hearing him were astonished, saying, From whence hath this man these things? and what wisdom is this which is given unto him, that even such mighty works are wrought by his hands?

3 Is not this the carpenter, the son of Mary, the brother of James, and of Joseph, and of Judah, and Simon? and are not his sisters here with us? And they were offended at him.

4 But Jesus said unto them, A prophet is not without honour, but in his own country, and among his own kin, and in his own house.

5 And he could there do no mighty work, save that he laid his hands upon a few sick folk, and healed them.

6 And he marvelled because of their unbelief. And he went round about the villages, teaching.

The twelve sent out to preach and heal (Mt. 10. 1-42; Lk. 9. 1-6).

7 And he called unto him the twelve, and began to send them forth by twos and twos; and gave them power over unclean spirits;

8 And commanded them that they should take nothing for their journey, save a staff only; no scrip, no bread, no money in their purse:

9 But be shod with sandals; and not put on two coats.

10 And he said unto them, In what place soever ye enter into an house, there abide till ye depart from that place.

11 And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear you, when ye depart thence, shake off the dust

Herod's troubled conscience: murder of John the Baptist (Mt. 14. 1-14; Lk. 9. 7-9).

14 And king Herod heard of him; (for his name was spread abroad:) and he said, That John the Baptist was risen from the dead, and therefore mighty works do shew forth themselves in him.

15 Others said, That it is Elias. And others said, That it is a prophet, or as one of the prophets.

16 But when Herod heard thereof, he said, It is John, whom I beheaded: he is risen from the dead.

17 For Herod himself had sent forth and laid hold upon John, and bound him in prison for Herodias' sake, his brother Philip's wife; for he had married her.

18 For John had said unto Herod, It is not lawful for thee to have thy brother's wife.

19 Therefore Herodias had a quarrel against him, and would have killed him; but she could not:

20 For Herod feared John, knowing that he was a just man and an holy, and observed him; and when he heard him, he did many things, and heard him gladly.

21 And when a convenient day was come, that Herod on his birthday made a supper to his lords, high captains, and chief estates of Galilee;

22 And when the daughter of the said Herodias came in, and danced, and pleased Herod and them that sat with him, the king said unto the damsel, Ask of me whatsoever thou wilt, and I will give it thee.

23 And he swore unto her, Whatsoever thou shalt ask of me, I will give it thee, unto the half of my kingdom.

24 And she went forth, and said unto her mother, What shall I ask? And she said, The head of John the Baptist.

25 And she came in straightway with haste unto the king, and asked, saying, I will that thou give me "by and by in a charger the head of John the Baptist.

26 And the king was exceeding ^bsorry; yet for his oath's sake, and for their sakes which sat with him, he would not reject her.

27 And immediately the king sent an executioner, and commanded his head to be brought: and he went and beheaded him in the prison,

28 And brought his head in a charger, and gave it to the damsel: and the damsel gave it to her mother.

29 And when his disciples ^dheard of it, they came and took up his corpse, and laid it in a tomb.

Return of the apostles from their first preaching tour (Lk. 9. 10).

30 And the apostles ^fgathered themselves together unto Jesus, and told him all things, both what they had done, and what they had taught.

The five thousand fed (Mt. 14. 13 21; Lk. 9. 10 17; John 6. 5-13).

32 And they departed into a desert place ^hby ship privately.

33 And the people saw them departing, and many knew him, and ran afoot thither out of all cities, and outwent them, and came together unto him.

34 And Jesus, when he came out, saw much people, and was moved with compassion toward them, because they were as sheep not having a shepherd: and he began to teach them many things.

35 And when the day was now far spent, his disciples came unto him, and said, This is a desert place, and now the time is far passed:

36 ^kSend them away, that they may go into the country round about, and into the villages, and buy themselves bread: for they have nothing to eat.

37 He answered and said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they say unto him, Shall we go and buy two hundred pennyworth of bread, and give them to eat?

38 He saith unto them, "How many loaves have ye? go and see. And when they knew, they say, Five, and two fishes.

46 And when he had sent them away, he ^gdeparted into a mountain to pray.

47 And when even was come, the ship was in the midst of the sea, and he alone on the land.

48 And he saw them ^htoiling in rowing; for the wind was contrary unto them: and about the fourth watch of the night he cometh unto them, ⁱwalking upon the sea, and would have passed by them.

49 But when they saw him walking upon the sea, they ^jsupposed it had been a spirit, and cried out:

50 For they all saw him, and were troubled. And immediately he talked with them, and saith unto them, "Be of good cheer: it is I; be not afraid.

51 And he went up unto them into the ship; and the ^kwind ceased: and they were sore amazed in themselves beyond measure, and wondered.

52 For they ^lconsidered not the miracle of the loaves: for their heart was hardened.

Jesus heals at Gennesaret (Mt. 14. 34 36).

53 And when they had passed over, they came into the land of Gennesaret, and drew to the shore.

54 And when they were come out of the ship, straightway they ^mknew him,

55 And ran through that whole region round about, and began to carry about in beds those that were sick, where they heard he was.

56 And whithersoever he entered, into villages, or cities, or country, they laid the sick in the streets, and besought him that they might touch if it were but the border of his garment: and as many as touched him were made whole.

CHAPTER 7.

The Pharisees rebuked (Mt. 15. 1-20).

THEN came together unto him the Pharisees, and certain of the scribes, which came from Jerusalem.

2 And when they saw some of his disciples eat bread with defiled, that is to say, with unwashen hands, they found fault.

3 For the Pharisees, and all the Jews, except they wash their hands oft, eat not, holding the tradition of the elders.

4 And when they come from the market, except they wash, they eat not. And many other things there be, which they have received to hold, as the washing of cups, and pots, brassen vessels, and of tables.

5 Then the Pharisees and scribes asked him, Why walk not thy disciples according to the tradition of the elders, but eat bread with unwashen hands?

6 He answered and said unto them, Well hath Esaias prophesied of you hypocrites, as it is written, This people honoureth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me.

7 Howbeit in vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.

8 For laying aside the commandment of God, ye hold the tradition of men, as the washing of pots and cups: and many other such like things ye do.

9 And he said unto them, Full well ye reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your own tradition.

10 For Moses said, Honour thy father and thy mother; and, Whoso curseth father or mother, let him die the death:

11 But ye say, If a man shall say to his father or mother, It is Corban, that is to say, a gift, by what-

12 And ye suffer him no more to do ought for his father or his mother;

14 And when he had called all the people unto him, he said unto them, Hearken unto me every one of you, and understand:

15 There is nothing from without a man, that entering into him can defile him: but the things which come out of him, those are they that defile the man.

16 If any man have ears to hear, let him hear.

17 And when he was entered into the house from the people, his disciples asked him concerning the parable.

18 And he saith unto them, Are ye so without understanding also? Do ye not perceive, that whatsoever thing from without entereth into the man, it cannot defile him;

19 Because it entereth not into his heart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the draught, purging all meats?

20 And he said, That which cometh out of the man, that defileth the man.

21 For from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders,

22 Thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness:

23 All these evil things come from within, and defile the man.

Jesus and the Syrophenician woman (Mt. 15. 21-28).

24 And from thence he arose, and went into the borders of Tyre and Sidon, and entered into an house, and would have no man know it; but he could not be hid.

25 For a certain woman, whose young daughter had an unclean spirit, heard of him, and came and fell at his feet:

26 The woman was a Greek, a Syrophenician by nation; and she besought him that he would cast forth the devil out of her daughter.

27 But Jesus said unto her, Let the children first be filled: for it is not meet to take the children's bread, and to ^acast it unto the dogs.

28 ^bAnd she answered and said unto him, Yes, Lord: yet the dogs under the table eat of the children's crumbs.

29 And he said unto her, For this saying go thy way; the devil is gone out of thy daughter.

30 And when she was come to her house, ^cshe found the devil gone out, and her daughter ^dlaid upon the bed.

33 And he took him ^gaside from the multitude, and put his fingers into his ears, and he ^hspit, and touched his tongue;

34 And looking up to heaven, he ⁱsighed, and saith unto him, Ephphatha, that is, Be opened.

35 And straightway his ^jears were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he spake plain.

36 And he charged them that they should tell no man, but the more he ^kcharged them, so much the more a great deal they published it;

2 I have compassion on the multitude, because they have now been with me three days, and have nothing to eat;

3 And if I send them away fasting to their own houses, they will faint by the way: for divers of them came from far.

4 And his disciples answered him, From ^cwhence can a man satisfy these ^dmen with bread here in the wilderness?

10 And straightway he ^aentered into a ship with his disciples, and came into the parts of Dalmanutha.

11 And the Pharisees came forth, and began to question with him, seeking of him a ^bsign from heaven, tempting him.

12 And he sighed deeply in his spirit, and saith, Why doth this generation seek after a sign? verily I say unto you, There shall ^cno sign be given unto this generation.

13 And he left them, and entering into the ship again departed to the other side.

14 Now ^dthe disciples had forgotten to take bread, neither had they in the ship with them more than one loaf.

22 And he cometh to Bethsaida; and they bring a blind man unto him, and besought him to touch him.

23 ¹And he took the blind man by the hand, and led him out of the town; and when he had spit on his eyes, and put his hands upon him, he asked him if he saw ought.

24 And he looked up, and said, I see men as trees, walking.

25 After that he put his hands again upon his eyes, and made him look up: and he was restored, and saw every man clearly.

29 And he saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am? And Peter answereth and saith unto him, Thou art the Christ.

30 And he charged them that they should tell no man of him.

31 And he began to teach them, that the Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders, and of the chief priests, and scribes, and be killed, and after three days rise again.

32 And he spake that saying openly. And Peter took him, and began to rebuke him.

33 But when he had turned about and looked on his disciples, he rebuked Peter, saying, Get thee behind me, Satan: for thou savourest not the things that be of God, but the things that be of men.

The transfiguration (Mt. 17. 1-8; Lk. 9. 28-36).

AND he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, That there be some of them that stand here, which shall not taste of death, till they have ^{seen} the kingdom of God come with power.

2 And after six days Jesus taketh with him Peter, and James, and John, and leadeth them up into a high mountain apart by themselves: and he was transfigured before them.

3 And his raiment became shining, exceeding white as snow; so as no fuller on earth can white them.

4 And there appeared unto them Elias with Moses: and they were talking with Jesus.

5 And Peter answered and said to Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

6 For he twist not what to say; for they were sore afraid.

7 And there was a cloud that overshadowed them: and a voice

¹ Our Lord's action here is most significant. Having abandoned Bethsaida to judgment (Mt. 11. 21-24), He would neither heal in that village, nor permit further testimony to be borne there (v. 26). The probation of Bethsaida as a community was ended, but He would still show mercy to individuals. Cf. Rev. 3. 20. Christ is outside the door of that church, but "If any man hear My voice," etc.

8 And suddenly, when they had looked round about, they saw ^bno man any more, save Jesus only with themselves.

9 And as they came down from the mountain, he ^ccharged them that they should tell no man what things they had seen, till the Son of man were ^drisen from the dead.

10 And they kept that saying with themselves, questioning one with another what the rising from the dead should mean.

11 And they asked him, saying, Why say the scribes that ^eElias must first come?

12 And he answered and told them, ^fElias verily cometh first, and restoreth all things; and how it is written of the Son of man, that he must suffer many things, and be set at nought.

CHAPTER 10.

Jesus' law of divorce. (Cf. Mt. 5. 31, 32; 19. 1-9; Lk. 16. 18; 1 Cor. 7. 10-15.)

AND he arose from thence, and cometh into the ^bcoasts of Judæa by the farther side of Jordan: and the people resort unto him again; and, as he was wont, he taught them again.

2 And the Pharisees came to him, and asked him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife? tempting him.

3 And he answered and said unto them, What did ^cMoses command you?

4 And they said, Moses ^dsuffered to write a bill of divorcement, and to put her away.

5 And Jesus answered and said unto them, For the hardness of your heart ^ehe wrote you this precept.

6 But from the beginning of the creation ^fGod made them male and female.

7 For this cause shall a man ^gleave his father and mother, and cleave to ^hhis wife;

8 And ⁱthey twain shall be one flesh: so then they are no more twain, but one flesh.

9 What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder.

10 And in the house his disciples asked him again of the same matter.

11 And he saith unto them, ^jWhosoever shall put away his wife, and marry another, committeth adultery against her.

12 And if a woman shall put away her husband, and be married to another, she committeth adultery.

Jesus blesses little children (Mt. 19. 13-15; Lk. 18. 15-17).

13 And they brought ^kyoung children to him, that he should touch them: and his disciples rebuked those that brought them.

14 But when Jesus saw it, he was ^lmuch displeased, and said unto them, Suffer the little children ^mto come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God.

15 Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein.

16 ⁿAnd he took them up in his arms, put his hands upon them, and ¹blessed them.

The rich young ruler (Mt. 19. 16-30; Lk. 18. 18-30. Cf. Lk. 10. 25).

17 ^aAnd when he was gone forth into the way, there came one running, and kneeled to him, and asked him, Good ^aMaster, what shall I do that I may inherit eternal life?

18 And Jesus said unto him, ^aWhy callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is, God.

19 Thou knowest the ^acommandments. Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Defraud not, Honour thy father and mother.

20 And he answered and said unto him, Master, all these have I observed from my youth.

21 Then Jesus beholding him loved him, and said unto him, One thing thou lackest: go thy way, sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have ^atreasure in heaven: and come, take up the cross, and follow me.

22 And he was sad at that saying, and went away grieved: for he had great possessions.

The warning against riches.

23 ^fAnd Jesus looked round about, and saith unto his disciples, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God!

24 And the disciples were ^aastonished at his words. But Jesus answereth again, and saith unto them, Children, how hard is it for them that ^atrust in riches to enter into the kingdom of God!

25 It is easier for a camel to go through the ^aeye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

26 And they were astonished out of measure, saying among themselves, Who then can be saved?

27 And Jesus looking upon them saith, With men it is impossible, but not with God: for with God all things are possible.

28 ^aThen Peter began to say unto him, Lo, we have left all, and have followed thee.

29 And Jesus answered and said, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, Jesus again foretells his death and resurrection (Mt. 20. 17-19; Lk. 18. 31-33).

32 And they were in the way going up to Jerusalem; and Jesus went before them: and they were amazed; and as they followed, they were afraid. ^aAnd he took again the twelve, and began to tell them what things should happen unto him,

33 Saying, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem; ^aand the ^aSon of man shall be delivered unto the chief priests, and unto the scribes; and they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver him to the Gentiles:

34 And they ^ashall mock him, and shall scourge him, and shall spit upon him, and shall kill him: and the third day he shall rise again.

The desire of James and John to be first (Mt. 20. 20-28).

35 And James and John, the sons of Zebedee, come unto him, saying, Master, we would that thou shouldst do for us whatsoever we shall desire.

36 And he said unto them, What would ye that I should do for you?

37 They said unto him, ^aGrant unto us that we may sit, one on thy right hand, and the other on thy left hand, in thy glory.

38 But Jesus said unto them, Ye know not what ye ask: ^acan ye drink of the cup that I drink of? and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with?

39 And they said unto him, We can. ^aAnd Jesus said unto them, Ye shall indeed drink of the cup that I drink of; and with the ^abaptism that I am baptized withal shall ye be baptized:

40 But to sit on my right hand and on my left hand is not mine to give; ^abut it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared.

they began to be much displeased with James and John.

42 But Jesus called them to him, and saith unto them, Ye know that they which are accounted to rule over the Gentiles exercise lordship over them; and their great ones exercise authority upon them.

43 But so shall it not be among you: ^abut whosoever will be great among you, shall be your minister:

44 And whosoever of you will be the chiefest, shall be servant of all.

45 For even the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his ^blife a ransom for many.

Bartimæus receives his sight (Mt. 20. 29-34. Cf. Lk. 18. 35-43).

46 And they came to Jericho: and as he went out of Jericho with his disciples and a great number of people, blind Bartimæus, the son of Timæus, sat by the highway side begging.

47 And when he heard that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to cry out, and say, Jesus, thou son of David, have mercy on me.

48 And many charged him that he should hold his peace: but he cried the more a great deal, Thou son of David, have mercy on me.

49 And Jesus stood still, and commanded him to be called. And they call the blind man, saying unto him, Be of good comfort, rise; he calleth thee.

50 And he, casting away his garment, rose, and came to Jesus.

51 And Jesus answered and said unto him, What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? The blind man said unto him, Lord, that I might receive my sight.

CHAPTER 12.

Parable of the householder demanding fruit from his vineyard (Mt. 21. 33-46; Lk. 20. 9-19. Cf. Isa. 5. 1-7).

AND he began to speak unto ^athem by parables. A certain man planted a vineyard, and set an hedge about it, and digged a place for the winefat, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a far country.

2 And at the season he ^ssent to the husbandmen a servant, that he might receive from the husbandmen of the fruit of the vineyard.

3 And they caught him, and beat him, and sent him away empty.

4 And again he sent unto them another servant; and at him they cast stones, and wounded him in the head, and sent him away shamefully handled.

5 And again he sent another; and him they killed, and many others; beating some, and killing some.

6 Having yet therefore one ^oson, his wellbeloved, he sent him also last unto them, saying, They will reverence my son.

7 But those husbandmen said among themselves, This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and the inheritance shall be our's.

8 And they took him, and killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard.

9 What shall therefore the lord of the vineyard do? he will come and ^ddestroy the husbandmen, and will give the vineyard unto others.

10 And have ye not read this scripture; ^eThe stone which the builders rejected is become the head of the corner:

11 This was the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes?

12 And they sought to lay hold on him, but feared the people: for they knew that he had spoken the 13 And they ^asend unto him certain of the Pharisees and of the Herodians, to catch him in his words.

14 And when they were come, they say unto him, Master, we know that thou art true, and carest for no man: for thou regardest not the person of men, but teachest the way of God in truth: ^bIs it lawful to give tribute to Cæsar, or not?

15 Shall we give, or shall we not give? But he, knowing their hypocrisy, said unto them, Why tempt ye me? bring me a ^cpenny, that I may see it.

16 And they brought it. And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription? And they said unto him, Cæsar's.

Jesus answers the Sadducees (Mt. 22. 23-33; Lk. 20. 27-38).

19 Master, ^gMoses wrote unto us, If a man's brother die, and leave ^hhis wife behind him, and leave no children, that his ⁱbrother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.

22 And the seven had her, and left no seed: last of all the woman died also.

23 In the resurrection therefore, when they shall rise, whose wife shall she be of them? for the seven had her to wife.

24 And Jesus answering ^jsaid unto them, Do ye not therefore err, because ye know not the scriptures, neither the power of God?

28 And one of the scribes came, and having heard them reasoning together, and perceiving that he had answered them well, asked him, Which is the first commandment of all?

29 And Jesus answered him, The first of all the commandments is Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God is one ^eLord:

31 And the second is like, namely this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these.

32 And the scribe said unto him, Well, Master, thou hast said the truth: for there is one God; and there is none other but he:

33 And to love him with all the heart, and with all the understanding, and with all the soul, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbour as himself, is more than all whole burnt-offerings and sacrifices.

35 And Jesus answered and said, while he taught in the temple, How say the scribes that Christ is the ^cson of David?

36 ^dFor David himself said by the ^eHoly Ghost, The ^fLORD said to my ^gLord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool.

37 David therefore himself calleth him Lord; and whence is he then his son? And the common people heard him gladly.

38 And he said unto them in his doctrine, Beware of the scribes, which love to go in long clothing, and love salutations in the market-places,

39 And the chief seats in the synagogues, and the uppermost rooms at feasts:

40 Which devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayers: these shall receive greater damnation.

Jesus and the widow's mite (Lk. 21. 1-4).

41 And Jesus sat over against the treasury, and beheld how the people cast money into the treasury: and many that were rich cast in much.

42 And there came a certain poor widow, and she threw in two mites, which make a farthing.

43 And he called unto him his disciples, and saith unto them, Verily I say unto you, That this poor widow hath cast more in, than all they which have cast into the treasury:

44 For all they did cast in of their abundance; but she of her want did cast in all that she had, even all her living.

AND as he went out of the temple, one of his disciples saith unto him, Master, see what manner of stones and what buildings are here!

2 And Jesus answering said unto him, Seest thou these great buildings? there shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.

3 And as he sat upon the mount of Olives over against the temple, Peter and James and John and Andrew asked him privately,

4 Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign when all these things shall be fulfilled?

troubled: for such things must needs be; but the end shall not be yet.

8 For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be earthquakes in divers places, and there shall be famines and troubles: these are the beginnings of sorrows.

9 But take heed to yourselves: for they shall deliver you up to councils; and in the synagogues ye shall be beaten: and ye shall be brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them.

10 And the gospel must first be published among all nations.

11 But when they shall lead you, and deliver you up, take no thought beforehand what ye shall speak, neither do ye premeditate: but whatsoever shall be given you in that hour, that speak ye: for it is not ye that speak, but the Holy Ghost.

12 Now the brother shall betray the brother to death, and the father the son; and children shall rise up against their parents, and shall cause them to be put to death.

15 And let him that is on the housetop not go down into the house, neither enter therein, to take any thing out of his house:

16 And let him that is in the field not turn back again for to take up his garment.

17 But woe to them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days!

18 And pray ye that your flight be not in the winter.

19 For in those days shall be 'affliction, such as was not from the beginning of the creation which God created unto this time, neither shall be.

20 And except that the Lord had shortened those days, no flesh should be saved: but for the elect's sake, whom he hath chosen, he hath shortened the days.

21 And then if any man shall say to you, Lo, here is Christ; or, lo, he is there; believe him not:

22 For false Christs and false prophets shall rise, and shall shew signs and wonders, to seduce, if it were possible, even the elect.

23 But take ye heed: behold, I have foretold you all things.

The Lord's return in glory (Mt. 24. 27-31).

24 But in those days, after that tribulation, the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light,

25 And the stars of heaven shall fall, and the powers that are in heaven shall be shaken.

26 And then shall they see the Son of man coming in the clouds with great power and glory.

27 And then shall he send his angels, and shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from the uttermost part of the earth to the uttermost part of heaven.

28 Now learn a parable of the fig tree; When her branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that summer is near:

29 So ye in like manner, when ye shall see these things come to pass, know that it is nigh, even at the doors.

30 Verily I say unto you, that this generation shall not pass, till all these things be done.

31 Heaven and earth shall pass away: but my words shall not pass away.

32 But of that day and that hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels which are in heaven, neither the Son, but the Father.

CHAPTER 14.

The plot to put Jesus to death (Mt. 26. 2-5; Lk. 22. 1, 2).

AFTER two days was the feast of the passover, and of unleavened bread: and the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might take him by craft, and put him to death.

2 But they said, Not on the feast day, lest there be an uproar of the people.

Jesus anointed by Mary of Bethany (Mt. 26. 6-13; John 12. 1-8).

3 And being in Bethany in the house of Simon the leper, as he sat at meat, there came a woman having an alabaster box of ointment of spikenard very precious; and she brake the box, and poured it on his head.

4 And there were some that had indignation within themselves, and said, Why was this waste of the ointment made?

5 For it might have been sold for more than three hundred pence, and have been given to the poor. And they murmured against her.

6 And Jesus said, Let her alone; why trouble ye her? she hath wrought a good work on me.

7 For ye have the poor with you always, and whosoever ye will ye may do them good: but me ye have not always.

8 She hath done what she could: she is come aforehand to anoint my body to the burying.

9 Verily I say unto you, Where-soever this gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world, this also that she hath done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her.

Judas covenants to betray Jesus (Mt. 26. 14-16; Lk. 22. 3-6).

10 And Judas Iscariot, one of the twelve, went unto the chief priests, to betray him unto them.

11 And when they heard it, they were glad, and promised to give him money. And he sought how he might conveniently betray him.

The preparation of the passover

12 And the ^afirst day of unleavened bread, when they ^bkilled the passover, his disciples said unto him, Where wilt thou that we go and prepare that thou mayest eat the passover?

13 And he sendeth forth two of his disciples, and saith unto them, Go ye into the city, and there shall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water: follow him.

14 And whosoever he shall go in, say ye to the goodman of the house, The Master saith, Where is the guest-chamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples?

15 And he will shew you a large upper room furnished and prepared: there make ready for us.

16 And his disciples went forth, and came into the city, and ^afound as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.

The last passover (Mt. 26. 20-24; Lk. 22. 14, 21-23; John 13. 18, 19).

17 ^aAnd in the evening he cometh with the twelve.

18 And as they sat and did eat, Jesus said, Verily I say unto you, One of you which ^aeateth with me shall betray me.

19 And they began to be sorrowful, and to say unto him one by one, Is it I? and another said, Is it I?

20 And he answered and said unto them, It is one of the twelve, that dipperth with me in the dish.

21 ^aThe Son of man indeed goeth, as it is written of him: but woe to that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! ^bgood were it for that man if he had never been born.

Jesus institutes the Lord's Supper (Mt. 26. 26-29; Lk. 22. 17-20; 1 Cor. 11. 23-26).

22 And as they did eat, Jesus took bread, and blessed, and ^abrake it, and gave to them, and said, Take, ^beat: this is my body.

23 And he took the cup, and ^awhen he had given thanks, he gave it to them: and they all drank of it.

24 And he said unto them, This is my blood of the ^anew ^btestament, which is shed for many.

25 Verily I say unto you, I will drink no more of the fruit of the vine, until ^athat day that I drink it new in the kingdom of God.

Peter's denial foretold (Mt. 26. 31-35; Lk. 22. 31-34; John 13. 36-38).

26 And when they had sung an ^ahymn, they went out into the mount of Olives.

27 And Jesus saith unto them, All ye shall be offended because of me this night: for it is ^awritten, I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered.

28 ^aBut after that I am risen, I will go before you into Galilee.

29 But ^aPeter said unto him, Although all shall be offended, yet will not I.

30 And Jesus saith unto him, Verily I say unto thee, That this day, even in this night, before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice.

31 But he spake the more vehemently, If I should die with thee, I will not deny thee in any wise. ^aLikewise also said they all.

The agony in the garden. (Cf. Mt. 26. 36-46; Lk. 22. 39-46; John 18. 1.)

32 And they came to a place which was named Gethsemane: and he saith to his disciples, Sit ye here, while I shall pray.

33 And he ^ataketh with him Peter and James and John, and began to be sore amazed, and to be very heavy;

34 And saith unto them, My ^asoul is exceeding sorrowful unto death: tarry ye here, and watch.

The first prayer. (Cf. Mt. 26. 39; Lk. 22. 41, 42.)

35 And he went forward a little, and fell on the ground, and prayed that, if it were possible, the hour might pass from him.

36 And he said, Abba, Father, all things are possible unto thee: take away this ^acup from me: nevertheless not what I will, but what thou wilt.

37 And he cometh, and findeth them sleeping, and saith unto Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? couldest not thou watch one hour?

38 ^aWatch ye and pray, lest ye enter into temptation. The spirit truly is ready, but the ^aflesh is weak.

The second prayer. (Cf. Mt. 26. 42; Lk. 22. 44.)

40 And when he returned, he found them asleep again, (for their eyes were heavy,) neither wist they what to answer him.

The third prayer. (Cf. Mt. 26. 44.)

41 And he cometh the third time, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: it is enough, the hour is come; behold, the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.

42 Rise up, let us go; lo, he that betrayeth me is at hand.

The betrayal and arrest of Jesus (Mt. 26. 47-56; Lk. 22. 47-53; John 18. 3-11).

43 And immediately, while he yet spake, cometh Judas, one of the twelve, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and the scribes and the elders.

44 And he that betrayed him had given them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is he; take him, and lead him away safely.

45 And as soon as he was come, he goeth straightway to him, and saith, Master, master; and kissed him.

46 And they laid their hands on him, and took him.

49 I was daily with you in the temple teaching, and ye took me not: but the scriptures must be fulfilled.

50 And they all forsook him, and fled.

51 And there followed him a certain young man, having a linen cloth cast about his naked body; and the young men laid hold on him:

52 And he left the linen cloth, and fled from them naked.

assembled all the chief priests and the elders and the scribes.

54 And Peter followed him afar off, even into the palace of the high priest: and he sat with the servants, and warmed himself at the fire.

55 And the chief priests and all the council sought for witness against Jesus to put him to death; and found none.

56 For many bare false witness against him, but their witness agreed not together.

57 And there arose certain, and bare false witness against him, saying,

58 We heard him say, I will destroy this temple that is made with hands, and within three days I will build another made without hands.

59 But neither so did their witness agree together.

60 And the high priest stood up in the midst, and asked Jesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witness against thee?

61 But he held his peace, and answered nothing. Again the high priest asked him, and said unto him, Art thou the Christ, the Son of the Blessed?

62 And Jesus said, I am: and ye shall see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven.

63 Then the high priest rent his clothes, and saith, What need we any further witnesses?

64 Ye have heard the blasphemy: what think ye? And they all condemned him to be guilty of death.

65 And some began to spit on him, and to cover his face, and to buffet him, and to say unto him, Prophecy: and the servants did strike him with the palms of their hands.

67 And when she saw Peter warming himself, she looked upon him, and said, And thou also wast with Jesus of Nazareth.

68 But he denied, saying, I know not, neither understand I what thou sayest. And he went out into the porch; and the cock crew.

69 And a maid saw him again, and began to say to them that stood by. This is one of them.

70 And he denied it again. And a little after, they that stood by said again to Peter, Surely thou art one of them: for thou art a Galilean, and thy speech agreeth thereto.

71 But he began to curse and to swear, saying, I know not this man of whom ye speak.

Jesus sent before Pilate (Mt. 27. 1, 2, 11-15; Lk. 23. 1-7, 13-18; John 18. 28-40; 19. 1-16).

25 And it was the ^mthird hour, and they crucified him.

26 And the ⁿsuperscription of his accusation was written over, THE KING OF THE JEWS.

27 And with him they crucify two thieves; the one on his right hand, and the other on his left.

28 ^oAnd the scripture was fulfilled, which saith, And he was numbered with the transgressors.

29 ^aAnd they that passed by railed on him, wagging their heads, and saying, ^bAh, thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days,

30 Save thyself, and come down from the cross.

33 And when the sixth hour was come, there was darkness over the whole land until the ninth hour.

34 And at the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, ^gsaying, Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani? which is, being interpreted, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

35 And some of them that stood by, when they heard it, said, Behold, he calleth Elias.

36 And one ran and filled a sponge full of vinegar, and put it on a reed, and ^hgave him to drink, saying, Let alone; let us see whether Elias will come to take him down.

37 And Jesus cried with a loud voice, and ⁱgave up the ghost.

38 And the ^jveil of the temple was rent in twain from the ^ktop to the bottom.

39 And when the centurion, which stood over against him, saw that he so cried out, and gave up the ghost, he said, Truly this man was the Son of God.

40 There were also women looking on afar off: among whom was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James the less and of Josès, and Salome;

AND ^awhen the sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, and ^bMary the mother of James, and Salome, had bought sweet spices, that they might come and anoint him.

2 ¹And very early in the morning the first ^cday of the week, they came unto the sepulchre at the rising of the sun.

3 And they said among themselves, ^dWho shall roll us away the stone from the door of the sepulchre?

4 And when they looked, they saw that the stone was rolled away: for it was very great.

5 And entering into the sepulchre, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, clothed in a long white garment; and they were affrighted.

6 And he saith unto them, Be not affrighted: ^eYe seek Jesus of Nazareth, which was crucified: he is ^frisen; he is not here: behold the place where they laid him.

7 But go your way, tell his disciples and Peter that he goeth before you into Galilee: there shall ye see him, ^gas he said unto you.

8 And they went out quickly, and fled from the sepulchre; for they

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO

WRITER. The writer of the third Gospel is called by Paul "the beloved physician" (Col. 4. 14); and, as we learn from the Acts, was Paul's frequent companion. He was of Jewish ancestry, but his correct Greek marks him as a Jew of the dispersion. Tradition says that he was a Jew of Antioch, as Paul was of Tarsus.

Date. The date of Luke falls between A.D. 63 and 68.

Theme. Luke is the Gospel of the human-divine One, as John is of the divine-human One. The key-phrase is "Son of man," and the key-verse (19. 10), "For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost." In harmony with this intent, Luke relates those things concerning Jesus which demonstrate how entirely human He was. His genealogy is traced to Adam, and the most detailed account is given of His mother, and of His infancy and boyhood. The parables peculiar to Luke have distinctively the human and the seeking note. But Luke is careful to guard the Deity and Kingship of Jesus Christ (Lk. 1. 32-35). Luke, then, is the Gospel of "the man whose name is The BRANCH" (Zech. 6. 12).

Luke has seven chief divisions: I. The Evangelist's Introduction, 1. 1-4. II. The human relationships of Jesus, 1. 5-2. 52. III. The baptism, ancestry, and testing of Jesus, 3. 1-4. 13. IV. The ministry of the Son of man as Prophet-King in Galilee, 4. 14-9. 50. V. The journey of the Son of man from Galilee to Jerusalem, 9. 51-19. 44. VI. The final offer of the Son of man as King to Israel, His rejection and sacrifice, 19. 45-23. 56. VII. The resurrection, resurrection ministry, and ascension of the Son of man, 24. 1-53.

The events recorded in this book cover a period of 39 years.

4 That thou mightest know the certainty of those things, wherein thou hast been instructed.

Birth of John the Baptist foretold.

THERE was in the days of ^aHerod, the king of Judæa, a certain priest named Zacharias, of the course of Abia: and his ^awife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabeth.

6 And they were both ^brighteous before God, walking in all the ^ccommandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless.

7 And they had no child, because that Elisabeth was barren, and they both were now well stricken in years.

8 And it came to pass, that while he executed the priest's office before God in the order of his course,

9 According to the custom of the priest's office, his lot was to burn incense when he went into the temple of the Lord.

10 And the whole multitude of the people were praying without at the time of incense.

11 And there appeared unto him an angel of the Lord standing on the right side of the altar of incense.

12 And when Zacharias saw him,

1 "From the very first": Gr. anōthen, "from above." So translated in John 3. 31; 19. 11; Jas. 1. 17; 3. 15, 17. In no other place is anōthen translated "from the very first." The use by Luke of anōthen is an affirmation that his knowledge of these things, derived from those who had been eye-witnesses from the beginning (Lk. 1. 2), was confirmed by revelation. In like manner Paul had doubtless heard from the eleven the story of the institution of the Lord's Supper, but he also had it by revelation from the Lord (cf. 1 Cor. 11. 23), and his writing, like Luke's "anōthen" knowledge, thus became first-hand, not traditional, merely.

he was troubled, and fear fell upon him.

13 But the ^aangel said unto him, Fear not, Zacharias: for thy ^bprayer is heard; and thy wife Elisabeth shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name John.

14 And thou shalt have joy and gladness; and many shall rejoice at his birth.

15 For he shall be ^cgreat in the sight of the Lord, and shall drink neither wine nor strong drink; and he shall be filled with the ^dHoly Ghost, ^eeven from his mother's womb.

16 And many of the children of Israel shall he turn to the Lord their God.

17 And he ^fshall go before him in the ^gspirit and power of Elias, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just; to make ready a ^hpeople prepared for the Lord.

18 And Zacharias said unto the angel, Whereby shall I know this? for I am an old man, and my wife well stricken in years.

19 And the ^aangel answering said unto him, I am ^bGabriel, that stand in the presence of God; and am ^csent to speak unto thee, and to shew thee these glad tidings.

20 And, behold, thou shalt be dumb, and not able to speak, until the day that these things shall be performed, because thou believest not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season.

21 And the people waited for Zacharias, and marvelled that he tarried so long in the temple.

22 And when he came out, he could not speak unto them: and they perceived that he had seen a vision in the temple: for he beckoned unto them, and remained speechless.

23 And it came to pass, that, as soon as the days of his ministration were accomplished, he departed to his own house.

24 And after those days his wife Elisabeth conceived, and hid herself five months, saying,

25 Thus hath the Lord dealt with me in the days wherein he looked on me, to ^ktake away my reproach among men.

28 And the ^aangel came in unto her, and said, Hail, thou that art ^bhighly favoured, the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women.

29 And when she saw him, she was troubled at his saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this should be.

39 And Mary arose in those days, and went into the hill country with haste, into a city of Juda;

40 And entered into the house of Zacharias, and saluted Elisabeth.

41 And it came to pass, that, when Elisabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe leaped in her womb; and Elisabeth was filled with the Holy Ghost:

42 And she spake out with a loud voice, and said, Blessed art thou among women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb.

43 And whence is this to me, that the mother of my ^aLord should come to me?

44 For, lo, as soon as the voice of thy salutation sounded in mine ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy.

45 And blessed is she ^bthat believed: for there shall be a performance of those things which were told her from the Lord.

46 And Mary said, 'My soul doth magnify the Lord,

47 And my spirit hath rejoiced in God my ^aSaviour.

48 For he hath regarded the low estate of his handmaiden: for, behold, from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed.

49 For he that is mighty hath done to me great things; and ^choly is his name.

50 And his ^dmercy is on them that fear him from generation to generation.

51 He hath shewed strength with his arm; he hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts.

57 Now Elisabeth's full time came that she should be delivered; and she brought forth a son.

58 And her neighbours and her cousins heard how the Lord had shewed great mercy upon her; and they rejoiced with her.

59 And it came to pass, that on the eighth day they came to ^hcircumcise the child; and they called him Zacharias, after the name of his father.

60 And his mother answered and said, Not so; but he shall be called John.

14 Glory to God in the highest, and ^qon earth peace, ^rgood will toward men.

15 And it came to pass, as the ^sangels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

16 And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

17 And when they had seen ^tit, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.

18 And all they that heard ^uit wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

19 But Mary kept all these things, and pondered ^vthem in her heart.

20 And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

Circumcision of Jesus.

(Cf. Lk. 1. 59.)

21 And when eight days were accomplished ^wfor the circumcising of the child, his name was called ^xJESUS, which was so named of the ^yangel before he was conceived in the womb.

22 And when the ^zdays of her purification according to the law of Moses were accomplished, they brought him to Jerusalem, to present ^{aa}him to the Lord;

Adoration and prophecy of Simeon.

25 And, behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon; and the same man was ^{ae}just and devout, waiting for the consolation of Israel: and the ^{af}Holy Ghost was upon him.

26 And it was revealed unto him by the Holy Ghost, that he should ¹ Gr. oikoumene = "inhabited earth." This passage is noteworthy as defining the usual N.T. use of oikoumene as the sphere of Roman rule at its greatest extent, that is, of the great Gentile world-monarchies (Dan. 2., 7.). That part of the earth is therefore peculiarly the sphere of prophecy.

27 And he came by the Spirit into the temple: and when the parents brought in the child Jesus, to do for him after the custom of the law,

28 Then took he him up in his arms, and blessed God, and said,

29 Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart ⁱⁿ peace, according to thy word:

30 For mine eyes have seen thy ^{salvation},

31 Which thou hast prepared before the face of all people;

32 A light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel.

33 And Joseph and his mother marvelled at those things which were spoken of him.

34 And Simeon blessed them, and said unto Mary his mother, Behold, this child is set for the ^{fall} and rising again of many in Israel; and for a sign which shall be spoken against;

35 (Yea, a sword shall pierce through thy own soul also,) ^{that} the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed.

Adoration of Anna.

36 And there was one Anna, a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Aser: she was of a great age, and had lived with an husband seven years from her virginity;

37 And she was a widow of about fourscore and four years, which departed not from the temple, but served God with fastings and prayers night and day.

38 And she coming in that instant gave thanks likewise unto the Lord, and spake of him to all them that looked for redemption in Jerusalem.

Return to Nazareth: the silent years.

39 And when they had performed all things according to the law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their own city Nazareth.

Jesus and his parents at the passover.

41 Now his parents went to Jerusalem every year at the feast of the passover.

42 And when he was twelve years old, they went up to Jerusalem after the custom of the feast.

43 And when they had fulfilled the days, as they returned, the child Jesus tarried behind in Jerusalem; and Joseph and his mother knew not of it.

44 But they, supposing him to have been in the company, went a day's journey; and they sought him among their kinsfolk and acquaintance.

45 And when they found him not, they turned back again to Jerusalem, seeking him.

46 And it came to pass, that after three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions.

47 And all that heard him were astonished at his understanding and answers.

48 And when they saw him, they were amazed: and his mother said unto him, Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? behold, thy father and I have sought thee sorrowing.

49 And he said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business?

50 And they understood not the saying which he spake unto them.

51 And he went down with them, and came to Nazareth, and was subject unto them: but his mother kept all these sayings in her heart.

52 And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favour with God and man.

English words used to translate the Hebrew words yasher, "upright"; tsadiq, "just"; tsidkah, "righteous." In all of these words but one idea inheres: the righteous, or just, man is so called, because he is right with God; and he is right with God because he has walked "in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless" (Lk. 1. 6; Rom. 10. 5; Phil. 3. 6). The O.T. righteous man was not sinless (Eccl. 7. 20), but one who, for his sins, resorted to the ordinances, and offered in faith the required sacrifice (e.g. Lev. 4. 27-35). Cf. CHAPTER 3.

The ministry of John the Baptist (Mt. 3. 1-12; Mk. 1. 1-8; John 1. 6-8, 15-36).

NOW in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Cæsar, Pontius Pilate being governor of Judæa, and ^aHerod being tetrarch of Galilee, and his brother Philip tetrarch of Ituræa and of the region of Trachonitis, and Lysanias the tetrarch of Abilene, ⁶ And all flesh shall see the ^msalvation of God.

The temptation of Christ (Mt. 4. 1-11; Mk. 1. 12, 13).

AND Jesus being full of the ^bHoly Ghost returned from Jordan, and was led by the Spirit into the wilderness,

2 Being forty days ^ctempted of the devil. And in those days he did eat nothing; and when they were ended, he afterward hungered.

3 And the devil said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, ^dcommand this stone that it be made bread.

4 And Jesus answered him, saying, It is written, That man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God.

5 And the devil, taking him up into an high mountain, shewed unto him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time.

6 And the devil said unto him, All this power will I give thee, and the glory of them: for that is ^edelivered unto me; and to whomsoever I will I give it.

7 If thou therefore wilt worship me, all shall be thine.

8 And Jesus answered and said unto him, Get thee behind me, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.

9 And he brought him to Jerusalem, and set him on a pinnacle of the temple, and said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down from hence:

10 For it is written, ^fHe shall give his angels charge over thee, ^gto keep thee:

like himself, a descendant of David. That he should in that case be called "son of Heli" ("son" is not in the Greek, but rightly supplied by the translators) would be in accord with Jewish usage (cf. 1 Sam. 24. 16). The conclusion is therefore inevitable that in Luke we have Mary's genealogy; and Joseph was "son of Heli" because espoused to Heli's daughter. The genealogy in Luke is Mary's, whose father, Heli, was descended from David.

17 And there was delivered unto him the book of the prophet Esaias. And when he had opened the book, he found the place ^gwhere it was written,

19 To preach the ^jacceptable year of the ^kLord.

20 And he closed the book, and he gave it again to the minister, and sat down. And the eyes of all them that were in the synagogue were fastened on him.

21 And he began to say unto them, This day is this scripture fulfilled in your ears.

22 And all bare him witness, and wondered at the ^lgracious words which proceeded out of his mouth. And they said, ^mIs not this Joseph's son?

23 And he said unto them, Ye will surely say unto me this proverb, Physician, heal thyself: whatsoever we have heard done in Capernaum, do also here in thy country.

² A comparison with the passage quoted, Isa. 61. 1, 2, affords an instance of the exquisite accuracy of Scripture. Jesus stopped at, "the acceptable year of the Lord," which is connected with the first advent and the dispensation of grace (Gen. 3. 15; Acts 1. 11, note); "the day of vengeance of our God" belongs to the second advent (Deut. 30. 3; Acts 1. 11, note) and judgment.

7 And they beckoned unto their partners, which were in the other ship, that they should come and help them. And they came, and filled both the ships, so that they ^wbegan to sink.

8 When Simon Peter saw it, ^xhe fell down at Jesus' knees, saying, Depart from me; for I am a ^ysinful man, O Lord.

9 For he was astonished, and all that were with him, at the draught of the fishes which they had taken:

10 And so was also James, and John, the sons of Zebedee, which were partners with Simon. And Jesus said unto Simon, ^zFear not; from henceforth thou shalt catch men.

11 And when they had brought their ships to land, they ^{aa}forsook all, and followed him.

Jesus heals a leper (Mt. 8. 2-4; Mk. 1. 40-44).

12 And it came to pass, when he was in a certain city, behold a man full of ^{ab}leprosy: who seeing Jesus fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, ^{ac}if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

13 And he put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will: be thou clean. And immediately the leprosy departed from him.

14 And he charged him to tell no man: but go, and shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy ^{ad}cleansing, according as Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

15 But so much the more went there a fame abroad of him: and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed by him of their infirmities.

16 And he withdrew himself into the wilderness, ^{ae}and prayed.

A paralytic healed (Mt. 9. 2-8; Mk. 2. 1-12).

17 And it came to pass on a certain day, as he was teaching, that there were Pharisees and doctors of the law sitting by, which were come out of every town of Galilee, and Judæa, and Jerusalem: and the power of the Lord was ^{af}present to heal them.

18 And, behold, men brought in a bed a man which was taken with a palsy; and they sought means to bring him in, and to lay him before him.

19 And when they could not find by what way they might bring him in ^abecause of the multitude, they went upon the housetop, and let him down through the tiling with his couch into the midst ^bbefore Jesus.

20 And when he saw ^ctheir faith, he said unto him, Man, thy ^dsins are forgiven thee.

21 And the scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, saying, Who is this which speaketh ^eblasphemies? ^fWho can forgive sins, but God alone?

22 But when Jesus perceived their thoughts, he answering said unto them, What reason ye in your hearts?

23 Whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Rise up and walk?

24 But that ye may ^gknow that the Son of man hath power upon earth to forgive sins, (he said unto the sick of the palsy,) ^hI say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy couch, and go into thine house.

25 And immediately he rose up before them, and took up that whereon he lay, and departed to his own house, ⁱglorifying God.

26 And they were all amazed, and they ^jglorified God, and were filled with fear, saying, We have seen strange things to day.

The call of Matthew (Mt. 9. 9; Mk. 2. 13, 14).

27 And after these things he went forth, and saw a publican, named Levi, sitting at the receipt of custom: and he said unto him, ^kFollow me.

28 And he left all, rose up, and followed him.

29 And Levi made him a ^lgreat feast in his own house: and there was a great company of publicans and of others that sat down with them.

Jesus answers the scribes and Pharisees (Mt. 9. 10-17; Mk. 2. 16-22).

30 But their scribes and Pharisees murmured against his disciples, saying, ^mWhy do ye eat and drink with publicans and ⁿsinner?

31 And Jesus answering said unto them, They that are whole need not a physician; but they that are sick.

CHAPTER 6.

Jesus and the sabbath (Mt. 12. 1-8; Mk. 2. 23-28).

AND it came to pass on the second sabbath after the first, that he went through the corn fields; and his disciples plucked the ears of corn, and did eat, rubbing ^athem in their hands.

2 And certain of the Pharisees said unto them, Why do ye that which is not ^blawful to do on the sabbath days?

3 And Jesus answering them said, Have ye not read so much as this, what ^cDavid did, when himself was an hungred, and they which were with him;

4 How he went into the house of God, and did take and eat the ^dshewbread, and gave also to them that were with him; which it is not lawful to eat but for the priests alone?

5 And he said unto them, ^eThat the Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath.

The withered hand healed (Mt. 12. 9-14; Mk. 3. 1-6).

6 And it came to pass also on another sabbath, that he ^aentered into the synagogue and taught: and there was a man whose right hand was withered.

7 And the scribes and Pharisees watched him, whether he would heal on the sabbath day; that they might find an ^baccusation against him.

8 But he ^cknew their thoughts, and said to the man which had the withered hand, Rise up, and stand forth in the midst. And he arose and stood forth.

9 Then said Jesus unto them, I will ask you one thing; ^dIs it lawful on the sabbath days to do good, or to do evil? to save life, or to destroy it?

10 And looking round about upon them all, he said unto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he did so: ^eand his hand was restored whole as the other.

11 And they were filled with ^fmadness; and communed one with another what they might do to Jesus.

The twelve chosen (Mt. 10. 2-4; Mk. 3. 13-19).

12 And it came to pass in those days, that he went out into a ^hmountain to pray, and continued all night in prayer to God.

13 And when it was day, he called ⁱunto him his disciples: and of them he ^jchose twelve, whom also he named apostles;

14 Simon, (whom he also named Peter,) and Andrew his brother, James and John, Philip and Bartholomew,

15 Matthew and Thomas, James the son of Alphæus, and Simon called Zelotes, 16 And Judas the brother of James, and Judas Iscariot, which also was the traitor.

17 And he came down with them, and stood in the plain, and the company of his disciples, and a great multitude of people out of all Judæa and Jerusalem, and from the sea coast of Tyre and Sidon, which came to hear him, and to be healed of their diseases;

18 And they that were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed.

The beatitudes.
(Mt. 5. 3-12.)

20 And he lifted up his eyes on his disciples, and said, Blessed ^bbe ye poor: for your's is the kingdom of God.

21 Blessed ^care ye that hunger now: for ye shall be filled. Blessed ^dare ye that weep now: for ye shall laugh.

22 Blessed ^eare ye, when men shall hate you, and when they shall separate you ^ffrom their company, and shall reproach ^gyou, and cast out your name as evil, for the Son of man's sake.

23 Rejoice ye in that day, and leap for joy: for, behold, your reward ^his great in heaven: for in the like manner did their fathers unto the prophets.

24 But woe unto you that are rich! for ⁱye have received your consolation.

25 Woe unto you that are full! for ye shall hunger. Woe unto you that laugh now! for ye shall mourn and weep.

26 Woe unto you, when all men shall speak well of you! for so did their fathers to the false prophets.

27 But I say unto you which hear, ^jLove your enemies, do good to them which hate you, 28 ^kBless them that curse you, and ^lpray for them which despitefully use you.

29 And unto him that smiteth thee on the ^mone cheek offer also the other; and him that ⁿtaketh away thy cloke forbid not to ^otake thy coat also.

30 ^pGive to every man that asketh of thee; and of him that taketh away thy goods ask ^qthem not again.

31 And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise.

32 For if ye love them which love you, what thank have ye? for ^rsinner's also love those that love them.

33 And if ye do good to them which do good to you, what thank have ye? for sinners also do even the same.

34 And if ye lend to ^sthem of whom ye hope to receive, what thank have ye? for sinners also lend to sinners, to receive as much again.

35 But love ye your enemies, and do good, and lend, hoping for nothing again; and your reward shall be great, and ye shall be the children of the Highest: for he is kind unto the unthankful and to the evil.

36 Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father also is merciful.

37 Judge not, and ye shall not be judged: condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned: forgive, and ye shall be forgiven:

38 Give, and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall men give into your bosom. For with the same measure that ye mete withal it shall be measured to you again.

39 And he spake a parable unto them, Can the blind lead the blind? shall they not both fall into the ditch?

40 The disciple is not above his master: but every one that is perfect shall be as his master.

41 And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but perceivest not the beam that is in thine own eye?

42 Either how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, let me pull out the mote that is in thine eye, when thou thyself beholdest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thine own eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to pull out the mote that is in thy brother's eye.

43 For a good tree bringeth not forth corrupt fruit; neither doth a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.

44 For every tree is known by his own fruit. For of thorns men do not gather figs, nor of a bramble bush gather they grapes.

45 A good man out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is good; and an evil man out of the evil treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is evil: for of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaketh.

46 And why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?

CHAPTER 7.

The centurion's servant healed (Mt. 8. 5-13).

NOW when he had ended all his sayings in the audience of the people, he entered into Capernaum.

2 And a certain centurion's servant, who was dear unto him, was sick, and ready to die.

3 And when he heard of Jesus, he sent unto him the elders of the Jews, beseeching him that he would come and heal his servant.

4 And when they came to Jesus, they besought him instantly, saying, That he was worthy for whom he should do this:

5 For he loveth our nation, and he hath built us a synagogue.

6 Then Jesus went with them. And when he was now not far from the house, the centurion sent friends to him, saying unto him, Lord, trouble not thyself: for I am not worthy that thou shouldst enter under my roof:

7 Wherefore neither thought I myself worthy to come unto thee: but say in a word, and my servant shall be healed.

8 For I also am a man set under authority, having under me soldiers, and I say unto one, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it.

9 When Jesus heard these things, he marvelled at him, and turned him about, and said unto the people that followed him, I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel.

10 And they that were sent, returning to the house, found the servant whole that had been sick.

The widow's son raised.

11 And it came to pass the day after, that he went into a city called Nain; and many of his disciples went with him, and much people.

12 Now when he came nigh to the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead man carried out, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much people of the city was with her.

13 And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said unto her, weep not.

14 And he came and touched the bier: and they that bare him stood still. And he said, Young man, I say unto thee, Arise.

15 And he that was dead sat up, and began to speak. And he delivered him to his mother.

16 And there came a fear on all: and they glorified God, saying, That a great prophet is risen up among us; and, That God hath visited his people.

17 And this rumour of him went forth throughout all Judæa, and throughout all the region round about.

18 And the disciples of John shewed him of all these things.

John the Baptist sends disciples to question Jesus (Mt. 11. 2-6).

19 And John calling unto him two of his disciples sent them to Jesus, saying, Art thou he that should come? or look we for another?

20 When the men were come unto him, they said, John Baptist hath sent us unto thee, saying, Art thou he that should come? or look we for another?

21 And in that same hour he cured many of their infirmities and plagues, and of evil spirits; and unto many that were blind he gave sight.

22 Then Jesus answering said unto them, Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard; how that the blind see, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, to the poor the gospel is preached.

23 And blessed is he, whosoever shall not be offended in me.

24 And when the messengers of John were departed, he began to speak unto the people concerning John, What went ye out into the wilderness for to see? A reed shaken with the wind?

25 But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they which are 26 But what went ye out for to see? A prophet? Yea, I say unto you, and much more than a prophet.

27 This is he, of whom it is written, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

28 For I say unto you, Among those that are born of women there is not a greater prophet than John the Baptist: but he that is least in the kingdom of God is greater than he.

29 And all the people that heard him, and the publicans, justified God, being baptized with the baptism of John.

Jesus exposes the unreason of unbelief (Mt. 11. 16-19).

30 But the Pharisees and lawyers rejected the counsel of God against themselves, being not baptized of him.

31 And the Lord said, Whereunto then shall I liken the men of this generation? and to what are they like?

32 They are like unto children sitting in the marketplace, and calling one to another, and saying, We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced; we have mourned to you, and ye have not wept.

33 For John the Baptist came neither eating bread nor drinking wine; and ye say, He hath a devil.

34 The Son of man is come eating and drinking; and ye say, Behold a gluttonous man, and a winebibber, a friend of publicans and sinner!

Jesus in the Pharisee's house.

36 And one of the Pharisees desired him that he would eat with him. And he went into the Pharisee's house, and sat down to meat.

37 And, behold, a woman in the city, which was a sinner, when she knew that Jesus sat at meat in the Pharisee's house, brought an alabaster box of ointment,

38 And stood at his feet behind him weeping, and began to wash his feet with tears, and did wipe them with the hairs of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment.

39 Now when the Pharisee which had bidden him saw it, he spake within himself, saying, "This man, if he were a prophet, would have known who and what manner of woman this is that toucheth him: for she is a sinner."

40 And Jesus answering said unto him, Simon, I have somewhat to say unto thee. And he saith, Master, say on.

Parable of the creditor and two debtors.

41 ^bThere was a certain creditor which had two debtors: the one owed five hundred pence, and the other fifty.

42 And when they had nothing to pay, he frankly forgave them both. Tell me therefore, which of them will love him most?

43 Simon answered and said, I suppose that he, to whom he forgave most. And he said unto him, Thou hast rightly judged.

44 And he turned to the woman, and said unto ¹Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, thou gavest me no water for my feet: but she hath washed my feet with tears, and wiped them with the hairs of her head.

45 Thou gavest me no kiss: but this woman since the time I came in hath not ceased to kiss my feet.

46 ^dMy head with oil thou didst not anoint: but this woman hath anointed my feet with ointment.

47 Wherefore I say unto thee, Her sins, which are many, are ^eforgiven; for she loved much: but to whom little is forgiven, the same loveth little.

48 And he said unto her, Thy sins are forgiven.

49 And they that sat at meat with him began to say within themselves, ^fWho is this that forgiveth sins also?

50 And he said to the woman, Thy ^gfaith hath saved thee; go in peace.

Parable of the sower (Mt. 13. 1-23; Mk. 4. 1-20).

4 And when much people were gathered together, and were come to him out of every city, he spake by a ^wparable:

5 A ^xsower went out to sow his seed: and as he sowed, some fell by the way side; and it was trodden down, and the fowls of the air devoured it.

6 And some fell upon a rock; and as soon as it was sprung up, it withered away, because it lacked moisture.

7 And some fell among thorns; and the thorns sprang up with it, and choked it.

8 And other fell on good ground, and sprang up, and bare fruit an hundredfold. And when he had said these things, he cried, ^yHe that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

9 And his disciples asked him, saying, What might this parable be?

10 And he said, Unto you it is given to know the ^zmysteries of the kingdom of God: but to others in parables; that ^{aa}seeing they might not see, and hearing they might not understand.

11 Now the parable is this: The seed is the ^{ab}word of God.

12 Those by the way side are they that hear; then cometh the ^{ac}devil, and taketh away the word out of their ^{ad}hearts, lest they should believe and be ^{ae}saved.

13 They on the rock are they, which, when they hear, receive the word with joy; and these have no root, which for a while believe, and in time of ^{af}temptation fall away.

¹ See Jas. 2. 14-26. When Jesus would justify the woman in the eyes of Simon, He points to her works, for only through her works could Simon see the proof of her faith; but when He would send the woman away in peace, He points to her faith, not her works. See Tit. 2. 14; 3. 4-8. His own works can never be to the believer his own ground of assurance, which must rest upon the work of Christ (cf. Mt. 7. 22, 23). See "Assurance" (Isa. 32. 17; Jude 1).

14 And that which fell among thorns are they, which, when they have heard, go forth, and are choked with cares and riches and pleasures of this life, and bring no fruit to perfection.

15 But that on the good ground are they, which in an honest and good heart, having heard the word, keep it, and bring forth fruit with patience.

Parable of the lighted candle (Mt. 5. 15, 16; Mk. 4. 21-23; Lk. 11. 33).

16 No man, when he hath lighted a candle, covereth it with a vessel, or putteth it under a bed; but setteth it on a candlestick, that they which enter in may see the light.

17 For nothing is secret, that shall not be made manifest; neither any thing hid, that shall not be known and come abroad.

18 Take heed therefore how ye hear: for whosoever hath, to him shall be given; and whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he seemeth to have.

The new relationships (Mt. 12. 46-50; Mk. 3. 31-35).

19 Then came to him his mother and his brethren, and could not come at him for the press.

20 And it was told him by certain which said, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to see thee.

21 And he answered and said unto them, My mother and my brethren are these which hear the word of God, and do it.

Jesus stills the waves (Mt. 8. 23-27; Mk. 4. 36-41).

22 Now it came to pass on a certain day, that he went into a ship with his disciples: and he said unto them, Let us go over unto the other side of the lake. And they launched forth.

23 But as they sailed he fell asleep: and there came down a storm of wind on the lake; and they were filled with water, and were in jeopardy.

24 And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, master, we perish. Then he arose, and rebuked the wind and the raging of the water: and they ceased, and there was a calm.

25 And he said unto them, Where is your faith? And they being afraid wondered, saying one to another, What manner of man is this! for he commandeth even the winds and water, and they obey him.

Demons cast out of the maniac of Gadara (Mt. 8. 28-34; Mk. 5. 1-17).

26 And they arrived at the country of the Gadarenes, which is over against Galilee.

27 And when he went forth to land, there met him out of the city a certain man, which had devils long time, and ware no clothes, neither abode in any house, but in the tombs.

28 When he saw Jesus, he cried out, and fell down before him, and with a loud voice said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of God? most high? I beseech thee, torment me not.

29 (For he had commanded the unclean spirit to come out of the man. For oftentimes it had caught him: and he was kept bound with chains and in fetters; and he brake the bands, and was driven of the devil into the wilderness.)

30 And Jesus asked him, saying, What is thy name? And he said, Legion: because many devils were entered into him.

31 And they besought him that he would not command them to go out into the deep.

32 And there was there an herd of many swine feeding on the mountain: and they besought him that he would suffer them to enter into them. And he suffered them.

33 Then went the devils out of the man, and entered into the swine: and the herd ran violently down a steep place into the lake, and were choked.

34 When they that fed them saw what was done, they fled, and went and told it in the city and in the country.

35 Then they went out to see what was done; and came to Jesus, and found the man, out of whom the devils were departed, sitting at the feet of Jesus, clothed, and in his right mind: and they were afraid.

36 They also which saw it told them by what means he that was possessed of the devils was healed.

37 Then the whole multitude of the country of the Gadarenes round about besought him to depart from them; for they were taken with great fear: and he went up into the ship, and returned back again.

38 Now the man out of whom the devils were departed ^abesought him that he might be with him: but Jesus sent him away, saying,

39 ^bReturn to thine own house, and shew how great things God hath done unto thee. And he went his way, and published throughout the whole city how great things Jesus had done unto him.

A woman healed: Jairus' daughter raised (Mt. 9. 18-26; Mk. 5. 22-43).

40 And it came to pass, that, when Jesus was returned, the people ^cgladly received him: for they were all waiting for him.

41 And, behold, there came a man named 'Jairus, and he was a ^druler of the synag^{ue}; and he fell down at Jesus' feet, and besought him that he would come into his house:

42 For he had one only ^edaughter, about twelve years of age, and she ^flay a dying. But as he went the people thronged him.

43 And a woman having an ^gissue of blood twelve years, which had ^hspent all her living upon physicians, neither could be healed of any,

44 Came behind ⁱhim, and ^jtouch^{ed} the border of his garment: and immediately her issue of blood stanch^{ed}.

45 And Jesus said, Who touch^{ed} me? When all denied, Peter and they that were with him said; Master, the multitude ^kthrong thee and press ^lthee, and sayest thou, Who touch^{ed} me?

46 And Jesus said, Somebody hath touch^{ed} me: for I perceive that ^mvirtue is gone out of me.

47 And when the woman saw that she was not hid, she came trembling, and falling down before him, she ⁿdeclared unto him before all the people for what cause she had touch^{ed} him, and how she was healed immediately.

48 And he said unto her, Daughter, be of good comfort: ^othy faith hath made thee whole; ^pgo in peace.

49 While he yet spake, there cometh one from the ruler of the synagogue's ^qhouse, saying to him, Thy daughter is ^rdead; trouble not the Master.

CHAPTER 9.

The twelve sent forth to preach (Mt. 10. 1-42. Cf. Mk. 6. 7-13).

THEN he called his ^atwelve disciples together, and gave them power and authority over all devils, and to cure diseases.

2 And he sent them to preach the kingdom of God, and to heal the sick.

3 And he said unto them, ^bTake ^cnothing for ^dyour journey, neither staves, nor scrip, neither bread, neither money; neither have two coats apiece.

4 And whatsoever house ye enter into, there abide, and thence depart.

5 And whosoever will not ^ereceive you, when ye go out of that city, shake off the very dust from your feet for a testimony against them.

6 And they departed, and went through the towns, preaching the ^fgospel, and healing every where.

7 Now ^gHerod the tetrarch heard of all that was done by him: and he was perplexed, because that it was said of some, that John was risen from the dead;

8 And of some, that Elias had appeared; and of others, that one of the old prophets was risen again.

9 And Herod said, John have I beheaded: but who is this, of whom I hear such things? ^hAnd he desired to see him.

The apostles return: the five thousand fed (Mt. 14. 13-21; Mk. 6. 30-44; John 6. 1-14).

10 And the apostles, when they were ⁱreturned, told him all that they had done. And he took them, and ^awent aside privately into a desert place belonging to the city called Bethsaida.

11 And the people, when they knew it, followed him: and he received them, and ^aspoke unto them of the kingdom of God, and healed them that had ^aneed of healing.

12 And when the day began to wear away, then came the twelve, and said unto him, ^aSend the multitude away, that they may go into the towns and country round about, and lodge, and get victuals: for we are here in a desert place.

13 But he said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they said, We have no more but ^afive loaves and two fishes; except we should go and buy meat for all this people.

14 For they were about five thousand men. And he said to his disciples, Make them sit down by fifties in a company.

15 And they did so, and made them all sit down.

16 Then he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he ^ablessed them, and brake, and gave to the disciples to set before the multitude.

17 And they did eat, and ^bwere all filled: and there was taken up of ^afragments that remained to them twelve baskets.

18 And it came to pass, as he was alone ^apraying, his disciples were with him: and he asked them, saying, ^aWhom say the people that I am?

19 They answering said, John the Baptist; but some say, Elias; and others say, that one of the old prophets is risen again.

20 He said unto them But whom say ye that I am? ^aPeter answering said, The Christ of God.

27 But I tell you of a truth, there be ^asome standing here, which shall not taste of death, till they see the kingdom of God.

28 ^aAnd it came to pass about an eight days after these sayings, he took Peter and John and James, and went up into a mountain to pray.

29 And as he ^aprayed, the ^afashion of his countenance was altered, and his raiment was white and glistering.

30 And, behold, there talked with him ^atwo men, which were Moses and Elias:

31 Who appeared in glory, and spake of his ^bdecease which he should accomplish at Jerusalem.

32 But Peter and they that were with him were heavy with ^asleep: and when they were awake, they saw his glory, and the two men that stood with him.

33 And it came to pass, as they departed from him, Peter said unto Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make ^athree tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias: ^anot knowing what he said.

34 While he thus spake, there came a ^acloud, and overshadowed them: and they feared as they entered into the cloud.

35 And there came a voice out of the cloud, saying, ^aThis is my beloved Son: hear him.

38 And, behold, a man of the company cried out, saying, Master, I beseech thee, look upon my son: for he is mine ^bonly child.

39 And, lo, a ^cspirit taketh him, and he suddenly crieth out; and it teareth him that he foameth again, and bruising him hardly departeth from him.

40 And I besought thy ^ddisciples to cast him out; and they could not.

41 And Jesus answering said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you, and suffer you? Bring thy son hither.

42 And as he was ^eyet a coming, the devil threw him down, and tare him. And Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the child, and delivered him again to his father.

43 And they were all amazed at ^fthe mighty power of God. But while they wondered every one at all things which Jesus did, he said unto his disciples, Jesus again foretells his death (Mt. 17. 22, 23; Mk. 9. 30-32).

44 Let these sayings ^hsink down into your ears: for the Son of man shall be delivered into the hands of men.

AFTER these things the Lord appointed other seventy also, and sent them two and two before his face into every city and place, whither he himself would come.

4 Carry neither purse, nor scrip, nor shoes; and salute no man by the way.

5 And into whatsoever house ye enter, first say, Peace be to this house.

6 And if the son of peace be there, your peace shall rest upon it: if not, it shall turn to you again.

7 And in the same house remain, eating and drinking such things as they give: for the labourer is worthy of his hire. Go not from house to house.

8 And into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you not, eat such things as are set before you:

9 And heal the sick that are therein, and say unto them, The kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.

10 But into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you not, go your ways out into the streets of the same, and say,

11 Even the very dust of your city, which cleaveth on us, we do wipe off against you: notwithstanding be ye sure of this, that the kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.

12 But I say unto you, that it shall be more tolerable in that day for Sodom, than for that city.

Jesus denounces judgment on the cities (Mt. 11. 20-24).

13 Woe unto thee, Chorazin! woe unto thee, Bethsaida! for if the mighty works had been done in Tyre and Sidon, which have been done in you, they had a great while ago repented, sitting in sackcloth and ashes.

14 But it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the judgment, than for you.

21 In that hour Jesus rejoiced in spirit, and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes: even so, Father; for so it seemed good in thy sight.

22 All things are delivered to me of my Father: and no man knoweth who the Son is, but the Father; and who the Father is, but the Son, and he to whom the Son will reveal him.

A lawyer questions Jesus. (Cf. Mt. 22. 34-40; Mk. 12. 28-34.)

25 And, behold, a certain lawyer stood up, and tempted him, saying, Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?

26 He said unto him, What is written in the law? how readest thou?

27 And he answering said, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbour as thyself.

32 And likewise a Levite, when he was at the place, came and looked on him, and passed by on the other side.

33 But a certain ^dSamaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was: and when he saw him, he had compassion on him,

34 And went to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine, and set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him.

35 And on the morrow when he departed, he took out two ^epence, and gave them to the host, and said unto him, Take care of him; and whatsoever thou spendest more, when I come again, I will repay thee.

CHAPTER 11.

Jesus' doctrine of prayer.

AND it came to pass, that, as he was ^kpraying in a certain place, when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him, Lord, ^lteach us to pray, as John also taught his disciples.

2 And he said unto them, When ye ^kpray, say, ^mOur Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. ⁿThy kingdom come. Thy will be done, as in heaven, so in earth.

3 Give us ⁿday by day our daily bread.

¹ This is the central N.T. passage on prayer. In the Sermon on the Mount Christ had announced the new basis of prayer, viz.: relationship (Mt. 6. 9, 28-32). The believer is a child of God through the new birth (John 3. 3, note). The clear revelation of this fact at once establishes the reasonableness of prayer; a reasonableness against which the argument from the apparent uniformity of natural law shatters itself. God is more than a Creator, bringing a universe into being, and establishing laws for it; more than a decree-maker determining future events by an eternal fiat. Above all this is the divine family for whom the universe with its laws exists (Col. 1. 16-20; Heb. 1. 2; 2. 10, 11; Rom. 8. 17): "When ye pray, say, Our Father." What God habitually does in the material universe concerns the reverent investigator of that universe. What He may do in His own family concerns Him, and them, and is matter for divine promise and revelation. Science, which deals only with natural phenomena, cannot intrude there (1 Cor. 2. 9).

Christ's law of prayer may be thus summarized: (1) He grounds prayer upon relationship, and reveals God as freely charging Himself with all the responsibilities, as His heart glows with all the affections of a Father toward all who believe on Jesus Christ (Mt. 6. 25-32; 7. 9-11). Prayer, therefore, is a child's petition to an all-wise, all-loving, and all-powerful, Father-God. (2) In the so-called Lord's prayer Christ gives an incomparable model for all prayer. It teaches that right prayer begins with worship; puts the interest of the kingdom before merely personal interest; accepts beforehand the Father's will, whether to grant or withhold; and petitions for present need, leaving the future to the Father's care and love. Used as a form, the Lord's prayer is, dispensationally, upon legal, not church

4 And ^aforgive us our ^bsins; for we also forgive every one that is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil.

Parable of the importunate friend.

5 And he said unto them, ^aWhich of you shall have a friend, and shall go unto him at midnight, and say unto him, Friend, lend me three loaves;

6 For a friend of mine in his journey is come to me, and I have nothing to set before him?

7 And he from within shall answer and say, Trouble me not: the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot rise and give thee.

8 I say unto you, Though he will not rise and give him, because he is his friend, yet because of his ^aimportunity he will rise and give him as many as he needeth.

9 And I say unto you, ^aAsk, and it shall be given you; ^bseek, and ye shall find; ^cknock, and it shall be opened unto you.

10 For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened.

Parable of the fatherhood.

11 If a son shall ask bread of any of you that is a father, will he give him a stone? or if he ask a fish, will he for a fish give him a serpent?

12 Or if he shall ask an egg, will he offer him a scorpion?

13 If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children: how much more shall your heavenly Father ^bgive the ^aHoly Spirit to them that ask him?

14 And he was casting out a ^adevil, and it was dumb. And it came to pass, when the devil was gone out, the dumb ^bspoke; and the people wondered.

15 But some of them said, He casteth out devils through ^aBeelzebub the chief of the devils.

16 And others, ^atempting him, sought of him a sign from heaven.

17 But he, knowing their thoughts, said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and a house divided against a house falleth.

ground; it is not a prayer in the name of Christ (cf. John 14. 13, 14; 16. 24); and it makes human forgiveness, as under the law it must, the condition of divine forgiveness; an order which grace exactly reverses (cf. Eph. 4. 32). (3) Prayer is to be definite (vs. 5, 6); and, (4) importunate, that is, undiscouraged by delayed answers.

¹ It is evident that none of the disciples, with the possible exception of Mary of Bethany, asked for the Spirit in the faith of this promise. It was a new and staggering thing to a Jew that, in advance of the fulfilment of Joel 2. 28, 29, all might receive the Spirit. Mary alone of the disciples understood Christ's repeated declaration concerning His own death and resurrection (John 12. 3-7). Save Mary, not one of the disciples but Peter, and he only in the great confession (Mt. 16. 16), manifested a spark of spiritual intelligence till after the resurrection of Christ and the impartation of the Spirit (John 20. 22; Acts 2. 1-4). To go back to the promise of Lk. 11. 13, is to forget Pentecost, and to ignore the truth that now every believer has the indwelling Spirit (Rom. 8. 9, 15; 1 Cor. 6. 19; Gal. 4. 6; 1 John 2. 20, 27). See Acts 2. 4, note.

The sign of Jonas (Mt. 12. 39-42.)

29 And when the people were gathered thick together, he began to say, This is an evil generation: they seek a sign; and there shall no sign be given it, but the sign of Jonas the prophet.

30 For as Jonas was a sign unto the Ninevites, so shall also the Son of man be to this generation.

31 The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgment with the men of this generation, and condemn them: for she came from the utmost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and, behold, a greater than Solomon is here.

32 The men of Nineve shall rise up ^ain the judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: for they ^arepented at the preaching of Jonas; and, behold, a greater than Jonas is here.

Parable of the lighted candle (Mt. 5. 15, 16; Mk. 4. 21, 22. Cf. Lk. 8. 16).

33 No man, when he hath lighted a ^acandle, putteth it in a secret place, neither under a bushel, but on a candlestick, that they which come in may see the light.

34 The ^alight of the body is the eye: therefore when thine eye is single, thy whole body also is full of light; but when ^athine eye is evil, thy body also is full of darkness.

35 Take heed therefore that the light which is in thee be not darkness.

36 If thy whole body therefore be full of light, having no part dark, the whole shall be full of light, as Jesus denounces woes upon the Pharisees. (Cf. Mt. 23. 13-35.)

39 And the Lord said unto him, Now do ye Pharisees make clean the outside of the cup and the platter; but your inward part is full of ravening and wickedness.

40 Ye fools, did not he that made that which is without make that which is within also?

41 But rather give alms of such things as ye have; and, behold, all things are clean unto you.

42 But ^awoe unto you, Pharisees! for ye tithe mint and rue and all manner of herbs, and ^apass over judgment and the love of God: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone.

43 Woe unto you, Pharisees! ^afor ye love the uppermost seats in the synagogues, and greetings in the markets.

44 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye are as ^agraves which appear not, and the men that walk over them are not aware of them.

Jesus denounces woes upon the lawyers.

45 Then answered one of the ^alawyers, and said unto him, Master, thus saying thou reproachest us also.

46 And he said, Woe unto you also, ye lawyers! for ye ^alade men with burdens grievous to be borne, and ye yourselves touch not the burdens with one of your fingers.

47 Woe unto you! for ye build the sepulchres of the prophets, and your fathers killed them.

48 Truly ye bear witness that ye allow the deeds of your fathers: for they indeed killed ^athem, and ye build their sepulchres.

49 Therefore also said the wisdom of God, I will send them prophets and apostles, and ^asome of them they shall slay and persecute:

50 That the blood of all the prophets, which was shed from the foundation of the ^aworld, may be ^arequired of this generation;

51 From the blood of ^aAbel unto the blood of ^bZacharias which perished between the altar and the temple: verily I say unto you, It shall be required of this generation.

52 Woe unto you, lawyers! for ye have taken away the key of knowledge: ^aye entered not in yourselves, and them that were entering in ye hindered.

53 And as he said these things unto them, the scribes and the Pharisees began to urge him vehemently, and to ^aprovoke him to speak of many things:

54 Laying wait for him, and seeking to catch something out of his mouth, that they might accuse him.

CHAPTER 12.

Jesus warns of the leaven of the Pharisees. (Cf. Mk. 8. 14-21.)

IN the mean time, when there were gathered together an innumerable multitude of people, inasmuch that they trode one upon another, he began to say unto his disciples first of all, Beware ye of the ^aleaven of the Pharisees, which is ^bhypocrisy.

2 For ^athere is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; neither hid, that shall not be known.

3 Therefore whatsoever ye have spoken in darkness shall be heard in the light; and that which ye have spoken in the ear in closets shall be proclaimed upon the housetops.

4 And I say unto ^ayou my friends, Be not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do.

5 But I will forewarn you whom ye shall fear: Fear him, which after he hath killed hath power to cast into ^ahell; yea, I say unto you, Fear him.

Parable of the rich fool.

16 And he spake a ^aparable unto them, saying, The ground of a certain rich man brought forth plentifully:

17 And he thought within himself, saying, What shall I do, because I have no room where to bestow my fruits?

18 And he said, This will I do: I will pull down my barns, and build greater; and there will I bestow all my fruits and my goods.

19 And I will say to my soul, ^aSoul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years; take thine ease, ^beat, drink, and be merry.

20 But God said unto him, ^aThou fool, this night ^bthy soul shall be required of thee: then whose shall those things be, which thou hast provided?

21 So ^ais he that layeth up treasure for himself, and is not ^arich toward God.

22 ^aAnd he said unto his disciples, Therefore, I say unto you, ^aTake no thought for your life, what ye shall eat; neither for the body, what ye shall put on.

23 The life is more than meat, and the ^abody is ^amore than raiment.

24 Consider the ravens: for they neither sow nor reap; which neither have storehouse nor barn; and God feedeth them: how much more are ye better than the fowls?

33 ^dSell that ye have, and give alms; provide yourselves bags which wax not old, a treasure in the heavens that faileth not, where no thief approacheth, neither moth corrupteth.

34 ^eFor where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

Parable and warnings connected with the second coming (Mt. 24. 37-25. 30).

35 ^fLet your loins be girded about, and ^gyour lights burning;

36 And ye yourselves like unto men that wait for their lord, when he will return from the wedding; that when he cometh and knocketh, they may open unto him immediately.

37 Blessed ^hare those servants, whom the lord when he cometh shall find watching; verily I say unto you, that he shall gird himself, and ⁱmake them to sit down to meat, and will come forth and serve them.

38 And if he shall come in the second watch, or come in the third watch, and find ^jthem so, blessed are those servants.

39 And ^kthis know, that if the goodman of the house had known what hour the ^lthief would come, he would have watched, and not have suffered his house to be broken through.

40 Be ye therefore ready also: for the ^mSon of man ⁿcometh at an hour when ye think not.

41 Then Peter said unto him, Lord, speakest thou this parable unto us, or even to all?

Parable of the steward and his servants.

42 And the Lord said, Who then is that faithful and wise ^asteward, whom ^bhis lord shall make ruler over his household, to give ^cthem their portion of meat in due season?

43 Blessed is that servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing.

44 Of a truth I say unto you, that he will make him ^druler over all that he hath.

45 But and if that servant say in his heart, My lord ^edelayeth his coming; and shall begin to beat the menservants and maidens, and to eat and drink, and to be drunken;

46 The lord of that servant will come in a ^fday when he looketh not for ^ghim, and at an hour when he is not aware, and will ^hcut him in sunder, and will appoint him his portion with the unbelievers.

47 And that servant, ⁱwhich knew his lord's will, and prepared not ^jhimself, neither did according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes.

48 But ^khe that knew not, and did commit things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes. ^lFor unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required; and to whom men have committed much, of him they will ask the more.

Christ a divider of men.

49 I am come to send ^mfire on the earth; and what will I, if it be already kindled?

50 But I have a ⁿbaptism to be baptized with; and how am I straitened till it be accomplished!

51 ^oSuppose ye that I am come to give peace on earth? I tell you, Nay; but rather division:

52 For from henceforth there shall be five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three.

53 The ^pfather shall be divided against the son, and the son against the father; the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother; the mother in law against her daughter in law, and the daughter in law against her mother in law.

54 And he said also to the people, ^qWhen ye see a cloud rise out of the west, straightway ye say, There cometh a shower; and so it is.

55 And when ye see the south wind blow, ye say, There will be heat; and it cometh to pass.

56 Ye hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the sky and of the earth; but how is it that ye do not discern this time?

57 Yea, and why even of yourselves judge ye not what is right?

58 ^bWhen thou goest with thine adversary to the magistrate, ^cas thou art in the way, give diligence that thou mayest be delivered from him; lest he hale thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and the officer cast thee into prison.

59 I tell thee, thou shalt not depart thence, till thou hast paid the very last ^dmite.

CHAPTER 13.

Men are not to judge, but repent.

THERE were present at that season some that told him of the Galileans, whose blood Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices.

2 And Jesus answering said unto them, Suppose ye that these Galileans were ⁱsinners above all the Galileans, because they suffered such things?

3 I tell you, Nay; but, except ye ^jrepent, ye shall all likewise perish.

4 Or those eighteen, upon whom the tower in Siloam fell, and slew them, think ye that they were ^ksinners above all men that dwelt in Jerusalem?

5 I tell you, Nay; but, except ye ^lrepent, ye shall all likewise perish.

Parable of the barren fig tree.

(Cf. Isa. 5. 1-7; Mt. 21. 18-20.)

6 He spake also this ^mparable; A certain man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard; and he came and sought fruit thereon, and found none.

7 Then said he unto the dresser of his vineyard, Behold, these three years I come seeking fruit on this fig tree, and find none: cut it ⁿdown; why cumbereth it the ground?

8 And he answering said unto him, Lord, let it alone this year also, till I shall dig about it, and dung it:

10 And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath.

11 And, behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up ^uherself.

12 And when Jesus saw her, he called her ^vto him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity.

13 And he laid ^whis hands on her; and ^ximmediately she was made straight, and glorified God.

14 And the ruler of the synagogue answered with indignation, because that Jesus had ^yhealed on the sabbath day, and said unto the people, ^zThere are six days in which men ought to work: in them therefore come and be healed, and not on the sabbath day.

15 The Lord then answered him, and said, ^aThou hypocrite, ^bdoth not each one of you on the sabbath loose his ox or ^chis ass from the stall, and lead ^dhim away to watering?

16 And ought not this woman, being a ^edaughter of Abraham, whom ^fSatan hath bound, lo, these eighteen years, be loosed from this bond on the sabbath day?

CHAPTER 14.

Jesus heals on the sabbath.

AND it came to pass, as he went into the house of one of the chief Pharisees to eat bread on the sabbath day, that they watched him.

2 And, behold, there was a certain man before him which had the dropsy.

3 And Jesus answering spake unto the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath day?

4 And they held their peace. And he took ^xhim, and ^yhealed him, and let him go;

5 And answered them, saying, Which of you shall have an ass or an ox fallen into a pit, and will not straightway pull him out on the sabbath day?

6 And they could not answer him again to these things.

Parable of the ambitious guest.

7 And he put forth a parable to those which were bidden, when he marked how they chose out the chief rooms; saying unto them,

8 When thou art bidden of any ^zman to a wedding, sit not down in the highest room; lest a more honourable man than thou be bidden of him;

9 And he that bade thee and him come and say to thee, Give this man place; and thou begin with shame to take the lowest room.

10 But when thou art bidden, go and sit down in the lowest room; that when he that bade thee cometh, he may say unto thee, Friend, go up higher: then shalt thou have worship in the presence of them that sit at meat with thee.

11 For whosoever ^{aa}exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that ^{ab}humbleth himself shall be exalted.

12 Then said he also to him that bade him, When thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, neither thy kinsmen, nor ^{ac}thy rich neighbours; lest they also bid thee again, and a recompence be made thee.

13 But when thou makest a feast, call the ^{ad}poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind:

14 And ^{ae}thou shalt be blessed; for they cannot recompense thee: for thou shalt be "recompensed at the resurrection of the just.

15 And when one of them that sat at meat with him heard these things, he said unto him, Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the kingdom of God.

Parable of the great supper.
(Cf. Mt. 22. 1-14.)

16 Then said he unto him, ^aA certain man made a great supper, and bade many:

17 And sent his servant at supper time to say to them that were bidden, Come; for all things are now ready.

18 And they all with one consent began to make excuse. The first said unto him, I have bought a piece of ground, and I must needs go and see it: I pray thee have me excused.

19 And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to prove them: I pray thee have me excused.

20 And another said, I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come.

21 So that servant came, and shewed his lord these things. Then the master of the house being angry said to his servant, Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in hither the poor, and the maimed, and the halt, and the blind.

22 And the servant said, Lord, it is done as thou hast commanded, and yet there is room.

23 And the lord said unto the servant, Go out into the highways and hedges, and compel them to come in, that my house may be filled.

24 For I say unto you, That none of those men which were bidden shall taste of my supper.

Discipleship again tested.
(Cf. Mt. 10. 37-39.)

25 And there went great multitudes with him: and he turned, and said unto them,

26 If any man come to me, and ^{1m}hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yea, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple.

2 And the Pharisees and scribes murmured, saying, This man receiveth sinners, and eateth with them.

Parable of the lost sheep.

3 And he spake this parable unto them, saying,

4 What man of you, having an hundred sheep, if he lose one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go

1 All terms which define the emotions or affections are comparative. Natural affection is to be, as compared with the believer's devotedness to Christ, as if it were hate. See Mt. 12. 47-50, where Christ illustrates this principle in His own person. But in the Lord the natural affections are sanctified and lifted to the level of the divine love (cf. John 19. 26, 27; Eph. 5. 25-28).

5 And when he hath found it, he layeth it on his shoulders, rejoicing.

6 And when he cometh home, he calleth together his friends and neighbours, saying unto them, Rejoice with me; for I have found my sheep which was lost.

7 I say unto you, that likewise joy shall be in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine just persons, which need no repentance.

Parable of the lost coin.

8 Either what woman having ten pieces of silver, if she lose one piece, doth not light a candle, and sweep the house, and seek diligently till she find it?

13 And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country, and there wasted his substance with riotous living.

(The misery of the far country.)

14 And when he had spent all, there arose a mighty famine in that land; and he began to be in want.

15 And he went and joined himself to a citizen of that country; and he sent him into his fields to feed swine.

16 And he would fain have filled his belly with the husks that the swine did eat: and no man gave unto him.

21 And the son said unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight, and am no more worthy to be called thy son.

22 But the father said to his servants, Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him; and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feet:

(The rejoicing.)

23 And bring hither the fatted calf, and kill it; and let us eat, and be merry:

24 For this my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found. And they began to be merry.

(The Pharisee.)

25 Now his elder son was in the field; and as he came and drew nigh to the house, he heard musick and dancing.

26 And he called one of the servants, and asked what these things meant.

27 And he said unto him, Thy brother is come; and thy father hath killed the fatted calf, because he hath received him safe and sound.

28 And he was angry, and would not go in; therefore came his father out, and intreated him.

29 And he answering said to his father, Lo, these many years do me I serve thee, neither transgressed I at any time thy commandment: and yet thou never gavest me a kid, that I might make merry with my friends:

30 But as soon as this thy son was come, which hath devoured thy living with harlots, thou hast killed for him the fatted calf.

31 And he said unto him, Son, thou art ever with me, and all that I have is thine.

CHAPTER 16.

Parable of the unjust steward.

AND he said also unto his disciples, "There was a certain rich man, which had a steward; and the same was accused unto him that he had wasted his goods.

2 And he called him, and said unto him, How is it that I hear this of thee? give an account of thy stewardship; for thou mayest be no longer steward.

3 Then the steward said within himself, What shall I do? for my lord taketh away from me the stewardship: I cannot dig; to beg I am ashamed.

4 I am resolved what to do, that, when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses.

5 So he called every one of his lord's debtors unto him, and said unto the first, How much owest thou unto my lord?

6 And he said, An hundred measures of oil. And he said unto him, Take thy bill, and sit down quickly, and write fifty.

7 Then said he to another, And how much owest thou? And he said, An hundred measures of wheat. And he said unto him, Take thy bill, and write fourscore.

8 And the lord commended the unjust steward, because he had done wisely: for the children of this world are in their generation wiser than the children of light.

9 And I say unto you, Make to yourselves friends of the mammon of unrighteousness; that, when ye fail, they may receive you into everlasting habitations.

10 He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much; and he that is unjust in the least is unjust also in much.

11 If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon, who will commit to your trust the true riches?

12 And if ye have not been faithful in that which is another man's, who shall give you that which is your own?

Jesus answers the Pharisees.

14 And the Pharisees also, who were covetous, heard all these things: and they derided him.

15 And he said unto them, Ye are they which justify yourselves before men; but God knoweth your hearts: for that which is highly esteemed among men is abomination in the sight of God.

16 The law and the prophets were until John: since that time the kingdom of God is preached, and every man presseth into it.

The rich man and Lazarus.

19 "There was a certain rich man, which was clothed in purple and fine linen, and fared sumptuously every day:

20 And there was a certain beggar named Lazarus, which was laid at his gate, full of sores,

21 And desiring to be fed with the crumbs which fell from the rich man's table: moreover the dogs came and licked his sores.

22 And it came to pass, that the beggar died, and was carried by the angels into Abraham's bosom: the rich man also died, and was buried;

23 "And in hell he lift up his eyes, being in torments, and seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom.

1 Gr. hades, "the unseen world," is revealed as the place of departed human spirits between death and resurrection. The word occurs, Mt. 11. 23; 16. 18; Lk. 10. 15; Acts 2. 27, 31; Rev. 1. 18; 6. 8; 20. 13, 14, and is the equivalent of the O.T. sheol (Hab. 2. 5, note). The Septuagint invariably renders sheol by hades.

Summary: (1) Hades before the ascension of Christ. The passages in which the word occurs make it clear that hades was formerly in two divisions, the abodes respectively of the saved and of the lost. The former was called "paradise" send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue; for I am tormented in this flame.

25 But Abraham said, Son, remember that thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things, and likewise Lazarus evil things: but now he is comforted, and thou art tormented.

26 And beside all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed: so that they which would pass from hence to you cannot; neither can they pass to us, that would come from thence.

27 Then he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house:

28 For I have five brethren; that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment.

29 Abraham saith unto him, They have Moses and the prophets; let them hear them.

30 And he said, Nay, father Abraham: but if one went unto them from the dead, they will repent.

31 And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead.

3 Take heed to yourselves: If thy brother trespass against thee, rebuke him; and if he repent, forgive him.

4 And if he trespass against thee seven times in a day, and seven times in a day turn again to thee, saying, I repent; thou shalt forgive him.

5 And the apostles said unto the Lord, Increase our faith.

A parable of service.

7 But which of you, having a servant plowing or feeding cattle, will say unto him by and by, when he is come from the field, Go and sit down to meat?

8 And will not rather say unto him, Make ready wherewith I may sup, and gird thyself, and serve me, till I have eaten and drunken; and afterward thou shalt eat and drink?

9 Doth he thank that servant because he did the things that were commanded him? I trow not.

10 So likewise ye, when ye shall have done all those things which are commanded you, say, We are unprofitable servants: we have done that which was our duty to do.

11 And it came to pass, as he went to Jerusalem, that he passed through the midst of Samaria and Galilee.

and "Abraham's bosom." Both designations were Talmudic, but adopted by Christ in Lk. 16. 22; 23. 43. The blessed dead were with Abraham, they were conscious and were "comforted" (Lk. 16. 25). The believing malefactor was to be, that day, with Christ in "paradise." The lost were separated from the saved by a "great gulf fixed" (Lk. 16. 26). The representative man of the lost who are now in hades is the rich man of Lk. 16. 19-31. He was alive, conscious, in the full exercise of his faculties, memory, etc., and in torment.

(2) Hades since the ascension of Christ. So far as the unsaved dead are concerned, no change of their place or condition is revealed in Scripture. At the judgment of the great white throne, hades will give them up, they will be judged, and will pass into the lake of fire (Rev. 20. 13, 14). But a change has taken place which affects paradise. Paul was "caught up to the third heaven . . . into paradise" (2 Cor. 12. 1-4). Paradise, therefore, is now in the immediate presence of God. It is believed that Eph. 4. 8-10 indicates the time of the change. "When he ascended up on high he led a multitude of captives." It is immediately added that he had previously "descended first into the lower parts of the earth," i.e. the paradise division of hades. During the present church-age the saved who died are "absent from the body, at home with the Lord." The wicked dead in hades, and the righteous dead "at home with the Lord," alike await the resurrection (Job 19. 25; 1 Cor. 15. 52). See Mt. 5. 22, note.

12 And as he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men that were lepers, which stood afar off:

13 And they lifted up their voices, and ^asaid, Jesus, Master, have mercy on us.

14 And when he saw them, he said unto them, Go shew yourselves unto the priests. And it came to pass, that, as they went, they were cleansed.

15 And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, and with a loud voice glorified God.

16 And fell down on his face at his feet, giving him thanks: and he was a Samaritan.

17 And Jesus answering said, Were there not ten cleansed? but where are the nine?

18 There are not found that returned to give glory to God, save this stranger.

CHAPTER 18.

Parable of the unjust judge.

AND he spake a ^vparable unto them to this end, that men ought always to pray, and not to faint;

¹ Gr. entos = "in the midst." It could not be said of a self-righteous, Christ-rejecting Pharisee, that the kingdom of God, as to its spiritual content, was within him. Our Lord's whole answer, designedly enigmatic to the Pharisees (cf. Mt. 13. 10-13), has a dispensational meaning. The kingdom in its outward form, as covenanted to David (2 Sam. 7. 8-17) and described by the prophets (Zech. 12. 8, note), had been rejected by the Jews; so that, during this present age, it would not "come with observation" (lit. "outward show") but in the hearts of men (cf. Lk. 19. 11, 12; Acts 1. 6-8, note; Rom. 14. 17). Meantime, the kingdom was actually "in the midst" of the Pharisees in the persons of the King and His disciples. Ultimately the kingdom of heaven will come, with outward show. (See v. 24.)

² See "Armageddon" (Rev. 16. 14; 19. 17, note).

2 Saying, There was in a city a judge, which feared not God, neither regarded man:

3 And there was a widow in that city; and she came unto him, saying, Avenge me of mine adversary.

4 And he would not for a while; but afterward he said within himself, Though I fear not God, nor regard man;

5 Yet because this widow troubleth me, I will avenge her, lest by her continual coming she weary me.

6 And the Lord said, Hear what the unjust judge saith.

7 And shall not God ^aavenge his own elect, which cry day and night unto him, though he bear long with them?

8 I tell you that he will avenge them speedily. Nevertheless when the ^bSon of man ^ccometh, shall he find ^dfaith on the earth?

Parable of the Pharisee and the publican.

9 And he spake this parable unto certain which trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and despised others:

10 Two men went up into the temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican.

11 The Pharisee stood and ^aprayed thus with himself, God, I thank thee, that I am not as other men ^bare, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican.

12 I fast twice in the week, I give tithes of all that I possess.

13 And the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as ^chis eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, ^dsaying, God be ^emerciful to me a sinner.

14 I tell you, this man went down to his house ^fjustified rather than the other: for every one that exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

CHAPTER 19.

Conversion of Zacchæus.

AND Jesus entered and passed through Jericho.

2 And, behold, there was a man named Zacchæus, which was the chief among the publicans, and he was rich.

3 And he sought to see Jesus who he was; and could not for the press, because he was little of stature.

4 And he ran before, and climbed up into a sycamore tree to see him: for he was to pass that way.

5 And when Jesus came to the place, he looked up, and saw him, and said unto him, Zacchæus, make haste, and come down; for to day I must ^kabide at thy house.

6 And he made haste, and came down, and received him joyfully.

7 And when they saw it, they all murmured, saying, ⁱ'That he was gone to be guest with a man that is a sinner.'

8 And Zacchæus stood, and said unto the Lord; Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the ^mpoor; and if I have taken any thing from any man by false accusation, I ⁿrestore him fourfold.

9 And Jesus said unto him, This day is ^osalvation come to this house, forso much as he also is a son of Abraham.

Parable of the ten pounds: the postponed kingdom. (See Lk. 17. 21, note; Acts 1. 6-8, note.)

11 And as they heard these things, he added and spake a ^qparable, because he was nigh to Jerusalem, and ^rbecause they thought that the kingdom of God should immediately appear.

12 He said therefore, ^s'A certain nobleman went into a far country to receive for himself a kingdom, and to return.'

13 And he called his ten servants, and delivered them ten ^tpounds, and said unto them, ^u'Occupy till I come.'

14 But his citizens hated him, and sent a message after him, saying, We will not have this man to reign over us.

15 And it came to pass, that when he was returned, having received the kingdom, then he commanded these servants to be called unto him, to whom he had given the money, that he might know how much every man had gained by trading.

16 Then came the first, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained ten pounds.

17 And he said unto him, Well, thou good servant: because thou hast been faithful in a very little, have thou authority over ten cities.

18 And the second came, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained five pounds.

19 And he said likewise to him, Be thou also over five cities.

20 And another came, saying, Lord, behold, here is thy pound, which I have kept laid up in a napkin:

21 For I *b*feared thee, because thou art an austere man: thou takest up that thou laydest not down, and reapest that thou didst not sow.

22 And he saith unto him, Out of thine own mouth will I judge thee, thou wicked servant. Thou knowest that I was an austere man, taking up that I laid not down, and reaping that I did not sow:

23 Wherefore then gavest not thou my money into the bank, that at my coming I might have required mine own with usury?

24 And he said unto them that stood by, Take from him the pound, and give it to him that hath ten pounds.

25 (And they said unto him, Lord, he hath ten pounds.)

26 For I say unto you, *d*That unto every one which hath shall be given; and from him that hath not, even that he hath shall be taken away from him.

27 But those mine *e*enemies, which would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and slay them before me.

tied, whereon yet never man sat: loose him, and bring him hither.

31 And if any man ask you, Why do ye loose him? thus shall ye say unto him, Because the Lord hath need of him.

32 And they that were sent went their way, and found even as he had said unto them.

33 And as they were loosing the colt, the owners thereof said unto them, Why loose ye the colt?

34 And they said, The Lord hath need of him.

35 And they brought him to Jesus: and they cast their garments upon the colt, and they *h*set Jesus thereon.

36 And as he went, they spread their clothes in the way.

37 And when he was come nigh, even now at the descent of the mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoice and praise God with a loud voice for all the mighty works that they had seen;

38 Saying, *b*Blessed be the King that cometh in the name of the Lord: *h*peace in heaven, and *g*glory in the highest.

39 And some of the Pharisees from among the multitude said unto him, Master, rebuke thy disciples.

40 And he answered and said unto them, I tell you that, if these should hold their peace, the stones would immediately cry out.

Jesus weeps over Jerusalem.
(Cf. Lk. 13. 34, 35.)

41 And when he was come near, he beheld the city, and *w*ept over it,

42 Saying, *m*If thou hadst known, even thou, at least in this thy day, the things which *o*belong unto thy peace! but now they are hid from thine eyes.

43 For the days shall come upon thee, that thine enemies shall cast a trench about thee, and compass thee round, and keep thee in on every side, 44 *h*And shall lay thee even with the ground, and thy children within thee; and they shall not leave in thee one stone upon another; because thou knewest not *e*the time of thy visitation.

Second purification of the temple (Mt. 21. 12-16; Mk. 11. 15-18. Cf. John 2. 13-17).

45 And *h*e went into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold therein, and them that bought;

46 Saying unto them, It is written, My house is the ^ahouse of prayer: but ye have made it a ^bden of thieves.

47 And he taught daily in the temple. But the chief priests and the scribes and the chief of the people sought to destroy him.

48 And could not find what they might do: for all the people ^cwere very attentive to hear him.

CHAPTER 20.

Jesus' authority questioned
(Mt. 21. 23-27; Mk. 11. 27-33).

AND ^dit came to pass, that on one of those days, as he taught the people in the temple, and preached the ^egospel, the chief priests and the scribes came upon him with the elders,

2 And spake unto him, saying, Tell us, ^fby what authority doest thou these things? or who is he that gave thee this authority?

3 And he answered and said unto them, I will also ask you one thing; and answer me:

4 The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or of men?

5 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, Why then believed ye him not?

6 But and if we say, Of men; all the people will stone us; for they ^gare persuaded that John was a prophet.

7 And they answered, that they could not tell whence it was.

8 And Jesus said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

Parable of the vineyard (Mt. 21. 33-46; Mk. 12. 1-12. Cf. Isa. 5. 1-7).

9 Then began he to speak to the people this ^hparable; A ⁱcertain man planted a ^jvineyard, and let it forth to husbandmen, and went into a far country for a long time.

10 And at the season he ^ksent a servant to the husbandmen, that they should give him of the ^lfruit of the vineyard: but the husbandmen beat him, and sent him away empty.

11 And again he sent another servant: and they beat him also, and entreated him shamefully, and sent him away empty.

12 And again he sent a third; and they wounded him also, and cast him out.

13 Then said the lord of the vineyard, What shall I do? I will ^msend my beloved son; it may be they will reverence him when they see him.

14 But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned among themselves, saying, ⁿThis is the heir: come, ^olet us kill him, that the inheritance may be our's.

15 So they ^pcast him out of the vineyard, and killed him. What therefore shall the lord of the vineyard do unto them?

16 He shall come and ^qdestroy these husbandmen, and shall give the vineyard to ^rothers. And when they heard it, they said, God forbid.

17 And he beheld them, and said, What is this then that is written, The ^sstone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner?

18 Whosoever shall fall upon that stone shall be broken; ^tbut on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder.

Question of the tribute-money
(Mt. 22. 15-22; Mk. 12. 13-17).

19 And the chief priests and the scribes the same hour ^usought to lay hands on him; and they feared the people: for they perceived that he had spoken this parable against them.

20 And they watched him, and sent forth spies, which should feign themselves just men, that they might take hold of his words, that so they might deliver him unto the power and authority of the governor.

21 And they asked him, saying, Master, we know that thou sayest and teachest rightly, neither acceptest thou the person of ^vany, but teachest the way of God truly:

22 Is it lawful for us to give tribute unto Cæsar, or no?

23 But he perceived their craftiness, and said unto them, ^wWhy tempt ye me?

24 Shew me a ^xpenny. Whose image and superscription hath it? They answered and said, Cæsar's.

25 And he said unto them, ^yRender therefore unto Cæsar the things which be Cæsar's, and unto ^zGod the things which be God's.

26 And they could not take hold of his words before the people: and they ^z marvelled at his answer, and held their peace.

Jesus answers the Sadducees about the resurrection (Mt. 22. 23-33; Mk. 12. 18-27).

27 ^aThen came to him certain of the ^bSadducees, which deny that there is any resurrection; and they asked him,

28 Saying, Master, ^cMoses wrote unto us, If any man's brother die, having a wife, and he die without children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.

29 There were therefore seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and died without children.

30 And the second took her to wife, and he died childless.

31 And the third took her; and in like manner the seven also; and they left no children, and died.

32 Last of all the woman died also.

33 Therefore in the resurrection whose wife of them is she? for seven had her to wife.

34 And Jesus answering said unto them, The children of this ^dworld marry, and are given in marriage: 35 But they which shall be accounted ^eworthy to obtain that ^fworld, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry, nor are given in marriage:

36 Neither can they die any more: for they are equal unto the ^gangels; and are the children of God, being the children of the resurrection.

37 Now that the dead are raised, ^heven Moses shewed at the bush, when he calleth the Lord the ⁱGod of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.

38 For he is not a God of the dead, but of the living: for all live unto him.

Jesus questions the scribes (Mt. 22. 41-46; Mk. 12. 35-37).

39 Then certain of the scribes answering said, Master, thou hast well said.

40 And after that they durst not ask him any ^jquestion at all.

41 ^kAnd he said unto them, How say they that Christ is David's son?

42 And David himself saith in the book of Psalms, ^lThe LORD said unto my ^mLord, Sit thou on my right hand, 43 Till I make thine enemies thy footstool.

44 David therefore calleth him Lord, ⁿhow is he then his son?

with child, and to them that give suck, in those days! for there shall be great distress in the land, and wrath upon this people.

24 And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and shall be led away captive into all nations: and Jerusalem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled.

The return of the Lord in glory. (Cf. Mt. 24. 29-31.)

25 And there shall be signs in the sun, and in the moon, and in the stars; and upon the earth distress of nations, with perplexity; the sea and the waves roaring;

26 Men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth: for the powers of heaven shall be shaken.

Parable of the fig tree (Mt. 24. 32, 33; Mk. 13. 28, 29).

29 And he spake to them a parable; Behold the fig tree, and all the trees;

30 When they now shoot forth, ye see and know of your own selves that summer is now nigh at hand.

31 So likewise ye, when ye see these things come to pass, know ye that the kingdom of God is nigh at hand.

33 Heaven and earth shall pass away: but my words shall not pass away.

¹ Verses 20, 24 are not included in the report of the Olivet discourse as given by Matthew and Mark. Two sieges of Jerusalem are in view in that discourse. Luke 21. 20-24 refers to the siege by Titus, A.D. 70, when the city was taken, and verse 24 literally fulfilled. But that siege and its horrors but adumbrate the final siege at the end of this age, in which the "great tribulation" culminates. At that time the city will be taken, but delivered by the glorious appearing of the Lord (Rev. 19. 11-21). The references in Mt. 24. 15-28, Mk. 13. 14-26 are to the final tribulation siege; Lk. 21. 20-24 to the destruction of Jerusalem by Titus. In Luke the sign is the compassing of Jerusalem by armies (Lk. 21. 20); in Matthew (24. 15) and Mark (13. 14) the sign is the abomination in the holy place (2 Thes. 2. 4).

² The "times of the Gentiles" began with the captivity of Judah under Nebuchadnezzar (2 Chr. 36. 1-21), since which time Jerusalem has been under Gentile overlordship.

Warnings in view of the Lord's return. (Cf. Mt. 24. 34-51; Mk. 13. 30-37.)

34 And ^atake heed to yourselves, lest at any time your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and ^bcares of this life, and so that day come upon you unawares.

35 For ^aas a snare shall it come on all them that dwell on the face of the whole earth.

36 ^aWatch ye therefore, and ^epray always, that ye may be accounted worthy to ^eescape all these things that shall come to pass, and to ^estand before the Son of man.

2 And the ^achief priests and scribes sought how they might kill him; for they ^bfeared the people.

3 Then entered ^aSatan into Judas surnamed Iscariot, being of the number of the twelve.

4 And he went his way, and communed with the chief priests and captains, how he might betray him unto them.

6 And he promised, and sought opportunity to ^abetray him unto them in the absence of the multitude.

7 Then came the day of unleavened bread, when the ^apassover must be killed.

8 And he sent Peter and John, saying, Go and prepare us the passover, that we may eat.

9 And they said unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare?

39 And he came out, and ^awent, as he was wont, to the mount of Olives; and his disciples also followed him.

40 And when he was at the place, he said unto them, Pray that ye enter not into temptation.

41 And he was withdrawn from them about a stone's cast, and kneeled down, and prayed, 42 Saying, Father, if thou be willing, remove this ^bcup from me: nevertheless not my will, but thine, be done.

43 And there appeared an ^cangel unto him from heaven, strengthening him.

Jesus betrayed by Judas; restores a severed ear (Mt. 26. 47-56; Mk. 14. 43-50; John 18. 3-11).

47 And while he yet spake, behold a multitude, and he that was called Judas, one of the twelve, went before them, and drew near unto Jesus to kiss him.

48 But Jesus said unto him, Judas, betrayest thou the ^eSon of man with a kiss?

49 When they which were about him saw what would follow, they said unto him, Lord, shall we smite with the sword?

50 And ^fone of them smote the servant of the high priest, and cut off his right ear.

51 And Jesus answered and said, Suffer ye thus far. And he touched his ear, and ^ghealed him.

52 Then Jesus said unto the chief priests, and captains of the temple, and the elders, which were come to him, Be ye come out, as against a ^hthief, with swords and staves?

54 Then took they him, and led him, and brought him into the high priest's house. And Peter followed ^aafar off.

55 And when they had kindled a fire in the midst of the hall, and were set down together, Peter sat down ^bamong them.

56 But a certain maid beheld him as he sat by the fire, and earnestly looked upon him, and said, This man was also with him.

57 And he ^cdenied him, saying, Woman, I know him not.

CHAPTER 23.

Jesus before Pilate (Mt. 27. 2, 11-14; Mk. 15. 1-5; John 18. 28-38).

AND the whole multitude of them arose, and led him unto Pilate.

2 And they began to accuse him, saying, We found this fellow perverting the nation, and forbidding to give tribute to Cæsar, saying that he himself is Christ a King.

3 And Pilate asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answered him and said, Thou sayest it.

4 Then said Pilate to the chief priests and to the people, I find no fault in this man.

5 And they were the more fierce, saying, He stirreth up the people, teaching throughout all Jewry, beginning from Galilee to this place.

Jesus sent before Herod.

6 When Pilate heard of Galilee, he asked whether the man were a Galilæan.

7 And as soon as he knew that he belonged unto Herod's jurisdiction, he sent him to Herod, who himself also was at Jerusalem at that time.

8 And when Herod saw Jesus, he was exceeding glad: for he was desirous to see him of a long season, because he had heard many things of him; and he hoped to have seen some miracle done by him.

9 Then he questioned with him in many words; but he answered him nothing.

10 And the chief priests and scribes stood and vehemently accused him.

11 And Herod with his men of war set him at nought, and mocked him, and arrayed him in a gorgeous robe, and sent him again to Pilate.

12 And the same day Pilate and Herod were made friends together: for before they were at enmity between themselves.

Jesus again before Pilate: Barabbas released, Jesus condemned (Mt. 27. 15-26; Mk. 15. 6-15; John 18. 39, 40).

13 And Pilate, when he had called together the chief priests and the rulers and the people,

14 Said unto them, "Ye have brought this man unto me, as one that perverteth the people: and, behold, I, having examined him before you, have found no fault in this man touching those things whereof ye accuse him:

15 No, nor yet Herod: for I sent you to him; and, lo, nothing worthy of death is done unto him.

16 "I will therefore chastise him, and release him.

17 ("For of necessity he must release one unto them at the feast.)

18 And they cried out all at once, saying, Away with this man, and release unto us Barabbas:

19 (Who for a certain sedition made in the city, and for murder, was cast into prison.)

20 Pilate therefore, willing to release Jesus, spake again to them.

21 But they cried, saying, "Crucify him, crucify him.

22 And he said unto them the third time, Why, what evil hath he done? I have found no cause of death in him: I will therefore chastise him, and let him go.

23 And they were instant with loud voices, requiring that he might be crucified. And the voices of them and of the chief priests prevailed.

24 And Pilate gave sentence that it should be as they required.

25 "And he released unto them him that for sedition and murder was cast into prison, whom they had desired; but he delivered Jesus to their will.

26 And as they led him away, they laid hold upon one Simon, a Cyrenian, coming out of the country, and on him they laid the cross, that he might bear it after Jesus.

The crucifixion (Mt. 27. 33-38; Mk. 15. 22-28; John 19. 17-19).

33 "And when they were come to the place, which is called Calvary, there they crucified him, and the malefactors, one on the right hand, and the other on the left.

34 Then said Jesus, "Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do. And they parted his raiment, and cast lots.

35 And the people stood beholding. And the rulers also with them derided him, saying, He saved others; let him save himself, if he be Christ, the chosen of God.

36 And the soldiers also mocked him, coming to him, and offering him vinegar, 37 And saying, If thou be the king of the Jews, save thyself.

38 And a superscription also was written over him in letters of Greek, and Latin, and Hebrew, THIS IS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

The repentant thief. (Cf. Mt. 27. 44; Mk. 15. 32.)

39 And one of the malefactors which were hanged railed on him, saying, If thou be Christ, save thyself and us.

40 But the other answering rebuked him, saying, Dost not thou fear God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation?

41 And we indeed justly; for we receive the due reward of our deeds: but this man hath done nothing amiss.

¹ For order of events at the crucifixion, see Mt. 27. 33, note.

² Jesus crucified is the true touchstone revealing what the world is: "The people stood beholding" in stolid indifference; the rulers, who wanted religion, but without a divine Christ crucified for their sins, "reviled"; the brutal amongst them mocked or railed; the conscious sinner prayed; the covetous sat down before the cross and played their sordid game. The cross is the judgment of this world (John 12. 31).

42 And he ^asaid unto Jesus, Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy ^bkingdom.

43 And Jesus said unto him, ^cVerily I say unto thee, To day shalt thou be with me in paradise.

44 And it was about the sixth hour, and there was a darkness over all the earth until the ninth hour.

45 And the sun was darkened, and the ^dveil of the temple was rent in the midst.

Jesus dismisses his spirit (Mt. 27. 50; Mk. 15. 37; John 19. 30).

46 And when Jesus had cried with a loud voice, ^ehe said, Father, ^finto thy hands I commend my spirit: and having said thus, he ^ggave up the ghost.

47 Now when the ^hcenturion saw what was done, he glorified God, saying, Certainly this was a ⁱrighteous man.

48 And all the people that came together to that sight, beholding the things which were done, ^jsmote their breasts, and returned.

49 And all his acquaintance, and the women that followed him from Galilee, stood afar off, beholding these things.

The entombment (Mt. 27. 57-61; Mk. 15. 42-47; John 19. 38-42).

50 And, behold, ^kthere was a man named Joseph, a counsellor; ^land he was a good man, and a just:

51 (The same had not consented to the counsel and deed of them;) ^mhe was of Arimathæa, a city of the Jews: ⁿwho also himself waited for the kingdom of God.

52 This ^oman went unto Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus.

53 And he took it down, and wrapped it in linen, and ^plaid it in a sepulchre that was hewn in stone, ^qwherein never man before was laid.

54 And that day was the ^rpreparation, and the sabbath drew on.

55 And the ^swomen also, which came with him from Galilee, followed after, and beheld the sepulchre, and how his body was laid.

56 And they returned, and ^tprepared spices and ointments; and rested the sabbath day ^uaccording to the commandment.

CHAPTER 24.

The resurrection of Jesus Christ (Mt. 28. 1-6; Mk. 16. 1-8; John 20. 1-17).

NOW ^aupon the first day of the week, very early in the morning, they came unto the sepulchre, ^bbringing the spices which they had prepared, and certain ^cothers with them.

2 And they found the ^dstone rolled away from the sepulchre.

3 And they entered in, and ^efound not the body of the Lord Jesus.

4 And it came to pass, as they were much perplexed thereabout, behold, ^ftwo men stood by them in shining garments:

5 And as they were afraid, and bowed down ^gtheir faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye the ^hliving among the dead?

6 He is not here, but is risen: remember ⁱhow he spake unto you when he was yet in Galilee,

7 Saying, The ^jSon of man must be delivered into the hands of ^ksinful men, and be crucified, and the third day ^lrise again.

8 And they ^mremembered his words,

9 And returned from the sepulchre, and told all these things unto the eleven, and to all the rest.

10 It was Mary Magdalene, and ⁿJoanna, and Mary ^othe mother of James, and other ^pwomen that were with them, which told these things unto the apostles.

11 And ^qtheir words seemed to them as idle tales, and they believed them not.

12 Then arose ^rPeter, and ran unto the sepulchre; and stooping down, he beheld the linen clothes laid by themselves, and departed, wondering in himself at that which was come to pass.

Ministry of the risen Christ: (1) to the Emmaus disciples.

13 ^aAnd, behold, ^btwo of them went that same day to a village called Emmaus, which was from Jerusalem ^cabout threescore furlongs.

14 And they talked together of all these things which had happened.

15 And it came to pass, that, while they communed ^dtogether and reasoned, Jesus himself drew near, and went with them.

16 But their eyes were holden that they should not know him.

17 And he said unto them, What manner of communications are these that ye have one to another, as ye walk, and are sad?

18 And the one of them, whose name was Cleopas, answering said unto him, Art thou only a stranger in Jerusalem, and hast not known the things which are come to pass there in these days?

19 And he said unto them, What things? And they said unto him, Concerning Jesus of Nazareth, which was a prophet mighty in deed and word before God and all the people:

20 And how the chief priests and our rulers delivered him to be condemned to death, and have crucified him.

21 But we trusted that it had been he which should have redeemed Israel: and beside all this, to day is the third day since these things were done.

22 Yea, and certain women also of our company made us astonished, which were early at the sepulchre;

23 And when they found not his body, they came, saying, that they had also seen a vision of angels, which said that he was alive.

24 And certain of them which were with us went to the sepulchre, and found it even so as the women had said: but him they saw not.

25 Then he said unto them, O fools, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken:

26 Ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and to enter into his glory?

27 And beginning at Moses and all the prophets, he expounded unto them in all the scriptures the things concerning himself.

28 And they drew nigh unto the village, whither they went: and he made as though he would have gone further.

29 But they constrained him, saying, Abide with us: for it is toward evening, and the day is far spent. And he went in to tarry with them.

30 And it came to pass, as he sat at meat with them, he took bread, and blessed it, and brake, and gave to them.

31 And their eyes were opened,

¹ The attitude of our Lord here characterizes this age. It is one of grace; an ascended Lord is blessing a believing people with spiritual blessings. The Jewish age was marked by temporal blessings as the reward of an obedient people (Deut. 28. 1-15). In the kingdom-age spiritual and temporal blessings unite.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO

1 1]

ST. JOHN.

[1 14

WRITER. The fourth Gospel was written by the Apostle John (John 21. 24). This has been questioned on critical grounds, but on the same grounds and with equal scholarship, the early date and Johanean authorship have been maintained.

Date. The date of John's Gospel falls between A.D. 85 and 90. Probably the latter.

Theme. This is indicated both in the Prologue (1. 1-14), and in the last verse of the Gospel proper (20. 31), and is: The incarnation of the eternal Word, and Son of God, Himself God, in Jesus the Christ, (1) to reveal God in the terms of a human life; (2) that as many as believe on Him as "the Christ, the Son of God" (20. 31) may have eternal life. The prominent words are, "believed" and "life."

The book is in seven natural divisions: I. Prologue: The eternal Word incarnate in Jesus the Christ, 1. 1-14. II. The witness of John the Baptist, 1. 15-34. III. The public ministry of Christ, 1. 35-12. 50. IV. The private ministry of Christ to His own, 13. 1-17. 26. V. The sacrifice of Christ, 18. 1-19. 42. VI. The manifestation of Christ in resurrection, 20. 1-31. VII. Epilogue: Christ the Master of life and service, 21. 1-25.

The events recorded in this book cover a period of 7 years.

Jesus Christ the true Light.
(Cf. John 8. 12; 9. 5; 12. 46.)

⁹ That was the true ^kLight, which lighteth every man that cometh into the ^kworld.

¹⁰ He was in the ^kworld, and the world was made by him, and the world knew him not.

The two classes: sons and unbelievers. (Cf. 1 John 3. 1, 2; 5. 11, 12.)

¹¹ He came unto his own, and his own received him not.

¹² But as many as received him, to them gave he ^mpower to become the sons of God, ^eeven to them that ⁿbelieve on his name:

¹³ Which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the ^fflesh, nor of the will of man, but of God.

The incarnation. (Cf. Mt. 1. 18-23; Lk. 1. 30-35; Rom. 1. 3, 4.)

¹⁴ And the ^pWord was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth.

¹ Gr. Logos (Aram. Memra, used in the Targums, or Heb. paraphrases, for God). The Greek term means, (1) a thought or concept; (2) the expression or utterance of that thought. As a designation of Christ, therefore, Logos is peculiarly felicitous because, (1) in Him are embodied all the treasures of the divine wisdom, the collective "thought" of God (1 Cor. 1. 24; Eph. 3. 11; Col. 2. 2, 3); and, (2) He is, from eternity, but especially in His incarnation, the utterance or expression of the Person, and "thought" of Deity (John 1. 3-5, 9, 14-18; 14. 9-11; Col. 2. 9). In the Being, Person, and work of Christ, Deity is told out.

The witness of John Baptist.
(Cf. Mt. 3. 1-17; Mk. 1. 1-11; Lk. 3. 1-18.)

15 John bare ^awitness of him, and cried, saying, This was he of whom I spake, He that cometh after me is preferred before me: for he was before me.

16 And of his fulness have all we received, and grace for grace.

17 For the ^blaw was given by Moses, but ^cgrace and truth came by Jesus Christ.

18 No man hath ^dseen God at any time; the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath ^edeclared him.

19 And ^fthis is the record of John, when the Jews sent priests and Levites from Jerusalem to ask him, Who art thou?

20 And he confessed, and denied not; but confessed, I am not the Christ.

21 And they asked him, What then? Art thou Elias? And he saith, I am not. Art thou that ^gprophet? And he answered, No.

22 Then said they unto him, Who art thou? that we may give an answer to them that sent us. What sayest thou of thyself?

23 ^hHe said, I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness, Make straight the way of the ⁱLord, as said the ^jprophet Esaias.

26 John answered them, saying, I baptize with water: but there standeth one among you, whom ye know not;

27 He it is, who coming after me is preferred before me, whose shoe's latchet I am not worthy to unloose.

28 These things were done in ⁿBethabara beyond Jordan, where John was baptizing.

29 The next day John seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold the ^oLamb of God, which taketh away the ^psin of the world.

30 This is he of whom I said, After me cometh a man which is preferred before me: for he was before me.

31 And I knew him not: but that he should be made manifest to Israel, therefore am I come baptizing with water.

32 And John bare record, saying, I saw the ^qSpirit descending from heaven like a dove, and it abode upon him.

33 And I knew him not: but he that sent me to baptize with water, the same said unto me, Upon whom thou shalt see the Spirit descending, and remaining on him, the same is he which baptizeth with the Holy Ghost.

34 And I saw, and bare record that this is the Son of God.

¹ Grace. Summary: (1) Grace is "the kindness and love of God our Saviour toward man . . . not by works of righteousness which we have done" (Tit. 3. 4, 5). It is, therefore, constantly set in contrast to law, under which God demands righteousness from man, as, under grace, he gives righteousness to man (Rom. 3. 21, 22; 8. 4; Phil. 3. 9). Law is connected with Moses and works; grace with Christ and faith (John 1. 17; Rom. 10. 4-10). Law blesses the good; grace saves the bad (Ex. 19. 5; Eph. 2. 1-9). Law demands that blessings be earned; grace is a free gift (Deut. 28. 1-6; Eph. 2. 8; Rom. 4. 4, 5).

(2) As a dispensation, grace begins with the death and resurrection of Christ (Rom. 3. 24-26; 4. 24, 25). The point of testing is no longer legal obedience as the condition of salvation, but acceptance or rejection of Christ, with good works as a fruit of salvation (John 1. 12, 13; 3. 36; Mt. 21. 37; 22. 42; John 15. 22, 25; Heb. 1. 2; 1 John 5. 10-12). The immediate result of this testing was the rejection of Christ by the Jews, and His crucifixion by Jew and Gentile (Acts 4. 27). The predicted end of the testing of man under grace is the apostasy of the professing church (see "Apostasy," 2 Tim. 3. 1-8, note), and the resultant apocalyptic judgments.

(3) Grace has a twofold manifestation: in salvation (Rom. 3. 24, refs.), and in the walk and service of the saved (Rom. 6. 15, refs.). See, for the other six dispensations: Innocence, Gen. 1. 28; Conscience, Gen. 3. 23; Human Government, Gen. 8. 21; Promise, Gen. 12. 1; Law, Ex. 19. 8; Kingdom, Eph. 1. 10.

² Cf. Gen. 32. 30; Ex. 24. 10; 33. 18; Jud. 6. 22; 13. 22; Rev. 22. 4. The divine essence, God, in His own Right Person, no human being in the flesh has seen. But God, veiled in angelic form, and especially as incarnate in Jesus Christ, has been seen of men (Gen. 18. 2, 22; John 14. 8, 9).

The public ministry of Jesus Christ (John 1. 35-12. 50).

35 Again the next day after John stood, and two of his disciples;

36 And looking upon Jesus as he walked, he saith, Behold the Lamb of God!

37 And the two disciples heard him speak, and they followed Jesus.

38 Then Jesus turned, and saw them following, and saith unto them, What seek ye? They said unto him, Rabbi, (which is to say, being interpreted, Master,) where dwellest thou?

39 He saith unto them, Come and see. They came and saw where he dwelt, and abode with him that day: for it was about the tenth hour.

40 One of the two which heard John speak, and followed him, was Andrew, Simon Peter's brother.

41 He first findeth his own brother Simon, and saith unto him, We have found the Messiah, which is, being interpreted, the Christ.

42 And he brought him to Jesus. And when Jesus beheld him, he said, Thou art Simon the son of Jona: thou shalt be called Cephas, which is by interpretation, A stone.

43 The day following Jesus would go forth into Galilee, and findeth Philip, and saith unto him, Follow me.

44 Now Philip was of Bethsaida, the city of Andrew and Peter.

45 Philip findeth Nathanael, and saith unto him, We have found him, of whom Moses in the law, and the prophets, did write, Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph.

CHAPTER 2.

The marriage at Cana: the first miracle.

AND the third day there was a marriage in Cana of Galilee; and the mother of Jesus was there: 2 And both Jesus was called, and his disciples, to the marriage.

3 And when they wanted wine, the mother of Jesus saith unto him, They have no wine.

4 Jesus saith unto her, Woman, what have I to do with thee? mine hour is not yet come.

5 His mother saith unto the servants, Whatsoever he saith unto you, do it.

6 And there were set there six waterpots of stone, after the manner of the purifying of the Jews, containing two or three firkins apiece.

7 Jesus saith unto them, Fill the waterpots with water. And they filled them up to the brim.

8 And he saith unto them, Draw out now, and bear unto the governor of the feast. And they bare it.

9 When the ruler of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine, and knew not whence it was: (but the servants which drew the water knew;) the governor of the feast called the bridegroom,

10 And saith unto him, Every man at the beginning doth set forth good wine; and when men have well drunk, then that which is worse: but thou hast kept the good wine until now.

11 This beginning of miracles did Jesus in Cana of Galilee, and manifested forth his glory; and his disciples believed on him.

12 After this he went down to Capernaum, he, and his mother, and his brethren, and his disciples: and they continued there not many days.

The first passover (vs. 13, 23; cf. John 6. 4; 11. 55): first purification of the temple. (Cf. Mt. 21. 12, 13; Mk. 11. 15-17; Lk. 19. 45, 46.)

13 And the Jews' passover was at hand, and ^aJesus went up to Jerusalem,

14 And ^bfound in the temple those that sold ^doxen and sheep and doves, and the changers of ^emoney sitting:

15 And when he had made a scourge of small cords, he drove them all out of the temple, and the sheep, and the oxen; and poured out the changers' money, and overthrew the tables;

16 And said unto them that sold doves, Take these things hence; make not my Father's house an house of merchandise.

17 And his disciples remembered that it was written, The zeal of thine house hath eaten me up.

18 Then answered the Jews and said unto him, What ^asign shewest thou unto us, seeing that thou doest these things?

19 Jesus answered and said unto them, ^bDestroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up.

20 Then said the Jews, Forty and six years was this temple in building, and wilt thou rear it up in three days?

21 But he spake of the temple of his body.

22 When therefore he was risen from the dead, his disciples remembered that he had said this unto them; and they believed the scripture, and the word which Jesus had said.

23 Now when he was in Jerusalem at the passover, in the feast day, many believed in his name, when they saw the miracles which he did.

24 But Jesus did not commit himself unto them, because he ^kknew all men,

25 And needed not that any should testify of man: for he knew what was in man.

¹ Regeneration: (1) The necessity of the new birth grows out of the incapacity of the natural man to "see" or "enter into" the kingdom of God. However gifted, moral, or refined, the natural man is absolutely blind to spiritual truth, and impotent to enter the kingdom; for he can neither obey, understand, nor please God (John 3. 3, 5, 6; Psa. 51. 5; Jer. 17. 9; Mk. 7. 21-23; 1 Cor. 2. 14; Rom. 8. 7, 8; Eph. 2. 3. 19 And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the ^aworld, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil.

9 Then saith the woman of Samaria unto him, How is it that thou, being a Jew, askest drink of me, which am a woman of Samaria? for the Jews have no dealings with the Samaritans.

10 Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee living water.

11 The woman saith unto him, Sir, thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deep: from whence then hast thou that living water?

12 Art thou greater than our father Jacob, which gave us the well, and drank thereof himself, and his children, and his cattle?

16 Jesus saith unto her, Go, call thy husband, and come hither.

17 The woman answered and said, I have no husband. Jesus said unto her, Thou hast well said, I have no husband:

3 In these lay a great multitude of impotent folk, of blind, halt, withered, waiting for the moving of the water.

4 For an angel went down at a certain season into the pool, and troubled the water: whosoever then first after the troubling of the water stepped in was made whole of whatsoever disease he had.

5 And a certain man was there, which had an infirmity thirty and eight years.

6 When Jesus saw him lie, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him, Wilt thou be made whole?

7 The impotent man answered him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another steppeth down before me.

8 Jesus saith unto him, Rise, take up thy bed, and walk.

9 And immediately the man was made whole, and took up his bed, and walked: and on the same day was the sabbath.

10 The Jews therefore said unto him that was cured, It is the sabbath day: it is not lawful for thee to carry thy bed.

11 He answered them, He that made me whole, the same said unto me. Take up thy bed, and walk.

12 Then asked they him, What man is that which said unto thee, Take up thy bed, and walk?

13 And he that was healed wist not who it was: for Jesus had conveyed himself away, a multitude being in that place.

14 Afterward Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: sin no more, lest a worse thing come unto thee.

15 The man departed, and told the Jews that it was Jesus, which had made him whole.

16 And therefore did the Jews persecute Jesus, and sought to slay him, because he had done these things on the sabbath day.

17 But Jesus answered them, My Father worketh hitherto, and I work.

18 Therefore the Jews sought the more to kill him, because he not only had broken the sabbath, but said also that God was his Father, making himself equal with God.

19 Then answered Jesus and said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do: for what things soever he doeth, these also doeth the Son likewise.

20 For the Father loveth the Son, and sheweth him all things that himself doeth: and he will shew him greater works than these, that ye may marvel.

21 For as the Father raiseth up the dead, and quickeneth them; even so the Son quickeneth whom he will.

22 For the Father judgeth no man, but hath committed all judgment unto the Son:

23 That all men should honour the Son, even as they honour the Father. He that honoureth not the Son honoureth not the Father which hath sent him.

24 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life.

25 Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live.

26 For as the Father hath life in himself; so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself;

27 And hath given him authority to execute judgment also, because he is the Son of man.

29 And shall come forth; they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of damnation.

eth witness of me; and I know that the witness which he witnesseth of me is true.

The fourfold witness to Jesus: (1) John Baptist.

33 Ye sent unto John, and he bare witness unto the truth.

34 But I receive not testimony from man; but these things I say, that ye might be saved.

35 He was a burning and a shining light: and ye were willing for a season to rejoice in his light.

(2) The works.

36 But I have greater witness than that of John: for the works which the Father hath given me to finish, the same works that I do, bear witness of me, that the Father hath sent me.

(3) The Father (Mt. 3. 17).

37 And the Father himself, which hath sent me, hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, nor seen his shape.

38 And ye have not his word abiding in you: for whom he hath sent, him ye believe not.

(4) The Scriptures. (Cf. Lk. 24. 27, 44-46.)

39 Search the scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me.

40 And ye will not come to me, that ye might have life.

41 I receive not honour from men.

42 But I know you, that ye have not the love of God in you.

43 I am come in my Father's name, and ye receive me not: if another shall come in his own name, him ye will receive.

44 How can ye believe, which receive honour one of another, and seek not the honour that cometh from God only?

45 Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father: there is one that accuseth you, even Moses, in whom ye trust.

46 For had ye believed Moses, ye would have believed me: for he wrote of me.

¹ Cf. John 8. 14. In John 5. 31 our Lord, defending His Messianic claims before Jews who denied those claims, accepts the biblical rule of evidence, which required "two witnesses" (John 8. 17; Num. 35. 30; Deut. 17. 6). A paraphrase of verse 31 would be: "If I bear witness of myself [ye will say] my witness is not true." Cf. John 8. 14.

47 But if ye believe not his writings, how shall ye believe my words?

CHAPTER 6.

Feeding the five thousand (Mt. 14. 13-21; Mk. 6. 32-44; Lk. 9. 10-17).

AFTER these things Jesus went over the sea of Galilee, which is the sea of Tiberias.

2 And a great multitude followed him, because they saw his miracles which he did on them that were diseased.

3 And Jesus went up into a mountain, and there he sat with his disciples.

4 And the ^apassover, a feast of the Jews, was nigh.

5 When Jesus then lifted up ^bhis eyes, and saw a great company come unto him, he saith unto Philip, Whence shall we buy bread, that these may eat?

6 And this he said to prove him: for he himself knew what he would do.

7 Philip answered him, ^bTwo hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one of them may take a little.

8 One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, saith unto him,

9 There is a lad here, which hath five barley loaves, and two small fishes: but what are they among so many?

10 And Jesus said, Make the men sit down. Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand.

11 And Jesus took the loaves; and when he had ^cgiven thanks, he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set down; and likewise of the fishes as much as they would.

12 When they were filled, he said unto his disciples, Gather up the fragments that remain, that nothing be lost.

13 Therefore they gathered them together, and filled twelve baskets with the fragments of the five barley loaves, which remained over and above unto them that had eaten.

14 Then those men, when they had seen the ^dmiracle that Jesus did, said, This is of a truth ^ethat prophet that should come into the world.

A.D. 31.

Jesus walks upon the sea (Mt. 14. 22-36; Mk. 6. 45-56).

15 When Jesus therefore perceived that they would come and take him by force, to make him a ^gking, he departed again into a mountain himself alone.

16 ^hAnd when even was now come, his disciples went down unto the sea,

17 And entered into a ship, and went over the sea toward Capernaum. And it was now dark, and Jesus was not come to them.

18 And the sea arose by reason of a great wind that blew.

19 So when they had rowed about five and twenty or thirty ⁱfurlongs, they see Jesus walking on the sea, and drawing nigh unto the ship: and they were afraid.

20 But he saith unto them, It is I; be not afraid.

21 Then they willingly received him into the ship: and immediately the ship was at the land whither they went.

The great discourse on the bread of life.

22 The day following, when the people which stood on the other side of the sea saw that there was none other boat there, save that one wherewith his disciples were entered, and that Jesus went not with his disciples into the boat, but that his disciples were gone away alone;

23 (Howbeit there came other boats from Tiberias nigh unto ^kthe place where they did eat bread, after that the Lord had given thanks:)

24 When the people therefore saw that Jesus was not there, neither his disciples, they also took ^lshipping, and came to Capernaum, seeking for Jesus.

25 And when they had found him on the other side of the sea, they said unto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither?

26 Jesus answered them and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye seek me, not because ye saw the miracles, but because ye did eat of the loaves, and were filled.

27 ^mLabour not for the meat which perisheth, but for ⁿthat meat which endureth unto everlasting life, which the ^oSon of man shall ^pgive unto you: ^qfor him hath God the Father sealed.

28 Then said they unto him, What shall we do, that we might work the works of God?

29 Jesus answered and said unto them, This is the work of God, that ye believe on him whom he hath sent.

30 They said therefore unto him, What sign shewest thou then, that we may see, and believe thee? what dost thou work?

31 Our fathers did eat manna in the desert; as it is written, He gave them bread from heaven to eat.

32 Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Moses gave you not that bread from heaven; but my Father giveth you the true bread from heaven.

33 For the bread of God is he which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world.

34 Then said they unto him, Lord, evermore give us this bread.

35 And Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst.

36 But I said unto you, That ye also have seen me, and believe not.

37 All that the Father giveth me shall come to me; and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out.

38 For I came down from heaven, not to do mine own will, but the will of him that sent me.

39 And this is the Father's will which hath sent me, that of all which he hath given me I should lose nothing, but should raise it up again at the last day.

40 And this is the will of him that sent me, that every one which seeth the Son, and believeth on him, may have everlasting life; and I will raise him up at the last day.

41 The Jews then murmured at him, because he said, I am the bread which came down from heaven.

42 And they said, Is not this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? how is it then that he saith, I came down from heaven?

43 Jesus therefore answered and said unto them, Murmur not among yourselves.

44 No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him: and I will raise him up at the last day.

*God. Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me.

46 Not that any man hath seen the Father, save he which is of God, he hath seen the Father.

47 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me hath everlasting life.

48 I am that bread of life.

49 Your fathers did eat manna in the wilderness, and are dead.

50 This is the bread which cometh down from heaven, that a man may eat thereof, and not die.

51 I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: and the bread that I will give is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world.

52 The Jews therefore strove among themselves, saying, How can this man give us his flesh to eat?

53 Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of man, and drink his blood, ye have no life in you.

54 Whoso eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternal life; and I will raise him up at the last day.

55 For my flesh is meat indeed, and my blood is drink indeed.

56 He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him.

57 As the living Father hath sent me, and I live by the Father: so he that eateth me, even he shall live by me.

58 This is that bread which came down from heaven: not as your fathers did eat manna, and are dead: he that eateth of this bread shall live for ever.

59 These things said he in the synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.

Discipleship tested by doctrine. (Cf. Mt. 8. 19-22; 10. 36.)

60 Many therefore of his disciples, when they had heard this, said, This is an hard saying; who can hear it?

61 When Jesus knew in himself that his disciples murmured at it, he said unto them, Doth this offend you?

62 What and if ye shall see the Son of man ascend up where he was before?

63 It is the ^aspirit that quickeneth; the ^bflesh profiteth nothing: the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life.

64 But there are some of you that believe not. For Jesus knew from the beginning who they were that believed not, and who should betray him.

65 And he said, Therefore said I unto you, that no man can come unto me, except it were given unto him of my Father.

66 From that time many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with him.

Peter's confession of faith. (Cf. Mt. 16. 13-20; Mk. 8. 27-30; Lk. 9. 18-21.)

67 Then said Jesus unto the twelve, Will ye also go away?

68 Then Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou hast the words of ^aeternal life.

69 And ^awe believe and are sure that thou art that Christ, the Son of the living God.

70 Jesus answered them, Have not I chosen you twelve, and one of you is a ^adevil?

71 He spake of Judas Iscariot the son of Simon: for he it was that should betray him, being one of the twelve.

CHAPTER 7.

Jesus urged to go to the feast of tabernacles. (Cf. Lk. 9. 51-62.)

AFTER these things Jesus walked in Galilee: for he would not walk in Jewry, because the Jews sought to kill him.

2 Now the Jews' ^afeast of tabernacles was at hand.

3 His brethren therefore said unto him, Depart hence, and go into Judæa, that thy disciples also may see the works that thou doest.

4 For there is no man that doeth any thing in secret, and he himself seeketh to be known openly. If thou do these things, shew thyself to the ^aworld.

5 For ^aneither did his brethren believe in him.

6 Then Jesus said unto them, ^aMy time is not yet come: but your time is always ready.

7 The ^aworld cannot hate you; but me it hateth, because I testify of it, that the works thereof are evil.

8 Go ye up unto this feast: I go not up yet unto this feast; for my time is not yet full come.

9 When he had said these words unto them, he abode still in Galilee.

Final departure from Galilee.

10 But when his brethren were gone up, then went he also up unto the feast, not openly, but as it were in secret.

11 Then the Jews sought him at the feast, and said, Where is he?

12 And ^athere was much murmuring among the people concerning him: for some said, He is a good man: others said, Nay; but he deceiveth the people.

13 Howbeit no man spake openly of him for ^afear of the Jews.

Jesus at the feast of tabernacles.

14 Now about the midst of the feast Jesus went up into the temple, and taught.

15 And the Jews marvelled, saying, How knoweth this man letters, having never learned?

16 Jesus answered them, and said, My doctrine is not mine, but ^athis that sent me.

17 If any man ^awill do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself.

18 He ^athat speaketh of himself seeketh his own glory: but he that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him.

19 Did not Moses give you the ^alaw, and yet none of you keepeth the law? Why go ye about to kill me?

20 The people answered and said, Thou hast a ^adevil: who goeth about to kill thee?

21 Jesus answered and said unto them, I have done one work, and ye all marvel.

22 Moses therefore gave unto you circumcision; (not because it is of Moses, ^abut of the fathers; and ye on the sabbath day circumcise a man.

23 If a man on the sabbath day receive circumcision, ^athat the law of Moses should not be broken; are ye angry at me, because I have made a man every whit whole on the sabbath day?

24 Judge not according to the appearance, but judge ^arighteous judgment.

25 Then said some of them of Jerusalem, Is not this he, whom they seek to kill?

26 But, lo, he speaketh boldly, and they say nothing unto him. ^aDo the rulers know indeed that this is the very Christ?

27 ^bHowbeit we know this man whence he is: but when Christ cometh, no man knoweth whence he is.

28 Then cried Jesus in the temple as he taught, saying, Ye both know me, and ye know whence I am: and I am not come of myself, but he that sent me is true, whom ye know not.

29 But I know him: for I am from him, and he hath sent me.

30 Then they sought to take him: but no man laid hands on him, because his hour was not yet come.

31 And many of the people believed on him, and said, When Christ cometh, will he do more miracles than these which this man hath done?

32 The Pharisees heard that the people murmured such things concerning him; and the Pharisees and the chief priests sent officers to take him.

33 Then said Jesus unto them, Yet a little while am I with you, and then I go unto him that sent me.

34 Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, thither ye cannot come.

35 Then said the Jews among themselves, Whither will he go, that we shall not find him? will he go unto the ^cdispersed among the Gentiles, and teach the Gentiles?

36 What manner of saying is this that he said, Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, thither ye cannot come?

The great prophecy concerning the Holy Spirit for power (Acts 2. 2-4. Cf. John 4. 14).

37 In the ^dlast day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man ^ethirst, let him come unto me, and drink.

The people divided in opinion.

40 Many of the people therefore, when they heard this saying, said, Of a truth this is the ^cProphet.

41 Others said, This is ^dthe Christ. But some said, ^eShall Christ come out of Galilee?

42 Hath not the scripture said, ^fThat Christ cometh of the seed of David, and out of the town of ^gBethlehem, where David was?

43 So there was a division among the people because of him.

44 And some of them would have taken him; but no man laid hands on him.

45 Then came the officers to the chief priests and Pharisees; and they said unto them, Why have ye not brought him?

46 The officers answered, ^aNever man spake like this man.

47 Then answered them the Pharisees, Are ye also deceived?

48 Have any of the rulers or of the Pharisees believed on him?

52 They answered and said unto him, Art thou also of Galilee? Search, and look: for out of Galilee ariseth no prophet.

53 ^cAnd every man went unto his own house.

CHAPTER 8.

The woman taken in adultery.

JESUS went unto the mount of Olives.

2 And early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him; and he sat down, and taught them.

3 And the scribes and Pharisees

¹ John 7. 53-8. 1-11 is not found in some of the most ancient manuscripts. Augustine declares that it was stricken from many copies of the sacred story because of a prudish fear that it might teach immorality! But the immediate context (vs. 12-46), beginning with Christ's declaration, "I am the light of the world," seems clearly to have its occasion in the conviction wrought in the hearts of the Pharisees as recorded in verse 9; as, also, it explains the peculiar virulence of the Pharisees' words (v. 41).

brought unto him a woman taken in adultery; and when they had set her in the midst,

4 They say unto him, Master, this woman was taken in adultery, in the very act.

5 Now ^aMoses in the law commanded us, that such should be stoned; but what sayest thou?

6 This they said, tempting him, that they ^bmight have to accuse him. But Jesus stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground, as though he heard them not.

7 So when they continued asking him, he lifted up himself, and said unto them, He that is without ^csin among you, ^dlet him first cast a stone at her.

8 And again he stooped down, and wrote on the ground.

9 And they which heard it, being convicted by their own conscience, went out one by one, beginning at the eldest, even unto the last: and Jesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst.

10 When Jesus had lifted up himself, and saw none but the woman, he said unto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath no man ^econdemned thee?

11 She said, No man, Lord. And Jesus said unto her, Neither do I condemn thee: go, and ^fsin no more.

Discourse after the feast: Jesus the light of the world. (Cf. John 1. 9.)

12 Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, ^gI am the light of the ^hworld: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of ⁱlife.

13 The Pharisees therefore said unto him, Thou bearest record of thyself; thy record is not true.

14 Jesus answered and said unto them, ^jThough I bear record of myself, ^kyet my record is true: for I know whence I came, and whither I go; but ye cannot tell whence I come, and whither I go.

15 Ye judge after the ^lflesh; I judge no man.

16 And yet if I judge, my judgment is true: for I am not alone, but I and the Father that sent me.

17 It is also ^mwritten in your law, that the testimony of two men is true.

18 I am one that bear witness of myself, and the Father that sent me beareth witness of me.

19 Then said they unto him, Where is thy Father? Jesus answered, ^vYe neither know me, nor my Father: ^wif ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also.

20 These words spake Jesus in the treasury, as he taught in the temple: and no man laid hands on him; for his hour was not yet come.

21 Then said Jesus again unto them, I go my way, and ye shall seek me, and shall die in your ^xsins: whither I go, ye cannot come. 22 Then said the Jews, Will he kill himself? because he saith, Whither I go, ye cannot come.

23 And he said unto them, Ye are from beneath; I am from above: ye are of this world; I am not of this ^yworld.

24 I said therefore unto you, that ye shall ^zdie in your ^{aa}sins: for if ye ^{ab}believe not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins.

25 Then said they unto him, Who art thou? And Jesus saith unto them, Even the same that I said unto you from the beginning.

26 I have many things to say and to judge of you: but he that sent me is true; and I speak to the ^{ac}world those things which I have heard of him.

27 They understood not that he spake to them of the Father.

28 Then said Jesus unto them, *When ye have lifted up the ^{ad}Son of man, then shall ye know that I am he, and that ^{ae}I do nothing of myself; but as my Father hath taught me, I speak these things*.

29 And he that sent me is with me: the Father hath not left me alone; for I do always those things that please him.

30 As he spake these words, many believed on him.

31 Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed;

32 And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.

33 They answered him, We be Abraham's seed, and were never in bondage to any man: how sayest thou, Ye shall be made free?

34 Jesus answered them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whosoever committeth ^{af}sin is the servant of sin.

35 And the servant abideth not in the house for ever: but the Son ^{ag}abideth ever.

36 If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed.

37 I know that ye are 'Abraham's seed; but ye seek to kill me, because my word hath no place in you.

38 'I speak that which I have seen with my Father: and ye do that which ye have seen with your father.

39 They answered and said unto him, Abraham is our father. Jesus saith unto them, If ye were Abraham's children, ye would do the works of Abraham.

40 But now ye seek to kill me, a man that hath told you the truth, ^bwhich I have heard of God: this did not Abraham.

41 Ye do the deeds of your father. Then said they to him, We be not born of fornication; we have one Father, even God.

42 Jesus said unto them, If God were your Father, ye would love me: for I proceeded forth and came from God; neither came I of myself, but ^che sent me.

43 ^dWhy do ye not understand my speech? ^eeven because ye cannot hear my word.

44 Ye are of ^fyour father ^g'the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do. ^hHe was a murderer from the beginning, and ⁱabode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a ^jliar, and the father of it.

45 And because ^kI tell you the truth, ye believe me not.

46 Which of you convinceth me of ^l'sin? And if I say the truth, why do ye not believe me?

47 He that is of God ^mheareth God's words: ye therefore hear ⁿthem not, because ye are not of God.

48 Then answered the Jews, and said unto him, Say we not well that thou art a ^o'Samaritan, and ^phast a ^q'devil?

49 Jesus answered, I have not a ^r'devil; ^sbut I honour my Father, and ye do dishonour me.

CHAPTER 9.

The man born blind is healed.

AND as Jesus passed by, he saw a man which was blind from his birth.

2 And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, ^a'who did ^b'sin, this man, or his parents, that he was born blind?

3 Jesus answered, Neither hath this man ^c'sinned, nor his parents: but ^d'that the works of God should be made manifest in him.

4 ^e'I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is ^f'day: the night cometh, when no man can work.

¹ Cf. v. 39. The contrast, "I know that ye are Abraham's seed"—"If ye were Abraham's children," is that between the natural and the spiritual posterity of Abraham. The Israelitish people and Ishmaelites are the former; all who are "of like precious faith with Abraham," whether Jews or Gentiles, are the latter (Rom. 9. 6-8; Gal. 3. 6-14. See "Abrahamic Covenant," Gen. 15. 18, note).

eyes of the blind man with the clay,

7 And said unto him, Go, wash in the pool of Siloam, (which is by interpretation, Sent.) ^bHe went his way therefore, and washed, and came seeing.

8 The neighbours therefore, and they which before had seen him that he was blind, said, Is not this he that sat and begged?

9 Some said, This is he: others said, He is like him: but he said, I am he.

10 Therefore said they unto him, ^cHow were thine eyes opened?

11 He answered and said, A man that is called Jesus made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, Go to the pool of Siloam, and wash: and I went and washed, and I received sight.

12 Then said they unto him, Where is he? He said, I know not.

13 They brought to the Pharisees him that aforetime was blind.

14 And it was the sabbath day when Jesus made the clay, and opened his eyes.

15 Then again the Pharisees also asked him how he had received his sight. He said unto them, He put clay upon mine eyes, and I washed, and do see.

16 Therefore said some of the Pharisees, This man is not of God, because he keepeth not the sabbath day. Others said, ^dHow can a man that is a sinner do such miracles? And there was a division among them.

17 They say unto the blind man again, What sayest thou of him, that he hath opened thine eyes? He said, He is a prophet.

18 But the Jews did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind, and received his sight, until they called the parents of him that had received his sight.

19 And they asked them, saying, Is this your son, who ye say was born blind? how then doth he now see?

20 His parents answered them and said, We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind:

21 But by what means he now seeth, we know not; or who hath opened his eyes, we know not: he is of age; ask him: he shall speak for himself.

if any man did confess that he was Christ, ^ahe should be put out of the synagogue.

23 Therefore said his parents, He is of age; ask him.

24 Then again called they the man that was blind, and said unto him, Give God the praise: we know that this man is a sinner.

25 He answered and said, Whether he be a sinner or no, I know not: one thing I know, that, whereas I was blind, now I see.

26 Then said they to him again, What did he to thee? how opened he thine eyes?

27 He answered them, I have told you already, and ye did not hear: wherefore would ye hear it again? will ye also be his disciples?

28 Then they reviled him, and said, Thou art his disciple; but we are Moses' disciples.

29 We know that God spake unto Moses: as for this fellow, we know not from whence he is.

30 The man answered and said unto them, Why herein is a marvellous thing, that ye know not from whence he is, and yet he hath opened mine eyes.

31 Now we know that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth his will, him he heareth.

32 Since the world began was it not heard that any man opened the eyes of one that was born blind.

33 If this man were not of God, he could do nothing.

34 They answered and said unto him, Thou wast altogether born in sins, and dost thou teach us? And they cast him out.

35 Jesus heard that they had cast him out; and when he had found him, he said unto him, Dost thou believe on the Son of God?

36 He answered and said, Who is he, Lord, that I might believe on him?

37 And Jesus said unto him, Thou hast both seen him, and it is he that talketh with thee.

38 And he said, Lord, I believe. And he worshipped him.

39 And Jesus said, For judgment I am come into this world, that they which see not might see; and that they which see might be made blind.

40 And some of the Pharisees which were with him heard these words, and said unto him, Are we blind also?

41 Jesus said unto them, "If ye were blind, ye should have no sin: but now ye say, We see; therefore your sin remaineth.

Discourse on the Good Shepherd. (Cf. Psa. 23.; Heb. 13. 20; 1 Pet. 5. 4.)

VERILY, verily, I say unto you, He that entereth not by the door into the sheepfold, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber.

2 But he that entereth in by the door is the shepherd of the sheep.

3 To him ^{the} porter openeth; and the sheep ^{hear} his voice: and he calleth his own sheep by ^{name}, and ^{leadeth} them out.

4 And when he putteth forth his own sheep, he goeth ^{before} them, and the sheep follow him: for they know his voice.

5 And a ^{stranger} will they not follow, but will flee from him: for they know not the voice of strangers.

6 This parable spake Jesus unto them: but they ^{understood} not what things they were which he spake unto them.

7 Then said Jesus unto them again, Verily, verily, I say unto you, I am the door of the sheep.

8 All that ever came before me are thieves and robbers: but the sheep did not hear them.

9 I am the door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be ^{saved}, and shall go in and out, and find pasture.

10 The thief cometh not, but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might have ^{life}, and that they might have it more ^{abundantly}.

11 I am the ^{good} shepherd: the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep.

12 But he that is an hireling, and not the shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, seeth the wolf coming, and leaveth the sheep, and fleeth: and the wolf catcheth them, and scattereth the sheep.

This answers to Psa. 22. (2) He is the "Great" Shepherd, "brought again from the dead" (Heb. 13. 20), to care for and make perfect the sheep. This answers to Psa. 23. 4 When Jesus heard that, he said, This sickness is ^anot unto death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of God might be glorified thereby.

5 Now Jesus loved Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus.

6 When he had heard therefore that he was sick, he ^babode two days still in the same place where he was.

7 Then after that saith he to his disciples, Let us go into Judæa again.

8 His disciples say unto him, Master, the Jews of late sought to ^cstone thee; and goest thou thither again?

9 Jesus answered, Are there not twelve hours in the day? If any man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, ^dbecause he seeth the light of this world.

10 But ^eif a man walk in the night, he stumbleth, because there is no light in him.

11 These things said he; and after that he saith unto them, Our friend Lazarus ^fsleepeth; but I go, that I may ^gawake him out of sleep.

12 Then said his disciples, Lord, if he sleep, he shall do well.

13 Howbeit Jesus spake of his death: but they thought that he had spoken of taking of rest in sleep.

14 Then said Jesus unto them plainly, Lazarus is ^hdead.

15 And I am ⁱglad for your sakes that I was not there, to the intent ye may believe; nevertheless let us go unto him.

16 Then said ^jThomas, which is called Didymus, unto his fellowdisciples, Let us also go, that we may die with him.

17 Then when Jesus came, he found that he had ^klain in the grave four days already.

18 Now Bethany was nigh unto Jerusalem, about fifteen ^lfurlongs off:

19 And many of the Jews came to Martha and Mary, to ^mcomfort them concerning their brother.

20 Then Martha, as soon as she heard that Jesus was coming, went and met him; but Mary sat ⁿstill in the house.

21 Then said Martha unto Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.

22 But I know, that even now, whatsoever thou ^owilt ask of God, God will give it thee.

23 Jesus saith unto her, Thy brother shall rise again.

24 Martha saith unto him, I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day.

25 Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live:

26 And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believest thou this?

27 She saith unto him, Yea, Lord: I believe that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, which should come into the world.

28 And when she had so said, she went her way, and called Mary her sister secretly, saying, The Master is come, and calleth for thee.

29 As soon as she heard that, she arose quickly, and came unto him.

30 Now Jesus was not yet come into the town, but was in that place where Martha met him.

31 The Jews then which were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they saw Mary, that she rose up hastily and went out, followed her, saying, She goeth unto the grave to weep there.

32 Then when Mary was come where Jesus was, and saw him, she fell down at his feet, saying unto him, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.

33 When Jesus therefore saw her weeping, and the Jews also weeping which came with her, he groaned in the spirit, and was troubled,

34 And said, Where have ye laid him? They said unto him, Lord, come and see.

35 Jesus wept.

36 Then said the Jews, Behold how he loved him!

37 And some of them said, Could not this man, which opened the eyes of the blind, have caused that even this man should not have died?

Jesus at the grave of Lazarus.

38 Jesus therefore again groaning in himself cometh to the grave. It was a cave, and a stone lay upon it.

39 Jesus said, Take ye away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him, Lord, by this time the stinketh: for he hath been dead four days.

40 Jesus saith unto her, Said I not unto thee, that if thou wouldest believe, thou shouldst see the glory of God?

41 Then they took away the stone from the place where the dead was laid. And Jesus lifted up his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee that thou hast heard me.

42 And I knew that thou hearest me always; but because of the people which stand by I said it, that they may believe that thou hast sent me.

43 And when he thus had spoken, he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth.

44 And he that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot with graveclothes: and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith unto them, Loose him, and let him go.

The friends of Mary of Bethany are converted. (Cf. Lk. 10. 38-42; John 12. 1-7.)

45 Then many of the Jews which came to Mary, and had seen the things which Jesus did, believed on him.

46 But some of them went their ways to the Pharisees, and told them what things Jesus had done.

The Pharisees plot to put Jesus to death.

47 Then gathered the chief priests and the Pharisees a council, and said, What do we? for this man doeth many miracles.

48 If we let him thus alone, all men will believe on him: and the Romans shall come and take away both our place and nation.

49 And one of them, named Caiaphas, being the high priest that same year, said unto them, Ye know nothing at all.

50 Nor consider that it is expedient for us, that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not.

51 And this spake he not of himself: but being high priest that year, he prophesied that Jesus should die for that nation;

52 And not for that nation only, but that also he should gather together in one the children of God that were scattered abroad.

53 Then from that day forth they took counsel together for to put him to death.

54 Jesus therefore walked no more openly among the Jews; but went thence unto a country near to the wilderness, into a city called Ephraim, and there continued with his disciples.

55 And the Jews' ^apassover was nigh at hand: and many went out of the country up to Jerusalem before the passover, to ^bpurify themselves.

56 Then ^csought they for Jesus, and spake among themselves, as they stood in the temple. What think ye, that he will not come to the feast?

57 Now both the chief priests and the Pharisees had given a commandment, that, if any man knew where he were, he should shew it, that ^dthey might take him.

THEN Jesus six days before the passover came to ^eBethany, where Lazarus was which had been dead, whom he raised from the dead.

2 There they made him a supper; and ^fMartha served: but Lazarus was one of them that ^gsat at the table with him.

3 ^hThen took ⁱMary a pound of ointment of ^jspikenard, very costly, and anointed the ^kfeet of Jesus, and wiped his feet with her hair: and the house was filled with the odour of the ointment.

4 Then saith one of his disciples, ^lJudas Iscariot, Simon's son, which should betray him,

5 Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred pence, and given to the poor?

6 This he said, not that he cared for the poor; but because he was a ^mthief, and had the bag, and bare what was put therein.

7 Then said Jesus, ⁿLet her alone: against the day of my burying hath she kept this.

8 For the poor always ye have with you; but ^ome ye have not always.

9 ^pMuch people of the Jews therefore knew that he was there: and they came not for Jesus' sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom he had raised from the dead.

Jesus' answer.

23 And Jesus ^{au}answered them, saying, ^{av}The hour is come, that the ^{aw}Son of man should be glorified.

24 Verily, verily, I say unto you,

^{ax}He does not receive these Gentiles. A Christ in the flesh, King of the Jews, could be no proper object of faith to the Gentiles, though the Jews should have believed on Him as such. For Gentiles the corn of wheat must fall into the ground and die; Christ must be lifted up on the cross and believed in as a sacrifice for sin, as Seed of Abraham, not David (vs. 24, 32; Gal. 3. 7-14; Eph. 2. 11-13).

¹Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone: but if it ²die, it bringeth forth ³much fruit.

25 ⁴He that loveth his life shall lose it; and he that hateth his life in this ⁵world shall keep it unto life eternal.

26 If any man serve me, let him ⁷follow me; and ⁸where I am, there shall also my servant be: if any man serve me, him will my Father ⁹honour.

27 Now is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? ¹⁰Father, save me from this hour: ¹¹but for this cause came I unto this hour.

28 Father, ¹²glorify thy name. ¹³Then came there a voice from heaven, saying, I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again.

29 The people therefore, that stood by, and heard it, said that it thundered: others said, An ¹⁴angel spake to him.

30 Jesus answered and said, ¹⁵"This voice came not because of me, but for your sakes.

31 Now is the ¹⁶judgment of this ¹⁷world: now shall the ¹⁸"prince of this world be cast out.

32 And I, if I be ¹⁹"lifted up from the earth, will draw all ²⁰men unto me.

33 This he said, signifying what death he should die.

34 The people answered him, We have heard out of the law that ²¹Christ abideth for ever: and how sayest thou, The Son of man must be lifted up? who is this Son of man?

35 Then Jesus said unto them, ²²Yet a little while is the light with you. Walk while ye have the light, lest darkness come upon you: for ²³he that walketh in darkness knoweth not whither he goeth.

36 While ye have light, believe in the light, that ye may be ²⁴the children of light. These things spake Jesus, and departed, and ²⁵did hide himself from them.

37 But ²⁶though he had done so many miracles before them, yet they believed not on him:

38 That the saying of Esaias the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spake, ²⁷"Lord, ²⁸who hath believed our report? and to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed?

39 Therefore they could not believe, because that ²⁹Esaias said again,

40 He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart; that they should not see with ³⁰their eyes, nor understand with ³¹their heart, and ³²be converted, and I should heal them.

41 ³³These things said Esaias, when he saw his glory, and spake of him.

42 Nevertheless among the chief rulers also many believed on him; but because of the Pharisees they did not confess ³⁴him, lest they should be put out of the synagogue:

43 For they loved the praise of men more than the praise of God.

44 Jesus cried and said, ³⁵He that believeth on me, believeth not on me, but on ³⁶him that sent me.

45 And ³⁷he that seeth me seeth him that sent me.

46 ³⁸I am come a light into the ³⁹world, that whosoever believeth on me should not abide in darkness.

47 And if any man hear my words, and believe not, ⁴⁰I judge him not: for ⁴¹I came not to judge the ⁴²world, but to save the world.

48 He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him: ⁴³the word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day.

¹ Chapters 12.-17. are a progression according to the order of approach to God in the tabernacle types: Chapter 12., in which Christ speaks of His death, answers to the brazen altar of burnt-offering, type of the cross. Passing from the altar toward the holy of holies, the laver is next reached (Ex. 30. 17-21), answering to Chapter 13. With His associate priests, now purified, the High Priest approaches and enters the holy place, in the high communion of Chapters 14.-16. Entering alone the holy of holies (17. 1), the High Priest intercedes. (Cf. Heb. 7. 24-28.) That intercession is not for the salvation, but the keeping and blessing of those for whom He prays. His death (assumed as accomplished, 17. 4) has saved them.

² The Seven Judgments. (1) Of Jesus Christ as bearing the believer's sins. The sins of believers have been judged in the person of Jesus Christ "lifted up" on the cross. The result was death for Christ, and justification for the believer, who can never again be put in jeopardy (John 5. 24; Rom. 5. 9; 8. 1; 2 Cor. 5. 21; Gal. 3. 13; Heb. 9. 26-28; 10. 10, 14-17; 1 Pet. 2. 24; 3. 18). See other judgments, 1 Cor. 11. 31, note; 2 Cor. 5. 10, note; Mt. 25. 32, note; Ezk. 20. 37, note; Jude 6, note; Rev. 20. 12, note.

49 For ^aI have not spoken of myself; but the Father which sent me, he gave me a commandment, what I should say, and what I should speak.

50 And I know that his commandment is ^blife everlasting: whatsoever I speak therefore, even as the Father said unto me, so I speak.

¹ For order of events during the night of the last passover, see Mt. 26. 20, note.

² The underlying imagery is of an oriental returning from the public baths to his house. His feet would contract defilement and require cleansing, but not his body. So the believer is cleansed as before the law from all sin "once for all" (Heb. 10. 1-12), but needs ever to bring his daily sins to the Father in confession, that he may abide in unbroken fellowship with the Father and with the Son (1 John 1. 1-10). The blood of Christ answers forever to all the law could say as to the believer's guilt, but he needs constant cleansing from the defilement of sin. See Eph. 5. 25-27; 1 John 5. 6. Typically, the order of approach to the presence of God was, first, the brazen altar of sacrifice, and then the laver of cleansing (Ex. 40. 6, 7). See, also, the order in Ex. 30. 17-21. Christ cannot have communion with a defiled saint, but He can and will cleanse him.

Jesus' bosom ^aone of his disciples, whom Jesus loved.

24 Simon Peter therefore beckoned to him, that he should ask who it should be of whom he spake.

25 He then lying on Jesus' breast saith unto him, Lord, who is it?

26 Jesus answered, He it is, to whom I shall give a sop, when I have dipped it. And when he had dipped the sop, he gave it to Judas Iscariot, the son of Simon.

27 And after the sop ^bSatan entered into him. Then said Jesus unto him, That thou doest, do quickly.

28 Now no man at the table knew for what intent he spake this unto him.

29 For some of them thought, because Judas had the bag, that Jesus had said unto him, Buy those things that we have need of against the feast; or, that he should give something to the poor.

30 He then having received the sop went immediately out: and it was night.

31 Therefore, when he was gone out, Jesus said, Now is the Son of man glorified, and God is glorified in him.

32 If God be glorified in him, God shall also glorify him in himself, and shall straightway glorify him.

33 Little children, yet a little while I am with you. Ye shall seek me: and ^aas I said unto the Jews, Whither I go, ye cannot come; so now I say to you.

34 A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another.

35 By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another.

Jesus foretells Peter's denial
(Mt. 26. 33-35; Mk. 14. 29-31; Lk. 22. 33, 34).

36 Simon Peter said unto him, Lord, whither goest thou? Jesus answered him, Whither I go, thou canst not follow me now; ^bbut thou shalt follow me afterwards.

37 Peter said unto him, Lord, why cannot I follow thee now? I will lay down my life for thy sake.

38 Jesus answered him, Wilt

CHAPTER 14.

Spoken in the passover chamber: Jesus foretells his coming for his own. (Cf. 1 Thes. 4. 14-17.)

LET not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me.

2 In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you.

3 And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also.

4 And whither I go ye know, and the way ye know.

5 Thomas saith unto him, Lord, we know not whither thou goest; and how can we know the way?

6 Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.

Jesus and the Father are one.

7 If ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also; and from henceforth ye know him, and have seen him.

8 Philip saith unto him, Lord, shew us the Father, and it sufficeth us.

9 Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me, Philip? he that hath seen me hath seen the Father; and how sayest thou then, Shew us the Father?

10 Believest thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? the words that I speak unto you I speak not of myself: but the Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works.

11 Believe me that I am in the Father, and the Father in me: or else believe me for the very works' sake.

12 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father.

¹ This promise of a second advent of Christ is to be distinguished from His return in glory to the earth; it is the first intimation in Scripture of "the day of Christ" (1 Cor. 1. 8, note). Here He comes for His saints (1 Thes. 4. 14-17), there (e.g. Mt. 24. 29, 30) He comes to judge the nations, etc.

The new promise and privilege in prayer.

13 And whatsoever ye shall ask in ^amy name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son.

14 If ye shall ask any thing in my name, I will do it.

15 If ye love me, keep my commandments.

The promise of the Spirit.

16 And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another ^{1c}Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever;

17 Even the ¹Spirit of truth; whom the ^aworld cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him; but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you.

18 I will not leave you ¹comfortless: I will come to you.

19 Yet a little while, and the ^aworld seeth me no more; but ye see me: ^abecause I live, ye shall live also.

20 At that day ye shall know that ¹I am in my Father, and ye in me, and I in you.

21 He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me; and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will ¹manifest myself to him.

22 Judas saith unto him, not Iscariot, Lord, how is it that thou wilt manifest thyself unto us, and not unto the ^aworld?

23 Jesus answered and said unto him, ^aIf a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him.

24 He that loveth me not keepeth not my sayings: and the ^aword which ye hear is not mine, but the Father's which sent me.

25 These things have I spoken unto you, being yet present with you.

CHAPTER 15.

Spoken on the way to the garden: the vine and branches.

I AM the ^atrue vine, and my Father is the husbandman.

2 Every branch in me that beareth not fruit he taketh away: and every branch that beareth fruit, he ²purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit.

3 Now ye are ^bclean through the word which I have spoken unto you.

4 ^{3c}Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in me.

5 I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth

¹ Gr. Parakletos, "one called alongside to help." Translated "advocate," 1 John 2. 1. Christ is the believer's Paraclete with the Father when he sins; the Holy Spirit the believer's indwelling Paraclete to help his ignorance and infirmity, and to make intercession (Rom. 8. 26, 27). (See "Holy Spirit," N.T. doctrine, Mt. 1. 18; Acts 2. 4.)

² Three conditions of the fruitful life: Cleansing, vs. 2, 3; John 13. 10, note; abiding, v. 4, note; obedience, vs. 10, 12. (See "Law of Christ," Gal. 6. 2; 2 John 5, note.)

6 If a man abide not in me, he is cast forth ^aas a branch, and is withered; and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they are burned.

7 If ye abide in me, and ^dmy words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you.

8 Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear ^lmuch fruit; so shall ye be my disciples.

9 As the Father hath ^lloved me, so have I loved you: continue ye in my love.

10 If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love; even as I have kept my Father's commandments, and abide in his love.

11 These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full.

12 ^aThis is my commandment, That ye love one another, as I have loved you.

13 Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends.

14 Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you.

The new intimacy.

15 ²Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth; but I have called you friends; for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you.

16 Ye have not chosen me, but I have ^hchosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain: that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in ^{my} name, he may give it you.

CHAPTER 16.

The disciples warned of persecutions. (Cf. Mt. 24. 9, 10; Lk. 21. 16-19.)

THESE things have I spoken unto you, that ye should not be offended.

2 They shall put you out of the synagogues: yea, the time cometh,

On the other hand, the abiding one takes all burdens to Him, and draws all wisdom, life and strength from Him. It is not unceasing consciousness of these things, and of Him, but that nothing is allowed in the life which separates from Him. See "Fellowship," 1 John 1. 3; "Communion," 1 Cor. 10. 16.

¹ Three degrees in fruit-bearing: "Fruit," v. 2; "more fruit," v. 2; "much fruit," vs. 5, 8. As we bear "much fruit" the Father is glorified in us. The minor moralities and graces of Christianity are often imitated, but never the ninefold "fruit" of Gal. 5. 22, 23. Where such fruit is the Father is glorified. The Pharisees were moral and intensely "religious," but not one of them could say with Christ, "I have glorified thee on the earth" (John 17. 4).

² Progressive intimacy in John: Servants, John 13. 13; Friends, John 15. 15; Brethren, John 20. 17.

3 And these things will they do unto you, because they have not known the Father, nor me.

4 But these things have I told you, that when the time shall come, ye may remember that I told you of them. And these things I said not unto you at the beginning, because I was with you.

5 But now I go my way to him that sent me; and none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou?

6 But because I have said these things unto you, sorrow hath filled your heart.

Threefold work of the Spirit toward the world.

7 Nevertheless I tell you the truth; It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you; but if I depart, I will send him unto you.

8 And when he is come, he will reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment:

9 Of sin, because they believe not on me;

10 Of righteousness, because I go to my Father, and ye see me no more;

11 Of judgment, because the prince of this world is judged.

New truth to be revealed by the Spirit.

12 I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now.

13 Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will shew you things to come.

Jesus speaks of his death, resurrection, and second advent.

16 A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me, because I go to the Father.

17 Then said some of his disciples among themselves, What is this that he saith unto us, A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me: and, Because I go to the Father?

18 They said therefore, What is this that he saith, A little while? we cannot tell what he saith.

19 Now Jesus knew that they were desirous to ask him, and said unto them, Do ye enquire among yourselves of that I said, A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me?

20 Verily, verily, I say unto you, That ye shall weep and lament, but the world shall rejoice: and ye shall be sorrowful, but your sorrow shall be turned into joy.

21 A woman when she is in travail hath sorrow, because her hour is come: but as soon as she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for joy that a man is born into the world.

22 And ye now therefore have sorrow: but I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no man taketh from you.

23 And in that day ye shall ask me nothing. Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my name, he will give it you.

24 Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name: ask, and ye shall receive, that your joy may be full.

25 These things have I spoken unto you in proverbs: but the time cometh, when I shall no more speak unto you in proverbs, but I shall shew you plainly of the Father.

26 At that day ye shall ask in my name: and I say not unto you, that I will pray the Father for you:

27 For the Father himself loveth

¹ Christ's pre-authentication of the New Testament: (1) He expressly declared that He would leave "many things" unrevealed (v. 12). (2) He promised that this revelation should be completed ("all things") after the Spirit should come, and that such additional revelation should include new prophecies (v. 13). (3) He chose certain persons to receive such additional revelations, and to be His witnesses to them (Mt. 28. 19; John 15. 27; 16. 13; Acts 1. 8; 9. 15-17). (4) He gave to their words when speaking for Him in the Spirit precisely the same authority as His own (Mt. 10. 14, 15; Lk. 10. 16; John 13. 20; 17. 20; see e.g., 1 Cor. 14. 37, and "Inspiration," Ex. 4. 15; Rev. 22. 19).

you, because ye have loved me, and have believed that I came out from God.

28 I came forth from the Father, and am come into the ^aworld: again, I leave the world, and go to the Father.

29 His disciples said unto him, Lo, now speakest thou plainly, and speakest no proverb.

30 Now are we sure that thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should ask thee: by this we believe that thou camest forth from God.

31 Jesus answered them, Do ye now believe?

32 ^bBehold, the hour cometh, yea, is now come, that ye shall be scattered, every man to his own, and shall leave me alone: and yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me.

13 And now come I to thee; and these things I speak in the ^aworld, that they might have my joy fulfilled in themselves.

14 I have given them ^mthy word; and the ⁿworld hath hated them, because they are not of the world, even as I am not of the world.

15 I pray not that thou shouldst take them out of the ^aworld, but that thou shouldst keep them from the evil.

16 They are ^onot of the ⁿworld, even as I am not of the world.

17 Sanctify them through thy truth: thy word is truth.

¹ Seven petitions: (1) That Jesus may be glorified as the Son who has glorified the Father (v. 1; Phil. 2. 9-11); (2) for restoration to the eternal glory (v. 5); (3) for the safety of believers from (a) the world (v. 11), (b) the evil one (v. 15); (4) for the sanctification of believers (v. 17); (5) for the spiritual unity of believers (v. 21); (6) that the world may believe (v. 21); (7) that believers may be with Him in heaven to behold and share His glory (v. 24).

² Christ's gifts to those whom the Father gave Him: Eternal life (v. 2); the Father's name (vs. 6, 26; John 20. 17); the Father's words (vs. 8, 14); His own joy (v. 13); His own glory (v. 22).

³ Seven times Jesus speaks of believers as given to Him by the Father (vs. 2, 6 [twice], 9, 11, 12, 24). Jesus Christ is God's love-gift to the world (John 3. 16), and believers are the Father's love-gift to Jesus Christ. It is Christ who commits the believer to the Father for safe-keeping, so that the believer's security rests upon the Father's faithfulness to His Son Jesus Christ.

18 As thou hast sent me into the ^aworld, even so have I also sent them into the world.

19 And for their sakes I ^bsanctify myself, that they also might be sanctified through the truth.

20 Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word;

21 That they all may be one; ^cas thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the ^aworld may believe that thou hast sent me.

22 And the ^dglory which thou gavest me I have given them; that they may be one, even as we are one:

23 I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made ^eperfect in one; and that the ^aworld may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them, as thou hast loved me.

24 Father, I will that they also, whom thou hast given me, ^fbe with me where I am; that they may behold my glory, which thou hast given me: for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the ^gworld.

25 O righteous Father, the ^aworld hath not known thee: but I have known thee, and these have known that thou hast sent me.

26 And I have declared unto them thy ^hname, and will declare it: that the love wherewith thou hast loved me may be in them, and I in them.

CHAPTER 18.

Jesus arrives at Gethsemane.
(Cf. Mt. 26. 36-46; Mk. 14. 32-42; Lk. 22. 39-46.)

WHEN Jesus had spoken these words, he went forth with his disciples over the brook Cedron, where was a garden, into the which he entered, and his disciples.

The betrayal and arrest (Mt. 26. 47-56; Mk. 14. 43-50; Lk. 22. 47-53).

2 And ⁱJudas also, which betrayed him, knew the place: for Jesus oft-times resorted thither with his disciples.

3 Judas then, having received a band of ^jmen and officers from the chief priests and Pharisees, cometh thither with lanterns and torches and weapons.

4 Jesus therefore, ^kknowing all things that should come upon him, went forth, and said unto them, Whom seek ye?

5 They answered him, Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus saith unto them, I am ^{he}. And Judas also, which ^bbetrayed him, stood with them.

6 As soon then as he had said unto them, I am ^{he}, they went backward, and fell to the ground.

7 Then asked he them again, Whom seek ye? And they said, Jesus of Nazareth.

8 Jesus answered, I have told you that I am ^{he}: if therefore ye ^{seek} me, let these go their way:

9 That the saying might be fulfilled, which he ^{spoke}. Of them which thou gavest me have I lost none.

10 Then Simon Peter having a sword drew it, and smote the high priest's servant, and cut off his right ear. The servant's name was Malchus.

11 Then said Jesus unto Peter, Put up thy sword into the sheath: the cup which my Father hath given me, shall I not drink it?

Jesus brought before the high priest (Mt. 26. 57-68; Mk. 14. 53-65; Lk. 22. 66-71).

12 Then the band and the captain and officers of the Jews took Jesus, and bound him.

13 And led him away to ^{Annas} first; for he was father in law to Caiaphas, which was the high priest that same year.

14 Now Caiaphas was he, which gave ^{counsel} to the Jews, that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

Peter's denial (also vs. 25-27) (Mt. 26. 69-75; Mk. 14. 66-72; Lk. 22. 54-62).

15 And ^{Simon} Peter followed Jesus, and so ^{did} another disciple: that disciple was known unto the high priest, and went in with Jesus into the palace of the high priest.

16 But Peter stood at the door without. Then went out that other disciple, which was known unto the high priest, and spake unto her that kept the door, and brought in Peter.

17 Then saith the damsel that kept the door unto Peter, Art not thou also one of this man's disciples? He saith, I am ^{not}.

18 And the servants and officers stood there, who had made a fire of coals; for it was cold: and they warmed themselves: and Peter stood with them, and warmed himself.

(Jesus before the high priest, continued.)

19 "The high priest then asked Jesus of his disciples, and of his doctrine.

20 Jesus answered him, I spake openly to the world; I ever taught in the synagogue, and in the temple, whither the Jews always resort; and in secret have I said nothing.

21 Why askest thou me? ask them which heard me, what I have said unto them: behold, they know what I said.

22 And when he had thus spoken, one of the officers which stood by struck Jesus with the palm of his hand, saying, Answerest thou the high priest so?

23 Jesus answered him, If I have spoken evil, bear witness of the evil: but if well, why smitest thou me?

24 Now Annas had sent him bound unto Caiaphas the high priest.

25 And Simon Peter stood and warmed himself. They said therefore unto him, Art not thou also one of his disciples? He denied it, and said, I am not.

26 One of the servants of the high priest, being his kinsman whose ear Peter cut off, saith, Did not I see thee in the garden with him?

27 Peter then denied again: and immediately the cock crew.

Jesus brought before Pilate (Mt. 27. 1-14; Mk. 15. 1-5; Lk. 23. 1-7, 13, 16).

28 "Then led they Jesus from Caiaphas unto the hall of judgment: and it was early; and they themselves went not into the judgment hall, lest they should be defiled; but that they might eat the passover.

29 Pilate then went out unto them, and said, What accusation bring ye against this man?

30 They answered and said unto him, If he were not a malefactor, we would not have delivered him up unto thee.

31 Then said Pilate unto them, Take ye him, and judge him according to your law. The Jews therefore said unto him, It is not lawful for us to put any man to death:

32 That the saying of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he spake, signifying what death he should die.

33 Then Pilate entered into the judgment hall again, and called Jesus, and said unto him, Art thou the King of the Jews?

36 "Jesus answered, My kingdom is not of this world: if my kingdom were of this world, then would my servants fight, that I should not be delivered to the Jews: but now is my kingdom not from hence.

37 Pilate therefore said unto him, Art thou a king then? Jesus answered,

Thou sayest that I am a king. To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth. Every one that is of the truth heareth my voice.

6 When the chief priests therefore and officers saw him, they cried out, saying, Crucify him, crucify him.

Pilate saith unto them, Take ye him, and crucify him: for I find no fault in him.

7 The Jews answered him, "We have a law, and by our law he ought to die, because he made himself the Son of God.

12 And from thenceforth Pilate sought to release him: but the Jews cried out, saying, If thou let this man go, thou art not Cæsar's friend: ^fwhosoever maketh himself a king speaketh against Cæsar.

ing was, JESUS OF NAZARETH THE KING OF THE JEWS.

20 This title then read many of the Jews: for the place where Jesus was crucified was nigh to the city: and it was written in Hebrew, and Greek, and Latin.

21 Then said the chief priests of the Jews to Pilate, Write not, The King of the Jews; but that he said, I am King of the Jews.

22 Pilate answered, What I have written I have written.

23 Then the soldiers, when they had crucified Jesus, ^atook his garments, and made four parts, to every soldier a part; and also his coat: now the coat was without seam, woven from the top throughout.

24 They said therefore among themselves, ^bLet us not rend it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be: that the scripture might be fulfilled, which saith, ^cThey parted my raiment among them, and for my vesture they did cast lots. These things therefore the soldiers did.

25 ^dNow there stood by the cross of Jesus his mother, and his mother's sister, Mary the wife of Cleophas, and Mary Magdalene.

26 When Jesus therefore saw his mother, and the ^edisciple standing by, whom he loved, he saith unto his mother, Woman, ^fbehold thy son!

27 Then saith he to the disciple, ^gBehold thy mother! And from that hour that disciple took her unto his own home.

28 After this, Jesus knowing that all things were now accomplished, ^hthat the scripture might be fulfilled, saith, ⁱI thirst.

29 Now there was set a vessel full of ^jvinegar: and they filled a sponge with vinegar, and put it upon hyssop, and put it to his mouth.

30 When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar, he said, ^kIt is finished: and he bowed his head, ^land ^mgave up the ghost.

"Not a bone of him broken."

31 The Jews therefore, because it was the ⁿpreparation, that the bodies should not remain upon the cross on the sabbath day, (for that sabbath day was an ^ohigh day,) besought Pilate that ^ptheir legs might be broken, and ^qthat they might be taken away.

32 Then came the soldiers, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other which was crucified with him.

33 But when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was ^{dead} already, they brake not his legs:

34 But one of the soldiers with a spear ^{pierced} his side, and forthwith came there out ^{blood} and water.

35 And he that saw it bare record, and his record is true: and he knoweth that he saith true, that ye might believe.

36 For these things were done, that the scripture should be fulfilled, ^{A bone of him shall not be broken.}

37 And again another scripture saith, ^{They shall look on him whom they pierced.}

The entombment (Mt. 27. 57-60; Mk. 15. 43-47; Lk. 23. 50-56).

38 And after this Joseph of Arimathæa, being a disciple of Jesus, but ^{secretly} for fear of the Jews, besought Pilate that he might take away the body of Jesus: and Pilate gave him leave. He came therefore, and took the body of Jesus.

39 And there came also ^{Nicodemus}, which at the first came to Jesus by night, and brought a mixture of ^{myrrh} and aloes, about an hundred ^{pound weight}.

40 Then took they the body of Jesus, and wound it in ^{linen} clothes with the spices, as the manner of the Jews is to bury.

41 Now in the place where he was crucified there was a garden; and in the garden a new sepulchre, wherein was ^{never} man yet laid.

42 There laid they Jesus therefore because of the ^{Jews'} preparation day; for the sepulchre was nigh at hand.

17 Jesus saith unto her, ^{Touch}

¹ Cf. Mt. 28. 9, "and they came and held him by the feet." A contradiction has been supposed. Three views are held: (1) That Jesus speaks to Mary as the High Priest fulfilling the day of atonement (Lev. 16). Having accomplished the sacrifice, He was on His way to present the sacred blood in heaven, and that, between the meeting with Mary in the garden and the meeting of Mt. 28. 9, He had Conclusion: why John's Gospel was written.

30 And many other signs truly did Jesus in the presence of his disciples, which are not written in this book:

31 But these are written, that ye might ^{bi}believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye might have ^{bj}life through his name.

CHAPTER 21.

Epilogue: "If I will." The risen Christ is Master of our service.

AFTER these things Jesus shewed himself again to the disciples at the ^{ca}sea of Tiberias; and on this wise shewed he ^{cb}himself.

2 There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas called Didymus, and ^{cc}Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and the ^{cd}sons of Zebedee, and two other of his disciples.

(1) Service in self-will, under human leadership.

3 Simon Peter saith unto them, ^{ce}I go a fishing. They say unto him, We also go with thee. They went forth, and entered into a ship immediately; and that night they caught ^{cf}nothing.

so ascended and returned: a view in harmony with types. (2) That Mary Magdalene, knowing as yet only Christ after the flesh (2 Cor. 5. 15-17), and having found her Beloved, sought only to hold Him so; while He, about to assume a new relation to His disciples in ascension, gently teaches Mary that now she must not seek to hold Him to the earth, but rather become His messenger of the new joy. (3) That He merely meant: "Do not detain me now; I am not yet ascended; you will see me again; run rather to my brethren," etc.

¹ The deity of Jesus Christ is declared in Scripture: (1) In the intimations and explicit predictions of the O.T. (a) The theophanies intimate the appearance of God in human form, and His ministry thus to man (Gen. 16. 7-13; 18. 2-23, especially v. 17; 32. 28 with Hos. 12. 3-5; Ex. 3. 2-14). (b) The Messiah is expressly declared to be the Son of God (Psa. 2. 2-9), and God (Psa. 45. 6, 7 with Heb. 1. 8, 9; Psa. 110. 1 with Mt. 22. 44; Acts 2. 34 and Heb. 1. 13; Psa. 110. 4 with Heb. 5. 6; 6. 20; 7. 17-21;

4 But when the morning was now come, Jesus stood on the shore: but the disciples "knew not that it was Jesus.

(2) Service in self-will tested: the barren result.

5 Then Jesus saith unto them, Children, have ye any meat? They answered him, No.

(3) Christ-directed service, and the result.

6 And he said unto them, Cast the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes.

7 Therefore that disciple whom Jesus loved saith unto Peter, It is the Lord. Now when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girt his fisher's coat unto him, (for he was naked,) and did cast himself into the sea.

8 And the other disciples came in a little ship; (for they were not far from land, but as it were two hundred cubits,) dragging the net with fishes.

9 As soon then as they were come and Zech. 6. 13). (c) His virgin birth was foretold as the means through which God could be "Immanuel," God with us (Isa. 7. 13, 14 with Mt. 1. 22, 23). (d) The Messiah is expressly invested with the divine names (Isa. 9. 6, 7). (e) In a prophecy of His death He is called Jehovah's "fellow" (Zech. 13. 7 with Mt. 26. 31). (f) His eternal being is declared (Mic. 5. 2 with Mt. 2. 6; John 7. 42).

(2) Christ Himself affirmed His deity. (a) He applied to Himself the Jehovahistic I AM. (The pronoun "he" is not in the Greek; cf. John 8. 24; John 8. 56-58. The Jews correctly understood this to be our Lord's claim to full deity [v. 59]. See, also, John 10. 33; 18. 4-6, where, also, "he" is not in the original.) (b) He claimed to be the Adonai of the O.T. (Mt. 22. 42-45. See Gen. 15. 2, note). (c) He asserted His identity with the Father (Mt. 28. 19; Mk. 14. 62; John 10. 30; that the Jews so understood Him is shown by vs. 31, 32; John 14. 8, 9; 17. 5). (d) He exercised the chief prerogative of God (Mk. 2. 5-7; Lk. 7. 48-50). (e) He asserted omnipresence (Mt. 18. 20; John 3. 13); omniscience (John 11. 11-14, when Jesus was fifty miles away; Mk. 11. 6-8); omnipotence (Mt. 28. 18; Lk. 7. 14; John 5. 21-23; 6. 19); mastery over nature, and creative power (Lk. 9. 16, 17; John 2. 9; 10. 28). (f) He received and approved human worship (Mt. 14. 33; 28. 9; John 20. 28, 29).

(3) The N.T. writers ascribe divine titles to Christ (John 1. 1; 20. 28; Acts 20. 28; Rom. 1. 4; 9. 5; 2 Thes. 1. 12; 1 Tim. 3. 16; Tit. 2. 13; Heb. 1. 8; 1 John 5. 20).

(4) The N.T. writers ascribe divine perfections and attributes to Christ (e.g. Mt. 11. 28; 18. 20; 28. 20; John 1. 2; 2. 23-25; 3. 13; 5. 17; 21. 17; Heb. 1. 3, 11, 12 with Heb. 13. 8; Rev. 1. 8, 17, 18; 2. 23; 11. 17; 22. 13).

(5) The N.T. writers ascribe divine works to Christ (John 1. 3, 10; Col. 1. 16, 17; Heb. 1. 3).

(6) The N.T. writers teach that supreme worship should be paid to Christ (Acts 7. 59, 60; 1 Cor. 1. 2; 2 Cor. 13. 14; Phil. 2. 9, 10; Heb. 1. 6; Rev. 1. 5, 6; 5. 12, 13).

THE ACTS OF THE APOSTLES.

WRITER. In the Acts of the Apostles Luke continues the account of Christianity begun in the Gospel which bears his name. In the "former treatise" he tells what Jesus "began both to do and teach"; in the Acts, what Jesus continued to do and teach through His Holy Spirit sent down.

Date. The Acts concludes with the account of Paul's earliest ministry in Rome, A.D. 65, and appears to have been written at or near that time.

Theme. This book records the ascension and promised return of the Lord Jesus, the descent of the Holy Spirit at Pentecost, Peter's use of the keys, opening the kingdom (considered as the sphere of profession, as in Mt. 13.) to the Jews at Pentecost, and to the Gentiles in the house of Cornelius; the beginning of the Christian church and the conversion and ministry of Paul.

The Holy Spirit fills the scene. As the presence of the Son, exalting and revealing the Father, is the great fact of the Gospels, so the presence of the Spirit, exalting and revealing the Son, is the great fact of the Acts.

Acts is in two chief parts: In the first section (1-9. 43) Peter is the prominent personage, Jerusalem is the centre, and the ministry is to Jews. Already in covenant relations with Jehovah, they had sinned in rejecting Jesus as the Christ. The preaching, therefore, was directed to that point, and repentance (i.e. "a changed mind") was demanded. The apparent failure of the Old Testament promises concerning the Davidic kingdom was explained by the promise that the kingdom would be set up at the return of Christ (Acts 2. 25-31; 15. 14-16). This ministry to Israel fulfilled Lk. 19. 12-14. In the persecutions of the apostles and finally in the martyrdom of Stephen, the Jews sent after the king the message, "We will not have this man to reign over us." In the second division (10. 1-28. 31) Paul is prominent, a new centre is established at Antioch, and the ministry is chiefly to Gentiles who, as "strangers from the covenants of promise" (Eph. 2. 12), had but to "believe on the Lord Jesus Christ" to be saved. Chapters 11., 12., and 15. of this section are transitional, establishing finally the distinction, doctrinally, between law and grace. Galatians should be read in this connection.

The events recorded in The Acts cover a period of 32 years.

The resurrection-ministry of Christ.

5 For John truly baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost not many days hence.

6 When they therefore were come together, they asked of him, saying, Lord, wilt thou at this time restore again the kingdom to Israel?

7 And he said unto them, It is not for you to know the times or the seasons, which the Father hath put in his own power.

1 Forty days the risen Lord had been instructing the apostles "of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God," doubtless, according to His custom (Lk. 24. 27, 32, 44, 45), teaching them out of the Scriptures. One point was left untouched, viz., the time when He would restore the kingdom to Israel; hence the apostles' question. The answer was according to His repeated teaching; the time was God's secret (Mt. 24. 36, 42, 44; 25. 13; cf. 1 Thes. 5. 1).

13 And when they were come in, they went up into an upper room, where abode both Peter, and James, and John, and Andrew, Philip, and Thomas, Bartholomew, and Matthew, James the son of Alphaeus, and Simon Zelotes, and Judas the brother of James.

14 These all continued with one accord in prayer and supplication, with the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with his brethren.

The choice of Matthias.

15 And in those days Peter stood up in the midst of the disciples, and said, (the number of names together were about an hundred and twenty,)

16 Men and brethren, this scripture must needs have been fulfilled, which the Holy Ghost by the mouth of David spake before concerning Judas, which was guide to them that took Jesus.

17 For he was numbered with us, and had obtained part of this ministry.

1 The two Advents—Summary: (1) The O.T. foreview of the coming Messiah is in two aspects—that of rejection and suffering (as, e.g. in Isa. 53), and that of earthly glory and power (as, e.g. in Isa. 11; Jer. 23; Ezk. 37). Often these two aspects blend in one passage (e.g. Ps. 2). The prophets themselves were perplexed by this seeming contradiction (1 Pet. 1. 10, 11). It was solved by partial fulfilment. In due time the Messiah, born of a virgin according to Isaiah, appeared among men and began His ministry by announcing the predicted kingdom as "at hand" (Mt. 4. 17, note). The rejection of King and kingdom followed. (2) Thereupon the rejected King announced His approaching crucifixion, resurrection, departure, and return (Mt. 12. 38-40; 16. 1-4, 21, 27; Lk. 12. 35-46; 17. 20-36; 18. 31-34; 19. 12-27; Mt. 24., 25.). (3) He uttered predictions concerning the course of events between His departure and return (Mt. 13. 1-50; 16. 18; 24. 4-26). (4) This promised return of Christ becomes a prominent theme in the Acts, Epistles, and Revelation.

Taken together, the N.T. teachings concerning the return of Jesus Christ may be summarized as follows: (1) That return is an event, not a process, and is personal and corporeal (Mt. 23. 39; 24. 30; 25. 31; Mk. 14. 62; Lk. 17. 24; John 14. 3; Acts 1. 11; Phil. 3. 20, 21; 1 Thes. 4. 14-17). (2) His coming has a threefold relation: to the church, to Israel, to the nations.

(a) To the church the descent of the Lord into the air to raise the sleeping and change the living saints is set forth as a constant expectation and hope (Mt. 24. 36, 44, 48-51; 25. 13; 1 Cor. 15. 51, 52; Phil. 3. 20; 1 Thes. 1. 10; 4. 14-17; 1 Tim. 6. 14; Tit. 2. 13; Rev. 22. 20).

(b) To Israel, the return of the Lord is predicted to accomplish the yet unfulfilled prophecies of her national regathering, conversion, and establishment in peace and power under the Davidic Covenant (Acts 15. 14-17 with Zech. 14. 1-9). See "Kingdom (O.T.)," 2 Sam. 7. 8-17; Zech. 13. 8, note; Lk. 1. 31-33; 1 Cor. 15. 24, note.

(c) To the Gentile nations the return of Christ is predicted to bring the destruction of the present political world-system (Dan. 2. 34, 35; Rev. 19. 11, note); the judgment of Mt. 25. 31-46, followed by world-wide Gentile conversion and participation in the blessings of the kingdom (Isa. 2. 2-4; 11. 10; 60. 3; Zech. 8. 3, 20, 23; 14. 16-21).

18 Now this man purchased a field with the reward of iniquity; and falling headlong, he burst asunder in the midst, and all his bowels gushed out.

19 And it was known unto all the dwellers at Jerusalem; insomuch as that field is called in their proper tongue, Aceldama, that is to say, The field of blood.

20 For it is written in the book of Psalms, "Let his habitation be desolate, and let no man dwell therein: and his bishoprick let another take."

21 Wherefore of these men which have companied with us all the time that the Lord Jesus went in and out among us,

22 Beginning from the baptism of John, unto that same day that he was taken up from us, must one be ordained to be a witness with us of his resurrection.

23 And they appointed two, Joseph called Barsabas, who was surnamed Justus, and Matthias.

24 And they prayed, and said, Thou, Lord, which knowest the hearts of all men, shew whether of these two thou hast chosen,

25 That he may take part of this ministry and apostleship, from which Judas by transgression fell, that he might go to his own place.

26 And they gave forth their lots;

Pentecost: Peter's first use of the keys (Mt. 16. 18, 19); the Gospel given to the Jews. (Cf. Acts 10. 1-48.)

AND when the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place.

2 And suddenly there came a sound from heaven as of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting.

3 And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them.

4 And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.

5 And there were dwelling at Jerusalem Jews, devout men, out of every nation under heaven.

6 Now when this was noised abroad, the multitude came together, and were confounded, because that every man heard them speak in his own language.

7 And they were all amazed and marvelled, saying one to another, Behold, are not all these which speak Galileans?

¹ The Holy Spirit, N.T. Summary (see Mal. 2. 15, note):

(1) The Holy Spirit is revealed as a divine Person. This is expressly declared (e.g. John 14. 16, 17, 26; 15. 26; 16. 7-15; Mt. 28. 19), and everywhere implied.

(2) The revelation concerning Him is progressive: (a) In the O.T. (see Mal. 2. 15, note), He comes upon whom He will, apparently without reference to conditions in them. (b) During His earth-life, Christ taught His disciples (Lk. 11. 13) that they might receive the Spirit through prayer to the Father. (c) At the close of His ministry He promised that He would Himself pray the Father, and that in answer to His prayer the Comforter would come to abide (John 14. 16, 17). (d) On the evening of His resurrection He came to the disciples in the upper room, and breathed on them saying, "Receive ye the Holy Ghost" (John 20. 22), but instructed them to wait before beginning their ministry till the Spirit should come upon them (Lk. 24. 49; Acts 1. 8). (e) On the day of Pentecost the Spirit came upon the whole body of believers (Acts 2. 1-4). (f) After Pentecost, so long as the Gospel was preached to Jews only, the Spirit was imparted to such as believed by the laying on of hands (Acts 8. 17; 9. 17, etc.). (g) When Peter opened the door of the kingdom to the Gentiles (Acts 10.), the Holy Spirit, without delay, or other condition than faith, was given to those who believed (Acts 10. 44; 11. 15-18). This is the permanent fact for the entire church-age. Every believer is born of the Spirit (John 3. 3, 6; 1 John 5. 1), indwelt by the Spirit, whose presence makes the believer's body a temple (1 Cor. 6. 19; Rom. 8. 9-15; 1 John 2. 27; Gal. 4. 6), and baptized by the Spirit (1 Cor. 12. 12, 13; 1 John 2. 20, 27), thus sealing him for God (Eph. 1. 13; 4. 30).

(3) The N.T. distinguishes between having the Spirit, which is true of all believers, and being filled with the Spirit, which is the believer's privilege and duty (cf. Acts 2. 4 with 4. 29-31; Eph. 1. 13, 14 with 5. 18)—"One baptism, many fillings."

8 And how hear we every man in our own tongue, wherein we were born?

9 Parthians, and Medes, and Elamites, and the dwellers in Mesopotamia, and in Judæa, and Cappadocia, in Pontus, and Asia,

10 Phrygia, and Pamphylia, in Egypt, and in the parts of Libya about Cyrene, and strangers of Rome, Jews and proselytes, 11 Cretes and Arabians, we do hear them speak in our tongues the wonderful works of God.

Peter's sermon. Theme: Jesus is Lord and Christ (v. 36).

14 But Peter, standing up with the eleven, lifted up his voice, and said unto them, Ye men of Judæa, and all ye that dwell at Jerusalem, be this known unto you, and hearken to my words:

15 For these are not drunken, as ye suppose, seeing it is but the third hour of the day.

16 But this is that which was spoken by the prophet Joel;

17 And it shall come to pass in the

(4) The Holy Spirit is related to Christ in His conception (Mt. 1. 18-20; Lk. 1. 35), baptism (Mt. 3. 16; Mk. 1. 10; Lk. 3. 22; John 1. 32, 33), walk and service (Lk. 4. 1, 14), resurrection (Rom. 8. 11), and as His witness throughout this age (John 15. 26; 16. 8-11, 13, 14).

(5) The Spirit forms the church (Mt. 16. 18; Heb. 12. 23, note) by baptizing all believers into the body of Christ (1 Cor. 12. 12, 13), imparts gifts for service to every member of that body (1 Cor. 12. 7-11, 27, 30), guides the members in their service (Lk. 2. 27; 4. 1; Acts 16. 6, 7), and is Himself the power of that service (Acts 1. 8; 2. 4; 1 Cor. 2. 4).

(6) The Spirit abides in the company of believers who constitute a local church, making of them, corporately, a temple (1 Cor. 3. 16, 17).

(7) Christ indicates a threefold personal relationship of the Spirit to the believer: "With," "in," "upon" (John 14. 17; Lk. 24. 49; Acts 1. 8). "With" indicates the approach of God to the soul, convicting of sin (John 16. 9), presenting Christ as the object of faith (John 16. 14), imparting faith (Eph. 2. 8), and regenerating (John 3. 3-16). "In" describes the abiding presence of the Spirit in the believer's body (1 Cor. 6. 19) to give victory over the flesh (Rom. 8. 2-4; Gal. 5. 16, 17), to create the Christian character (Gal. 5. 22, 23), to help infirmities (Rom. 8. 26), to inspire prayer (Eph. 6. 18), to give conscious access to God (Eph. 2. 18), to actualize to the believer his sonship (Gal. 4. 6), to apply the Scriptures in cleansing and sanctification (Eph. 5. 26; 2 Thes. 2. 13; 1 Pet. 1. 2), to comfort and intercede (Acts 9. 31; Rom. 8. 26), and to reveal Christ (John 16. 14).

(8) Sins against the Spirit committed by unbelievers are: To blaspheme (Mt. 12. 31), resist (Acts 7. 51), insult (Heb. 10. 29, "despite," lit. insult). Believers' sins against the Spirit are: To grieve Him by allowing evil in heart or life (Eph. 4. 30, 31), and to quench Him by disobedience (1 Thes. 5. 19). The right attitude toward the Spirit is yieldedness to His sway in walk and service, and in constant willingness that He shall "put away" whatever grieves Him or hinders His power (Eph. 4. 31).

(9) The symbols of the Spirit are: (a) oil (John 3. 34; Heb. 1. 9); (b) water (John 7. 38, 39); (c) wind (Acts 2. 2; John 3. 8); (d) fire (Acts 2. 3); (e) a dove (Mt. 3. 16); (f) a seal (Eph. 1. 13; 4. 30); (g) an earnest or pledge (Eph. 1. 14).

¹ The theme of Peter's sermon at Pentecost is stated in verse 36. It is, that Jesus is the Messiah. No message could have been more unwelcome to the Jews who had rejected His Messianic claims, and crucified Him. Peter, therefore, does not announce his theme until he has covered every possible Jewish objection. The point of difficulty with the Jews was the apparent failure of the clear and repeated prophetic promise of a regathered Israel established in their own land under their covenanted King (e.g. Isa. 11. 10-12; Jer. 23. 5-8; Ezk. 37. 21-28). Instead of explaining, as Rome first taught, followed by some Protestant commentators, that the covenant and promises were to be fulfilled in the church in a so-called "spiritual" sense, Peter shows (vs. 25-32) from Psa. 16. that David himself understood that the dead and risen Christ would fulfil the covenant and sit on his throne (Lk. 1. 32, 33). In precisely the same way James (Acts 15. 14-17) met the same difficulty. See "Kingdom (O.T.)," Zech. 12. 8; (N.T.), Lk. 1. 33; 1 Cor. 15. 24.

last days, saith God, I will pour out of my Spirit upon all flesh: and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams:

18 And on my servants and on my handmaidens I will pour out in those days of my Spirit; and they shall prophesy:

19 And I will shew wonders in heaven above, and signs in the earth beneath; blood, and fire, and vapour of smoke:

20 The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before that great and notable day of the Lord come:

21 And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved.

(2) The works of Jesus prove that he is Lord and Christ.

22 Ye men of Israel, hear these words; Jesus of Nazareth, a man approved of God among you by miracles and wonders and signs, which God did by him in the midst of you, as ye yourselves also know:

23 Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain:

24 Whom God hath raised up, having loosed the pains of death: because it was not possible that he should be holden of it.

25 For David speaketh concerning him, I foresaw the Lord always before my face, for he is on my right hand, that I should not be moved:

26 Therefore did my heart rejoice, and my tongue was glad; moreover also my flesh shall rest in hope:

27 Because thou wilt not leave my soul in hell, neither wilt thou suffer thine Holy One to see corruption.

28 Thou hast made known to me the ways of life; thou shalt make me full of joy with thy countenance.

29 Men and brethren, let me freely speak unto you of the patriarch David, that he is both dead and buried, and his sepulchre is with us unto this day.

30 Therefore being a prophet, and knowing that God had sworn with an oath to him, that of the fruit of his loins, according to the flesh, he would raise up Christ to sit on his throne;

31 He seeing this before spake of the resurrection of Christ, that his soul was not left in hell, neither his flesh did see corruption.

(4) His resurrection proves that he is Lord and Christ.

32 This Jesus hath God raised up, whereof we all are witnesses.

33 Therefore being by the right hand of God exalted, and having received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, he hath shed forth this, which ye now see and hear.

34 For David is not ascended into the heavens: but he saith himself, The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, 35 Until I make thy foes thy footstool.

36 Therefore let all the house of Israel know assuredly, that God hath made that same Jesus, whom ye have crucified, both Lord and Christ.

(5) What Israel must do.

37 Now when they heard this, they were pricked in their heart, and said unto Peter and to the rest of the apostles, Men and brethren, what shall we do?

38 Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye

A distinction must be observed between "the last days" when the prediction relates to Israel, and the "last days" when the prediction relates to the church (1 Tim. 4. 1-3; 2 Tim. 3. 1-8; Heb. 1. 1, 2; 1 Pet. 1. 4, 5; 2 Pet. 3. 1-9; 1 John 2. 18, 19; Jude 17-19). Also distinguish the expression "the last days" (plural) from "the last day" (singular); the latter expression referring to the resurrections and last judgment (John 6. 39, 40, 44, 54; 11. 24; 12. 48). The "last days" as related to the church began with the advent of Christ (Heb. 1. 2), but have especial reference to the time of declension and apostasy at the end of this age (2 Tim. 3. 1; 4. 4). The "last days" as related to Israel are the days of Israel's exaltation and blessing, and are synonymous with the kingdom-age (Isa. 2. 2-4; Mic. 4. 1-7). They are "last" not with reference to this dispensation, but with reference to the whole of Israel's history.

shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost.

39 For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call.

40 And with many other words did he testify and exhort, saying, Save yourselves from this untoward generation.

41 Then they ^bthat gladly received his word were baptized: and the same day there were added unto them about three thousand souls.

The first church. (Cf. Acts 4. 32-37.)

42 And they continued stedfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers.

43 And fear came upon every soul: and many wonders and signs were done by the apostles.

44 And all that believed were together, and had all things common;

45 And sold their possessions and goods, and parted them to all men, as every man had need.

46 And they, continuing daily with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread from house to house, did eat their meat with gladness and singleness of heart, 47 Praising God, and having favour with all the people. And the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved.

CHAPTER 3.

The first apostolic miracle: the lame man healed.

NOW Peter and John went up together into the temple at the hour of prayer, being the ninth hour.

2 And a certain man lame from his mother's womb was carried, whom they laid daily at the gate of the temple which is called Beautiful, to ask alms of them that entered into the temple;

3 Who seeing Peter and John about to go into the temple asked an alms.

4 And Peter, fastening his eyes upon him with John, said, Look on us.

5 And he gave heed unto them, expecting to receive something of them.

6 Then Peter said, Silver and gold have I none; but such as I have give I thee: In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk.

7 And he took him by the right hand, and lifted him up: and immediately his feet and ankle bones received strength.

8 And he leaping up stood, and walked, and entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God.

9 And all the people saw him walking and praising God:

10 And they knew that it was he which sat for alms at the Beautiful gate of the temple: and they were filled with wonder and amazement at that which had happened unto him.

11 And as the lame man which was healed held Peter and John, all the people ran together unto them in the porch that is called Solomon's, greatly wondering.

Peter's second sermon. Theme: the covenants will be fulfilled.

12 And when Peter saw it, he answered unto the people, Ye men of Israel, why marvel ye at this? or why look ye so earnestly on us, as though by our own power or holiness we had made this man to walk?

13 The God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, the God of our fathers, hath glorified his Son Jesus; whom ye delivered up, and denied him in the presence of Pilate, when he was determined to let him go.

14 But ye denied the Holy One and the Just, and desired a murderer to be granted unto you;

15 And killed the Prince of life, whom God hath raised from the dead; whereof we are witnesses.

16 And his name through faith in his name hath made this man strong, whom ye see and know: yea, the faith which is by him hath given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all.

17 And now, brethren, I wot that through ignorance ye did it, as did also your rulers.

18 But those things, which God before had shewed by the mouth of all his prophets, that Christ should suffer, he hath so fulfilled.

19 Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord;

23 And it shall come to pass, ⁸that every soul, which will not hear that prophet, shall be ⁹destroyed from among the people.

24 Yea, and all the prophets from Samuel and those that follow after, as many as have spoken, have likewise foretold of these days.

25 Ye are the ¹⁰children of the prophets, and of the covenant which God made with ¹¹our fathers, saying unto Abraham, And in thy seed shall all the kindreds of the earth be blessed.

5 And it came to pass on the morrow, that their rulers, and elders, and scribes,

6 And ¹Annas the high priest, and Caiaphas, and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kindred of the high priest, were gathered together at Jerusalem.

7 And when they had set them in the midst, they asked, ²By what power, or by what name, have ye done this?

8 Then ³Peter, filled with the Holy Ghost, said unto them, Ye rulers of the people, and elders of Israel, kingdom, there shall occur blessed rest and refreshment for the people of God." —Heinrich A. W. Meyer.

¹ The appeal here is national to the Jewish people as such, not individual as in Peter's first sermon (Acts 2. 38, 39). There those who were pricked in heart were exhorted to save themselves from (among) the untoward nation; here the whole people is addressed, and the promise to national repentance is national deliverance: "and he shall send Jesus Christ" to bring in the times which the prophets had foretold (see Acts 2. 14, note). The official answer was the imprisonment of the apostles, and the inhibition to preach, so fulfilling Lk. 19. 14.

² Gr. apokatastaseos = restoration, occurring here and Acts 1. 6 only. The meaning is limited by the words: "Which God hath spoken by the mouth of all his holy prophets." The prophets speak of the restoration of Israel to the land (see "Israel," Gen. 12. 2, 3; Rom. 11. 26; also "Palestinian Covenant," Deut. 30. 1-9, note); and of the restoration of the theocracy under David's Son. (See "Davidic Covenant," 2 Sam. 7. 8-17, note; "Kingdom," Gen. 1. 26-28; Zech. 12. 8, note.) No prediction of the conversion and restoration of the wicked dead is found in the prophets, or elsewhere. Cf. Rev. 20. 11-15.

and they took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus.

14 And beholding the man which was healed standing with them, they could say nothing against it.

15 But when they had commanded them to go aside out of the council, they conferred among themselves,

16 Saying, ^aWhat shall we do to these men? for that indeed a notable ^bmiracle hath been done by them is manifest to all them that dwell in Jerusalem; and we cannot deny it.

17 But that it spread no further among the people, let us straitly threaten them, that they speak henceforth to no man in this name.

18 And they called them, and commanded them not to speak at all nor teach in the name of Jesus.

19 But Peter and John answered and said unto them, Whether it be right in the sight of God to ^chearken unto you more than unto God, judge ye.

20 For we ^dcannot but speak the things which we ^ehave seen and heard.

21 So when they had further threatened them, they let them go, finding nothing how they might punish them, because of the people: for all ^fmen glorified God for that which was done.

22 For the man was above forty years old, on whom this miracle of healing was shewed.

The Christians again filled with the Spirit. (Cf. Acts 2. 1-4.)

23 And being let go, ^gthey went to their own company, and reported all that the chief priests and elders had said unto them.

24 And when they heard that, they ^hlifted up their voice to God with one accord, and said, Lord, ⁱthou art God, which hast made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all that in them is:

25 Who by the mouth of thy servant David hast ^jsaid, Why did the ^kheathen ^lrage, and the people imagine vain things?

State of the church at Jerusalem. (Cf. Acts 2. 42-47.)

32 And the multitude of them that believed were of one heart and of one soul: neither said any of ^zthem that ought of the things which he possessed was his own; but they had all things common.

33 And with great power gave the apostles witness of the ^{aa}resurrection of the Lord Jesus: and great grace was upon them all.

34 Neither was there any among them that lacked: for as many as were possessors of lands or houses sold them, and brought the prices of the things that were sold,

35 And laid ^{ab}them down at the apostles' feet: and distribution was made unto every man according as he had need.

36 And Joses, who by the apostles was surnamed Barnabas, (which is, being interpreted, The son of ^{ac}consolation,) a Levite, and of the country of Cyprus, 37 Having land, sold ^{ad}it, and brought the money, and laid ^{ae}it at the apostles' feet.

CHAPTER 5.

The sin and death of Ananias and Sapphira.

BUT a certain man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, sold a possession,

2 And ^{af}kept back part of the price, his wife also being privy to it, and brought ^{ag}a certain part, and laid ^{ah}it at the apostles' feet.

3 But Peter said, Ananias, ^{ai}why hath ^{aj}Satan filled thine heart to lie to the Holy Ghost, and to keep back ^{ak}part of the price of the land?

4 Whiles it remained, was it not thine own? and after it was sold, was it not in thine own power? why hast thou conceived this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lied unto men, ^abut unto God.

5 And Ananias ^bhearing these words fell down, and gave up the ghost: and great fear came on all them that heard these things.

6 And the young men arose, wound him up, and carried him out, and buried him.

7 And it was about the space of three hours after, when his wife, not knowing what was done, came in.

8 And Peter answered unto her, Tell me whether ye sold the land for so much? And she said, Yea, for so much.

9 Then Peter said unto her, How is it that ye have agreed together to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? behold, the feet of them which have buried thy husband are at the door, and shall carry thee out.

10 Then fell she down straightway at his feet, and yielded up the ghost: and the young men came in, and found her dead, and, carrying her forth, buried her by her husband.

11 And great fear came upon all the church, and upon as many as heard these things.

The power of a holy church. (See 1 Thes. 1. 1-10.)

12 And by the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people; (and they were all with one accord in Solomon's porch.

13 And of the rest durst no man join himself to them: but the people magnified them.

14 And believers were the more added to the Lord, multitudes both of men and women.)

15 Inasmuch that they brought forth the sick into the streets, and laid them on beds and couches, that at the least the shadow of Peter passing by might overshadow some of them.

16 There came also a multitude out of the cities round about unto Jerusalem, bringing sick folks, and them which were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed every one.

The second persecution.

17 Then the high priest rose up, and all they that were with him, (which is the sect of the Sadducees,) and were filled with indignation,

18 And laid their hands on the apostles, and put them in the common prison.

19 But the angel of the Lord by night opened the prison doors, and brought them forth, and said, 20 Go, stand and speak in the temple to the people all the words of this life.

21 And when they heard that, they entered into the temple early in the morning, and taught. But the high priest came, and they that were with him, and called the council together, and all the senate of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison to have them brought.

22 But when the officers came, and found them not in the prison, they returned, and told,

23 Saying, The prison truly found we shut with all safety, and the keepers standing without before the doors: but when we had opened, we found no man within.

24 Now when the high priest and the captain of the temple and the chief priests heard these things, they doubted of them whereunto this would grow.

25 Then came one and told them, saying, Behold, the men whom ye put in prison are standing in the temple, and teaching the people.

26 Then went the captain with the officers, and brought them without violence: for they feared the people, lest they should have been stoned.

27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the council: and the high priest asked them,

28 Saying, Did not we straitly command you that ye should not teach in this name? and, behold, ye have filled Jerusalem with your doctrine, and intend to bring this man's blood upon us.

The answer of the apostles.

29 Then Peter and the other apostles answered and said, We ought to obey God rather than men.

30 The God of our fathers raised up Jesus, whom ye slew and hanged on a tree.

31 Him hath God exalted with his right hand to be a Prince and a Saviour, for to give repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of sins.

32 And we are his witnesses of these things; and so is also the Holy Ghost, whom God hath given to them that obey him.

33 When they heard that, they were ^acut to the heart, and took counsel to slay them.

The warning of Gamaliel.

34 Then stood there up one in the council, a Pharisee, named Gamaliel, a doctor of the law, had in reputation among all the people, and commanded to put the apostles forth a little space;

35 And said unto them, Ye men of Israel, take heed to yourselves what ye intend to do as touching these men.

36 For before these days rose up Theudas, boasting himself to be somebody; to whom a number of men, about four hundred, joined themselves: who was slain; and all, as many as ^bobeyed him, were scattered, and brought to nought.

37 After this man rose up Judas of Galilee (in the days of the taxing, and drew away much people after him: ^che also perished; and all, even as many as obeyed him, were dispersed.

38 And now I say unto you, Refrain from these men, and let them alone: for if this counsel or this work be of men, it will come to nought:

39 But if it be of God, ye cannot overthrow it; lest haply ye be found even to fight against God.

The apostles beaten.

40 And to him they agreed: and when they had called the apostles, and ^dbeaten them, they commanded that they should not speak in the name of Jesus, and let them go.

41 And they departed from the presence of the council, rejoicing that they were counted worthy to suffer ^eshame for his name.

42 And daily in the temple, and in every house, they ceased not to teach and preach Jesus Christ.

AND in those days, when the number of the disciples was multiplied, there arose a murmuring of the Grecians against the Hebrews, because their widows were neglected in the daily ministration.

2 Then the twelve called the multitude of the disciples unto them, and said, It is not reason that we should leave the word of God, and serve tables.

4 But we will give ourselves continually to prayer, and to the ministry of the word.

5 And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Ghost, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas a proselyte of Antioch:

6 Whom they set before the apostles: and when they had prayed, they laid their hands on them.

7 And the word of God increased; and the number of the disciples multiplied in Jerusalem greatly; and a great company of the priests were obedient to the faith.

The third persecution: Stephen brought before the council.

8 And Stephen, full of faith and power, did great wonders and miracles among the people.

9 Then there arose certain of the synagogue, which is called the synagogue of the Libertines, and Cyrenians, and Alexandrians, and of them of Cilicia and of Asia, disputing with Stephen.

10 And they were not able to resist the wisdom and the spirit by which he spake.

11 ^aThen they suborned men, which said, We have heard him speak blasphemous words against Moses, and against God.

12 And they stirred up the people, and the elders, and the scribes, and came upon him, and caught him, and brought him to the council, and set up false witnesses, which said, This man ceaseth not to speak blasphemous words against this holy place, and the law:

14 ^bFor we have heard him say, that this Jesus of Nazareth shall destroy this place, and shall change the customs which Moses delivered us.

15 And all that sat in the council, looking stedfastly on him, saw his face as it had been the face of an angel.

Address of Stephen before the council. Theme: The unbelief of Israel.

2 And he said, Men, brethren, and fathers, hearken; The ^aGod of glory appeared unto our father Abraham, when he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in ^bCharran.

3 And said unto him, ^cGet thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and come into the land which I shall shew thee.

4 Then came he out of the land of the Chaldeans, and dwelt in ^bCharran: and from thence, when ^dhis father was dead, ^ehe removed him into this land, wherein ye now dwell.

5 And he gave him ^fnone inheritance in it, no, not so much as to set his foot on: yet he ^gpromised that he would give it to him for a possession, and to his seed after him, when as yet he had no child.

6 And God spake on this wise, That his ^hseed should sojourn in a strange land; and that they should bring them into ⁱbondage, and entreat ^jthem evil four hundred years.

7 And the nation to whom they shall be in bondage will I judge, said God: and after that shall they ^kcome forth, and serve me in this place.

8 And he gave him the ^lcovenant of circumcision: and so Abraham begat Isaac, and circumcised him the eighth day; and Isaac begat Jacob; and Jacob begat the twelve patriarchs.

9 And the patriarchs, moved with ^menvy, ⁿsold Joseph into Egypt: but ^oGod was with him,

10 And delivered him out of all his afflictions, and gave him favour and wisdom in the sight of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and he made him governor over Egypt and all his house.

11 ^pNow there came a dearth over all the land of Egypt and ^qPhaan, and great affliction: and our fathers found no sustenance.

12 But when ^rJacob heard that there was corn in Egypt, he sent out our fathers first.

13 And at the ^ssecond time Joseph was made known to his brethren; and Joseph's kindred was made known unto Pharaoh.

14 Then sent Joseph, and called his father Jacob to ^thim, and all his ^ukindred, threescore and fifteen souls.

15 So Jacob went down into Egypt, and died, he, and our fathers,

17 But when the ^jtime of the promise drew nigh, which God had sworn to Abraham, the ^kpeople grew and multiplied in Egypt,

18 Till another king arose, which knew not Joseph.

19 The same dealt subtilly with our kindred, and evil entreated our fathers, so that they cast out their young children, to the end they might not live.

20 In which time Moses was born, and was ^lexceeding fair, and nourished up in his father's house three months:

21 And when he was cast out, ^mPharaoh's daughter took him up, and nourished him for her own son.

22 And Moses was learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians, and was ⁿmighty in words and in deeds.

23 And ^owhen he was full forty years old, it came into his heart to visit his brethren the children of Israel.

24 And seeing one of ^pthem suffer wrong, he defended ^qhim, and avenged him that was oppressed, and smote the Egyptian:

25 For he supposed his brethren would have ^runderstood how that God by his hand would deliver them: but they understood not.

26 And the ^snext day he shewed himself unto them as they strove, and would have set them at one again, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren; why do ye wrong one to another?

27 But he that did his neighbour wrong thrust him away, saying, ^tWho made thee a ruler and a judge over us?

28 Wilt thou kill me, as thou didst the Egyptian yesterday?

29 ^uThen fled Moses at this saying, and was a stranger in the land of Madian, where he begat two sons.

30 And when forty years were expired, there appeared to him in the wilderness of mount Sina an ^vangel of the Lord in a ^wflame of fire in a bush.

31 When Moses saw ^xit, he wondered at the sight; and as he drew near to behold ^yit, the voice of the Lord came unto him,

¹ Cf. Gen. 46. 26, note. There is no real contradiction. The "house of Jacob" numbered seventy, but the "kindred" would include the wives of Jacob's sons.

32 Saying, I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. Then Moses trembled, and durst not behold.

33 Then said the Lord to him, Put off thy shoes from thy feet: for the place where thou standest is holy ground.

34 I have seen, I have seen the affliction of my people which is in Egypt, and I have heard their groaning, and am come down to deliver them. And now come, I will send thee into Egypt.

35 This Moses whom they refused, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge? the same did God send to be a ruler and a deliverer by the hand of the angel which appeared to him in the bush.

36 He brought them out, after that he had shewed wonders and signs in the land of Egypt, and in the Red sea, and in the wilderness forty years.

37 This is that Moses, which said unto the children of Israel, A prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, like unto me; him shall ye hear.

38 This is he, that was in the church in the wilderness with the angel which spake to him in the mount Sina, and with our fathers: who received the lively oracles to give unto us:

39 To whom our fathers would not obey, but thrust him from them, and in their hearts turned back again into Egypt,

40 Saying unto Aaron, Make us gods to go before us: for as for this Moses, which brought us out of the land of Egypt, we wot not what is become of him.

41 And they made a calf in those days, and offered sacrifice unto the idol, and rejoiced in the works of their own hands.

42 Then God turned, and gave them up to worship the host of heaven; as it is written in the book of the prophets, O ye house of Israel, have ye offered to me slain beasts and sacrifices by the space of forty years in the wilderness?

43 Yea, ye took up the tabernacle of Moloch, and the star of your god Remphan, figures which ye made

The fourth persecution: Saul chief persecutor.

^fAND Saul was consenting unto his death. And at that time there was a great persecution against the church which was at Jerusalem; and they were all ^gscattered abroad throughout the regions of Judæa and Samaria, except the apostles.

2 And devout men carried Stephen to his burial, and made great lamentation over him.

3 As for Saul, he made havock of the ^hchurch, entering into every house, and haling men and women committed them to prison.

5 Then ^jPhilip went down to the ^kcity of Samaria, and preached Christ unto them.

6 And the ^lpeople with one accord gave heed unto those things which Philip spake, hearing and seeing the ^mmiracles which he did.

7 For ⁿunclean spirits, crying with loud voice, came out of many that were possessed with them; and many taken with palsies, and that were lame, were healed.

8 And there was great joy in that city.

(The case of Simon the sorcerer.)

9 But there was a certain man, called Simon, which beforetime in the same city ^oused sorcery, and bewitched the people of Samaria, giving out that himself was some great one:

10 To whom they all gave heed, from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great power of God.

11 And to him they had regard, because that of long time he had bewitched them with sorceries.

12 But when they ¹believed Philip preaching the things concerning the kingdom of God, and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women.

13 Then Simon himself believed also; and when he was baptized, he continued with Philip, and wondered, beholding the miracles and signs which were done.

14 Now when the ²apostles which were at Jerusalem heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent unto them Peter and John:

15 Who, when they were come down, prayed for them, that they might receive the ³Holy Ghost:

16 (For as yet ⁴he was fallen upon none of them: only they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.)

17 Then ⁵laid they their hands on them, and they received the Holy Ghost.

18 And when Simon saw that through laying on of the apostles' hands the Holy Ghost was given, he offered them money.

19 Saying, Give me also this power, that on whomsoever I lay hands, he may receive the Holy Ghost.

20 But Peter said unto him, Thy money ⁶perish with thee, because thou hast thought that the gift of God may be purchased with money.

21 Thou hast neither part nor lot in this ⁷matter: for thy ⁸heart is not right in the sight of God.

22 ⁹Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray ¹⁰God, if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee.

23 For I perceive that thou ¹¹art in the gall of bitterness, and in the bond of iniquity.

24 Then answered Simon, and said, Pray ye to the Lord for me, ¹²that none of these things which ye have spoken come upon me.

25 And they, when they had testified and preached the word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem, and preached the ¹³gospel in many ¹⁴villages of the Samaritans.

Philip and the Ethiopian.

26 And the ¹⁵angel of the Lord spake unto Philip, saying, Arise, and go toward the south unto the way that goeth down from Jerusalem unto Gaza, which is ¹⁶desert.

27 And he arose and went: and, behold, a man of ¹⁷Ethiopia, an eunuch of great authority under

Candace queen of the Ethiopians, who had the charge of all her treasure, and had come to ^aJerusalem for to worship,

28 Was returning, and sitting in his chariot read Esaias the prophet.

29 Then the ^bSpirit said unto Philip, Go near, and join thyself to this chariot.

30 And Philip ran thither to him, and heard him read the prophet Esaias, and said, ^cUnderstandest thou what thou readeest?

31 And he said, How can I, except some man should guide me? And he ^ddesired Philip that he would come up and sit with him.

32 The place of the scripture which he read was this, ^eHe was led as a sheep to the slaughter; and like a lamb dumb before his shearer, so opened he not his mouth:

33 In his humiliation his judgment was taken away: and who shall declare his generation? for his life is taken from the earth.

34 And the eunuch answered Philip, and said, I pray thee, ^fof whom speaketh the prophet this? of himself, or of some other man?

35 Then Philip opened his mouth, and ^gbegan at the same scripture, and preached unto him Jesus.

36 And as they went on their way, they came unto a certain water: and the eunuch said, See, ^hhere is water; what doth hinder me to be baptized?

37 ⁱAnd Philip said, If thou believest with all thine heart, thou mayest. And he answered and said, I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God.

38 And he commanded the chariot to stand still: and they went down both into the water, both Philip and the eunuch; and he ^jbaptized him.

39 And when they were come up out of the water, the ^kSpirit of the Lord caught away Philip, that the eunuch saw him no more: and he went on his way ^lrejoicing.

40 But Philip was found at Azotus: and passing through he preached ^min all the cities, till he came to Cæsarea.

CHAPTER 9.

The conversion of Saul. (Cf. Acts 22. 1-16; 26. 9-18.)

AND Saul, ^ayet breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto the high priest,

2 And desired of him ^bletters to Damascus to the synagogues, that if he found any ^cof this way, whether they were men or women, he might bring them bound unto Jerusalem.

3 And as he journeyed, he came near Damascus: and suddenly there shined round about him a ^dlight from heaven:

4 And he fell to the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, ^ewhy persecutest thou ^fme?

5 And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am ^gJesus whom thou persecutest: it is hard for thee to kick against the pricks.

6 And he trembling and astonished ^hsaid, Lord, what wilt thou have me to do? And the Lord ⁱsaid unto him, Arise, and go into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou must do.

7 And the men which journeyed with him stood speechless, hearing ^ja ^kvoice, but seeing no man.

8 And Saul arose from the earth; and when his eyes were opened, he saw ^lno man: but they led him by the hand, and brought ^mhim into Damascus.

9 And he was three days without sight, and neither did eat nor drink.

10 And there was a certain disciple at Damascus, named ⁿAnanias; and to him said the Lord in a vision, Ananias. And he said, Behold, I ^oam ^phere, Lord.

11 And the Lord ^qsaid unto him, Arise, and go into the street which is called Straight, and enquire in the house of Judas for ^rone called Saul, of Tarsus: for, behold, he ^sprayeth, 12 And hath seen in a vision a man named Ananias coming in, and putting ^this hand on him, that he might receive his sight.

13 Then Ananias answered, Lord,

¹ Cf. Acts 22. 9; 26. 14. A contradiction has been imagined. The three statements should be taken together. The men heard the "voice" as a sound (Gr. phone), but did not hear the "voice" as articulating the words, "Saul, Saul," etc.

I have heard by many of this man, how much evil he hath done to thy saints at Jerusalem:

14 And here he hath authority from the chief priests to bind all that call on thy name.

15 But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way: for he is a chosen vessel unto me, to bear my name before the Gentiles, and kings, and the children of Israel:

16 For I will shew him how great things he must suffer for my name's sake.

Paul filled with the Spirit.

17 And Ananias went his way, and entered into the house; and putting his hands on him said, Brother Saul, the Lord, even Jesus, that appeared unto thee in the way as thou camest, hath sent me, that thou mightest receive thy sight, and be filled with the Holy Ghost.

Paul baptized.

18 And immediately there fell from his eyes as it had been scales: and he received sight forthwith, and arose, and was baptized.

19 And when he had received meat, he was strengthened. Then was Saul certain days with the disciples which were at Damascus.

Paul preaches.

20 And straightway he preached Christ in the synagogues, that he is the Son of God.

21 But all that heard him were amazed, and said; Is not this he that destroyed them which called on this name in Jerusalem, and came hither for that intent, that he might bring them bound unto the chief priests?

22 But Saul increased the more in strength, and confounded the Jews which dwelt at Damascus, proving that this is very Christ.

23 And after that many days were fulfilled, the Jews took counsel to kill him:

24 But their laying await was known of Saul. And they watched the gates day and night to kill him.

25 Then the disciples took him by night, and let him down by the wall in a basket.

Paul visits Jerusalem.

26 And when Saul was come to Jerusalem, he assayed to join himself to the disciples: but they were all afraid of him, and believed not that he was a disciple.

27 But Barnabas took him, and brought him to the apostles, and declared unto them how he had seen the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken to him, and how he had preached boldly at Damascus in the name of Jesus.

28 And he was with them coming in and going out at Jerusalem.

29 And he spake boldly in the name of the Lord Jesus, and disputed against the Grecians: but they went about to slay him.

Paul returns to Tarsus.

30 Which when the brethren knew, they brought him down to Cæsarea, and sent him forth to Tarsus.

31 Then had the churches rest throughout all Judæa and Galilee and Samaria, and were edified; and walking in the fear of the Lord, and in the comfort of the Holy Ghost, were multiplied.

¹ Cf. Acts 2. 36. Peter, while maintaining the deity of Jesus—"God hath made that same Jesus, whom ye have crucified, both Lord and Christ"—gives especial prominence to His Messiahship. Paul, fresh from the vision of the glory, puts the emphasis on His Deity. Peter's charge was that the Jews had crucified the Son of David (Acts 2. 25-30); Paul's that they had crucified the Lord of glory (1 Cor. 2. 8). In the A.V. the sense is largely lost. The point was, not that the Christ was God, a truth plainly taught by Isaiah (7. 14; 9. 6, 7), but that Jesus, the crucified Nazarene, was the Christ and therefore God the Son.

² It seems probable that verses 22-25 refer to Paul's labours in Damascus after his return from Arabia (Gal. 1. 17). The "many days" of verse 23 may represent the "three years" of Gal. 1. 18, which intervened between Paul's return to Damascus and his visit to Peter.

³ The Acts records four visits of Paul to Jerusalem after his conversion: (1) Acts 9. 23-30. This seems identical with the visit of Gal. 1. 18, 19. The "apostles" of verse 27 were Peter, and James, the Lord's brother. (2) Acts 11. 30. Paul may have been in Jerusalem during the events of Acts 12. 1-24. (See v. 25.) (3) Acts 15. 1-30; Gal. 2. 2-10. (4) Acts 21. 17-23. 35.

The healing of Æneas.

32 And it came to pass, as Peter passed throughout all quarters, he came down also to the saints which dwelt at Lydda.

33 And there he found a certain man named Æneas, which had kept his bed eight years, and was sick of the palsy.

34 And Peter said unto him, Æneas, Jesus Christ maketh thee whole: arise, and make thy bed. And he arose immediately.

35 And all that dwelt at Lydda and Saron saw him, and turned to the Lord.

Tabitha raised from the dead.

36 Now there was at Joppa a certain disciple named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called Dorcas: this woman was full of good works and almsdeeds which she did.

37 And it came to pass in those days, that she was sick, and died: whom when they had washed, they laid her in an upper chamber.

38 And forasmuch as Lydda was nigh to Joppa, and the disciples had heard that Peter was there, they sent unto him two men, desiring him that he would not delay to come to them.

39 Then Peter arose and went with them. When he was come, they brought him into the upper chamber: and all the widows stood by him weeping, and shewing the coats and garments which Dorcas made, while she was with them.

40 But Peter put them all forth, and kneeled down, and prayed; and turning him to the body said, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes: and when she saw Peter, she sat up.

41 And he gave her his hand, and lifted her up, and when he had called the saints and widows, presented her alive.

42 And it was known throughout all Joppa; and many believed in the Lord.

43 And it came to pass, that he tarried many days in Joppa with one Simon a tanner.

2 A devout man, and one that feared God with all his house, which gave much alms to the people, and prayed to God alway.

3 He saw in a vision evidently about the ninth hour of the day an angel of God coming in to him, and saying unto him, Cornelius.

4 And when he looked on him, he was afraid, and said, What is it, Lord? And he said unto him, Thy prayers and thine alms are come up for a memorial before God.

5 And now send men to Joppa, and call for one Simon, whose surname is Peter:

6 He lodgeth with one Simon a tanner, whose house is by the sea side: he shall tell thee what thou oughtest to do.

Peter's vision of the great sheet.

9 On the morrow, as they went on their journey, and drew nigh unto the city, Peter went up upon the housetop to pray about the sixth hour:

10 And he became very hungry, and would have eaten: but while they made ready, he fell into a trance,

11 And saw heaven opened, and a certain vessel descending unto him, as it had been a great sheet knit at the four corners, and let down to the earth:

12 Wherein were all manner of fourfooted beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and fowls of the air.

13 And there came a voice to him, Rise, Peter; kill, and eat.

14 But Peter said, Not so, Lord: for I have never eaten any thing that is common or unclean.

15 And the voice spake unto him again the second time, What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common.

16 This was done thrice: and the vessel was received up again into heaven.

Peter and the messengers of Cornelius.

17 Now while Peter ^adoubted in himself what this vision which he had seen should mean, behold, the men which were sent from Cornelius had made enquiry for Simon's house, and stood before the gate.

18 And called, and asked whether Simon, which was surnamed Peter, were lodged there.

19 While Peter thought on the vision, the Spirit said unto him, Behold, three men seek thee.

20 Arise therefore, and get thee down, and go with them, ^bdoubting nothing: for I have sent them.

21 Then Peter went down to the men which were sent unto him from Cornelius; and said, Behold, I am he whom ye seek: ^cwhat is the cause wherefore ye are come?

22 And they said, ^dCornelius the centurion, a just man, and one that feareth God, and of ^egood report among all the nation of the Jews, was warned from God by an holy angel to send for thee into his house, and to hear words of thee.

Peter's sermon to Gentiles in the house of Cornelius.
Theme: Salvation through faith. (Cf. Acts 2. 14-41.)

34 Then Peter opened ⁷his mouth, and said, Of a truth I perceive that God is no ⁸respector of persons:

35 But in ⁹every nation he that feareth him, and worketh ¹⁰righteousness, is accepted with him.

36 The word which ¹¹God sent unto the children of Israel, preaching ¹²peace by Jesus Christ: (he is Lord of all:)

37 That word, I say, ye know, which was published throughout all Judæa, and began from Galilee, after the baptism which John preached;

38 How ¹³God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the ¹⁴Holy Ghost and with power: who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the ¹⁵devil; for ¹⁶God was with him.

39 And we are ¹⁷witnesses of all things which he did both in the land of the Jews, and in Jerusalem; whom they ¹⁸slew and hanged on a tree:

40 Him God ¹⁹raised up the third day, and shewed him openly;

41 Not to all the people, but unto witnesses ²⁰chosen before of God, even to us, who did ²¹eat and drink with him after he rose from the dead.

42 And he commanded us to preach unto the people, and to testify that it is he which was ordained of God to be the Judge of quick and dead.

43 To him give all the prophets witness, that through his name whosoever believeth ²²in him shall receive remission of ²³sins.

The Holy Spirit given to Gentile believers.

44 ¹While Peter yet spake these words, the ²Holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the word.

45 And they of the circumcision which believed were astonished, as many as came with Peter, because that on the Gentiles also was poured out the gift of the Holy Ghost.

46 For they heard them speak with ³tongues, and magnify God. Then answered Peter, 47 Can any man forbid water, that these should not be baptized, which have received the Holy Ghost as well as we?

48 And he commanded them to be baptized in the name of ⁴the Lord. Then prayed they him to tarry certain days.

The church at Antioch: the new name.

19 Now they which were scattered abroad upon the ¹⁸persecution that arose about Stephen travelled as far as ¹⁹Phenice, and Cyprus, and Antioch, preaching the word to none but unto the Jews only.

20 And some of them were men of Cyprus and Cyrene, which, when they were come to Antioch, spake unto the ²⁰Grecians, preaching the Lord Jesus.

21 And the hand of the Lord was with them; and a great number believed, and turned unto the Lord.

22 Then tidings of these things came unto the ears of the church which was in Jerusalem: and they sent forth Barnabas, that he should go as far as Antioch.

¹ Verse 44 is one of the pivotal points of Scripture. Heretofore the Gospel has been offered to Jews only, and the Holy Spirit bestowed upon believing Jews through apostolic mediation. But now the normal order for this age is reached: the Holy Spirit is given without delay, mediation, or other condition than simple faith in Jesus Christ. Cf. Acts 2. 4, note; 1 Cor. 6. 19.

23 Who, when he came, and had seen the grace of God, was glad, and exhorted them all, that with purpose of heart they would cleave unto the Lord.

24 For he was a good man, and full of the Holy Ghost and of faith: and much people was added unto the Lord.

25 Then departed Barnabas to Tarsus, for to seek Saul:

26 And when he had found him, he brought him unto Antioch. And it came to pass, that a whole year they assembled themselves with the church, and taught much people. And the disciples were called Christians first in Antioch.

The church at Antioch sends relief to Jerusalem.

27 And in these days came prophets from Jerusalem unto Antioch.

28 And there stood up one of them named Agabus, and signified by the Spirit that there should be great dearth throughout all the world: which came to pass in the days of Claudius Cæsar.

29 Then the disciples, every man according to his ability, determined to send relief unto the brethren which dwelt in Judæa:

30 Which also they did, and sent it to the elders by the hands of Barnabas and Saul.

2 And he killed James the brother of John with the sword.

3 And because he saw it pleased the Jews, he proceeded further to take Peter also. (Then were the days of unleavened bread.)

4 And when he had apprehended him, he put him in prison, and delivered him to four quaternions of soldiers to keep him; intending after Easter to bring him forth to the people.

p Psa. 66.16.

Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains: and the keepers before the door kept the prison.

7 And, behold, the angel of the Lord came upon him, and a light shined in the prison: and he smote Peter on the side, and raised him up, saying, Arise up quickly. And his chains fell off from his hands.

8 And the angel said unto him, Gird thyself, and bind on thy sandals. And so he did. And he saith unto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me.

9 And he went out, and followed him; and wist not that it was true which was done by the angel; but thought he saw a vision.

10 When they were past the first and the second ward, they came unto the iron gate that leadeth unto the city; which opened to them of his own accord: and they went out, and passed on through one street; and forthwith the angel departed from him.

11 And when Peter was come to himself, he said, Now I know of a surety, that the Lord hath sent his angel, and hath delivered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews.

12 And when he had considered the thing, he came to the house of Mary the mother of John, whose surname was Mark; where many were gathered together praying.

13 And as Peter knocked at the door of the gate, a damsel came to hearken, named Rhoda.

14 And when she knew Peter's voice, she opened not the gate for gladness, but ran in, and told how Peter stood before the gate.

15 And they said unto her, Thou art mad. But she constantly affirmed that it was even so. Then said they, It is his angel.

16 But Peter continued knocking: and when they had opened the door, and saw him, they were astonished.

17 But he, beckoning unto them with the hand to hold their peace, declared unto them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison. And he said, Go shew these things unto James, and to the brethren. And he departed, and went into another place.

18 Now as soon as it was day, there was no small stir among the soldiers, what was become of Peter.

19 And when Herod had sought for him, and found him not, he examined the keepers, and commanded that they should be put to death. And he went down from Judæa to Cæsarea, and there abode.

Death of Herod.

20 And Herod was highly displeased with them of Tyre and Sidon: but they came with one accord to him, and, having made Blastus the king's chamberlain their friend, desired peace; because their country was nourished by the king's country.

21 And upon a set day Herod, arrayed in royal apparel, sat upon his throne, and made an oration unto them.

22 And the people gave a shout, saying, It is the voice of a god, and not of a man.

23 And immediately the angel of the Lord smote him, because he gave not God the glory: and he was eaten of worms, and gave up the ghost.

24 But the word of God grew and multiplied.

25 And Barnabas and Saul returned from Jerusalem, when they had fulfilled their ministry, and took with them John, whose surname was Mark.

CHAPTER 13.

Paul and Barnabas called by the Holy Spirit.

NOW there were in the church that was at Antioch certain prophets and teachers; as Barnabas, and Simeon that was called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, and Manaen, which had been brought up with Herod the tetrarch, and Saul.

2 As they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the Holy Ghost said, Separate me Barnabas and Saul for the work whereunto I have called them.

3 And when they had fasted and prayed, and laid their hands on them, they sent them away.

4 So they, being sent forth by the Holy Ghost, departed unto Seleucia; and from thence they sailed to Cyprus.

5 And when they were at Salamis, they preached the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews: and they had also John to their minister.

6 And when they had gone through the isle unto Paphos, they found a certain sorcerer, a false prophet, a Jew, whose name was Bar-jesus:

7 Which was with the deputy of the country, Sergius Paulus, a prudent man; who called for Barnabas and Saul, and desired to hear the word of God.

8 But Elymas the sorcerer (for so is his name by interpretation) withstood them, seeking to turn away the deputy from the faith.

9 Then Saul, (who also is called Paul,) filled with the Holy Ghost, set his eyes on him,

10 And said, O full of all subtilty and all mischief, thou child of the devil, thou enemy of all righteousness, wilt thou not cease to pervert the right ways of the Lord?

11 And now, behold, the hand of the Lord is upon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sun for a season. And immediately there fell on him a mist and a darkness; and he went about seeking some to lead him by the hand.

12 Then the deputy, when he saw what was done, believed, being astonished at the doctrine of the Lord.

13 Now when Paul and his company loosed from Paphos, they came to Perga in Pamphylia: and John departing from them returned to Jerusalem.

Paul's sermon in the synagogue at Antioch in Pisidia. Theme: Justification by faith, vs. 38, 39.

14 But when they departed from Perga, they came to Antioch in Pisidia, and went into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and sat down.

15 And after the reading of the law and the prophets the rulers of the synagogue sent unto them, saying, Ye men and brethren, if ye have any word of exhortation for the people, say on.

16 Then Paul stood up, and beckoning with his hand said, Men of Israel, and ye that fear God, give audience.

21 And afterward they desired a king: and God gave unto them Saul the son of ^cCis, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, by the space of forty years.

22 And when he had removed him, he raised up unto them David to be their king; to whom also he gave testimony, and ^dsaid, I have found David the son of Jesse, a man after mine own heart, which shall fulfil all my will.

35 Wherefore he saith also in ^canother psalm, Thou shalt not suffer thine ^dHoly One to see corruption.

36 For David, after he had served his own generation by the will of God, fell on sleep, and was laid unto his fathers, and saw corruption:

37 But he, whom God ^eraised again, saw no corruption.

42 And ⁿwhen the Jews were gone out of the synagogue, the Gentiles besought that these words might be preached to them the next sabbath.

43 Now when the congregation was broken up, many of the Jews and religious proselytes followed Paul and Barnabas: who, speaking to them, persuaded them to ^ocontinue in the grace of God.

Opposition from the Jews.

(Cf. vs. 6, 50.)

44 And the next sabbath day came almost the whole city together to hear the word of God.

45 But when the Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with envy, and spake against those things which were spoken by Paul, contradicting and blaspheming.

Paul and Barnabas turn to the Gentiles. (Cf. Acts 18. 6; 28. 25-29.)

46 Then Paul and Barnabas waxed bold, and said, It was necessary that the word of God should first have been spoken to you: but seeing ye ^aput it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of everlasting life, lo, we turn to the Gentiles.

47 For so hath the Lord commanded us, saying, "I have set thee to be a light of the Gentiles. that thou shouldst be for salvation unto the ends of the earth.

48 And when the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified the word of the Lord: and as many as were ordained to eternal life believed.

49 And the word of the Lord was published throughout all the region.

Opposition from devout and honourable women, and chief citizens. (Cf. vs. 6, 45.)

50 But the Jews stirred up the devout and honourable women, and the chief men of the city, and raised persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them out of their coasts.

51 But they shook off the dust of their feet against them, and came unto Iconium.

52 And the disciples were filled with joy, and with the Holy Ghost.

CHAPTER 14.

The work in Iconium.

AND it came to pass in Iconium, that they went both together into the synagogue of the Jews, and so spake, that a great multitude both of the Jews and also of the Greeks believed.

2 But the unbelieving Jews stirred up the Gentiles, and made their minds evil affected against the brethren.

3 Long time therefore abode they speaking boldly in the Lord, which gave testimony unto the word of his grace, and granted signs and wonders to be done by their hands.

4 But the multitude of the city was divided: and part held with the Jews, and part with the apostles.

5 And when there was an assault made both of the Gentiles, and also of the Jews with their rulers, to use them despitefully, and to stone them,

6 They were ware of it, and fled unto Lystra and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, and unto the region that lieth round about:

7 And there they preached the gospel.

8 And there sat a certain man at Lystra, impotent in his feet, being a cripple from his mother's womb, who never had walked:

9 The same heard Paul speak: who stedfastly beholding him, and perceiving that he had faith to be healed,

10 Said with a loud voice, Stand upright on thy feet. And he leaped and walked.

11 And when the people saw what Paul had done, they lifted up their voices, saying in the speech of Lycaonia, The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men.

12 And they called Barnabas, Jupiter; and Paul, Mercurius, because he was the chief speaker.

13 Then the priest of Jupiter, which was before their city, brought oxen and garlands unto the gates, and would have done sacrifice with the people.

14 Which when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of, they rent their clothes, and ran in among the people, crying out,

15 And saying, Sirs, why do ye these things? We also are men of like passions with you, and preach unto you that ye should turn from these vanities unto the living God, which made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all things that are therein:

16 Who in times past suffered all nations to walk in their own ways.

17 Nevertheless he left not himself without witness, in that he did good, and gave us rain from heaven, and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladness.

18 And with these sayings scarce restrained they the people, that they had not done sacrifice unto them.

Paul stoned at Lystra.

19 And there came thither certain Jews from Antioch and Iconium, who persuaded the people, and, having stoned Paul, drew him out of the city, supposing he had been dead.

James declares the result: (1) the outcalling of the Gentiles agrees with the promises to Israel.

13 And after they had held their peace, James answered, saying, ^yMen and brethren, hearken unto me:

14 Simeon hath declared how God

¹ Dispensationally, this is the most important passage in the N.T. It gives the divine purpose for this age, and for the beginning of the next. (1) The taking out from among the Gentiles of a people for His name, the distinctive work of the pres-at the first did visit the Gentiles, to take out of them a people for his name.

15 And to this agree the words of the prophets; as it is written,

16 After this I will return, and will build again the tabernacle of David, which is fallen down; and I will build again the ruins thereof, and I will set it up:

17 That the residue of men might seek after the Lord, and all the Gentiles, upon whom my name is called, saith the Lord, who doeth all these things.

18 Known unto God are all his works from the beginning of the world.

(2) The Gentiles are not under the law.

19 Wherefore my sentence is, that we trouble not them, which from among the Gentiles are turned to God:

20 But that we write unto them, that they abstain from pollutions of idols, and from fornication, and from things strangled, and from blood.

21 For Moses of old time hath in every city them that preach him, being read in the synagogues every sabbath day.

are of the Gentiles in Antioch and Syria and Cilicia:

24 Forasmuch as we have heard, that certain which went out from us have troubled you with words, subverting your souls, saying, Ye must be circumcised, and keep the law: to whom we gave no such commandment:

25 It seemed good unto us, being assembled with one accord, to send chosen men unto you with our beloved Barnabas and Paul,

26 Men that have hazarded their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

27 We have sent therefore Judas and Silas, who shall also tell you the same things by mouth.

But Gentile believers must not give offence to godly Jews.

28 For it seemed good to the Holy Ghost, and to us, to lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary things;

29 That ye abstain from meats offered to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication: from which if ye keep yourselves, ye shall do well. Fare ye well.

30 So when they were dismissed, they came to Antioch: and when they had gathered the multitude together, they delivered the epistle:

31 Which when they had read, they rejoiced for the consolation.

32 And Judas and Silas, being prophets also themselves, exhorted the brethren with many words, and confirmed them.

33 And after they had tarried there a space, they were let go in ent, or church-age. The church is the ecclesia—the “called-out assembly.” Precisely this has been in progress since Pentecost. The Gospel has never anywhere converted all, but everywhere has called out some. (2) “After this [viz. the out-calling] I will return.” James quotes from Amos 9. 11, 12. The verses which follow in Amos describe the final regathering of Israel, which the other prophets invariably connect with the fulfilment of the Davidic Covenant (e.g. Isa. 11. 1, 10-12; Jer. 23. 5-8). (3) “And will build again the tabernacle of David,” i.e. re-establish the Davidic rule over Israel (2 Sam. 7. 8-17; Lk. 1. 31-33). (4) “That the residue of men [Israelites] may seek after the Lord” (cf. Zech. 12. 7, 8; 13. 1, 2). (5) “And all the Gentiles,” etc. (cf. Mic. 4. 2; Zech. 8. 21, 22). This is also the order of Rom. 11. 24-27.

1 The scope of the decision goes far beyond the mere question of circumcision. The whole question of the relation of the law to Gentile believers had been put in issue (v. 5), and their exemption is declared in the decision (vs. 19, 24). The decision might be otherwise stated in the terms of Rom. 6. 14: “Ye are not under the law, but under grace.” Gentile believers were to show grace by abstaining from the practices offensive to godly Jews (vs. 20, 21, 28, 29; cf. Rom. 14. 12-17; 1 Cor. 8. 1-13).

peace from the brethren unto the apostles.

34 Notwithstanding it pleased Silas to abide there still.

35 Paul also and Barnabas continued in Antioch, teaching and preaching the word of the Lord, with many others also.

Paul's second missionary journey: Silas chosen.

36 And some days after Paul said unto Barnabas, Let us go again and visit our brethren in every city where we have preached the word of the Lord, and see how they do.

37 And Barnabas determined to take with them John, whose surname was Mark.

38 But Paul thought not good to take him with them, who departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the work.

39 And the contention was so sharp between them, that they departed asunder one from the other: and so Barnabas took Mark, and sailed unto Cyprus;

40 And Paul chose Silas, and departed, being recommended by the brethren unto the grace of God.

41 And he went through Syria and Cilicia, confirming the churches.

CHAPTER 16.

Paul finds Timothy.

THEN came he to Derbe and Lystra: and, behold, a certain disciple was there, named Timothy, the son of a certain woman, which was a Jewess, and believed; but his father was a Greek:

2 Which was well reported of by the brethren that were at Lystra and Iconium.

3 Him would Paul have to go forth with him; and took and circumcised him because of the Jews which were in those quarters: for they knew all that his father was a Greek.

4 And as they went through the cities, they delivered them the decrees for to keep, that were ordained of the apostles and elders which were at Jerusalem.

5 And so were the churches established in the faith, and increased in number daily.

The Spirit guides: the Macedonian vision.

6 Now when they had gone throughout Phrygia and the region of Galatia, and were forbidden of the Holy Ghost to preach the word in Asia,

7 After they were come to Mysia, they assayed to go into Bithynia; but the Spirit suffered them not.

8 And they passing by Mysia came down to Troas.

9 And a vision appeared to Paul in the night; There stood a man of Macedonia, and prayed him, saying, Come over into Macedonia, and help us.

10 And after he had seen the vision, immediately we endeavoured to go into Macedonia, assuredly gathering that the Lord had called us for to preach the gospel unto them.

11 Therefore loosing from Troas, we came with a straight course to Samothracia, and the next day to Neapolis;

Paul and Silas at Philippi.

12 And from thence to Philippi, which is the chief city of that part of Macedonia, and a colony: and we were in that city abiding certain days.

13 And on the sabbath we went out of the city by a river side, where prayer was wont to be made; and we sat down, and spake unto the women which resorted thither.

The first convert in Europe.

14 And a certain woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of Thyatira, which worshipped God, heard us: whose heart the Lord opened, that she attended unto the things which were spoken of Paul.

15 And when she was baptized, and her household, she besought us, saying, If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house, and abide there. And she constrained us.

A demon cast out: Paul and Silas beaten.

16 And it came to pass, as we went to prayer, a certain damsel possessed with a spirit of divination met us, which brought her masters much gain by soothsaying:

17 The same followed Paul and us, and cried, saying, These men are the servants of the ^amost high God, which shew unto us the way of ^bsalvation.

18 And this did he many days. But Paul, being grieved, turned and said to the spirit, ^cI command thee in the name of Jesus Christ to come out of her. And he ^dcame out the same hour.

19 And when her masters ^esaw that the hope of their gains was gone, they caught Paul and Silas, and ^fdrew them into the marketplace unto the rulers,

20 And brought them to the ^gmagistrates, saying, These men, being Jews, ^hdo exceedingly trouble our city,

21 And teach customs, which are not lawful for us to receive, neither to observe, being Romans.

22 And the multitude rose up together against them: and the magistrates rent off their clothes, and ⁱcommanded to beat them.

23 And when they had laid many stripes upon them, they cast them into ^jprison, charging the jailor to keep them safely:

24 Who, having received such a charge, thrust them into the inner prison, and made their feet fast in the stocks.

25 And at midnight Paul and Silas ^kprayed, and sang praises unto God: and the prisoners ^lheard them.

26 And suddenly there was a great ^mearthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken: and immediately all the ⁿdoors were opened, and every one's bands were loosed.

27 And the keeper of the prison awaking out of his sleep, and seeing the prison doors open, he drew out his sword, and would have ^okilled himself, supposing that the prisoners had been fled.

28 But Paul cried with a loud voice, saying, Do thyself no harm: for we are all here.

29 Then he called for a light, and sprang in, and came trembling, and fell down before Paul and Silas,

CHAPTER 17.

Founding of the church at Thessalonica. (Cf. 1 and 2 Thes.)

NOW when they had passed through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was a synagogue of the Jews:

2 And Paul, ^aas his manner was, went in unto them, and three sabbath days reasoned with them out of the scriptures,

3 Opening and alleging, that ^bChrist must ^cneeds have suffered, and ^drisen again from the dead; and that this ^eJesus, whom I preach unto you, is Christ.

4 And some of them ^fbelieved, and consorted with Paul and Silas; and of the devout Greeks a great

5 But the Jews which believed not, moved with envy, took unto them certain ^blewd fellows of the baser sort, and gathered a company, and set all the city on an uproar, and assaulted the house of ^cJason, and sought to bring them out to the people.

6 And when they found them not, they ^ddrew Jason and certain brethren unto the rulers of the city, crying, These that have turned the world upside down are come hither also;

7 Whom Jason hath received: and these all do ^econtrary to the decrees of Cæsar, saying that there is ^fanother king, one Jesus.

8 And they troubled the people and the rulers of the city, when they heard these things.

9 And when they had taken security of Jason, and of the other, they let them go.

Paul and Silas at Berea.

10 And the brethren immediately sent away Paul and Silas by night unto Berea: who coming ^gthither went into the synagogue of the Jews.

11 These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all ^hreadiness of mind, and ⁱsearched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so.

12 Therefore many of them believed; also of ^jhonourable women which were Greeks, and of men, not a few.

13 But when the Jews of Thessalonica had knowledge that the word of God was preached of Paul at Berea, they came thither also, and stirred up the people.

14 And then immediately the brethren sent away Paul to go as it were to the sea: but Silas and Timotheus abode there still.

'stirred in him, when he saw the city wholly given to idolatry.

17 Therefore ^adisputed he in the synagogue with the Jews, and with the devout persons, and in the market daily with them that met with him.

18 Then certain philosophers of the ^b"Epicureans, and of the ^c"Stoicks, encountered him. And some said, What will this babbler say? other some, He seemeth to be a setter forth of strange gods: because he preached unto them ^d"Jesus, and the resurrection.

20 For thou bringest certain strange things to our ears: we would know therefore what these things mean.

21 (For all the Athenians and strangers which were there spent their time in nothing else, but either to tell, or to hear some new thing.)

The sermon from Mars' hill. Theme: God will judge the world by Jesus Christ.

22 Then Paul stood in the midst of Mars' hill, and said, Ye men of Athens, I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious.

23 For as I passed by, and beheld ^fyour devotions, I found an altar with this inscription, ^g"TO THE UNKNOWN GOD. Whom therefore ye ignorantly worship, him declare I unto you.

24 "God that made the ^h"world and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, ⁱ"dwelleth not in temples made with hands;

25 Neither is ^j"worshipped with men's hands, as though he needed any thing, seeing he ^k"giveth to all life, and breath, and all things;

26 And hath made of one ^l"blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and the ^m"bounds of their habitation;

27 That they should seek ⁿ"the Lord, if haply they might feel after him, and find him, though he be ^o"not far from every one of us:

28 For in him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain also of your own poets have said, ^p"For we are also his offspring.

29 Forasmuch then as we are the ^{1a}offspring of God, we ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto ^bgold or silver, or stone, graven by art and man's device.

30 And the times of this ignorance God winked at; but now commandeth all men every where to ^{2d}repent:

31 Because he hath appointed a ^cday, in the which he will ^djudge the ^eworld in righteousness by ^fthat man whom he hath ordained; ^gwhereof he hath given ^hassurance unto ⁱall men, in that he hath ^jraised him from the dead.

32 And when they heard of the resurrection of the dead, some ^kmocked; and others said, We will hear thee ^lagain of this ^mmatter.

33 So Paul departed from among them.

34 Howbeit certain men clave unto him, and believed: among the which was Dionysius the Areopagite, and a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

12 And when Gallio was the ^adeputy of Achaia, the Jews made insurrection with one accord against Paul, and brought him to the judgment seat, 13 Saying, This ^bfellow persuadeth men to worship God contrary to the law.

14 And when Paul was now about to open ^chis mouth, Gallio said unto the Jews, If it were a matter of wrong or ^dwicked lewdness O ye Jews, reason would that I should bear with you:

¹ Gr. genos = "race." The reference is to the creation-work of God in which He made man (i.e. mankind, the race in Adam) in His own likeness, Gen. 1. 26, 27, thus rebuking the thought that "the Godhead is like unto gold," etc. The word "Father" is not used, nor does the passage affirm anything concerning fatherhood or sonship, which are relationships based upon faith, and the new birth. Cf. John 1. 12, 13; Gal. 3. 26; 4. 1-7; 1 John 5. 1.

² Repentance is the trans. of a Gr. word (metanoia—metaneo) meaning, "to have another mind," "to change the mind," and is used in the N.T. to indicate a change of mind in respect of sin, of God, and of self. This change of mind may, especially in the case of Christians who have fallen into sin, be preceded by sorrow (2 Cor. 7. 8-11), but sorrow for sin, though it may "work" repentance, is not repentance. The son in Mt. 21. 28, 29 illustrates true repentance. Saving faith (Heb. 11. 39, note) includes and implies that change of mind which is called repentance.

18 And Paul after this tarried there yet a good while, and then took his leave of the brethren, and sailed thence into Syria, and with him Priscilla and Aquila; having shorn his head in Cenchrea: for he had a vow.

19 And he came to Ephesus, and left them there: but he himself entered into the synagogue, and reasoned with the Jews.

20 When they desired him to tarry longer time with them, he consented not;

21 But bade them farewell, saying, I must by all means keep this feast that cometh in Jerusalem: but I will return again unto you, if God will. And he sailed from Ephesus.

22 And when he had landed at Cæsarea, and gone up, and saluted the church, he went down to Antioch.

23 And after he had spent some time there, he departed, and went over all the country of Galatia and Phrygia in order, strengthening all the disciples.

24 And a certain Jew named Apollos, born at Alexandria, an eloquent man, and mighty in the scriptures, came to Ephesus.

25 This man was instructed in the way of the Lord; and being fervent in the spirit, he spake and taught diligently the things of the Lord, knowing only the baptism of John.

26 And he began to speak boldly in the synagogue: whom when Aquila and Priscilla had heard, they took him unto them, and expounded unto him the way of God more perfectly.

27 And when he was disposed to pass into Achaia, the brethren wrote, exhorting the disciples to receive him: who, when he was come, helped them much which had believed through grace:

28 For he mightily convinced the Jews, and that publicly, shewing by the scriptures that Jesus was Christ.

CHAPTER 19.

Paul at Ephesus: the disciples of John become Christians.

AND it came to pass, that, while Apollos was at Corinth, Paul having passed through the upper coasts came to Ephesus: and finding certain disciples,

2 He said unto them, Have ye received the Holy Ghost since ye believed? And they said unto him, We have not so much as heard whether there be any Holy Ghost.

3 And he said unto them, Unto what then were ye baptized? And they said, Unto John's baptism.

4 Then said Paul, John verily baptized with the baptism of repentance, saying unto the people, that they should believe on him which should come after him, that is, on Christ Jesus.

5 When they heard this, they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.

6 And when Paul had laid his hands upon them, the Holy Ghost came on them; and they spake with tongues, and prophesied.

7 And all the men were about twelve.

Paul in the synagogue at Ephesus; and in the school of Tyrannus.

8 And he went into the synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three months, disputing and persuading the things concerning the kingdom of God.

9 But when divers were hardened, and believed not, but spake evil of that way before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated the disciples, disputing daily in the school of one Tyrannus.

¹ Not as in A.V., "since ye believed," but as in R.V. and marg.: "Did ye receive the Holy Spirit when ye believed?" Paul was evidently impressed by the absence of spirituality and power in these so-called disciples. Their answer brought out the fact that they were Jewish proselytes, disciples of John the Baptist, looking forward to a coming King, not Christians looking backward to an accomplished redemption. See Rom. 8. 9; 1 Cor. 6. 19; Eph. 1. 13, marg.

10 And this continued by the space of two years; so that all they which dwelt in Asia heard the word of the Lord Jesus, both Jews and Greeks.

Miracles by Paul.

11 And God wrought special miracles by the hands of Paul:

12 So that from his body were brought unto the sick handkerchiefs or aprons, and the diseases departed from them, and the evil spirits went out of them.

13 Then certain of the vagabond Jews, exorcists, took upon them to call over them which had evil spirits the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, We adjure you by Jesus whom Paul preacheth.

14 And there were seven sons of one Sceva, a Jew, and chief of the priests, which did so.

15 And the evil spirit answered and said, Jesus I know, and Paul I know; but who are ye?

16 And the man in whom the evil spirit was leaped on them, and overcame them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.

17 And this was known to all the Jews and Greeks also dwelling at Ephesus; and fear fell on them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified.

18 And many that believed came, and confessed, and shewed their deeds.

19 Many of them also which used curious arts brought their books together, and burned them before all men; and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand pieces of silver.

20 So mightily grew the word of God and prevailed.

21 After these things were ended, Paul purposed in the 'spirit, when he had passed through Macedonia and Achaia, to go to Jerusalem, saying, After I have been there, I must also see Rome.

22 So he sent into Macedonia two of them that ministered unto him, Timotheus and Erastus; but he himself stayed in Asia for a season.

silver shrines for Diana, brought no small gain unto the craftsmen;

25 Whom he called together with the workmen of like occupation, and said, Sirs, ye know that by this craft we have our wealth.

26 Moreover ye see and hear, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia, this Paul hath persuaded and turned away much people, saying that they be no gods, which are made with hands:

27 So that not only this our craft is in danger to be set at nought; but also that the temple of the great goddess Diana should be despised, and her magnificence should be destroyed, whom all Asia and the world worshippeth.

28 And when they heard these sayings, they were full of wrath, and cried out, saying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

29 And the whole city was filled with confusion: and having caught Gaius and Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, Paul's companions in travel, they rushed with one accord into the theatre.

30 And when Paul would have entered in unto the people, the disciples suffered him not.

31 And certain of the chief of Asia, which were his friends, sent unto him, desiring him that he would not adventure himself into the theatre.

32 Some therefore cried one thing, and some another: for the assembly was confused; and the more part knew not wherefore they were come together.

33 And they drew Alexander out of the multitude, the Jews putting him forward. And Alexander beckoned with the hand, and would have made his defence unto the people.

34 But when they knew that he was a Jew, all with one voice about the space of two hours cried out, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

35 And when the townclerk had appeased the people, he said, Ye men of Ephesus, what man is there that knoweth not how that the city of the Ephesians is a worshipper of the great goddess Diana, and of the image which fell down from Jupiter?

36 Seeing then that these things cannot be spoken against, ye ought to be quiet, and to do nothing rashly.

37 For ye have brought hither these men, which are neither robbers of churches, nor yet blasphemers of your goddess.

38 Wherefore if Demetrius, and the craftsmen which are with him, have a matter against any man, the law is open, and there are deputies: let them implead one another.

39 But if ye enquire any thing concerning other matters, it shall be determined in a lawful assembly.

40 For we are in danger to be called in question for this day's uproar, there being no cause whereby we may give an account of this concourse.

41 And when he had thus spoken, he dismissed the assembly.

CHAPTER 20.

Paul's last visit to Jerusalem: (1) he goes into Macedonia and Greece.

AND after the uproar was ceased, Paul called unto him the disciples, and embraced them, and departed for to go into Macedonia.

2 And when he had gone over those parts, and had given them much exhortation, he came into Greece,

3 And there abode three months. And when the Jews laid wait for him, as he was about to sail into Syria, he purposed to return through Macedonia.

4 And there accompanied him into Asia Sopater of Berea; and of the Thessalonians, Aristarchus and Secundus; and Gaius of Derbe, and Timotheus; and of Asia, Tychicus and Trophimus.

7 And upon the first day of the week, when the disciples came together to break bread, Paul preached unto them, ready to depart on the morrow; and continued his speech until midnight.

8 And there were many lights in the upper chamber, where they were gathered together.

9 And there sat in a window a certain young man named Eutychus, being fallen into a deep sleep; and as Paul was long preaching, he sunk down with sleep, and fell down from the third loft, and was taken up dead.

10 And Paul went down, and fell on him, and embracing him said, Trouble not yourselves; for his life is in him.

11 When he therefore was come up again, and had broken bread, and eaten, and talked a long while, even till break of day, so he departed.

12 And they brought the young man alive, and were not a little comforted.

(3) From Troas to Miletus.

13 And we went before to ship, and sailed unto Assos, there intending to take in Paul: for so had he appointed, minding himself to go afoot.

14 And when he met with us at Assos, we took him in, and came to Mitylene.

15 And we sailed thence, and came the next day over against Chios; and the next day we arrived at Samos, and tarried at Trogyllium; and the next day we came to Miletus.

16 For Paul had determined to sail by Ephesus, because he would not spend the time in Asia: for he hastened, if it were possible for him, to be at Jerusalem the day of Pentecost.

(4) Paul and the Ephesian elders.

17 And from Miletus he sent to Ephesus, and called the elders of the church.

18 And when they were come to him, he said unto them, Ye know, from the first day that I came into Asia, after what manner I have been with you at all seasons,

19 Serving the Lord with all humility of mind, and with many tears, and temptations, which befell me by the lying in wait of the Jews:

20 And how I kept back nothing that was profitable unto you, but have shewed you, and have taught you publicly, and from house to house,

21 Testifying both to the Jews, and also to the Greeks, repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ.

22 And now, behold, I go bound in the ¹spirit unto Jerusalem, not knowing the things that shall befall me there:

23 Save that the Holy Ghost witnesseth in every city, saying that bonds and afflictions abide me.

24 But none of these things move me, ^aneither count I my life dear unto myself, so that I might finish my course with joy, and the ministry, which I have received of the Lord Jesus, to testify the ^bgospel of the grace of God.

25 And now, behold, I know that ye all, among whom I have gone preaching the kingdom of God, shall see my face no more.

26 Wherefore I take you to record this day, that I ^cam ^dpure from the blood of all men.

27 ^eFor I have not shunned to declare unto you all the counsel of God.

28 ^fTake heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the ^gflock, over the which the ^hHoly Ghost hath made you overseers, to feed the church of God, which he hath ⁱpurchased with his own blood.

29 For I know this, that after my departing shall grievous ^jwolves enter in among you, not sparing the flock.

30 Also ^kof your own selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw away disciples after them.

31 Therefore watch, and remember, that by the space of three years I ceased not to warn every one night and day with tears.

32 And now, brethren, ^lI commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are ^msanctified.

33 I have coveted no man's silver, or gold, or apparel.

34 Yea, ye yourselves know, that these hands have ministered unto my necessities, and to them that were with me.

35 ⁿI have shewed you all things, how that so labouring ye ought to support the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said, ^oIt is more blessed to give than to receive.

CHAPTER 21.

(5) From Miletus to Tyre.

AND it came to pass, that after we were gotten from them, and had launched, we came with a straight course unto ¹Coos, and the day following unto Rhodes, and from thence unto Patara:

2 And finding a ship sailing over unto Phenicia, we went aboard, and set forth.

3 Now when we had ²discovered Cyprus, we left it on the left hand, and sailed into Syria, and landed at Tyre: for there the ship was to unlade her burden.

(6) The Holy Spirit forbids Paul to go to Jerusalem.

4 And finding disciples, we tarried there seven days: who said to Paul through the Spirit, that he should not ³go up to Jerusalem.

5 And when we had accomplished those days, we departed and went our way; and they all brought us on our way, with wives and children, till we were out of the city: and we kneeled down on the shore, and prayed.

6 And when we had taken our leave one of another, we took ship: and they returned home again.

7 And when we had finished our course from Tyre, we came to Ptolemais, and saluted the brethren, and abode with them one day.

8 And the next day we that were of Paul's company departed, and came unto Cæsarea: and we entered into the house of ⁴Philip the evangelist, which was one of the seven; and abode with him.

9 And the same man had four daughters, virgins, which did prophesy.

¹ Cf. Acts 21. 4. In Acts 20. 22 Paul's own spirit (1 Thes. 5. 23, note) is meant: in Acts 21. 4 the Holy Spirit. Paul's motive in going to Jerusalem seems to have been his great affection for the Jews (Rom. 9. 1-5), and his hope that the gifts of the Gentile churches, sent by him to poor saints at Jerusalem (Rom. 15. 25-28), would open the hearts of the law-bound Jewish believers to the "gospel of the grace of God" (Acts 20. 24).

(7) The Holy Spirit again warns Paul.

10 And as we tarried there many days, there came down from Judæa a certain prophet, named Agabus.

11 And ^awhen he was come unto us, he took Paul's girdle, and bound his own hands and feet, and said, Thus saith the ^bHoly Ghost, So shall the Jews at Jerusalem bind the man that owneth this girdle, and shall deliver him into the hands of the Gentiles.

12 And when we heard these things, both we, and they of that place, besought him not to go up to Jerusalem.

13 Then Paul answered, What mean ye to weep and to break mine heart? for I am ^cready not to be bound only, but also to die at Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus.

(8) Paul at Jerusalem.

14 And when he would not be persuaded, we ceased, saying, The ^dwill of the Lord be done.

15 And after those days we took up our ^ecarriages, and went up to Jerusalem.

16 There went with us also certain of the disciples of Casarea, and brought with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an ^fold disciple, with whom we should lodge.

17 And when we were come to Jerusalem, the brethren received us gladly.

Paul takes a Jewish vow involving a Jewish sacrifice. (Cf. Heb. 10. 2, 9-12.)

18 And the day following Paul went in with us unto James; and all the ^gelders were present.

19 And when he had saluted them, he ^hdeclared particularly what things God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministry.

20 And when they heard it, they glorified the Lord, and said unto him, Thou seest, brother, how many ⁱthousands of Jews there are which believe; and ^jthey are all zealous of the law:

21 And they are informed of thee, that thou teachest all the Jews which are among the Gentiles to forsake Moses, saying that they ought not to circumcise their children, neither to walk after the customs.

26 Then ^vPaul took the men, and the next day purifying himself with them entered into the temple, to signify the accomplishment of the days of purification, until that an ^woffering should be offered for every one of them.

Paul seized in the temple by the Jews.

27 And when the seven days were almost ended, the Jews which were of Asia, when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the people, and laid hands on him,

28 Crying out, Men of Israel, help: This is the man, that teacheth all men every where against the people, and the law, and this place: and further brought Greeks also into the temple, and hath polluted this ^xholy place.

29 (For they had seen before with him in the city Trophimus an Ephesian, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple.)

30 And all the city was moved, and the people ran together: and they took Paul, and ^ydrew him out of the temple: and forthwith the doors were shut.

31 And as they went ^zabout to kill him, tidings came unto the chief captain of the band, that all Jerusalem was in an uproar.

33 Then the chief captain came near, and took him, and commanded him to be bound with two chains; and demanded who he was, and what he had done.

34 And some cried one thing, some another, among the multitude: and when he could not know the certainty for the tumult, he commanded him to be carried into the castle.

35 And when he came upon the stairs, so it was, that he was borne of the soldiers for the violence of the people.

36 For the multitude of the people followed after, crying, “Away with him.”

11 And when I could not see for the glory of that light, being led by the hand of them that were with me, I came into Damascus.

12 And one Ananias, a devout man according to the law, having a good report of all the Jews which dwell there, 13 Came unto me, and stood, and said unto me, Brother Saul, receive thy sight. And the same hour I looked up upon him.

14 And he said, The God of our fathers hath chosen thee, that thou shouldst know his will, and see that Just One, and shouldst hear the voice of his mouth.

15 For thou shalt be his witness unto all men of what thou hast seen and heard.

16 And now why tarriest thou? arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on the name of the Lord.

The Lord had warned Paul to keep away from Jerusalem.

17 And it came to pass, that, when I was come again to Jerusalem, even while I prayed in the temple, I was in a trance;

18 And saw him saying unto me, Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Jerusalem: for they will not receive thy testimony concerning me.

19 And I said, Lord, they know that I imprisoned and beat in every synagogue them that believed on thee:

20 And when the blood of thy martyr Stephen was shed, ^aI also was standing by, and consenting unto his death, and kept the raiment of them that slew him.

21 And he said unto me, Depart: ^bfor I will send thee far hence unto the Gentiles.

22 ^cAnd they gave him audience unto this word, and then lifted up their voices, and said, Away with such a fellow from the earth: for it is not fit that he should live.

23 And as they cried out, and cast off their clothes, and threw dust into the air, 24 The chief captain commanded him to be brought into the castle, and bade that he should be examined by scourging; that he might know ^dwherefore they cried so against him.

Paul a Roman citizen.

25 And ^eas they bound him with thongs, Paul said unto the centurion that stood by, Is it lawful for you to scourge a man that is a Roman, and uncondemned?

26 When the centurion heard that, he went and told the chief captain, saying, Take heed what thou doest: for this man is a Roman.

27 Then the chief captain came, and said unto him, Tell me, art thou a Roman? He said, Yea.

28 And the chief captain answered, With a great sum obtained I this ^ffreedom. And Paul said, But I ^gwas free born.

29 Then straightway they departed from him which should have examined him: and the chief captain also was afraid, after he knew that he was a Roman, and because he had bound him.

30 On the morrow, because he would have known the certainty wherefore he was accused of the Jews, he loosed him from his bands, and commanded the chief priests and all their council to appear, and brought Paul down, and set him before them.

2 And the high priest Ananias commanded them that stood by him to smite him on the mouth.

3 ^kThen said Paul unto him, God shall smite thee, thou whited wall: for sittest thou to judge me after the law, and commandest me to be smitten contrary to the law?

Paul appeals to the Pharisees.

6 But when Paul perceived that the one part were ^mSadducees, and the other Pharisees, he cried out in the council, Men and brethren, I am a Pharisee, the son of a Pharisee: of the hope and resurrection of the dead I am called in question.

7 And when he had so said, there arose a dissension between the Pharisees and the Sadducees: and the multitude was divided.

8 For the Sadducees say that there is no resurrection, neither angel, nor spirit: but the Pharisees confess both.

9 And there arose a great ⁿcry: and the scribes that were of the Pharisees' part arose, and strove, saying, We find no evil in this man: but if a spirit or an angel hath spoken to him, let us not fight against God.

10 And when there arose a great dissension, the chief captain, fearing lest Paul should have been pulled in pieces of them, commanded the soldiers to go down, and to take him by force from among them, and to bring him into the castle.

The Lord's grace to Paul.

11 And the night following the Lord ^pstood by him, and said, Be of good cheer, Paul: for as thou hast testified of me in Jerusalem, so must thou bear witness also at Rome.

The conspiracy to kill Paul.

12 And when it was day, ^qcertain of the Jews banded together, and bound themselves under a curse, saying that they would neither eat nor drink till they had killed Paul.

13 And they were more than forty which had made this conspiracy.

14 And they came to the chief priests and elders, and said, We have bound ourselves under a great curse, that we will eat nothing until we have slain Paul.

15 Now therefore ye with the council signify to the chief captain that he bring him down unto you to-morrow, as though ye would enquire something more perfectly concerning him: and we, or ever he come near, are ready to kill him.

16 And when Paul's sister's son heard of their lying in wait, he went and entered into the castle, and told Paul.

17 Then Paul called one of the centurions unto him, and said, Bring this young man unto the chief captain: for he hath a certain thing to tell him.

18 So he took him, and brought him to the chief captain, and said, Paul the prisoner called me unto him, and prayed me to bring this young man unto thee, who hath something to say unto thee.

19 Then the chief captain took him by the hand, and went with him aside privately, and asked him, What is that thou hast to tell me?

20 And he said, The Jews have agreed to desire thee that thou wouldest bring down Paul to-morrow into the council, as though they would enquire somewhat of him more perfectly.

21 But do not thou yield unto them: for there lie in wait for him of them more than forty men, which have bound themselves with an oath, that they will neither eat nor drink till they have killed him: and now are they ready, looking for a promise from thee.

22 So the chief captain then let the young man depart, and charged him, See thou tell no man that thou hast shewed these things to me.

Paul sent to Felix at Cæsarea.

23 And he called unto him two centurions, saying, Make ready two hundred soldiers to go to Cæsarea, and horsemen threescore and ten, and spearmen two hundred, at the third hour of the night;

24 And provide them beasts, that they may set Paul on, and bring him safe unto Felix the governor.

25 And he wrote a letter after this manner:

A.D. 60.

26 Claudius Lysias unto the most excellent governor Felix sendeth greeting.

27 This man was taken of the Jews, and should have been killed of them: then came I with an army, and rescued him, having understood that he was a Roman.

28 And when I would have known the cause wherefore they accused him, I brought him forth into their council:

29 Whom I perceived to be accused of questions of their law, but to have nothing laid to his charge worthy of death or of bonds.

30 And when it was told me how that the Jews laid wait for the man, I sent straightway to thee, and gave commandment to his accusers also to say before thee what they had against him. Farewell.

31 Then the soldiers, as it was commanded them, took Paul, and brought him by night to Antipatris.

32 On the morrow they left the horsemen to go with him, and returned to the castle:

33 Who, when they came to Cæsarea, and delivered the epistle to the governor, presented Paul also before him.

34 And when the governor had read the letter, he asked of what province he was. And when he understood that he was of Cilicia;

35 I will hear thee, said he, when thine accusers are also come. And he commanded him to be kept in Herod's judgment hall.

CHAPTER 24.

Paul before Felix.

AND after five days Ananias the high priest descended with the elders, and with a certain orator named Tertullus, who informed the governor against Paul.

(The accusation.)

2 And when he was called forth, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying, Seeing that by thee we enjoy great quietness, and that very worthy deeds are done unto this nation by thy providence,

3 We accept it always, and in all places, most noble Felix, with all thankfulness.

4 Notwithstanding, that I be not further tedious unto thee, I pray thee that thou wouldest hear us of thy clemency a few words.

5 For we have found this man a pestilent afellow, and a mover of sedition among all the Jews throughout the world, and a ring-leader of the sect of the Nazarenes: 6 Who also hath gone about to profane the temple: whom we took, and would have judged according to our law.

7 But the chief captain Lysias came upon us, and with great violence took him away out of our hands,

8 Commanding his accusers to come unto thee: by examining of whom thyself mayest take knowledge of all these things, whereof we accuse him.

9 And the Jews also assented, saying that these things were so.

(Paul's defence before Felix.)

10 Then Paul, after that the governor had beckoned unto him to speak, answered, Forasmuch as I know that thou hast been of many years a judge unto this nation, I do the more cheerfully answer for myself:

11 Because that thou mayest understand, that there are yet but twelve days since I went up to Jerusalem for to worship.

12 And they neither found me in the temple disputing with any man, neither raising up the people, neither in the synagogues, nor in the city:

13 Neither can they prove the things whereof they now accuse me.

14 But this I confess unto thee, that after the way which they call heresy, so worship I the God of my fathers, believing all things which are written in the law and in the prophets:

15 And have hope toward God, which they themselves also allow, that there shall be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and unjust.

16 And herein do I exercise myself, to have always a conscience void of offence toward God, and toward men.

17 Now after many years I came to bring alms to my nation, and offerings.

18 Whereupon certain Jews from Asia found me purified in the temple, neither with multitude, nor with tumult.

CHAPTER 25.

Paul before Festus.

NOW when Festus was come into the province, after three days he ascended from Cæsarea to Jerusalem.

2 Then the high priest and the chief of the Jews informed him against Paul, and besought him,

3 And desired favour against him, that he would send for him to Jerusalem, laying wait in the way to kill him.

4 But Festus answered, that Paul should be kept at Cæsarea, and that he himself would depart shortly thither.

5 Let them therefore, said he, which among you are able, go down with me, and accuse this man, if there be any wickedness in him.

6 And when he had tarried among them more than ten days, he went down unto Cæsarea; and the next day sitting on the judgment seat commanded Paul to be brought.

7 And when he was come, the Jews which came down from Jerusalem stood round about, and laid many and grievous complaints against Paul, which they could not prove.

8 While he answered for himself, Neither against the law of the Jews, neither against the temple, nor yet against Cæsar, have I offended any thing at all.

9 But Festus, willing to do the Jews a pleasure, answered Paul, and said, Wilt thou go up to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these things before me?

Paul appeals to Cæsar.

10 Then said Paul, I stand at Cæsar's judgment seat, where I ought to be judged; to the Jews have I done no wrong, as thou very well knowest.

11 For if I be an offender, or have committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if there be none of these things whereof these accuse me, no man may deliver me unto them. d I appeal unto Cæsar.

12 Then Festus, when he had conferred with the council, answered, Hast thou appealed unto Cæsar? unto Cæsar shalt thou go.

13 And after certain days king Agrippa and Bernice came unto Cæsarea to salute Festus.

14 And when they had been there many days, Festus declared Paul's cause unto the king, saying, There is a certain man left in bonds by Felix:

15 About whom, when I was at Jerusalem, the chief priests and the elders of the Jews informed me, desiring to have judgment against him.

16 To whom I answered, It is not the manner of the Romans to deliver any man to die, before that he which is accused have the accusers face to face, and have licence to answer for himself concerning the crime laid against him.

17 Therefore, when they were come hither, without any delay on the morrow I sat on the judgment seat, and commanded the man to be brought forth.

18 Against whom when the accusers stood up, they brought none accusation of such things as I supposed:

19 But had certain questions against him of their own superstition, and of one Jesus, which was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be alive.

20 And because I doubted of such manner of questions, I asked him whether he would go to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these matters.

21 But when Paul had appealed to be reserved unto the hearing of Augustus, I commanded him to be kept till I might send him to Cæsar.

22 Then Agrippa said unto Festus, I would also hear the man myself. To morrow, said he, thou shalt hear him.

23 And on the morrow, when Agrippa was come, and Bernice, with great pomp, and was entered into the place of hearing, with the chief captains, and principal men of the city, at Festus' commandment h Paul was brought forth.

24 And Festus said, King Agrippa, and all men which are here present with us, ye see this man, about whom all the multitude of the Jews have dealt with me, both at Jerusalem, and also here, crying that he ought not to live any longer.

25 But when I found that he had committed nothing worthy of death, and that he himself hath appealed to Augustus, I have determined to send him.

26 Of whom I have no certain thing to write unto my lord. Wherefore I have brought him forth before you, and specially before thee, O king Agrippa, that, after examination had, I might have somewhat to write.

27 For it seemeth to me unreasonable to send a prisoner, and not withal to signify the crimes laid against him.

CHAPTER 26.

Paul's defence before Agrippa.
(Cf. Acts 9. 1-18; 22. 1-16.)

THEN Agrippa said unto Paul, Thou art permitted to speak for thyself. Then Paul stretched forth the hand, and answered for himself:

2 I think myself happy, king Agrippa, because I shall answer for myself this day before thee touching all the things whereof I am accused of the Jews:

3 Especially because I know thee to be expert in all customs and questions which are among the Jews: wherefore I beseech thee to hear me patiently.

4 My manner of life from my youth, which was at the first among mine own nation at Jerusalem, know all the Jews;

5 Which ^aknew me from the beginning, if they would testify, that after the most straitest sect of our religion I lived a ^bPharisee.

6 And now I stand and am judged for the hope of the ^cpromise made of God unto our fathers:

7 Unto which ^dpromise our twelve tribes, instantly serving God day and night, hope to come. For which hope's sake, king Agrippa, I am accused of the Jews.

8 Why should it be ^ethought a thing incredible with you, that God should raise the dead?

9 I ^fverily thought with myself, that I ought to do many things contrary to the name of Jesus of Nazareth.

10 Which thing I also did ^gin Jerusalem: and many of the saints did I shut up in prison, having received ^hauthority from the chief priests; and when they were put to death, I gave my ⁱvoice against them.

11 And I punished them oft in every synagogue, and compelled them to blaspheme; and being exceedingly mad against them, I persecuted them even unto strange cities.

12 Whereupon as I ^jwent to Damascus with authority and commission from the chief priests,

13 At midday, O king, I saw in the way a light from heaven, above the brightness of the sun, shining round about me and them which journeyed with me.

14 And when we all fallen to the earth, I ^kheard a voice speaking unto me, and saying in the Hebrew tongue, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? ^lit is hard for thee to kick against the ^mpricks.

15 And I said, Who art thou, Lord? And he said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest.

18 To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of ^aSatan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of ^bsins, and inheritance among them which are ^csanctified by faith that is in me.

19 Whereupon, O king Agrippa, I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision:

20 But shewed first unto them of Damascus, and at Jerusalem, and throughout all the coasts of Judæa, and then to the Gentiles, that they should ^drepent and turn to God, and do works meet for repentance.

21 For these causes the Jews caught me in the temple, and went about to kill me.

22 Having therefore obtained help of God, I continue unto this day, witnessing both to small and great, saying none other things than those which the prophets and Moses did say should come:

23 That ^eChrist should suffer, and that he should be the first that should rise from the dead, and should shew light unto the people, and to the Gentiles.

24 And as he thus spake for himself, Festus said with a loud voice, Paul, thou art ^fbeside thyself; much learning doth make thee mad.

27 King Agrippa, believest thou the prophets? I know that thou ^gbelievest.

28 Then Agrippa said unto Paul, ^hAlmost thou persuadest me to be a Christian.

32 Then said Agrippa unto Festus, This man might have been set at liberty, if he had not appealed unto Cæsar.

CHAPTER 27.

Paul is sent to Rome.

AND when it was determined that we should sail into Italy, they delivered ^aPaul and certain other prisoners unto one named Julius, a centurion of Augustus' band.

2 And entering into a ship of Adramyttium, we launched, meaning to sail by the coasts of Asia; one ^dAristarchus, a Macedonian of Thessalonica, being with us.

3 And the next day we touched at Sidon. And ^eJulius courteously entreated Paul, and gave ^fhim liberty to go unto his friends to refresh himself.

4 And when we had launched from thence, we sailed under Cyprus, because the winds were contrary.

5 And when we had sailed over the sea of Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra, a city of Lycia.

6 And there the centurion found a ship of Alexandria sailing into Italy; and he put us therein.

7 And when we had sailed slowly many days, and scarce were come over against Cnidus, the wind not suffering us, we sailed under Crete, over against Salmone;

8 And, hardly passing it, came unto a place which is called The fair havens; nigh whereunto was the city of Lasea.

9 Now when much time was spent, and when sailing was now dangerous, because the ^gfast was now already past, Paul admonished ^hthem,

10 And said unto them, Sirs, I perceive that this voyage will be with hurt and much damage, not only of the lading and ship, but also of our lives.

11 Nevertheless the centurion believed the master and the owner of the ship, more than those things which were spoken by Paul.

14 But not long after there ^{arose} against it a tempestuous wind, called Euroclydon.

15 And when the ship was caught, and could not bear up into the wind, we let ^{her} drive.

16 And running under a certain island which is called Clauda, we had much work to come by the boat:

17 Which when they had taken up, they used helps, undergirding the ship; and, fearing lest they should ^{fall} into the quicksands, strake sail, and so were driven.

18 And we being exceedingly tossed with a tempest, the next day they lightened the ship;

20 And when neither sun nor stars in many days appeared, and no small tempest lay on us, all hope that we should be saved was then taken away.

23 For there stood by me this night ^{the} angel of God, whose I am, and whom I serve, 24 Saying, Fear not, Paul; thou must be brought before Cæsar: and, lo, God hath given thee all them that sail with thee.

25 Wherefore, sirs, be of good cheer: for I ^{believe} God, that it shall be even as it was told me.

26 Howbeit we must be cast upon a certain island.

27 But when the fourteenth night was come, as we were driven up and down in Adria, about midnight the shipmen deemed that they drew near to some country;

28 And sounded, and found it twenty fathoms: and when they had gone a little further, they sounded again, and found it fifteen fathoms.

29 Then fearing lest we should have fallen upon rocks, they cast four anchors out of the stern, and wished for the day.

30 And as the shipmen were about to flee out of the ship, when they had let down the boat into the sea, under colour as though they would have cast anchors out of the foreship,

31 Paul said to the centurion and to the soldiers, Except these abide in the ship, ye cannot be saved.

32 Then the soldiers cut off the ropes of the boat, and let her fall off.

33 And while the day was coming on, Paul besought them all to take meat, saying, This day is the fourteenth day that ye have tarried and continued fasting, having taken nothing.

34 Wherefore I pray you to take some meat: for this is for your health: for there shall not an hair fall from the head of any of you.

35 And when he had thus spoken, he took bread, and gave thanks to God in presence of them all: and when he had broken it, he began to eat.

36 Then were they all of good cheer, and they also took some meat.

37 And we were in all in the ship two hundred threescore and sixteen souls.

38 And when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, and cast out the wheat into the sea.

39 And when it was day, they knew not the land: but they discovered a certain creek with a shore, into the which they were minded, if it were possible, to thrust in the ship.

40 And when they had taken up the anchors, they committed themselves unto the sea, and loosed the rudder bands, and hoised up the mainsail to the wind, and made toward shore.

41 And falling into a place where two seas met, they ran the ship aground; and the forepart stuck fast, and remained unmoveable, but the hinder part was broken with the violence of the waves.

The landing on Melita: miracle of the viper's bite. (Cf. Mk. 16. 18.)

AND when they were escaped, then they knew that the island was called Melita.

2 And the barbarous people shewed us no little kindness: for they kindled a fire, and received us every one, because of the present rain, and because of the cold.

3 And when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks, and laid them on the fire, there came a viper out of the heat, and fastened on his hand.

4 And when the barbarians saw the venomous beast hang on his hand, they said among themselves, No doubt this man is a murderer, whom, though he hath escaped the sea, yet vengeance suffereth not to live.

5 And he shook off the beast into the fire, and felt no harm.

6 Howbeit they looked when he should have swollen, or fallen down dead suddenly: but after they had looked a great while, and saw no harm come to him, they changed their minds, and said that he was a god.

Miracle of the healing of Publius' father.

7 In the same quarters were possessions of the chief man of the island, whose name was Publius; who received us, and lodged us three days courteously.

8 And it came to pass, that the father of Publius lay sick of a fever and of a bloody flux: to whom Paul entered in, and prayed, and laid his hands on him, and healed him.

9 So when this was done, others also, which had diseases in the island, came, and were healed:

10 Who also honoured us with many honours; and when we departed, they laded us with such things as were necessary.

11 And after three months we departed in a ship of Alexandria, which had wintered in the isle, whose sign was Castor and Pollux.

12 And landing at Syracuse, we tarried there three days.

13 And from thence we fetched a compass, and came to Rhegium: and after one day the south wind blew, and we came the next day to Puteoli:

14 Where we found brethren, and were desired to tarry with them seven days: and so we went toward Rome.

15 And from thence, when the brethren heard of us, they came to meet us as far as Appii forum, and The three taverns: whom when Paul saw, he thanked God, and took ‘courage.

Paul turns to the Gentiles.

25 And when they agreed not among themselves, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word, Well spake the ‘Holy Ghost ‘by Esaias the prophet unto our fathers,

26 Saying, Go unto this people, and say, Hearing ye shall hear, and ‘shall not understand; and seeing ye shall see, and not perceive:

27 For the heart of this people is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes have they closed; lest they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with ‘their heart, and should be ‘converted, and I should heal them.

28 Be it known therefore unto you, that the ‘salvation of God is sent unto the Gentiles, and that they will hear it.

29 And when he had said these words, the Jews departed, and had great reasoning among themselves.

30 And Paul dwelt two whole years in his own hired house, and received all that came in unto him.

31 Preaching the kingdom of God, and teaching those things which concern the Lord Jesus Christ, with all confidence, no man forbidding him.

¹ It has been much disputed whether Paul endured two Roman imprisonments, from A.D. 62 to 68, or one. The tradition from Clement to Eusebius favours two imprisonments with a year of liberty between. Erdman (W.J.) has pointed out that the leaving of Trophimus sick at Miletus, mentioned in 2 Tim. 4. 20, could not have been an occurrence of Paul's last journey to Jerusalem, for then Trophimus was not left (Acts 20. 4; 21. 29), nor of the journey to Rome to appear before Cæsar, for then he did not touch at Miletus. To make this incident possible there must have been a release from the first imprisonment, and an interval of ministry and travel.

THE EPISTLES OF PAUL.

THE Epistles of the Apostle Paul have a very distinctive character. All Scripture, up to the Gospel accounts of the crucifixion, looks forward to the cross, and has primarily in view Israel, and the blessing of the earth through the Messianic kingdom. But "hid in God" (Eph. 3. 9) was an unrevealed fact—the interval of time between the crucifixion and resurrection of Christ and His return in glory; and an unrevealed purpose—the outcalling of the ecclesia, the church which is Christ's body. In Mt. 16. our Lord announced that purpose, but wholly without explanation as to how, when, or of what materials, that church should be built, or what should be its position, relationships, privileges, or duties.

All this constitutes precisely the scope of the Epistles of Paul. They develop the doctrine of the church. In his letters to seven Gentile churches (in Rome, Corinth, Galatia, Ephesus, Philippi, Colosse, and Thessalonica), the church, the "mystery which from the beginning of the world hath been hid in God" (Eph. 3. 9), is fully revealed, and fully instructed as to her unique place in the counsels and purposes of God.

Through Paul alone we know that the church is not an organization, but an organism, the body of Christ; instinct with His life, and heavenly in calling, promise, and destiny. Through him alone we know the nature, purpose, and form of organization of local churches, and the right conduct of such gatherings. Through him alone do we know that "we shall not all sleep," that "the dead in Christ shall rise first," and that living saints shall be "changed" and caught up to meet the Lord in the air at His return.

But to Paul was also committed the unfolding of the doctrines of grace which were latent in the teachings of Jesus Christ. Paul originates nothing, but unfolds everything, concerning the nature and purpose of the law; the ground and means of the believer's justification, sanctification, and glory; the meanings of the death of Christ, and the position, walk, expectation, and service of the Christian.

Paul, converted by the personal ministry of the Lord in glory, is distinctively the witness to a glorified Christ, Head over all things to the church which is His body, as the Eleven were to Christ in the flesh, the Son of Abraham and of David.

The chronological order of Paul's Epistles is believed to be as follows: 1 and 2 Thessalonians, 1 and 2 Corinthians, Galatians, Romans, Philemon, Colossians, Ephesians, Philippians, 1 Timothy, Titus, 2 Timothy. Hebrews has a distinctive place, nor can the order of that book amongst the writings of Paul be definitely fixed.

THE TWO SILENCES

Two periods in the life of Paul after his conversion are passed over in a silence which is itself significant—the journey into Arabia, from which the Apostle returned in full possession of the Gospel explanation as set forth in Galatians and Romans; and the two silent years in prison in Cæsarea, between his arrest in the temple at Jerusalem and his deportation to Rome.

It was inevitable that a trained intellect like that of Paul, a convinced believer in Mosaism and, until his conversion on the Damascus road, an eager opposer of Christianity, must seek the underlying principles of the Gospel. Immediately after his conversion he preached Jesus as the Messiah; but the relation of the Gospel to the Law, and, in a lesser degree, to the great Jewish promises, needed clear adjustment if Christianity was to be a reasonable faith, and not a mere dogma. In Arabia Paul sought and found that adjustment through revelation by the Spirit. Out of it came the doctrinal explanation of salvation by grace through faith, wholly apart from the law, embodied in Galatians and Romans.

But the Gospel brings the believer into great relationships—to the Father, to other believers, to Christ, and to the future purposes of God. It is not only a salvation from sin and the consequences of sin, but into an amazing place in the Divine counsels. Furthermore, the new thing, the church in its various aspects and functions, demanded clear revelation. And these are the chief themes of the Epistles written by Paul from Rome, and commonly called the Prison Epistles—Ephesians, Philippians, Colossians. It is contrary to the method of inspiration, as explained by Paul himself, to suppose that these crowning revelations were made apart from deep meditation, demanding quietness, and earnest seeking. It seems most congruous with the events of Paul's life to suppose that these great revelations came during the silent years at Cæsarea—often spoken of as wasted.

HOW TO USE THE SUBJECT REFERENCES.

THE subject references lead the reader from the first clear mention of a great truth to the last. The first and last references (in parenthesis) are repeated each time, so that wherever a reader comes upon a subject he may recur to the first reference and follow the subject, or turn at once to the Summary at the last reference.

WRITER. The Apostle Paul (1. 1). Date. Romans, the sixth in chronological order of Paul's Epistles, was written from Corinth during the apostle's third visit to that city (2 Cor. 13. 1), in A.D. 60. The Epistle has its occasion in the intention of the apostle soon to visit Rome. Naturally, he would wish to announce before his coming the distinctive truths which had been revealed to and through him. He would desire the Christians in Rome to have his own statement of the great doctrines of grace so bitterly assailed everywhere by legalistic teachers.

Theme. The theme of Romans is "the Gospel of God" (1. 1), the very widest possible designation of the whole body of redemption truth, for it is He with whom is "no respect of persons"; and who is not "the God of the Jews only," but "of the Gentiles also" (2. 11; 3. 29). Accordingly, "all the world" is found guilty (3. 19), and a redemption is revealed as wide as the need, upon the alone condition of faith. Not only does Romans embody in the fullest way the doctrines of grace in relation to salvation, but in three remarkable chapters (9.-11.) the great promises to Israel are reconciled with the promises concerning the Gentiles, and the fulfilment of the former shown to await the completion of the church and coming of the Deliverer out of Zion (11. 25-27). The key-phrase is "the righteousness of God" (1. 17; 3. 21, 22).

The Epistle, exclusive of the introduction (1. 1-17), is in seven parts: I. The whole world guilty before God, 1. 18-3. 20. II. Justification through the righteousness of God by faith, the Gospel remedy for guilt, 3. 21-5. 11. III. Crucifixion with Christ, the resurrection life of Christ, and the walk in the Spirit, the Gospel provision for inherent sin, 5. 12-8. 13. IV. The full result in blessing of the Gospel, 8. 14-39. V. Parenthesis: the Gospel does not abolish the covenant promises to Israel, 9. 1-11. 36. VI. Christian life and service, 12. 1-15. 33. VII. The outflow of Christian love, 16. 1-27.

¹ The Heb. and Gr. words for salvation imply the ideas of deliverance, safety, preservation, healing, and soundness. Salvation is the great inclusive word of the Gospel, gathering into itself all the redemptive acts and processes: as justification, redemption, grace, propitiation, imputation, forgiveness, sanctification, and glorification. Salvation is in three tenses: (1) The believer has been saved from the guilt and penalty of sin (Lk. 7. 50; 1 Cor. 1. 18; 2 Cor. 2. 15; Eph. 2. 5, 8; 2 Tim. 1. 9) and is safe. (2) The believer is being saved from the habit and dominion of sin (Rom. 6. 14; Phil. 1. 19; 2. 12, 13; 2 Thes. 2. 13; Rom. 8. 2; Gal. 2. 19, 20; 2 Cor. 3. 18). (3) The believer is to be saved in the sense of entire conformity to Christ (Rom. 13. 11; Heb. 10. 36; 1 Pet. 1. 5; 1 John 3. 2). Salvation is by grace through faith, is a free gift, and wholly without works (Rom. 3. 27, 28; 4. 1-8; 6. 23; Eph. 2. 8). The divine order is: first salvation, then works (Eph. 2. 9, 10; Tit. 3. 5-8).

might through the thanksgiving of many redound to the glory of God.

16 For which cause we faint not; but though our outward man perish, yet the inward man is renewed day by day.

17 For our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory;

18 While we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal.

CHAPTER 5.

(Why death itself has no terrors for the servant of the Lord.)

FOR we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.

2 For in this we groan, earnestly desiring to be clothed upon with our house which is from heaven:

3 If so be that being clothed we shall not be found naked.

4 For we that are in this tabernacle do groan, being burdened: not for that we would be unclothed, but clothed upon, that mortality might be swallowed up of life.

5 Now he that hath wrought us for the selfsame thing is God, who also hath given unto us the earnest of the Spirit.

6 Therefore we are always confident, knowing that, whilst we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord:

7 (For we walk by faith, not by sight:)

8 We are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord.

9 Wherefore we labour, that, whether present or absent, we may be accepted of him.

10 For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ; that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad.

11 Knowing therefore the terror of the Lord, we persuade men; but we are made manifest unto God; and I trust also are made manifest in your consciences.

12 For we commend not ourselves again unto you, but give you occasion to glory on our behalf, that ye may have somewhat to answer them which glory in appearance, and not in heart.

13 For whether we be beside ourselves, it is to God: or whether we be sober, it is for your cause.

The ministry: (f) motive and object.

14 For the love of Christ constraineth us; because we thus judge, that if one died for all, then were all dead:

15 And that he died for all, that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto him which died for them, and rose again.

16 Wherefore henceforth know we no man after the flesh: yea, though we have known Christ after the flesh, yet now henceforth know we him no more.

17 Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new.

18 And all things are of God, who hath reconciled us to himself by Jesus Christ, and hath given to us the ministry of reconciliation;

19 To wit, that God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself, not imputing their trespasses unto them; and hath committed unto us the word of reconciliation.

20 Now then we are ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us: we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God.

21 For he hath made him to be

¹ The judgment of the believer's works, not sins, is in question here. These have been atoned for, and are "remembered no more forever" (Heb. 10. 17); but every work must come into judgment (Mt. 12. 36; Rom. 14. 10; Gal. 6. 7; Eph. 6. 8; Col. 3. 24, 25). The result is "reward" or "loss" (of the reward), "but he himself shall be saved" (1 Cor. 3. 11-15). This judgment occurs at the return of Christ (Mt. 16. 27; Lk. 14. 14; 1 Cor. 4. 5; 2 Tim. 4. 8; Rev. 22. 12). See other judgments, John 12 31, note; 1 Cor. 11. 31, note; Mt. 25. 32, note; Ezk. 20. 37, note; Jude 6, note Rev. 20. 12, note.

The ministry: (g) summary.

WE then as ^aworkers together with him, beseech you also that ye receive not the 'grace of God in vain.

2 (For he saith, 'I have heard thee in a time accepted, and in the day of salvation have I succoured thee: behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation.)

3 Giving no offence in any thing, that the ministry be not blamed:

4 But in all things ^aapproving ourselves as the 'ministers of God, in much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses,

5 In stripes, in imprisonments, in tumults, in labours, in watchings, in fastings;

6 By pureness, by knowledge, by longsuffering, by kindness, by the 'Holy Ghost, by love unfeigned,

7 By the word of truth, by the power of God, by the armour of 'righteousness on the right hand and on the left,

8 By honour and dishonour, by evil report and good report: 'as deceivers, and yet true;

9 As unknown, and yet well known; as dying, and, behold, we live; as chastened, and not killed;

10 As sorrowful, yet always rejoicing; as poor, yet making many rich; as having nothing, and yet ^mpossessing all things.

11 O ye Corinthians, our mouth is open unto you, our heart is enlarged.

12 Ye are not straitened in us, but ye are straitened in your own bowels.

13 Now for a recompence in the same, (I speak as unto my children,) be ye also enlarged.

14 Be ye not 'unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath 'righteousness with 'unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness?

15 And what concord hath Christ with Belial? or what part hath he that believeth with an 'infidel?

16 And what agreement hath the 'temple of 'God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

17 'Wherefore 'come out from among them, and be ye 'separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you,

18 And will 'be a Father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty.

CHAPTER 7.

HAVING therefore these promises, dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the 'flesh and spirit, ^aperfecting holiness in the fear of God.

(4) The heart of Paul (vs. 2-16.)

2 ^aReceive us; we have wronged

¹ Separation, Summary: (1) Separation in Scripture is twofold: "from" whatever is contrary to the mind of God; and "unto" God Himself. The underlying principle is that in a moral universe it is impossible for God to fully bless and use His children who are in compromise or complicity with evil. The unequal yoke is anything which unites a child of God and an unbeliever in a common purpose (Deut. 22. 10). (2) Separation from evil implies (a) separation in desire, motive, and act, from the world, in the ethically bad sense of this present world-system (see Rev. 13. 8, note); and (b) separation from believers, especially false teachers, who are "vessels unto dishonour" (2 Tim. 2. 20, 21; 2 John 9-11). (3) Separation is not from contact with evil in the world or the church, but from complicity with and conformity to it (John 17. 15; 2 Cor. 6. 14-18; Gal. 6. 1). (4) The reward of separation is the full manifestation of the divine fatherhood (2 Cor. 6. 17, 18); unhindered communion and worship (see Heb. 13. 13-15), and fruitful service (2 Tim. 2. 21), as world-conformity involves the loss of these, though not of salvation. Here, as in all else, Christ is the model. He was "holy, harmless, undefiled, and separate from sinners" (Heb. 7. 26), and yet in such contact with them for their salvation that the Pharisees, who illustrate the mechanical and ascetic conception of separation (Mt. 3. 7, note), judged Him as having lost His Nazarite character (Lk. 7. 39). Cf. 1 Cor. 9. 19-23; 10. 27.

no man, we have corrupted no man, we have defrauded no man.

3 I speak not this to condemn you: for I have said before, that ye are in our hearts to die and live with you.

4 Great is my boldness of speech toward you, great is my glorying of you: I am filled with comfort, I am exceeding joyful in all our tribulation.

5 For, when we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but we were troubled on every side; without were fightings, within were fears.

6 Nevertheless God, that comforteth those that are cast down, comforted us by the coming of Titus; 7 And not by his coming only, but by the consolation wherewith he was comforted in you, when he told us your earnest desire, your mourning, your fervent mind toward me; so that I rejoiced the more.

8 For though I made you sorry with a letter, I do not repent, though I did repent: for I perceive that the same epistle hath made you sorry, though it were but for a season.

9 Now I rejoice, not that ye were made sorry, but that ye sorrowed to repentance: for ye were made sorry after a godly manner, that ye might receive damage by us in nothing.

10 For godly sorrow worketh repentance to salvation, not to be repented of: but the sorrow of the world worketh death.

11 For behold this selfsame thing, that ye sorrowed after a godly sort, what carefulness it wrought in you, yea, what clearing of yourselves, yea, what indignation, yea, what fear, yea, what vehement desire, yea, what zeal, yea, what revenge! In all things ye have approved yourselves to be clear in this matter.

12 Wherefore, though I wrote unto you, I did it not for his cause that had done the wrong, nor for his cause that suffered wrong, but that our care for you in the sight of God might appear unto you.

13 Therefore we were comforted in your comfort: yea, and exceedingly the more joyed we for the joy of Titus, because his spirit was refreshed by you all.

14 For if I have boasted any thing to him of you, I am not ashamed; but as we spake all things to you in truth, even so our boasting, which I made before Titus, is found a truth.

15 And his inward affection is more abundant toward you, whilst he remembereth the obedience of you all, how with fear and trembling ye received him.

16 I rejoice therefore that I have confidence in you in all things.

CHAPTER 8.

Part II. The collection for the poor (2 Cor. 8. 1-9. 15).

(1) The example of Macedonia.

1 MOREOVER, brethren, we do you to wit of the grace of God bestowed on the churches of Macedonia;

2 How that in a great trial of affliction the abundance of their joy and their deep poverty abounded unto the riches of their liberality.

3 For to their power, I bear record, yea, and beyond their power they were willing of themselves;

4 Praying us with much intreaty that we would receive the gift, and take upon us the fellowship of the ministering to the saints.

5 And this they did, not as we hoped, but first gave their own selves to the Lord, and unto us by the will of God.

6 Inasmuch that we desired Titus, that as he had begun, so he would also finish in you the same grace also.

(2) The exhortation.

7 Therefore as ye abound in

¹ In 2 Cor. 8. 9., the apostle sums up the Christian doctrine of giving. It may be thus summarized: (1) It is a "grace," i.e. a disposition created by the Spirit (8. 7). (2) In contrast with the law, which imposed giving as a divine requirement, Christian giving is voluntary, and a test of sincerity and love (8. 8-12; 9. 1, 2, 5, 7). (3) The privilege is universal, belonging, according to ability, to rich and poor (8. 1-3, 12-15. Cf. 1 Cor. 16. 1, 2). (4) Giving is to be proportioned to income (8. 12-14. Cf. 1 Cor. 16. 2). The O.T. proportion was the tithe, a proportion which antedates the law (Gen. 14. 20). (5) The rewards of Christian giving are (a) joy (8. 2); (b) increased ability to give in proportion to that which has been already given (9. 7-11); (c) increased thankfulness to God (9. 12); (d) God and the Gospel glorified (9. 13, 14).

every thing, in faith, and utterance, and knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your love to us, see that ye abound in this grace also.

8 I ^aspeak not by commandment, but by occasion of the forwardness of others, and to prove the sincerity of your love.

9 For ye know the ^bgrace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became ^cpoor, that ye through his poverty might be ^drich.

10 And herein I give my advice: for this is expedient for you, who have begun before, not only to do, but also to be forward a year ago.

11 Now therefore ^eperform the doing of it; that as ^fthere was a readiness to will, so ^gthere may be a ^hperformance also out of that which ye have.

12 For if there be first a ⁱwilling mind, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not.

13 For I ^jmean not that other men be eased, and ye burdened:

14 But by an equality, ^kthat now at this time your abundance may be a ^lsupply for their want, that their abundance also may be a ^msupply for your want: that there may be equality:

15 As it is written, ⁿ"He that had gathered much had nothing over; and he that had gathered little had no lack."

(3) The messengers.

16 But thanks be to God, which put the same earnest care into the heart of Titus for you.

17 For indeed he accepted the exhortation; but being ^omore forward, of his own accord he went unto you.

18 And we have sent with him the brother, whose praise is in the ^pgospel throughout all the churches;

19 And not ^qthat only, but who was also chosen of the churches to travel with us with ^rthis grace, which is administered by us to the glory of the same Lord, and ^s"declaration of your ready mind:"

20 Avoiding this, that no man should blame us in this abundance which is administered by us:

21 ^t"Providing for honest things, not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of men."

22 And we have sent with them our brother, whom we have oftentimes proved diligent in many things, but now much more diligent, upon the great confidence which I have in you.

23 Whether any do enquire of Titus, he is my partner and fellow-helper concerning you: or our brethren be enquired of, they are the messengers of the churches, and the glory of Christ.

24 Wherefore shew ye to them, and before the ^achurches, the proof of your love, and of our boasting on your behalf.

CHAPTER 9.

FOR as touching the ^aministering to the saints, it is ^bsuperfluous for me to write to you:

2 For I know the forwardness of your mind, for which I boast of you to them of Macedonia, that Achaia was ready a year ago; and your zeal hath provoked very many.

3 Yet have I sent the brethren, lest our boasting of you should be in vain in this behalf; that, as I said, ye may be ready:

4 Lest haply if they of Macedonia come with me, and find you unprepared, we (that we say not, ye) should be ashamed in this same confident boasting.

5 Therefore I thought it necessary to exhort the brethren, that they would go before unto you, and make up beforehand your bounty, ^cwhereof ye had notice before, that the same might be ready, as a ^dmatter of bounty, and not as of covetousness.

(4) The encouragement: God loves a cheerful giver; if we give, he will give.

6 But this I say, He which soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he which soweth ^ebountifully shall reap also bountifully.

7 Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, so ^flet him give; not grudgingly, or of necessity: for God loveth a ^gcheerful giver.

8 And God is able to make all grace abound toward you; that ye, always having all sufficiency in all things, may abound to every good work:

9 (As it is written, "He hath dispersed abroad; he hath given to the poor: his ^hrighteousness remaineth for ever."

10 Now he that ministereth seed to the sower both ministereth bread for your food, and multiply your seed sown, and increase the fruits of your righteousness;)

11 Being enriched in every thing to all bountifulness, which causeth through us thanksgiving to God.

12 For the administration of this service not only supplieth the want of the saints, but is abundant also by many thanksgivings unto God;

13 Whiles by the experiment of this ministration they glorify God for your professed subjection unto the "gospel of Christ, and for your liberal distribution unto them, and unto all men;

14 And by their prayer for you, which long after you for the exceeding ^bgrace of God in you.

15 Thanks be unto God for his unspeakable gift.

CHAPTER 10.

Part III. The vindication of Paul's apostleship (2 Cor. 10. 1-13. 14). (Cf. Gal. 1. 11-2. 14.)

(1) The divine authentication.

NOW I Paul myself beseech you by the meekness and gentleness of Christ, who in ^dpresence am base among you, but being absent am bold toward you:

2 But I beseech you, that I may not be bold when I am present with that confidence, ^ewherewith I think to be bold against some, which think of us as if we walked according to the flesh.

3 For though we walk in the ^fflesh, we do not war after the flesh:

4 (For the weapons of our warfare are not ^gcarneal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strong holds;)

5 ^hCasting down imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and ⁱbringing into captivity every thought ^jto the obedience of Christ;

6 And having in a readiness to revenge all disobedience, when your obedience is fulfilled.

7 Do ye look on things after the ^koutward appearance? If any man trust to himself that he is Christ's, let him of himself think this again, that, as he is Christ's, even so are we Christ's.

8 For though I should boast somewhat more of our ^lauthority, which the Lord hath given us for ^medification, and not for your ⁿdestruction, I should not be ashamed:

10 For his letters, say they, are weighty and powerful; but his bodily presence is weak, and his speech contemptible.

11 Let such an one think this, that, such as we are in word by letters when we are absent, such will we be also in deed when we are present.

12 For we dare not make ourselves of the number, or compare ourselves with some that commend themselves: but they measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves among themselves, are not wise.

13 But we will not boast of things without our measure, but according to the measure of the rule which God hath distributed to us, a measure to reach even unto you.

14 For we stretch not ourselves beyond our measure, as though we reached not unto you: for we are come as far as to you also in preaching the ^pgospel of Christ:

15 Not boasting of things without our measure, that is, of other men's labours; but having hope, when your faith is increased, that we shall be enlarged by you according to our rule abundantly.

16 To preach the gospel in the regions beyond you, and not to boast in another man's line of things made ready to our hand.

17 But he that glorieth, let him glory in the ^qLord.

18 For not he that commendeth himself is approved, but whom the Lord commendeth.

CHAPTER 11.

(2) The godly jealousy.

WOULD to God ye could bear with me a little in my folly: and indeed bear with me.

2 For I am jealous over you with godly jealousy: for I have ^respoused you to one husband, that I may present you ^sas a chaste virgin to Christ.

3 But I fear, lest by any means, as the serpent beguiled Eve through his subtilty, so your minds should be corrupted from the simplicity that is in Christ.

4 For if he that cometh preacheth another Jesus, whom we have not preached, or if ye receive another spirit, which ye have not received, or ^tanother gospel, which ye have not accepted, ye might well bear with him.

5 For I suppose I was not a whit behind the very chiefest apostles.

6 But though I be ^arude in speech, yet not in knowledge; but we have been thoroughly made manifest among you in all things.

7 Have I committed an ^boffence in abasing myself that ye might be exalted, because I have preached to you the ^cgospel of God freely?

8 I robbed other churches, taking wages of them, to do you service.

9 And when I was present with you, and wanted, I was chargeable to no man: for that which was lacking to me the brethren which came from Macedonia supplied: and in all things I have kept myself from being burdensome unto you, and so will I keep myself.

10 As the truth of Christ is in me, no man shall stop me of this boasting in the regions of Achaia.

11 Wherefore? because I love you not? God knoweth.

12 But what I do, ^dthat I will do, that I may cut off occasion from them which desire occasion; that wherein they glory, they may be found even as we.

(3) The warning against false teachers.

13 For such are ^efalse apostles, deceitful workers, transforming themselves into the apostles of Christ.

14 And no marvel; for ^fSatan himself ^gis transformed into an angel of light.

15 Therefore it is no great thing if his ministers also ^hbe transformed as the ministers of ⁱrighteousness; whose end shall be according to their works.

(4) The enforced boasting (to 12. 18).

16 I say again, Let no man think me a fool; if otherwise, yet as a fool receive me, that I may boast myself a little.

17 That which I speak, I speak it not after the Lord, but as it were foolishly, in this confidence of boasting.

18 Seeing that many glory after the ^jflesh, I will glory also.

19 For ye suffer fools gladly, seeing ye yourselves are wise.

20 For ye suffer, ^kif a man bring you into bondage, ^lif a man devour you, ^mif a man take of you, ⁿif a

2 I ^{knew} a man in Christ above fourteen years ago, (whether in the body, I cannot tell; or whether out of the body, I cannot tell: God knoweth;) such an one caught up to the ^dthird heaven.

3 And I knew such a man, (whether in the body, or out of the body, I cannot tell: God knoweth;)

4 How that he was caught up into ^aparadise, and heard unspeakable words, which it is not ^blawful for a man to utter.

5 Of such an one will I glory: yet of myself I will not glory, but in mine infirmities.

6 For though I would desire to glory, I shall not be a fool; for I will say the truth: but now I forbear, lest any man should think of me above that which he seeth me to be, or that he heareth of me.

7 And lest I should be exalted above measure through the abundance of the revelations, there was given to me a ^{1d}thorn in the flesh, the messenger of ^{Satan} to buffet me, lest I should be exalted above measure.

8 For this thing I besought the Lord thrice, that it might depart from me.

9 And he said unto me, ^fMy grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made ^gperfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in ^hinfirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me.

10 Therefore I take pleasure in ^hinfirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in ⁱdistresses for Christ's sake: for when I am weak, then am I strong.

11 I am become a fool in glorying; ye have compelled me: for I ought to have been commended of you: for in nothing am I behind the very chiefest apostles, ^jthough I be nothing.

12 Truly the ^ksigns of an apostle were wrought among you in all patience, in signs, and wonders, and mighty deeds.

13 For what is it wherein ye were inferior to other ^lchurches, except it be that I myself was not burdensome to you? forgive me this wrong.

14 Behold, the third time I am ready to come to you; and I will not be burdensome to you: ^mfor I seek not your's, but you: for the children ought not to lay up for the parents, but the parents for the children.

¹ It has been conjectured that Paul's "thorn in the flesh" was chronic ophthalmia, inducing bodily weakness, and a repulsive appearance (Gal. 4. 15; 1 Cor. 2. 3, 4; 2 Cor. 10. 10). This cannot be positively known, and the reserve of Scripture is as sure a mark of inspiration as its revelations. Paul's particular "thorn" is not described that his consolations may avail for all to whom any thorn is given.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE

1 1]

GALATIANS.

[1 10

WRITER. The Apostle Paul (1. 1).

Date. Galatians was probably written A.D. 60, during Paul's third visit to Corinth. The occasion of the Epistle is evident. It had come to Paul's knowledge that the fickle Galatians, who were not Greeks, but Gauls, "a stream from the torrent of barbarians which poured into Greece in the third century before Christ," had become the prey of the legalizers, the Judaizing missionaries from Palestine.

Theme. The theme of Galatians is the vindication of the Gospel of the grace of God from any admixture of law-conditions, which qualify or destroy its character of pure grace.

The Galatian error had two forms, both of which are refuted. The first is the teaching that obedience to the law is mingled with faith as the ground of the sinner's justification; the second, that the justified believer is made perfect by keeping the law. Paul meets the first form of the error by a demonstration that justification is through the Abrahamic Covenant (Gen. 15. 18), and that the law, which was four hundred and thirty years after the confirmation of that covenant, and the true purpose of which was condemnation, not justification, cannot disannul a salvation which rests upon the earlier covenant. Paul meets the second and more subtle form by vindicating the office of the Holy Spirit as Sanctifier.

The book is in seven parts: I. Salutation, 1. 1-5. II. Theme, 1. 6-9. III. Paul's Gospel is a revelation, 1. 10-2. 14. IV. Justification is by faith without law, 2. 15-3. 24. V. The rule of the believer's life is gracious, not legal, 3. 25-5. 15. VI. Sanctification is through the Spirit, not the law, 5. 16-24. VII. Exhortations and conclusion, 5. 25-6. 18.

CHAPTER 1.

Part I. Salutation (vs. 1-5).

PAUL, an apostle, (not of men, neither by man, but by Jesus Christ, and God the Father, who raised him from the dead;)

2 And all the brethren which are with me, unto the churches of Galatia:

3 Grace be to you and peace from God the Father, and from our Lord Jesus Christ,

4 Who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us from this present evil world, according to the will of God and our Father:

5 To whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

moved from him that called you into the grace of Christ unto another gospel:

7 Which is not another; but there be some that trouble you, and would pervert the gospel of Christ.

8 But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed.

9 As we said before, so say I now again, If any man preach any other gospel unto you than that ye have received, let him be accursed.

Part III. Paul's gospel is a revelation, not a tradition from the other apostles (Gal. 1. 10-2. 14).

10 For do I now persuade men, or God? or do I seek to please men? for if I yet pleased men, I should not be the servant of Christ.

¹ The test of the Gospel is grace. If the message excludes grace, or mingles law with grace as the means either of justification or sanctification (Gal. 2. 21; 3. 1-3), or denies the fact or guilt of sin which alone gives grace its occasion and opportunity, it is "another" gospel, and the preacher of it is under the anathema of God (vs. 8, 9).

² The demonstration is as follows: (1) The Galatians know Paul, that he is no seeker after popularity (v. 10). (2) He puts his known character back of the assertion that his Gospel of grace was a revelation from God (vs. 11, 12). (3) As for the 11 But I certify you, brethren, that the "gospel which was preached of me is not after ^bman.

12 For I neither received it of man, neither was I taught it, but by the revelation of Jesus Christ.

13 For ye have heard of my conversation in time past in the ^{1d}Jews' religion, how that beyond measure I persecuted the church of God, and wasted it:

14 And profited in the Jews' ²religion above many my equals in mine own nation, being more exceedingly zealous of the traditions of my fathers.

15 But when it pleased God, who separated me from my mother's womb, and called me by his grace,

16 To reveal his Son ⁱⁿ me, that I might preach him among the heathen; immediately I conferred not with flesh and blood:

17 Neither went I up to Jerusalem to them which were apostles before me; but I went into Arabia, and returned again unto Damascus.

18 Then after three years I went up to Jerusalem to see Peter, and abode with him fifteen days.

19 But other of the apostles saw I none, save James the Lord's brother.

20 Now the things which I write unto you, behold, before God, I lie not.

21 Afterwards I came into the regions of Syria and Cilicia;

22 And was unknown by face unto the churches of Judæa which were in Christ:

23 But they had heard only, That he which persecuted us in times past now preacheth the faith which once he destroyed.

24 And they glorified God in me.

2 And I went up by revelation, and communicated unto them that gospel which I preach among the Gentiles, but privately to them which were of reputation, lest by any means I should run, or had run, in vain.

3 But neither Titus, who was with me, being a Greek, was compelled to be circumcised:

4 And that because of false brethren unawares brought in, who came in privily to spy out our liberty which we have in Christ Jesus, that they might bring us into bondage:

5 To whom we gave place by subjection, no, not for an hour; that the truth of the gospel might continue with you.

6 But of these who seemed to be somewhat, (whatsoever they were, it maketh no matter to me: God accepteth no man's person:) for they who seemed to be somewhat in conference added nothing to me:

7 But contrariwise, when they saw that the gospel of the uncircumcision was committed unto me, as the gospel of the circumcision was unto Peter;

8 (For he that wrought effectually in Peter to the apostleship of the circumcision, the same was mighty in me toward the Gentiles:)

9 And when James, Cephas, and John, who seemed to be pillars, perceived the grace that was given unto me, they gave to me and Barnabas the right hands of fellowship; that we should go unto the heathen, and they unto the circumcision.

10 Only they would that we should remember the poor; the same which I also was forward to do.

11 But when Peter was come to Antioch, I withstood him to the face, because he was to be blamed.

12 For before that certain came from James, he did eat with the Gentiles; but when they were come, he withdrew and separated him-

Judaizers, Paul himself had been a foremost Jew, and had forsaken Judaism for something better (vs. 13, 14). (4) He had preached grace years before he saw any of the other apostles (vs. 15-24). (5) When he did meet the other apostles they had nothing to add to his revelations (2, 1-6). (6) The other apostles fully recognized Paul's apostleship (2, 7-10). (7) If the legalizers pleaded Peter's authority, the answer was that he himself had claimed none when rebuked (2, 11-14).

¹ The new dispensation of grace having come in, the Mosaic system, if still persisted in, becomes a mere "Jews' religion."

² In verses 13 and 14 the Greek word for "the Jews' religion" is Ioudaismos (Judaism). In Acts 26. 5 and Jas. 1. 26, 27, threskeia—religious service—is translated "religion," and in Col. 2. 18 "worshipping." Excepting Jas. 1. 27, "religion" has always a bad sense, and nowhere is it synonymous with salvation or spirituality.

self, fearing them which were of the circumcision.

13 And the other Jews dissembled likewise with him; insomuch that ^aBarnabas also was carried away with their dissimulation.

14 But when I saw that they walked not uprightly according to the truth of the ^bgospel, I said unto Peter before them all, If thou, being a Jew, livest after the manner of Gentiles, and not as do the Jews, why compellest thou the Gentiles to live as do the Jews?

Part IV. Justification is by faith without law (Gal. 2. 15-3. 24).

(1) Even Jews must be so justified.

15 ¹We who are ^cJews by nature, and not ^dsinners of the Gentiles,

16 Knowing that a man is not ^ejustified by the works of the law, but by the ^ffaith of Jesus Christ, even we have believed in ^gJesus Christ, that we might be ^hjustified by the faith of Christ, and ⁱnot by the works of the law: for by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified.

17 But if, while ^jwe seek to be justified ^kby Christ, we ourselves also are found ^lsinners, is therefore Christ the ^mminister of sin? God forbid.

18 For if I ⁿbuild again the things which I destroyed, I make myself a ^otransgressor.

(2) The law has already executed its sentence upon the believer.

19 For I through the law am ^pdead to the law, that I might live unto God.

(3) The Christian life is the out-living of the in-living Christ. (Cf. Gal. 5. 15-23.)

20 I am ^qcrucified with Christ: nevertheless ^rI live; yet ^snot I, but Christ liveth in me: and the ^tlife which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me.

(4) To mingle law-works with grace in justification frustrates grace.

21 I do not frustrate the ^hgrace of God: for if ⁱrighteousness come by the law, then Christ is dead ^jin vain.

CHAPTER 3.

(5) The gift of the Spirit is by faith, not by law-works.

FOOLISH Galatians, who hath bewitched you, that ye should not obey the truth, before whose eyes Jesus Christ hath been evidently set forth, crucified among you?

2 This only would I learn of you, Received ye the Spirit by the works of the law, or by the ^khearing of faith?

3 Are ye so foolish? having begun in the Spirit, are ye now made ^lperfect by the ^mflesh?

4 Have ye suffered so many things in vain? if it be yet in vain.

5 He therefore that ⁿministereth to you the Spirit, and worketh miracles among you, doeth he it by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith?

(6) The Abrahamic Covenant is a by-faith covenant. (Cf. Rom. 4. 1-22.)

6 Even as Abraham ^obelieved ^pGod, and it was ^qaccounted to him for righteousness.

7 Know ye therefore that they which are of faith, the same are ^rthe children of Abraham.

8 And the scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the ^sheathen through faith, preached before the ^tgospel unto Abraham, saying, ^uIn thee shall all nations be blessed.

9 So then they which be of faith are blessed with ^vfaithful Abraham.

(7) The man under law-works is under the curse of the law.

10 For as many as are of the works of the law are under the curse: for it is written, ^wCursed is every one that continueth not in all

¹ Paul here quotes from his words to Peter when he withstood him at Antioch to show the Galatians that, whatever the legalists may have pretended, Peter and he were in perfect accord doctrinally. Paul appealed to the common belief of Peter and himself as a rebuke of Peter's inconsistent practice.

² That is, "we" Jews. (See Rom. 3. 19-23.) The passage might be thus paraphrased: If we Jews, in seeking to be justified by faith in Christ, take our places as mere sinners, like the Gentiles, is it therefore Christ who makes us sinners? By no means. It is by putting ourselves again under law after seeking justification through Christ, that we act as if we were still unjustified sinners, seeking to become righteous through law-works. (Cf. Gal. 5. 1-4.)

things which are written in the book of the law to do them.

11 But that no man is ^ajustified by the law in the sight of God, it is evident: for, ^bThe just shall live by faith.

12 And the law is ^cnot of faith: but, ^dThe man that doeth them shall live in them.

(8) Christ has borne our law-curse that we might have the faith-blessing.

13 Christ hath ^eredeemed us from the curse of the law, being ^fmade a curse for us: for it is written, ^gCursed is every one that hangeth on a tree:

14 That the ^hblessing of Abraham might come on the ⁱGentiles through ^jJesus Christ; that we might receive the promise of the ^kSpirit through faith.

15 Brethren, I speak after the manner of men; Though it be but a man's covenant, yet if it be confirmed, no man disannulleth, or addeth thereto.

16 Now to ^lAbraham and his seed were the promises made. He saith not, And to ^mseeds, as of many; but as of ⁿone, And to thy seed, which is Christ.

(9) The law does not add a new condition to the Abrahamic covenant of faith.

17 And this I say, that the cove-

19 Wherefore then ^cserveth the law? It was added ^dbecause of transgressions, till the ^eseed should come to whom the promise was made; and it was ordained by angels in the hand of a mediator.

20 Now a mediator is not a mediator of one, but God is one.

21 Is the law then against the promises of God? God forbid: for if there had been a law given which could have given life, verily ^frighteousness should have been by the law.

22 But the scripture hath concluded all under sin, that the promise by faith of Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe.

23 But before faith came, we were kept under the law, shut up unto the faith which should afterwards be revealed.

24 Wherefore the ^glaw was our schoolmaster ^hto bring us ⁱunto

¹ The answer is sixfold: (1) The law was added because of transgressions, i.e. to give to sin the character of transgression. (a) Men had been sinning before Moses, but in the absence of law their sins were not put to their account (Rom. 5. 13); the law gave to sin the character of "transgression," i.e. of personal guilt. (b) Also, since men not only continued to transgress after the law was given, but were provoked to transgress by the very law which forbade it (Rom. 7. 8), the law conclusively proved the inveterate sinfulness of man's nature (Rom. 7. 11-13). (2) The law, therefore, "concluded all under sin" (cf. Rom. 3. 19, 20, 23). (3) The law was an ad interim dealing, "till the seed should come" (v. 19). (4) The law shut sinful man up to faith as the only avenue of escape (v. 23). (5) The law was to the Jews what the pedagogue was in a Greek household, a ruler of children in their minority, and it had this character "unto" (i.e. until) Christ (v. 24). (6) Christ having come, the believer is no longer under the pedagogue (v. 25).

² I. The law of Moses, Summary: (1) The Mosaic Covenant was given to Israel in three parts: the commandments, expressing the righteous will of God (Ex. 20. 1-26); the "judgments," governing the social life of Israel (Ex. 21. 1-24. 11), and the "ordinances," governing the religious life of Israel (Ex. 24. 12; 31. 18). (2) The commandments and ordinances were one complete and inseparable whole. When an Israelite sinned, he was held "blameless" if he brought the required offering (Lk. 1. 6; Phil. 3. 6). (3) Law, as a method of the divine dealing with man, characterized the dispensation extending from the giving of the law to the death of Jesus Christ (Gal. 3. 13, 14, 23, 24). (4) The attempt of legalistic teachers (e.g. Acts 15. 1-31; Gal. 2. 1-5) to mingle law with grace as the divine method for this present dispensation of grace, brought out the true relation of the law to the Christian, viz.

II. The Christian doctrine of the law: (1) Law is in contrast with grace. Under Christ, that we might be justified by faith.

Part V. The rule of the believer's life is gracious, not legal (Gal. 3. 25-5. 15).

25 But after that faith is come, we are no longer under a school-master.

(1) The justified believer is a son in the family of God, not a servant under the law.

26 For ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus.

27 For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ.

28 There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus.

29 And if ye be Christ's, then are ye Abraham's seed, and heirs according to the promise.

children, were in bondage under the elements of the world:

(2) The believer is redeemed from under the law.

4 But when the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son, made of a woman, made under the law,

5 To redeem them that were under the law, that we might receive the adoption of sons.

(3) The Spirit actualizes the believer's sonship. (See Eph. 1. 5, note.)

6 And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father.

7 Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son; and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ.

(4) To lapse into legality is to go back to an elementary religion.

8 Howbeit then, when ye knew not God, ye did service unto them which by nature are no gods.

9 But now, after that ye have known God, or rather are known of God, how turn ye again to the weak and beggarly elements, whereunto ye desire again to be in bondage?

10 Ye observe days, and months, and times, and years.

the latter God bestows the righteousness which, under law, He demanded (Ex. 19. 5; John 1. 17; Rom. 3. 21, note; 10. 3-10; 1 Cor. 1. 30). (2) The law is, in itself, holy, just, good, and spiritual (Rom. 7. 12-14). (3) Before the law the whole world is guilty, and the law is therefore of necessity a ministry of condemnation, death, and the divine curse (Rom. 3. 19; 2 Cor. 3. 7-9; Gal. 3. 10). (4) Christ bore the curse of the law, and redeemed the believer both from the curse and from the dominion of the law (Gal. 3. 13; 4. 5-7). (5) Law neither justifies a sinner nor sanctifies a believer (Gal. 2. 16; 3. 2, 3, 11, 12). (6) The believer is both dead to the law and redeemed from it, so that he is "not under the law, but under grace" (Rom. 6. 14; 7. 4; Gal. 2. 19; 4. 4-7; 1 Tim. 1. 8, 9). (7) Under the new covenant of grace the principle of obedience to the divine will is inwrought (Heb. 10. 16). So far is the life of the believer from the anarchy of self-will that he is "inlawed to Christ" (1 Cor. 9. 21), and the new "law of Christ" (Gal. 6. 2; 2 John 5) is his delight; while, through the indwelling Spirit, the righteousness of the law is fulfilled in him (Rom. 8. 2-4; Gal. 5. 16-18). The commandments are used in the distinctively Christian Scriptures as an instruction in righteousness (2 Tim. 3. 16; Rom. 13. 8-10; Eph. 6. 1-3; 1 Cor. 9. 8, 9).

¹ Gr. paidagogos, "child-conductor." "Among the Greeks and Romans, persons, for the most part slaves, who had it in charge to educate and give constant attendance upon boys till they came of age."—H. A. W. Meyer. The argument does not turn upon the extent or nature of the pedagogue's authority, but upon the fact that it wholly ceased when the "child" (4. 1) became a "son" (4. 1-6), when the minor became an adult. The adult "son" does voluntarily that which formerly he did in fear of the pedagogue. But even if he does not, it is no longer a question between the son and the pedagogue (the law), but between the son and his Father—God. (Cf. Heb. 12. 5-10; 1 John 2. 1, 2.)

11 I am afraid of you, lest I have bestowed upon you labour in vain.

12 Brethren, I beseech you, be as I am; for I am as ye are: ye have not ^binjured me at all.

13 Ye know how through infirmity of the flesh I preached the ^cgospel unto you at the first.

14 And my ^dtemptation which was in my flesh ye despised not, nor rejected; but received me as an angel of God, even as Christ Jesus.

(5) In legality the Galatians have lost their blessing.

15 Where is then the blessedness ye spake of? for I bear you record, that, if it ^ehad been possible, ye would have ^fplucked out your own eyes, and have given them to me.

16 Am I therefore become your ^genemy, because I tell you the truth?

17 They zealously affect you, but not well; yea, they would ^hexclude you, that ye might affect them.

18 But it is good to be zealously affected always in a good ⁱthing, and ^jnot only when I am present with you.

(6) The two systems, law and grace, cannot co-exist.

19 My ^klittle children, of whom I travail in birth again until Christ be formed in you,

20 I desire to be ^lpresent with you now, and to change my voice; for I stand in ^mdoubt of you.

21 Tell me, ye that desire to be under the ⁿlaw, do ye not ^ohear the law?

22 For it is written, ^pthat Abraham had two sons, the one by a bondmaid, the other by a freewoman.

23 But he ^qwho was of the bondwoman was born after the ^rflesh; but he of the freewoman was by ^spromise.

24 Which things are an allegory: for these are the ^ttwo covenants; the one from the mount ^uSinai, which gendereth to ^vbondage, which is ^wAgar.

25 For this ^xAgar is mount Sinai in Arabia, and answereth to Jerusalem which now is, and is in ^ybondage with her children.

CHAPTER 5.

Application of the allegory.

STAND fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the ⁱyoke of bondage.

2 Behold, I Paul say unto you, that ^jif ye be circumcised, Christ shall profit you nothing.

3 For I testify again to every man that is circumcised, that he is a ^kdebtor to do the whole law.

4 Christ is become of ^lno effect unto you, whosoever of you are ^mjustified by the law; ye are ⁿfallen from ^ograce.

5 For we through the Spirit ^pwait for the hope of ^qrighteousness by faith.

6 For in ^rJesus Christ neither ^scircumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision; but ^tfaith which ^uworketh by love.

7 Ye ^vdid run well; who did hinder you that ye should not obey the truth?

8 This persuasion ^wcometh not of him that calleth you.

9 A little ^xleaven leaveneth the whole lump.

10 I have confidence in you through the Lord, that ye will be none otherwise minded: but he that troubleth you shall bear his judgment, whosoever he be.

¹ The allegory (vs. 22-31) is addressed to justified but immature believers (cf. 1 Cor. 3. 1, 2), who, under the influence of legalistic teachers, "desire to be under the law," and has, therefore, no application to a sinner seeking justification. It raises and answers, for the fifth time in this Epistle, the question, Is the believer under the law? (Gal. 2. 19-21; 3. 1-3; 3. 25, 26; 4. 4-6; 4. 9-31).

11 And I, brethren, if I yet preach circumcision, why do I yet suffer ^apersecution? then is the ^boffence of the cross ceased.

12 I would they were even cut off which trouble you.

13 For, brethren, ye have been ^ccalled unto liberty; only use not liberty for an ^doccasion to the flesh, but by ^elove serve one another.

14 For all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this; ^fThou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

15 But if ye ^gbite and devour one another, take heed that ye be not ^hconsumed one of another.

Part VI. Sanctification is through the Spirit, not the law (vs. 16-24).

16 This I say then, ⁱWalk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfil the lust of the flesh.

(1) The Spirit gives victory over sin. (Cf. Rom. 8. 2. See Rom. 7. 15, note.)

17 For the flesh ^jlusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary the one to the other: so that ye ^kcannot do the things that ye would.

18 But if ye be ^lled of the Spirit, ye are not ^munder the law.

19 Now the ⁿworks of the flesh are manifest, which are these; Adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness,

20 Idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies,

21 Envyings, murders, drunkenness, revellings, and such like: of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past, that they which do such things shall ^onot inherit the kingdom of God.

(2) Christian character is produced by the Holy Spirit, not by self-effort. (Cf. John 15. 1-5; Gal. 2. 20.)

22 ^pBut the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, ^qfaith,

23 Meekness, temperance: against ^rsuch there is no law.

Part VII. The outworking of the new life in Christ Jesus (Gal. 5. 25-6. 18).

25 If we live in the ^bSpirit, let us also walk in the Spirit.

26 Let us not be desirous of ^cvain glory, provoking one another, envying one another.

CHAPTER 6.

(1) The new life as a brotherhood: (a) the case of a sinning brother.

BRETHREN, if a man be overtaken in a ^afault, ye which are ^bspiritual, ^crestore such an one in the spirit of ^dmeekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be ^etempted.

(b) The case of a burdened brother.

2 ^fBear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the ^glaw of Christ.

3 For if a man ^hthink himself to be something, when he is nothing, he ⁱdeceiveth himself.

4 But let every man ^jprove his own work, and then shall he have rejoicing in ^khimself alone, and not in another.

5 For every man shall ^lbear his own burden.

(c) The case of a teaching brother.

6 Let him that is taught in the word ^mcommunicate unto him that teacheth in all good things.

(2) The new life as a husbandry.

7 ⁿBe not deceived; God is not mocked: for ^owhatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.

8 For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the ^pSpirit shall of the Spirit reap ^qlife everlasting.

9 And let us not be ^rweary in well doing: for in due season we shall ^sreap, if we faint not.

¹ Christian character is not mere moral or legal correctness, but the possession and manifestation of nine graces: love, joy, peace—character as an inward state; longsuffering, gentleness, goodness—character in expression toward man; faith, meekness, temperance—character in expression toward God. Taken together they present a moral portrait of Christ, and may be taken as the apostle's explanation of Gal. 2. 20, "Not I, but Christ," and as a definition of "fruit" in John 15. 1-8. This character is possible because of the believer's vital union to Christ (John 15. 5; 1 Cor. 12. 12, 13), and is wholly the fruit of the Spirit in those believers who are yielded to Him (Gal. 5. 22, 23).

(3) The new life as a beneficence.
(Cf. Acts 10. 38.)

10 As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith.

(4) The new life in sacrificial love.

11 Ye see how large a letter I have written unto you with mine own hand.

12 As many as desire to make a fair shew in the flesh, they constrain you to be circumcised; only lest they should suffer persecution for the cross of Christ.

13 For neither they themselves who are circumcised keep the law; but desire to have you circumcised, that they may glory in your flesh.

¹ Gr. "with how large letters . . . mine own hand." The apostle was, it appears from many considerations, afflicted with ophthalmia, a common disease in the East, to the point almost of total blindness (e.g. Gal. 4. 13-15). Ordinarily, therefore, he dictated his letters. But now, having no amanuensis at hand, but urged by the spiritual danger of his dear Galatians, he writes, we cannot know with what pain and difficulty, with his own hand, in the "large letters" his darkened vision compelled him to use.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE EPHESIANS.

1 1]

WRITER. The Apostle Paul (I. 1).

Date. Ephesians was written from Rome in A.D. 64. It is the first in order of the Prison Epistles (Acts 20.-27.; see Acts 28. 30, note), and was sent by Tychicus, concurrently with Colossians and Philemon. It is probable that the two greater letters had their occasion in the return of Onesimus to Philemon. Ephesians is the most impersonal of Paul's letters. Indeed the words, "to the Ephesians," are not in the best manuscripts. Colossians (4. 16) mentions an epistle to the Laodiceans. It has been conjectured that the letter known to us as Ephesians is really the Laodicean letter. Probably it was sent to Ephesus and Laodicea without being addressed to any church. The letter would then be "to the saints and the faithful in Christ Jesus" anywhere.

Theme. The doctrine of the Epistle confirms this view. It contains the highest church truth, but has nothing about church order. The church here is the true church, "His body," not the local church, as in Philippians, Corinthians, etc. Essentially, three lines of truth make up this Epistle: the believer's exalted position through grace; the truth concerning the body of Christ; and a walk in accordance with that position.

There is a close spiritual affinity between Ephesians and Joshua, the "heavenlies" answering in Christian position to Canaan in Israel's experience. In both there is conflict, often failure, but also victory, rest, and possession (Josh. 21. 43-45; Eph. 1. 3; 3. 14-19; 6. 16, 23). As befits a complete revelation, the number seven is conspicuous in the structure of Ephesians.

The divisions are, broadly, four: I. The apostolic greeting, 1. 1, 2. II. Positional; the believer's standing "in Christ" and "in the heavenlies" through pure grace, 1. 3-3. 21. III. Walk and service, 4. 1-5. 17. IV. The walk and warfare of the Spirit-filled believer, 5. 18-6. 24.

Part II. The believer's position in grace (Eph. 1. 3-3. 21).

(1) The seven elements of the believer's position.

3 "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places in Christ:

4 According as he hath chosen us in him before the foundation

¹ The believer's place as a member of the body of Christ, vitally united to Him by the baptism with the Holy Spirit (1 Cor. 12. 12, 13).

² Literally, the heavenlies. The same Greek word is used in John 3. 12, where "things" is added. In both places the word signifies that which is heavenly in contradistinction to that which is earthly. In Ephesians "places" is especially misleading. "The heavenlies" may be defined as the sphere of the believer's spiritual experience as identified with Christ in nature (2 Pet. 1. 4); life (Col. 3. 4; 1 John 5. 12); relationships (John 20. 17; Heb. 2. 11); service (John 17. 18; Mt. 28. 20); suffering (Phil. 1. 29; 3. 10; Col. 1. 24); inheritance (Rom. 8. 16, 17); and future glory in the kingdom (Rom. 8. 18-21; 1 Pet. 2. 9; Rev. 1. 6; 5. 10). The believer is a heavenly man, and a stranger and pilgrim on the earth (Heb. 3. 1; 1 Pet. 2. 11).

of the ^aworld, that we should be ^bholy and without blame before him in love:

5 Having ¹predestinated us unto the ²adoption of children by Jesus Christ to himself, according to the good pleasure of his will,

6 To the praise of the glory of his grace, wherein he hath made us accepted in the beloved.

7 In whom we have redemption ^dthrough his blood, the forgiveness of ^esins, according to the riches of his ^fgrace;

8 Wherein he hath abounded toward us in all wisdom and prudence;

9 Having made known unto us the ^gmystery of his will, according to his good pleasure which he hath purposed in himself:

10 That in the ^hdispensation of the fulness of times he might gather together in one all things in Christ, both which are in heaven, and which are on earth; even in him:

11 In whom also we have obtained an inheritance, being ⁱpredestinated according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after the ^jcounsel of his own will:

12 That we should be to the ^kpraise of his glory, who first ^ltrusted in Christ.

13 In whom ye also ^mtrusted, after

14 Which is the earnest of our inheritance until the redemption of the purchased possession, unto the praise of his glory.

(2) The prayer for knowledge and power.

15 Wherefore I also, after I heard of your faith in the Lord Jesus, and love unto all the saints,

16 Cease not to give thanks for you, making mention of you in my ^vprayers;

17 That the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give unto you the spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of him:

18 The eyes of your understanding being enlightened; that ye may know what is the hope of his calling, and what the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints,

19 And what is the exceeding greatness of his power to us-ward who believe, according to the working of his mighty power,

20 Which he wrought in Christ, when he raised him from the dead,

¹ Predestination is that effective exercise of the will of God by which things before determined by Him are brought to pass. See Election, 1 Pet. 1. 2, note; Foreknowledge, 1 Pet. 1. 20, note.

² Adoption (huiothesia, "placing as a son") is not so much a word of relationship as of position. The believer's relation to God as a child results from the new birth (John 1. 12, 13), whereas adoption is the act of God whereby one already a child is, through redemption from the law, placed in the position of an adult son (Gal. 4. 1-5). The indwelling Spirit gives the realization of this in the believer's present experience (Gal. 4. 6); but the full manifestation of the believer's sonship awaits the resurrection, change, and translation of saints, which is called "the redemption of the body" (Rom. 8. 23; 1 Thes. 4. 14-17; Eph. 1. 14; 1 John 3. 2).

³ The Dispensation of the Fulness of Times. This, the seventh and last of the ordered ages which condition human life on the earth, is identical with the kingdom covenanted to David (2 Sam. 7. 8-17; Zech. 12. 8, Summary; Lk. 1. 31-33; 1 Cor. 15. 24, Summary), and gathers into itself under Christ all past "times": (1) The time of oppression and misrule ends by Christ taking His kingdom (Isa. 11. 3, 4). (2) The time of testimony and divine forbearance ends in judgment (Mt. 25. 31-46; Acts 17. 30, 31; Rev. 20. 7-15). (3) The time of toil ends in rest and reward (2 Thes. 1. 6, 7). (4) The time of suffering ends in glory (Rom. 8. 17, 18). (5) The time of Israel's blindness and chastisement ends in restoration and conversion (Rom. 11. 25-27; Ezk. 39. 25-29). (6) The times of the Gentiles end in the smiting of the image and the setting up of the kingdom of the heavens (Dan. 2. 34, 35; Rev. 19. 15-21). (7) The time of creation's thralldom ends in deliverance at the manifestation of the sons of God (Gen. 3. 17; Isa. 11. 6-8; Rom. 8. 19-21).

⁴ The Holy Spirit is Himself the seal. In the symbolism of Scripture a seal signifies: (1) A finished transaction (Jer. 32. 9, 10; John 17. 4; 19. 30). (2) Ownership (Jer. 32. 11, 12; 2 Tim. 2. 19). (3) Security (Esth. 8. 8; Dan. 6. 17; Eph. 4. 30).

and set him at his own right hand in the heavenly places,

21 Far above all principality, and power, and might, and dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this ^aworld, but also in that which is to come:

22 And hath ^bput all things under his feet, and gave him to be the head over all things to the church, 23 Which is his ^cbody, the ^dfulness of him that filleth all in all.

CHAPTER 2.

(4) The method of Gentile salvation.

AND you hath he quickened, who were dead in trespasses and sins:

2 Wherein in time past ye walked according to the course of this ^aworld, according to the ^bprince of the power of the air, the spirit that now worketh in the ^cchildren of disobedience:

3 Among whom also we all had our conversation in times past in the lusts of our ^dflesh, fulfilling the desires of the ^eflesh and of the ^fmind; and were by nature the children of ^gwrath, even as others.

4 But God, who is ^hrich in mercy, for his ⁱgreat love wherewith he loved us,

5 Even when we were ^jdead in sins, hath ^kquickened us together with Christ, (by grace ye are ^lsaved;)

6 And hath raised us up together, and made us sit together in heavenly places in Christ Jesus:

¹ Death (spiritual), Summary: Spiritual death is the state of the natural or unregenerate man as still in his sins (Eph. 2:1), alienated from the life of God (Eph. 4:18, 19), and destitute of the Spirit. Prolonged beyond the death of the body, spiritual death is a state of eternal separation from God in conscious suffering. This is called "the second death" (Rev. 2:11; 20:6, 14; 21:8).

² Here the "new man" is not the individual believer but the church, considered as the body of Christ in the sense of Eph. 1:22, 23; 1 Cor. 12:12, 13; Col. 3:10, 11. (See Heb. 12:23, note.)

CHAPTER 4.

Part III. The walk and service of the believer as in Christ, and as having the Spirit (Eph. 4. 1-5. 17).

(1) The walk to be worthy the position.

I THEREFORE, the prisoner of the Lord, beseech you that ye walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called,

2 With all lowliness and meekness, with longsuffering, forbearing one another in love;

3 Endeavouring to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace.

(2) The seven unities to be kept.

4 There is one body, and one Spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling;

1 That the Gentiles were to be saved was no mystery (Rom. 9. 24-33; 10. 19-21). The mystery "hid in God" was the divine purpose to make of Jew and Gentile a wholly new thing—"the church, which is his [Christ's] body," formed by the baptism with the Holy Spirit (1 Cor. 12. 12, 13) and in which the earthly distinction of Jew and Gentile disappears (Eph. 2. 14, 15; Col. 3. 10, 11). The revelation of this mystery, which was foretold but not explained by Christ (Mt. 16. 18), was committed to Paul. In his writings alone we find the doctrine, position, walk, and destiny of the church.

5 ^aOne Lord, ^bone faith, ^cone baptism,

6 One ^dGod and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all.

(3) The ministry gifts of Christ to his body.

7 But unto every one of us is given grace according to the measure of the gift of Christ.

8 Wherefore he saith, ^eWhen he ascended up on high, he led captivity captive, and gave gifts unto men.

9 (Now that he ascended, what is it but that he also descended first into the lower parts of the earth?)

10 He that descended is the same also that ascended up far above all heavens, that he might fill all things.)

11 And he ^fgave ^gsome, apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers;

(4) The purpose of the ministry gifts.

12 For the ^hperfecting of the saints, ⁱfor the work of the ministry, ^jfor the edifying of the body of Christ:

13 Till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a ^kperfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ:

14 That we ^lhenceforth be no more children, tossed to and fro, and carried about with every ^mwind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, and cunning craftiness, whereby they lie in wait to deceive;

15 But ⁿspeaking the truth in love, may grow up ^ointo him in all things, which is the ^phead, even Christ:

(5) The walk of the believer as a new man in Christ Jesus.

17 This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that ye henceforth ^{bd}walk not as other Gentiles walk, in the vanity of their mind,

18 Having the understanding darkened, being ^{be}alienated from the ^{bf}life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the blindness of their heart:

19 ^{bg}Who being past feeling have given themselves over unto lasciviousness, to work all uncleanness with greediness.

20 But ye have not so ^{bh}learned Christ;

21 If so be that ye have heard him, and have been taught by him, as the truth is in Jesus:

22 That ye ^{bi}put off concerning the former conversation the ^{bj}old man, which is corrupt according to the deceitful lusts;

23 ^{bk}And be renewed in the spirit of your mind;

24 And that ye ^{bl}put on the ^{bm}new man, which after God is created in ^{bn}righteousness and true holiness.

25 Wherefore putting away lying, ^{bo}speak every man truth with his neighbour: for we are members one of another.

26 ^{bp}Be ye angry, and ^{bq}sin not: let not the sun go down upon your wrath:

27 ^{br}Neither give place to the ^{bs}devil.

28 Let him that stole steal no more: but rather let him labour,

¹ In 1 Cor. 12. 8-28 the Spirit is seen as enduing the members of the body of Christ with spiritual gifts, or enablements for a varied service; here certain Spirit-endued men, viz. apostles, prophets, evangelists, pastors, and teachers, are themselves the gifts whom the glorified Christ bestows upon His body the church. In Corinthians the gifts are spiritual enablements for specific service; in Ephesians the gifts are men who have such enablements.

² The Lord, in bestowing the gifted men, determines, providentially (e.g. Acts 11. 22-26), or directly through the Spirit (e.g. Acts 13. 1, 2; 16. 6, 7), the places of their service. "Some" (churches or places) need one gift, as, e.g. evangelist; "some" (churches or places) need rather a pastor or teacher. Absolutely nothing in Christ's service is left to mere human judgment or self-choosing. Even an apostle was not permitted to choose his place of service (Acts 16. 7, 8).

³ The new man is the regenerate man as distinguished from the old man (Rom. 6. 6, note), and is a new man as having become a partaker of the divine nature and life (2 Pet. 1. 4; Col. 3. 3, 4), and in no sense the old man made over, or improved (2 Cor. 5. 17; Gal. 6. 15; Eph. 2. 10; Col. 3. 10). The new man is Christ, "formed" in the believer (Gal. 2. 20; 4. 19; Col. 1. 27; 1 John 4. 12).

working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have to give to him that needeth.

29 Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth, but that which is good to the use of edifying, that it may minister grace unto the hearers.

(6) The walk of the believer as indwelt by the Spirit.

30 And grieve not the holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption.

31 Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and evil speaking, be put away from you, with all malice:

32 And be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you.

CHAPTER 5.

(7) The walk of the believer as God's dear child.

BE ye therefore followers of God, as dear children;

2 And walk in love, as Christ also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us an offering and a sacrifice to God for a sweetsmelling savour.

3 But fornication, and all uncleanness, or covetousness, let it not be named among you, as become saints;

4 Neither filthiness, nor foolish talking, nor jesting, which are not convenient: but rather giving of thanks.

5 For this ye know, that no whoremonger, nor unclean person, nor covetous man, who is an idolater, hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and of God.

6 Let no man deceive you with vain words: for because of these things cometh the wrath of God upon the children of disobedience.

7 Be not ye therefore partakers with them.

8 For ye were sometimes darkness, but now are ye light in the Lord: walk as children of light:

9 (For the fruit of the Spirit is in all goodness and righteousness and truth:)

10 Proving what is acceptable unto the Lord.

11 And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them.

12 For it is a shame even to speak of those things which are done of them in secret.

13 But all things that are re-proved are made manifest by the light: for whatsoever doth make manifest is light.

14 Wherefore he saith, Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light.

15 See then that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise,

16 Redeeming the time, because the days are evil.

17 Wherefore be ye not unwise, but understanding what the will of the Lord is.

Part IV. The walk and warfare of the believer as filled with the Spirit (Eph. 5. 18-6. 24).

18 And be not drunk with wine, wherein is excess; but be filled with the Spirit;

(1) The inner life of the Spirit-filled believer.

19 Speaking to yourselves in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord;

20 Giving thanks always for all things unto God and the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ;

(2) The married life of Spirit-filled believers as illustrating Christ and the church.

21 Submitting yourselves one to another in the fear of God.

22 Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, as unto the Lord.

23 For the husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ is the head of the church: and he is the saviour of the body.

24 Therefore as the church is subject unto Christ, so let the wives be to their own husbands in every thing.

25 Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and gave himself for it;

1 Christ's love-work for the church is threefold: past, present, future: (1) For love He gave Himself to redeem the church (v. 25); (2) in love He is sanctifying the church (v. 26); (3) for the reward of His sacrifice and labour of love He will present the church to Himself in flawless perfection, "one pearl of great price" (v. 27; Mt. 13. 46).

26 That he might ^asanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water ^bby the word,

27 That he might present it to himself a glorious church, ^cnot having spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish.

28 So ought men to love their wives as their own bodies. He that loveth his wife loveth himself.

29 For no man ever yet hated his own flesh; but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even as ^dthe Lord the church:

30 For we are ^emembers of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones.

31 ^fFor this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall be joined unto his wife, and they two shall be one flesh.

32 This is a great ^gmystery: but I speak concerning Christ and the ^hchurch.

33 Nevertheless let every one of you in particular so love his wife even as himself; and the wife see that she ⁱreverence her husband.

CHAPTER 6.

(3) The domestic life of Spirit-filled believers as children and servants.

CHILDREN, ^jobey your parents in the Lord: for this is right.

2 ^kHonour thy father and mother; which is the first commandment with promise;

3 That it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long on the earth.

4 And, ye fathers, ^lprovoke not your children to wrath: but bring them up in the ^mnurture and admonition of the Lord.

5 ⁿServants, be obedient to them that are your masters according to the flesh, with fear and trembling, in singleness of your heart, as unto Christ;

6 Not with ^oeyeservice, as men-pleasers; but as the servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart;

13 Wherefore take unto you the ^kwhole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand.

14 Stand therefore, having ^lyour loins girt about with truth, and having on the ^mbreastplate of righteousness;

18 ^sPraying always with all prayer and supplication in the ^tSpirit, and watching thereunto with all perseverance and supplication for all saints;

¹ Verses 30, 31 are quoted from Gen. 2. 23, 24, and exclude the interpretation that the reference is to the church merely as the body of Christ. Eve, taken from Adam's body, was truly "bone of his bones, and flesh of his flesh," but she was also his wife, united to him in a relation which makes of "twain . . . one flesh" (Mt. 19. 5, 6), and so a clear type of the church as bride of Christ (see 2 Cor. 11. 2, 3). The bride types are Eve (Gen. 2. 23, 24); Rebecca (Gen. 24. 1-7, note); Asenath (Gen. 41. 45; note under Gen. 37. 2); Zipporah (Ex. 2. 21). See Hos. 2. 1-23, note.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE

1 1]

PHILIPPIANS.

[1 12

WRITER. The Apostle Paul (1. 1).

Date. The date of Philippians cannot be positively fixed. It is one of the prison letters. Whether Paul was twice imprisoned, and if so, whether Philippians was written during the first or second imprisonment, affects in no way the message of the Epistle. A.D. 64 is the commonly received date. The immediate occasion of the Epistle is disclosed in Phil. 4. 10-18.

Theme. The theme of Philippians is Christian experience. Soundness of doctrine is assumed. There is nothing in church order to set right. Philippi is a normal New Testament assembly—"saints in Christ Jesus, with the bishops (elders) and deacons." The circumstances of the apostle are in striking contrast with his Christian experience. As to the former, he was Nero's prisoner. As to the latter, there was the shout of victory, the psalm of joy. Christian experience, he would teach us, is not something which is going on around the believer, but something which is going on within him.

The key-verse is, "For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain" (1. 21). Right Christian experience, then, is the outworking, whatever one's circumstances may be, of the life, nature, and mind of Christ living in us (1. 6, 11; 2. 5, 13).

The divisions are indicated by the chapters: I. Christ, the believer's life, rejoicing in suffering, 1. 1-30. II. Christ, the believer's pattern, rejoicing in lowly service, 2. 1-30. III. Christ, the believer's object, rejoicing despite imperfections, 3. 1-21. IV. Christ, the believer's strength, rejoicing over anxiety, 4. 1-23.

CHAPTER 1.

Part I. Christ, the believer's life, rejoicing in spite of suffering (Phil. 1. 1-30).

(1) Salutation.

PAUL and Timotheus, the servants of Jesus Christ, to ^aall the saints in Christ Jesus ^bwhich are at Philippi, with the ^cbishops and deacons:

2 Grace ^dbe unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and ^efrom the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 I thank my God upon every ^fremembrance of you,

4 Always in every ^gprayer of mine for you all making request with joy,

5 For your fellowship in the gospel from the first day until now;

6 Being confident of this very thing, that he which hath ^hbegun a good work in you will perform it until the ⁱday of Jesus Christ:

7 Even as it is meet for me to think this of you all, because I have you in my heart; inasmuch as both in my bonds, and in the defence and confirmation of the gospel, ye all are partakers of ^kmy grace.

(2) Joy triumphing over suffering.

8 For God is my record, how greatly I long after you all in the bowels of Jesus Christ.

9 And this I ^lpray, that your love may abound yet more and more in knowledge and ^min all judgment;

10 That ye may approve things that are excellent; that ye may be sincere and without offence till the ⁿday of Christ;

11 Being filled with the fruits of ^orighteousness, which are by Jesus Christ, unto the glory and praise of God.

12 But I would ye should understand, brethren, that the things which happened unto me have fallen out rather unto the furtherance of the gospel;

¹ Churches (local). Summary: A local church is an assembly of professed believers on the Lord Jesus Christ, living for the most part in one locality, who assemble themselves together in His name for the breaking of bread, worship, praise, prayer, testimony, the ministry of the word, discipline, and the furtherance of the Gospel (Heb. 10. 25; Acts 20. 7; 1 Cor. 14. 26; 1 Cor. 5. 4, 5; Phil. 4. 14-18; 1 Thes. 1. 8; Acts 13. 1-4). Such a church exists where two or three are thus gathered (Mt. 18. 20). Every such local church has Christ in the midst, is a temple of God, and indwelt by the Holy Spirit (1 Cor. 3. 16, 17). When perfected in organization a local church consists of "saints, with the bishops [elders] and deacons."

13 So that my bonds ^ain Christ are manifest in all ^bthe palace, and in all other places;

14 And many of the brethren in the Lord, waxing confident by my bonds, are much more bold to speak the word without fear.

15 Some indeed preach Christ even of envy and strife; and some also of good will:

16 The one preach Christ of contention, not sincerely, supposing to add affliction to my bonds:

17 But the other of love, knowing that I am set for the defence of the gospel.

18 What then? notwithstanding, every way, whether in pretence, or in truth, Christ is preached; and I therein do rejoice, yea, and will rejoice.

19 For I know that ^dthis shall turn to my ^esalvation through your prayer, and the supply of the ^fSpirit of Jesus Christ,

20 According to my earnest expectation and my hope, that in nothing I shall be ashamed, but ^gthat with all boldness, as always, so now also Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether ^hit be by life, or by death.

21 For to me to live ⁱis Christ, and to ^jdie is gain.

22 But if I live in the flesh, this is the fruit of my labour: yet what I shall choose I wot not.

23 For I am in a strait betwixt two, having a ^kdesire to depart, and to be with Christ; which is ^lfar better:

24 Nevertheless to abide in the flesh is more needful for you.

25 And having this confidence, I know that I shall abide and continue with you all for your furtherance and joy of faith;

26 That your rejoicing may be more abundant in ^mJesus Christ for me by my coming to you again.

27 Only let your ⁿconversation be as it becometh the ^ogospel of Christ: that whether I come and see you, or else be absent, I may 30 Having the same conflict which ye ^csaw in me, and now hear ^dto be in me.

CHAPTER 2.

Part II. Christ the believer's pattern, rejoicing in lowly service (Phil. 2. 1-30).

(1) Exhortation to unity and meekness.

IF there be therefore any consolation in Christ, if any comfort of love, if any fellowship of the ^aSpirit, if any ^bbowels and mercies,

2 Fulfil ye my joy, that ye be like-minded, having the same love, being of one accord, of one mind.

3 Let ^cnothing be done through ^dstrife or ^evainglory; but in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves.

4 Look not every man on ^fhis own things, but every man also on the things of others.

(2) The sevenfold self-humbling of Christ.

5 Let ^athis mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus:

6 Who, being in the ^bform of God, thought it not ^crobbery to be equal with God:

7 But ^dmade himself of no reputation, and took upon him the form of a servant, and ^ewas made in the likeness of men:

8 And being found in fashion as a man, ^fhe humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross.

(3) The exaltation of Jesus.

9 ^aWherefore God also hath high-

1 "Form," etc., Gr. en morphe, "the form by which a person or thing strikes the vision, the external appearance."—Thayer. Cf. John 17. 5: "The glory which I had with Thee before the world was." Nothing in this passage teaches that the Eternal Word (John 1. 1) emptied Himself of either His divine nature, or His attributes, but only of the outward and visible manifestation of the Godhead. "He emptied, stripped Himself of the insignia of Majesty."—Lightfoot. "When occasion demanded He exercised His divine attributes."—Moorehead. Cf. John 1. 1, note; 20. 28, note.

ly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name:

10 That at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth;

11 And that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

(4) The outworking of the inward salvation.

12 Wherefore, my beloved, as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling.

13 For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his good pleasure.

14 Do all things without murmurings and disputings:

15 That ye may be blameless and harmless, the sons of God, without rebuke, in the midst of a crooked and perverse nation, among whom ye shine as lights in the world;

16 Holding forth the word of life; that I may rejoice in the day of Christ, that I have not run in vain, neither laboured in vain.

(5) The apostolic example.

17 Yea, and if I be offered upon the sacrifice and service of your faith, I joy, and rejoice with you all.

18 For the same cause also do ye joy, and rejoice with me.

19 But I trust in the Lord Jesus to send Timotheus shortly unto you, that I also may be of good comfort, when I know your state.

20 For I have no man likeminded, who will naturally care for your state.

21 For all seek their own, not the things which are Jesus Christ's.

22 But ye know the proof of him, that, as a son with the father, he hath served with me in the gospel.

23 Him therefore I hope to send presently, so soon as I shall see how it will go with me.

24 But I trust in the Lord that I also myself shall come shortly.

25 Yet I supposed it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus, my brother, and companion in labour, and fellowsoldier, but your messenger, and he that ministered to my wants.

26 For he longed after you all, and was full of heaviness, because that ye had heard that he had been sick.

27 For indeed he was sick nigh unto death; but God had mercy on him; and not on him only, but on me also, lest I should have sorrow upon sorrow.

28 I sent him therefore the more carefully, that, when ye see him again, ye may rejoice, and that I may be the less sorrowful.

29 Receive him therefore in the Lord with all gladness; and hold such in reputation:

30 Because for the work of Christ he was nigh unto death, not regarding his life, to supply your lack of service toward me.

CHAPTER 3.

Part III. Christ, object of the believer's faith, desire, and expectation (Phil. 3. 1-21).

(1) Warning against Judaizers.

FINALLY, my brethren, rejoice in the Lord. To write the same things to you, to me indeed is not grievous, but for you it is safe.

2 Beware of dogs, beware of evil workers, beware of the conscience.

3 For we are the circumcision, which worship God in the spirit, and rejoice in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh.

(2) Warning against trusting in legal righteousness.

4 Though I might also have confidence in the flesh. If any other man thinketh that he hath whereof he might trust in the flesh, I more:

5 Circumcised the eighth day, of the stock of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, an Hebrew of the Hebrews; as touching the law, a Pharisee;

6 Concerning zeal, persecuting the church; touching the righteousness which is in the law, blameless.

(3) Christ, object of the believer's faith for righteousness.

7 But what things were gain to me, those I counted loss for Christ.

8 Yea doubtless, and I count all things but loss (for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord: for whom I have suffered the loss of all things, and do count them but dung, that I may win Christ,

9 And be found in him, not having mine own righteousness, which is of the law, but that which is through the faith of Christ, the righteousness which is of God by faith:

(4) Christ, object of the believer's desire for fellowship in resurrection power.

10 That I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings, being made conformable unto his death;

11 If by any means I might attain unto the resurrection of the dead.

12 Not as though I had already attained, either were already perfect: but I follow after, if that I may apprehend that for which also I am apprehended of Christ Jesus.

13 Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended: but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before,

14 I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.

(5) The appeal for unity in the walk.

15 Let us therefore, as many as be perfect, be thus minded: and if in any thing ye be otherwise minded, God shall reveal even this unto you.

16 Nevertheless, whereto we have already attained, let us walk by the same rule, let us mind the same thing.

(6) But truth is to be compromised for the sake of unity.

17 Brethren, be followers together of me, and mark them which walk so as ye have us for an ensample.

18 (For many walk, of whom I have told you often, and now tell you even weeping, that they are the enemies of the cross of Christ:

19 Whose end is destruction, whose God is their belly, and whose glory is in their shame, who mind earthly things.)

(7) Christ, object of the believer's expectation.

20 For our conversation is in heaven; from whence also we look for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ:

21 Who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body, according to the working whereby he is able even to subdue all things unto himself.

CHAPTER 4.

Part IV. Christ, the believer's strength, rejoicing over anxiety (Phil. 4. 1-23).

(1) Exhortation to unity and joy.

THEREFORE, my brethren dearly beloved and longed for, my joy and crown, so stand fast in the Lord, my dearly beloved.

2 I beseech Euodias, and beseech Syntyche, that they be of the same mind in the Lord.

3 And I intreat thee also, true yokefellow, help those women which laboured with me in the gospel, with Clement also, and with other my fellowlabourers, whose names are in the book of life.

4 Rejoice in the Lord always: and again I say, Rejoice.

(2) The secret of the peace of God.

5 Let your moderation be known unto all men. The Lord is at hand.

6 Be careful for nothing; but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God.

7 And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus.

(3) The presence of the God of peace.

8 Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things.

9 Those things, which ye have both learned, and received, and heard, and seen in me, do: and the God of peace shall be with you.

(4) The victory over anxious care.

10 But I rejoiced in the Lord greatly, that now at the last your care of me hath flourished again; wherein ye were also careful, but ye lacked opportunity.

11 Not that I speak in respect of want: for I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content.

12 I know both how to be abased, and I know how to abound: every where and in all things I am instructed both to be full and to be hungry, both to abound and to suffer need.

13 I can do all things ^athrough Christ which strengtheneth me.

14 Notwithstanding ye have well done, that ye did communicate with my affliction.

15 Now ye Philippians know also, that in the beginning of the ^bgospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no church communicated with me as concerning giving and receiving, but ye only.

16 For even in Thessalonica ye sent once and again unto my necessity.

17 Not because I desire a gift: but I desire fruit that may abound to your account.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE

1 1]

COLOSSIANS.

[1 16

WRITER. The Apostle Paul (1. 1).

Date. Colossians was sent by the same messenger who bore Ephesians and Philemon, and was probably written at the same time.

Theme. Epaphras, who laboured in the Word in the assembly at Colosse, was Paul's fellow-prisoner at Rome. Doubtless from him Paul learned the state of that church. As to fundamentals that state was excellent (1. 3-8), but in a subtle way two forms of error were at work: The first was legality in its Alexandrian form of asceticism, "touch not, taste not," with a trace of the Judaic observance of "days"; the object of which was the mortification of the body (cf. Rom. 8. 13). The second form of error was false mysticism, "intruding into those things which he hath not seen"—the result of philosophic speculation. Because these are ever present perils, Colossians was written, not for that day only, but for the warning of the church in all days.

The Epistle is in seven divisions: I. Introduction, 1. 1-8. II. The apostolic prayer, 1. 9-14. III. The exaltation of Christ, Creator, Redeemer, Indweller, 1. 15-29. IV. The Godhead incarnate in Christ, in whom the believer is complete, 2. 1-23. V. The believer's union with Christ in resurrection life and glory, 3. 1-4. VI. Christian living, the fruit of union with Christ, 3. 5-4. 6. VII. Christian fellowship, 4. 7-18.

CHAPTER 1.

Part I. Introduction: the apostolic greeting (vs. 1-8).

PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, and Timothy our brother,

2 To the saints and faithful brethren in Christ which are at Colosse: Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 We give thanks to God and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always for you,

4 Since we heard of your faith in Christ Jesus, and of the love which ye have to all the saints,

5 For the hope which is laid up for you in heaven, whereof ye heard before in the word of the truth of the gospel;

6 Which is come unto you, as it is in all the world; and bringeth forth fruit, as it doth also in you, since the day ye heard of it, and knew the grace of God in truth:

7 As ye also learned of Epaphras our dear fellowservant, who is for you a faithful minister of Christ:

8 Who also declared unto us your love in the Spirit.

the day we heard it, do not cease to pray for you, and to desire that ye might be filled with the knowledge of his will in all wisdom and spiritual understanding;

10 That ye might walk worthy of the Lord unto all pleasing, being fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God;

11 Strengthened with all might, according to his glorious power, unto all patience and longsuffering with joyfulness;

13 Who hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of his dear Son:

14 In whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins:

Part III. The exaltation of Christ (vs. 15-29).

(1) The seven superiorities of Christ.

15 Who is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn of every creature:

16 For by him were all things created, that are in heaven, and that are in earth, visible and invisible, whether they be thrones, or dominions, or principalities, or powers: ^aall things were created by him, and for him:

17 And ^bhe is before all things, and by him ^call things consist.

18 And he is the ^dhead of the body, the church: who is the beginning, the firstborn ^efrom the dead; that in all ^fthings he might have the preeminence.

19 ^gFor it pleased the Father that in him should all fulness dwell;

(2) The reconciling work of Christ.

20 And, having made peace ^hthrough the blood of his cross, by him to reconcile all things unto himself; by him, I say, whether ⁱthey be things in earth, or things in heaven.

21 And you, that were sometime alienated and enemies in ^jyour mind by wicked works, yet now hath he ^kreconciled

22 ^lIn the body of his flesh through death, to present you ^mholy and unblameable and unrepensible ⁿin his sight:

23 If ye continue in the faith grounded and settled, and be not moved away from the hope of the ^ogospel, which ye have heard, and which was ^ppreached to every creature which is under heaven; whereof I Paul ^qam made a minister;

(3) The mystery of the indwelling Christ.

24 Who now rejoice in my sufferings for you, and fill up that which is behind of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh for his body's sake, which is the ^rchurch:

25 Whereof I am made a minister, according to the dispensation of God which is given to me for you, to ^sfulfil the word of God;

26 Even the ^tmystery which hath been hid from ^uages and from generations, but now is made manifest to his saints:

29 Whereunto I also labour, striving according to his working, which worketh in me mightily.

CHAPTER 2.

Part IV. The Godhead incarnate in Christ, in whom the believer is complete (Col. 2. 1-23).

FOR I would that ye knew what ^{am}great conflict I have for you, and for them at Laodicea, and for as many as have not seen my face in the flesh;

2 ^{an}That their hearts might be comforted, being ^{ao}knit together in love, and unto all riches of the ^{ap}full assurance of understanding, to the acknowledgement of the ^{aq}mystery of God, ^{ar}and of the Father, and of Christ;

3 ^{as}In whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.

(1) The danger from enticing words. (Cf. Rom. 16. 17, 18; 1 Cor. 2. 4; 2 Pet. 2. 3.)

4 And this I say, ^{at}lest any man should beguile you with enticing words.

5 For though I be absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, joying and ^{au}beholding your order, and the ^{av}steadfastness of your faith in Christ.

6 As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him:

7 Rooted and built up in him, and established in the faith, as ye have been taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving.

8 Beware lest any man spoil you through philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the rudiments of the ^{aw}world, and not after Christ.

¹ Reconciliation. The Greek word signifies "to change thoroughly from," and occurs, Rom. 5. 10; 11. 15; 1 Cor. 7. 11; 2 Cor. 5. 18, 19, 20. Reconciliation looks toward the effect of the death of Christ upon man, as propitiation (Rom. 3. 25, note) is the Godward aspect, and is that effect of the death of Christ upon the believing sinner which, through divine power, works in him a "thorough change" toward God from enmity and aversion to love and trust. It is never said that God is reconciled. God is propitiated, the sinner reconciled (cf. 2 Cor. 5. 18-21).

² The "mystery of God" is Christ, as incarnating the fulness of the Godhead, and all the divine wisdom and knowledge for the redemption and reconciliation of man.

(3) Nothing can be added to completeness.

9 For in him ^adwell^heth all the fullness of the Godhead bodily.

10 And ye are complete in him, which is the ^bhead of all principality and power:

11 In whom also ye are ^ccircumcised with the circumcision made without hands, in putting off the body of ^dthe sins of the flesh by the circumcision of Christ:

12 ^eBuried with him in baptism, wherein also ye are risen with ^fhim through the faith of the ^goperation of God, who hath raised him from the dead.

13 And you, being ^hdead in your sins and the uncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened together with him, having ⁱforgiven you all trespasses;

(4) Law observances were abolished in Christ. (Cf. Mt. 5. 17.)

14 ^jBlotting out the handwriting of ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us, and took it out of the way, nailing it to his cross;

15 And having ^kspoiled principalities and powers, he made a shew of them openly, triumphing over them in it.

16 Let no man therefore ^ljudge you in meat, or in drink, or in respect of an ^mholyday, or of the new moon, or of the sabbath ⁿdays:

17 Which are a ^oshadow of things to come; but the body ^pis of Christ.

(5) Warning against false mysticism.

18 Let no man beguile you of your reward in a voluntary humility and worshipping of ^qangels, ^rin-truding into those things which he hath not seen, vainly puffed up by his fleshly mind, 19 And not ^sholding the ^tHead, from which all the body by joints and bands having nourishment ministered, and knit together, increaseth with the increase of God.

CHAPTER 3.

Part V. The believer's union with Christ, now and hereafter (vs. 1-4).

IF ye then be ^arisen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where ^bChrist sitteth on the right hand of God.

2 Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth.

3 ^cFor ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God.

4 When Christ, who is our ^dlife, shall appear, then shall ye also appear with him in glory.

Part VI. Christian living, the fruit of union with Christ (Col. 3. 5-4. 6).

5 ^eMortify therefore your members which are upon the earth; fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affection, evil concupiscence, and covetousness, which is ^fidolatry:

6 For which things' sake the ^gwrath of God cometh on the ^hchildren of disobedience:

7 In the which ⁱye also walked some time, when ye lived in them.

8 ^jBut now ye also put off all these; anger, wrath, malice, blasphemy, filthy communication out of your mouth.

9 Lie not one to another, seeing that ye have put off the ^kold man with his deeds;

10 And have put on the new ^lman,

¹ The errorists against whom Paul warns the Colossians, and against whom, in principle, the warning has perpetual significance, were called "Gnostics," from gnosis, "knowledge." These Gnostics "came most keenly into conflict with the exalted rank and redeeming work of Christ, to whom they did not leave His full divine dignity, but assigned to Him merely the highest rank in the order of spirits, while they exalted angels as concerned in bringing in the Messianic salvation."—H. A. W. Meyer. Paul's characteristic word in Colossians for the divine revelation is epignosis, i.e. "full-knowledge" (1. 9, 10; 3. 10), as against the pretended "knowledge" of the errorists. The warnings apply to all extra-biblical forms, doctrines, and customs, and to all ascetic practices.

which is renewed in knowledge after the image of him that ^acreated him:

11 Where there is neither Greek nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, bond nor free: ^bbut Christ is all, and in all.

12 Put on therefore, as the ^celect of God, ^dholy and beloved, ^ebowels of mercies, kindness, humbleness of mind, meekness, longsuffering;

13 Forbearing one another, and forgiving one another, if any man have a quarrel against any: even as Christ ^fforgave you, so also ^gdo ye.

14 And ^habove all these things ⁱput on ^jcharity, which is the bond of ^kperfectness.

15 And let the peace of ^lGod ^mrule in your hearts, to the which also ye are called in one body; and ⁿbe ye thankful.

16 Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; ^oteaching and admonishing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with ^pgrace in your hearts to the Lord.

17 And ^qwhatsoever ye do in word or deed, ^rdo all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by him.

18 Wives, ^ssubmit yourselves unto your own husbands, as ^tit is fit in the Lord.

19 Husbands, ^ulove your wives, and be not bitter against them.

20 Children, obey your parents in all things: for this is ^vwell pleasing unto the Lord.

21 ^wFathers, provoke not your children to ^xanger, lest they be discouraged.

22 ^yServants, obey in all things your masters according to the flesh; not with eyeservice, as menpleasers; but in singleness of heart, fearing God:

23 And ^zwhatsoever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not unto men;

24 Knowing that of the Lord ye shall receive the ^{aa}reward of the inheritance: for ye serve the Lord Christ.

25 But he that doeth wrong shall receive for the wrong which he hath done: and there is no respect of persons.

CHAPTER 4.

MASTERS, give unto your servants that which is just and equal; knowing that ye also have a Master in heaven.

2 ^aContinue in prayer, and watch in the same with thanksgiving;

5 Walk in wisdom toward them that are without, redeeming the time.

¹ A touching illustration of priestly service (see 1 Pet. 2. 9, note) as distinguished from ministry of gift. Shut up in prison, no longer able to preach, Epaphras was still, equally with all believers, a priest. No prison could keep him from the throne of grace, so he gave himself wholly to the priestly work of intercession.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE

1 1]

THESSALONIANS.

WRITER. The Apostle Paul (1. 1).

Date. The Epistle was written from Corinth, A.D. 54, shortly after Paul's departure from Thessalonica (Acts 16., 17.), and is the earliest of his letters.

Theme. The theme of the Epistle is threefold: (1) To confirm young disciples in the foundational truths already taught them; (2) to exhort them to go on to holiness; (3) to comfort them concerning those who had fallen asleep. The second coming of Christ is prominent throughout. The Epistle is incidentally most interesting as showing the richness in doctrine of the primitive evangelism. During a mission of about one month the apostle had taught all the great doctrines of the Christian faith.

The divisions of the Epistle are sufficiently indicated by the chapters: I. The model church, and the three tenses of the Christian life, 1. 1-10. II. The model servant and his reward, 2. 1-20. III. The model brother, and the believer's sanctification, 3. 1-13. IV. The model walk, and the believer's hope, 4. 1-18. V. The model walk, and the day of Jehovah, 5. 1-28.

CHAPTER 1.

Part I. The model church, and the three tenses of the Christian life.

PAUL, and Silvanus, and Timothy, unto the ^achurch of the ^bThessalonians which is in God the Father and in the Lord Jesus Christ: Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

2 We give thanks to God always for you all, making mention of you in our prayers;

3 Remembering without ceasing your 'work of faith, and labour of love, and patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, in the sight of God and our Father;

4 Knowing, brethren beloved, your ^celection of God.

5 For our ^dgospel came not unto you in word only, but also in power, and in the Holy Ghost, and in much ^eassurance; as ye know what manner of men we were among you for your sake.

8 For from you ^qsounded out the word of the Lord not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but also ^rin every place your faith to God-ward is spread abroad; so that we need not to speak any thing.

9 For they themselves shew of us what manner of entering in we had unto you, and ^show ye ^tturned to God from idols to serve the living and true God;

10 And ^uto wait for his Son from heaven, whom he raised ^vfrom the dead, even Jesus, which delivered us from the ^wwrath to come.

CHAPTER 2.

Part II. The model servant, and his reward.

FOR yourselves, brethren, know our entrance in unto you, that it was not in vain:

¹ (See Introductory notes). That is: election, 1. 4; Holy Spirit, 1. 5, 6; 4. 8; 5. 19; assurance, 1. 5; Trinity, 1. 1, 5, 6; conversion, 1. 9; second advent of Christ, 1. 10; 2. 19; 3. 13; 4. 14-17; 5. 23; walk, 2. 12; 4. 1; sanctification, 4. 3; 5. 23; day of Jehovah, 5. 1-3; resurrection, 4. 14-18; the tripartite nature of man, 5. 23.

² The tenses of the believer's life here indicated are logical and give the true order. They occur also in v. 3. The "work of faith" is to "turn to God from idols" (cf. John 6. 28, 29); the "labour of love" is to "serve the living and true God"; and the "patience of hope" is to "wait for his Son from heaven" (cf. Mt. 24. 42; 25. 13; Lk. 12. 36-48; Acts 1. 11; Phil. 3. 20, 21). Paul repeats this threefold sequence in Tit. 2. 11-13.

2 But even after that we had suffered before, and were shamefully entreated, as ye know, at ^aPhilippi, we were ^bbold in our God to speak unto you the gospel of God with much contention.

3 For our exhortation was not of ^cdeceit, nor of uncleanness, nor in guile:

4 But as we were allowed of God to be put in trust with the gospel, even so we speak; not as pleasing men, but God, which trieth our hearts.

5 For ^dneither at any time used we flattering words, as ye know, nor a cloke of covetousness; God is witness:

6 Nor of men ^esought we glory, neither of you, nor yet of others, when we might have been burdensome, as the apostles of Christ.

7 But we were gentle among you, even as a nurse cherisheth ^fher children:

8 So being affectionately desirous of you, we were willing to ^ghave imparted unto you, not the gospel of God only, but also our own souls, because ye were dear unto us.

9 For ye remember, brethren, our ^hlabour and travail: for labouring night and day, because we would not be chargeable unto any of you, we preached unto you the ⁱ'gospel of God.

10 Ye are witnesses, and God also, how holily and justly and unblameably we behaved ourselves among you that believe:

11 As ye know how we exhorted and comforted and charged every one of you, as a father ^jdoth his children,

12 That ye would walk ^kworthy of God, ^lwho hath called you unto his kingdom and glory.

13 For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, because, when ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually ^mworketh also in you that believe.

14 For ye, brethren, became ⁿ'followers of the "churches of God which in Judæa are in Christ Jesus: for ye also have suffered like things of your own countrymen, even as they ^ohave of the Jews:

15 Who both killed the Lord Jesus, and ^p'their own prophets, and have persecuted us; and they please not God, and are contrary to all men:

17 But we, brethren, being taken from you for a short time in presence, not in heart, endeavoured the more abundantly to see your face with great desire.

18 Wherefore we would have come unto you, even I Paul, once and again; but ^d'Satan hindered us.

19 For what is our hope, or joy, or ^e'crown of rejoicing? Are not even ye ^f'in the presence ^g'of our Lord Jesus Christ ^h'at his coming?

20 For ye are our glory and joy.

CHAPTER 3.

Part III. The model brother, and the believer's sanctification.

WHEREFORE when we could no longer forbear, we thought it good to be left at Athens alone; 2 And sent ^aTimotheus, our brother, and minister of God, and our fellowlabourer in the ^b'gospel of Christ, to establish you, and to comfort you concerning your faith:

3 ^c'That no man should be moved by these afflictions: for yourselves know that ^d'we are appointed thereunto.

4 For verily, when we were with you, we told you before that we should suffer tribulation; even as it came to pass, and ye know.

5 For this cause, ^e'when I could no longer forbear, I sent to know your faith, ^f'lest by some means the tempter have ^g'tempted you, and our labour ^h'be in vain.

6 But now when Timotheus came from you unto us, and brought us good tidings of your faith and ⁱ'charity, and that ye have good remembrance of us always, ^j'desiring greatly to see us, as we also ^k'to see you:

7 Therefore, brethren, we were ^l'comforted over you in all our affliction and distress by your faith:

8 For now we live, if ye stand ^m'fast in the Lord.

9 For what thanks can we render to God again for you, for all the joy wherewith we joy for your sakes before our God;

10 Night and day ⁿ'praying exceedingly that we might see your face, and might ^o'perfect that which is lacking in your faith?

11 Now God himself and our

Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ, ^adirect our way unto you.

12 And the Lord make you to increase and abound ^bin love one toward another, and toward all men, even as we do toward you:

13 To the end he may stablish ^cyour hearts unblameable in holiness before God, even our Father, ^dat the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ with all his saints.

CHAPTER 4.

Part IV. The model walk, and the believer's hope.

FURTHERMORE then we ^ebeseech you, brethren, and ^fexhort you by the Lord Jesus, that as ye have received of us how ye ought ^gto walk and to please God, so ye would ^habound more and more.

2 For ye know what commandments we gave you by the Lord Jesus.

3 For this is the will of God, even your sanctification, ⁱthat ye should abstain from fornication:

4 That every one of you should know how to possess his vessel in sanctification and honour;

5 Not in the lust of concupiscence, even as the ^jGentiles which know not God:

6 That no man go beyond and ^kdefraud his brother ^lin any matter: because that the Lord is the avenger of all such, as we also have forewarned you and testified.

7 For God hath not called us unto uncleanness, ^mbut unto holiness.

8 He therefore that ⁿdespiseth, despiseth not man, but God, who hath also given unto us his ^oholy Spirit.

9 But as touching brotherly love ye need not that I write unto you: for ye yourselves are ^ptaught of God to love one another.

10 And indeed ye do it toward all the brethren which are in all Macedonia: but we beseech you, brethren, that ye increase more and more;

11 And that ye study to be quiet, and ^qto do your own business, and to work with your own hands, as we commanded you;

12 That ye may walk ^rhonestly toward them that are without, and ^sthat ye may have lack of nothing.

16 ^gFor the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: and the dead in Christ ^hshall rise first:

17 ⁱThen we which are alive ^jand remain shall be ^kcaught up together ^lwith them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever ^mbe with the Lord.

18 Wherefore comfort one another with these words.

CHAPTER 5.

Part V. The model walk, and the day of Jehovah. (Cf. Rev. 19. 11-21, note.)

BUT of the times and the seasons, brethren, ye have no need that I write unto you.

2 For yourselves know perfectly that the ^aday of the Lord ^bso cometh as a thief in the night.

3 For when they shall say, Peace and safety; then ^csudden destruction cometh upon them, as travail upon a woman with child; and they shall not escape.

4 But ^dye, brethren, are not in darkness, that that day should overtake you as a thief.

5 Ye are all ^ethe children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night, nor of darkness.

6 ^fTherefore let us not sleep, as ^gdo others; but let us watch and be ^hsober.

7 For they that sleep sleep in the night; and they that be drunken are drunken in the night.

8 But let us, who are of the day, be sober, putting on the ⁱbreastplate of faith and love; and for an helmet, the hope of ^jsalvation.

9 For God hath not appointed us to wrath, but to obtain ^asalvation by our Lord Jesus Christ.

¹ Not church saints only, but all bodies of the saved, of whatever dispensation, are included in the first resurrection (see 1 Cor. 15. 52, note), as here described, but it is peculiarly the "blessed hope" of the Church (cf. Mt. 24. 42; 25. 13; Lk. 12. 36-48; Acts 1. 11; Phil. 3. 20, 21; Tit. 2. 11-13).

10 Who died for us, that, ^bwhether we wake or sleep, we should live together with him.

11 Wherefore comfort yourselves together, and edify one another, even as also ye do.

12 And we beseech you, brethren, to know ^cthem which labour among you, and are over you in the Lord, and admonish you;

13 And to esteem them very highly in love for their work's sake. And ^dbe at peace among yourselves.

14 Now we ^eexhort you, brethren, warn them that are unruly, comfort the feebleminded, support the ^fweak, be ^gpatient toward all ^hmen.

15 See that none ⁱrender evil for evil unto any ^jman; but ever follow that which is good, both among yourselves, and to all ^kmen.

25 Brethren, pray for us.

26 Greet all the brethren with an ^{ag}holy kiss.

27 I ^{ah}charge you by the Lord that this epistle be read unto all the holy brethren.

28 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. Amen.

¹ Man a trinity. That the human soul and spirit are not identical is proved by the facts that they are divisible (Heb. 4. 12), and that soul and spirit are sharply distinguished in the burial and resurrection of the body. It is sown a natural body (soma psuchikon = "soul-body"), it is raised a spiritual body (soma pneumatikon), 1 Cor. 15. 44. To assert, therefore, that there is no difference between soul and spirit is to assert that there is no difference between the mortal body and the resurrection body. In Scripture use, the distinction between spirit and soul may be traced. Briefly, that distinction is that the spirit is that part of man which "knows" (1 Cor. 2. 11), his mind; the soul is the seat of the affections, desires, and so of the emotions, and of the active will, the self. "My soul is exceeding sorrowful" (Mt. 26. 38; see also Mt. 11. 29; and John 12. 27). The word translated "soul" in the O.T. (nephesh) is the exact equivalent of the N.T. word for soul (Gr. psuche), and the use of "soul" in the O.T. is identical with the use of that word in the N.T. (see, e.g. Deut. 6. 5; 14. 26; 1 Sam. 18. 1; 20. 4, 17; Job 7. 11, 15; 14. 22; Psa. 42. 6; 84. 2). The N.T. word for spirit (pneuma), like the O.T. ruach, is trans. "air," "breath," "wind," but predominantly "spirit," whether of God (e.g. Gen. 1. 2; Mt. 3. 16) or of man (Gen. 41. 8; 1 Cor. 5. 5). Because man is "spirit" he is capable of God-consciousness, and of communication with God (Job 32. 8; Psa. 18. 28; Prov. 20. 27); because he is "soul" he has self-consciousness (Psa. 13. 2; 42. 5, 6, 11); because he is "body" he has, through his senses, world-consciousness. See Gen. 1. 26, note.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE THESSALONIANS.

WRITER. The Apostle Paul (1. 1).

Date. Second Thessalonians was evidently written very soon after Paul's first letter to that church. The occasion may well have been the return of the bearer of the former Epistle, and his report.

Theme. The theme of Second Thessalonians is, unfortunately, obscured by a mistranslation in the A.V. of 2. 2, where "day of Christ is at hand" (1 Cor. 1. 8, note) should be, "day of the LORD is now present" (Isa. 2. 12, refs.). The Thessalonian converts were "shaken in mind" and "troubled," supposing, perhaps on the authority of a forged letter as from Paul, that the persecutions from which they were suffering were those of the "great and terrible day of the LORD," from which they had been taught to expect deliverance by "the day of Christ, and our gathering together unto him" (2. 1).

The present letter, then, was written to instruct the Thessalonians concerning the day of Christ, "and our gathering together unto him" (1 Thes. 4. 14-17) and the relation of the "day of Christ" to the "day of the LORD." First Thessalonians had more in view the "day of Christ"; the present Epistle the "day of the LORD."

The Epistle is in five divisions: I. Salutation, 1. 1-4. II. Comfort, 1. 5-12. III. Instruction concerning the day of the LORD and the man of sin, 2. 1-12. IV. Exhortations and apostolic commands, 2. 13-3. 15. V. Benediction and authentication, 3. 16-18.

CHAPTER 1.

Part I. Salutation.

PAUL, and Silvanus, and Timothy, ^aunto the church of the Thessalonians in God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ:

2 Grace unto you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 We are bound to thank God always for you, brethren, as it is meet, because that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the ^bcharity of every one of you all toward each other aboundeth;

4 So that we ourselves ^cglory in you in the ^dchurches of God for your patience and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations that ye ^eendure:

Part II. Comfort in persecution.

5 ^fWhich is a manifest token of the righteous judgment of God, that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which ye also ^gsuffer:

6 ^hSeeing it is a righteous thing with God to recompense tribulation to them that trouble you;

7 And to you who are troubled rest with us, when the Lord Jesus ⁱshall be revealed from heaven with ^jhis mighty ^kangels,

11 Wherefore also we ^zpray always for you, that our God would ^acount you worthy of ^bthis calling, and fulfil all the good pleasure of his goodness, and the work of faith with power:

12 ^cThat the name of our Lord Jesus Christ may be glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the ^dgrace of our God and the Lord Jesus Christ.

CHAPTER 2.

Part III. The day of the LORD and the man of sin.

NOW we beseech you, brethren, by the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and by our gathering together unto him,

2 That ye be not soon shaken in mind, or be troubled, neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by letter as from us, as that the ^aday of Christ is ^bat hand.

3 Let no man deceive you by any means: ¹for that day shall not come, except there come ^aa falling away first, and that ^dman of sin be revealed, the son of perdition;

4 Who opposeth and exalteth himself above all that is called God, or that is worshipped; so that he as God sitteth in the temple of God, shewing himself that he is God.

5 Remember ye not, that, when I was yet with you, I told you these things?

6 And now ye know ^awhat withholdeth that he might be revealed in his time.

7 For the ¹mystery of ²iniquity doth already work; only he who now ³leteth will ⁴let, until he be taken out of the way.

8 And then shall ^athat ^bWicked be revealed, ^cwhom the Lord shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy ^dwith the brightness of his coming:

10 And with all deceivableness of unrighteousness in them that perish; because they received not ^gthe love of the truth, that they might be ^hsaved.

11 And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie:

12 That they all might be ⁱdammned who ^jbelieved not the truth, but had pleasure in ^kunrighteousness.

Part IV. Exhortation and instruction (to 3. 15).

13 But we are bound to give thanks always to God for you, brethren beloved of the Lord, because God hath from the beginning ¹chosen you to ²salvation through sanctification of the ³Spirit and belief of the truth:

16 ^bNow our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God, even our Father, which hath loved us, and hath given us everlasting consolation and good hope ^cthrough grace,

17 Comfort your hearts, and stablish you in every good word and work.

CHAPTER 3.

FINALLY, brethren, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may have free course, and be glorified, even as it is with you:

2 And that we may be delivered from unreasonable and wicked men: for all ^amen have not faith.

3 But the Lord is faithful, who shall stablish you, and keep you from evil.

4 And we have confidence in the Lord touching you, that ye both do and will do the things which we command you.

5 And the ^aLord direct your hearts into the love of God, and into the patient waiting for Christ.

6 Now we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh disorderly, and not after the tradition which he received of us.

7 For yourselves know how ye ought to follow us: for we behaved not ourselves disorderly among you;

8 Neither did we eat any man's bread for nought; but wrought with labour and travail night and day, that we might not be chargeable to any of you:

9 Not because we have not power, but to make ourselves an ensample unto you to follow us.

10 For even when we were with you, this we commanded you, that if any would not work, neither should he eat.

¹ The order of events is: (1) The working of the mystery of lawlessness under divine restraint which had already begun in the apostle's time (v. 7); (2) the apostasy of the professing church (v. 3; Lk. 18. 8; 2 Tim. 3. 1-8); (3) the removal of that which restrains the mystery of lawlessness (vs. 6, 7). The restrainer is a person—"he," and since a "mystery" always implies a supernatural element (Mt. 13. 11, note), this Person can be no other than the Holy Spirit in the church, to be "taken out of the way" (v. 7; 1 Thes. 4. 14-17); (4) the manifestation of the lawless one (vs. 8-10; Dan. 7. 8; 9. 27; Mt. 24. 15; Rev. 13. 2-10); (5) the coming of Christ in glory and the destruction of the lawless one (v. 8; Rev. 19. 11-21); (6) the day of Jehovah (vs. 9-12; Isa. 2. 12, refs.).

11 For we hear that there are some which walk among you disorderly, working not at all, but are ^abusybodies.

12 Now them that are such we command and exhort by our Lord Jesus Christ, that with quietness they ^bwork, and eat their own bread.

13 But ye, brethren, ^cbe not weary in well doing.

14 And if any man obey not our word by this epistle, note that man, and ^dhave no company with him, that he may be ashamed.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO

1 1]

TIMOTHY.

[1 17

WRITER. The Apostle Paul (1. 1).

Date. The date of this Epistle turns upon the question of the two imprisonments of Paul. If there were two (see Acts 28. 30, note), then it is clear that First Timothy was written during the interval. If Paul endured but one Roman imprisonment, the Epistle was written shortly before Paul's last journey to Jerusalem.

Theme. As the churches of Christ increased in number, the questions of church order, of soundness in the faith, and of discipline became important. At first the apostles regulated these things directly, but the approaching end of the apostolic period made it necessary that a clear revelation should be made for the guidance of the churches. Such a revelation is in First Timothy, and in Titus. The keyphrase of this Epistle is, "That thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behave thyself in the house of God." Well had it been with the churches if they had neither added to nor taken from the divine order.

The divisions are five: I. Legality and unsound doctrine rebuked, 1. 1-20. II. Prayer and the divine order of the sexes enjoined, 2. 1-15. III. The qualifications of elders and deacons, 3. 1-16. IV. The walk of the "good minister," 4. 1-16. V. The work of the "good minister," 5. 1-6. 21.

CHAPTER 1.

Part I. Legalism and unsound teaching rebuked.

PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the commandment of God our ^aSaviour, and ^bLord Jesus Christ, which is our hope;

2 Unto Timothy, my ^cown son in the faith: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God our Father and ^dJesus Christ our Lord.

3 As I besought thee to abide still at Ephesus, when I went into Macedonia, that thou mightest charge some that they teach no other doctrine,

4 Neither give heed to fables and endless genealogies, which minister questions, rather than godly edifying which is in faith: so do.

5 Now ^ethe end of the commandment is ^fcharity out of a ^gpure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith unfeigned:

6 From which some ^hhaving swerved have turned aside unto vain jangling;

7 Desiring to be teachers of the law; understanding neither what they say, nor whereof they affirm.

8 But we know that the law is ⁱgood, if a man use it lawfully;

9 Knowing this, that the law is not made for a righteous man, but for the lawless and disobedient, for 12 And I thank Christ Jesus our Lord, who hath ^{al}enabled me, for that he counted me ^{am}faithful, ^{an}putting me into the ministry;

13 Who was ^{ao}before a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and injurious: but I obtained mercy, because I did it ^{ap}ignorantly in unbelief.

14 And the grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant with faith and love which is in Christ Jesus.

15 This is a ^{aq}faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the ^{ar}world to ^{as}save ^{at}sinner; of whom I am chief.

16 Howbeit for this cause I obtained mercy, that in me first Jesus Christ might shew forth all long-suffering, for a ^{au}pattern to them which should hereafter believe on him to ^{av}life everlasting.

17 Now unto the King eternal, ^{aw}immortal, ^{ax}invisible, the only wise

God, be honour and glory for ever and ever. Amen.

18 This charge I commit unto thee, ^ason Timothy, according to the prophecies which went before on thee, that thou by them mightest war ^aa good warfare;

19 Holding faith, and a good conscience; which some having put away concerning faith have made shipwreck:

20 Of whom is ^{1c}Hymenæus and Alexander; whom I have ^ddelivered unto ^aSatan, that they may learn not to blaspheme.

CHAPTER 2.

Part II. Prayer, and the divine order of the sexes.

I EXHORT therefore, that, first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks, be made for all men;

2 For ^akings, and for all that are in authority; that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and ^ahonesty.

3 For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our ^bSaviour;

4 ^aWho will have all men to be ^asaved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth.

5 For ^athere is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus;

6 Who gave himself a ^kransom for all, to be testified in due time.

7 Whereunto I am ordained a preacher, and an apostle, (I speak the truth in Christ, and lie not;) a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and verity.

8 I will therefore that ^amen pray every where, lifting up holy hands, without wrath and doubting.

9 In like manner also, that women adorn themselves in modest apparel, with shamefacedness and sobriety; not with ^ambroided hair, or gold, or pearls, or costly array;

10 But (which becometh women professing godliness) with good works.

11 Let the ^awoman learn in ^asilence with all ^asubjection.

CHAPTER 3.

Part III. The qualifications of elders and deacons.

THIS is a true saying, If a man desire the office of a ^abishop, he desireth a good work.

2 ^aA ^abishop then must be blameless, the husband of one wife, ^avigilant, sober, of good behaviour, given to hospitality, apt to teach;

3 Not given to wine, no striker, not greedy of filthy lucre; but ^apatient, not a brawler, not covetous;

4 One that ruleth ^awell his own house, having his children in subjection with all gravity;

5 (For if a man know not how to rule his own house, how shall he take care of the church of God?)

6 Not a novice, lest being ^alifted up with pride he fall into the condemnation of the ^bdevil.

7 Moreover he must have a good report of ^athem which are without; lest he fall into reproach and the ^asnare of the ^bdevil.

8 Likewise ^amust the ^adeacons be grave, not doubletongued, not given to much wine, not greedy of filthy lucre;

9 Holding the ^amystery of the faith in a pure conscience.

10 And let these also first be proved; then let them use the office of a deacon, being ^afound blameless.

11 ^aEven so ^amust their wives be grave, not slanderers, sober, faithful in all things.

12 Let the deacons be the husbands of one wife, ^aruling their children and their own houses well.

13 For they that have ^aused the office of a deacon ^awell purchase to themselves a good degree, and great boldness in the faith which is in Christ Jesus.

14 These things write I unto thee, hoping to come unto thee shortly:

¹ It is significant as bearing upon the seriousness of all false teaching, and particularly as related to resurrection, that Paul calls it blasphemy to teach that "the resurrection is past already" (2 Tim. 2. 17, 18).

15 But if I tarry long, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behave thyself in the house of God, which is the ^{1b}church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth.

16 And without controversy great is the ^{1c}mystery of godliness: God was manifest in the flesh, justified in the ^{1d}Spirit, seen of ^{1e}angels, preached unto the Gentiles, believed on in the ^{1f}world, received up into glory.

CHAPTER 4.

Part IV. The walk of a "good minister of Jesus Christ."

NOW the ^{1g}Spirit ^{1h}speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall ¹ⁱdepart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of ^{1j}devils;

2 Speaking lies in hypocrisy; having their conscience seared with a hot iron;

3 Forbidding to marry, and commanding to abstain from meats, which God hath created to be received with thanksgiving of them which believe and know the truth.

4 For every creature of God is good, and nothing to be refused, if it be received with thanksgiving;

5 For it is ^{1k}sanctified by the word of God and prayer.

6 If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of ^{1l}Jesus Christ, nourished up in the words of ^{1m}faith and of good doctrine, whereunto thou hast attained.

7 But refuse profane and old wives' fables, and exercise thyself ¹ⁿrather unto godliness.

8 For bodily exercise profiteth ^{1o}little; but godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of ^{1p}that which is to come.

9 This is a faithful saying and worthy of all acceptance.

10 For therefore we both labour and suffer reproach, because we ¹trust in the living God, who is the ²Saviour of all men, specially of those that believe.

11 These things command and teach.

12 ³Let no man despise thy youth; but be thou an example of the believers, in word, in conversation, in ⁴charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity.

13 Till I come, give attendance to reading, to exhortation, to doctrine.

14 ⁵Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee by prophecy, with the ⁶laying on of the hands of the presbytery.

15 Meditate upon these things; give thyself wholly to them; that thy profiting may appear to all.

16 Take heed unto thyself, and unto the doctrine; continue in them: for in doing this thou shalt both ⁷save thyself, and them that hear thee.

CHAPTER 5.

Part V. The work of a "good minister of Jesus Christ."

REBUKE not an elder, but ¹intreat him as a father; and the younger men as brethren;

2 The elder women as mothers; the younger as sisters, with all purity.

3 Honour widows that are ²widows indeed.

4 But if any widow have children or ³nephews, let them learn first to shew piety at home, and to requite their parents: for that is good and acceptable before God.

5 Now she that is a widow indeed, and desolate, ⁴trusteth in God, and continueth in supplications and prayers night and day.

6 But she that liveth in pleasure is ⁵dead while she liveth.

7 And these things give in charge, that they may be blameless.

8 But if any provide not for his own, and ⁶specially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an ⁷infidel.

¹ Church (visible), Summary: The passages under this head (1 Cor. 10. 32; 1 Tim. 3. 15) refer to that visible body of professed believers called, collectively, "the Church," of which history takes account as such, though it exists under many names and divisions based upon differences in doctrine or in government. Within, for the most part, this historical "Church" has existed the true Church, "which is his body, the fulness of him that filleth all in all" (Eph. 1. 22, 23; Heb. 12. 23, note), like the believing Remnant within Israel (Rom. 11. 5, note). The predicted future of the visible Church is apostasy (Lk. 18. 8; 2 Tim. 3. 1-8); of the true Church, glory (Mt. 13. 36-43; Rom. 8. 18-23; 1 Thes. 4. 14-17).

9 Let not a widow be taken into the number under threescore years old, having been the wife of one man,

10 Well reported of for good works; if she have brought up children, if she have lodged strangers, if she have washed the saints' feet, if she have relieved the afflicted, if she have diligently followed every good work.

11 But the younger widows refuse: for when they have begun to wax wanton against Christ, they will marry;

12 Having damnation, because they have cast off their first faith.

13 And withal they learn to be idle, wandering about from house to house; and not only idle, but tattlers also and busybodies, speaking things which they ought not.

14 I will therefore that the younger women marry, bear children, guide the house, give none occasion to the adversary to speak reproachfully.

15 For some are already turned aside after Satan.

16 If any man or woman that believeth have widows, let them relieve them, and let not the church be charged; that it may relieve them that are widows indeed.

17 Let the elders that rule well be counted worthy of double honour, especially they who labour in the word and doctrine.

18 For the scripture saith, Thou shalt not muzzle the ox that treadeth out the corn. And, The labourer is worthy of his reward.

19 Against an elder receive not an accusation, but before two or three witnesses.

20 Them that sin rebuke before all, that others also may fear.

21 I charge thee before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things without preferring one before another, doing nothing by partiality.

22 Lay hands suddenly on no man, neither be partaker of other men's sins: keep thyself pure.

23 Drink no longer water, but use a little wine for thy stomach's sake and thine often infirmities.

24 Some men's sins are open beforehand, going before to judgment; and some men they follow after.

25 Likewise also the good works of some are manifest beforehand; and they that are otherwise cannot be hid.

CHAPTER 6.

Part V. continued.

LET as many servants as are under the yoke count their own masters worthy of all honour, that the name of God and his doctrine be not blasphemed.

2 And they that have believing masters, let them not despise them, because they are brethren; but rather do them service, because they are faithful and beloved, partakers of the benefit. These things teach and exhort.

3 If any man teach otherwise, and consent not to wholesome words, even the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine which is according to godliness;

4 He is proud, knowing nothing, but doting about questions and strifes of words, whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, evil surmises,

5 Perverse disputings of men of corrupt minds, and destitute of the truth, supposing that gain is godliness: from such withdraw thyself.

6 But godliness with contentment is great gain.

7 For we brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out.

8 And having food and raiment let us be therewith content.

9 But they that will be rich fall into temptation and a snare, and into many foolish and hurtful lusts, which drown men in destruction and perdition.

10 For the love of money is the root of all evil: which while some coveted after, they have erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows.

11 But thou, O man of God, flee these things; and follow after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, meekness.

12 Fight the good fight of faith, lay hold on eternal life, whereunto thou art also called, and hast professed a good profession before many witnesses.

13 I give thee charge in the sight of God, who quickeneth all things, and before Christ Jesus, who before Pontius Pilate witnessed a good confession;

14 That thou keep this commandment without spot, unrebukeable, until ^athe appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ:

16 Who only hath immortality, dwelling in the light which no man can approach unto; ^dwhom no man hath seen, nor can see: to whom be honour and power everlasting. Amen.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO

1 1]

TIMOTHY.

[1 15

WRITER. The Apostle Paul (1. 1).

Date. This touching letter was written by Paul to his "dearly beloved son" shortly before his martyrdom (4. 6-8), and contains the last words of the great apostle which inspiration has preserved.

Theme. Second Timothy (in common with Second Peter, Jude, and Second and Third John) has to do with the personal walk and testimony of a true servant of Christ in a day of apostasy and declension. The key-phrases are, "All they which are in Asia be turned away from me" (1. 15); and, "A good soldier of Jesus Christ" (2. 3). The Asian churches had not disbanded, nor ceased to call themselves Christian, but they had turned away from the doctrines of grace distinctively revealed through the Apostle Paul (see Introduction, p. 1189). This was the proof that already the apostasy had set in its first form, legalism.

The natural divisions are four: I. The Apostle's greeting, 1. 1-18. II. The pathway of an approved servant in a day of apostasy, 2. 1-26. III. Apostasy and the Word, 3. 1-17. IV. A faithful servant and his faithful Lord, 4. 1-22.

CHAPTER 1.

Part I. The apostolic greeting.

PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, according to the promise of life which is in Christ Jesus,

2 To Timothy, my dearly beloved son: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

3 I thank God, whom I serve from my forefathers with pure conscience, that without ceasing I have remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day;

4 Greatly desiring to see thee, being mindful of thy tears, that I may be filled with joy;

5 When I call to remembrance the unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and thy mother Eunice; and I am persuaded that in thee also.

6 Wherefore I put thee in remembrance that thou stir up the gift of God, which is in thee by the putting on of my hands.

7 For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind.

8 Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel according to the power of God;

9 Who hath saved us, and called us with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the world began.

10 But is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light through the gospel:

11 Whereunto I am appointed a preacher, and an apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles.

12 For the which cause I also suffer these things: nevertheless I am not ashamed: for I know whom I have believed, and am persuaded that he is able to keep that which I have committed unto him against that day.

13 Hold fast the form of sound words, which thou hast heard of me, in faith and love which is in Christ Jesus.

14 That good thing which was committed unto thee keep by the Holy Ghost which dwelleth in us.

15 This thou knowest, that all they which are in Asia be turned away from me; of whom are Phygellus and Hermogenes.

¹ The believer's resources in a day of general declension and apostasy are: (1) Faith (1. 5); (2) the Spirit (1. 6, 7); (3) the word of God (1. 13; 3. 1-17; 4. 3, 4); (4) the grace of Christ (2. 1); (5) separation from vessels unto dishonour (2. 4, 20, 21); (6) the Lord's sure reward (4. 7, 8); (7) the Lord's faithfulness and power (2. 13, 19).

16 The Lord give mercy unto the house of Onesiphorus; ^afor he oft refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my ^bchain:

17 But, when he was in Rome, he sought me out very diligently, and found me.

18 The Lord grant unto him that he may find mercy of the Lord ^cin that day: and in how many things he ^dministered unto me at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

CHAPTER 2.

Part II. The path of a "good soldier" in the time of apostasy.

THOU therefore, my ^eson, be strong in the ^fgrace that is in Christ Jesus.

2 And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same ^gcommit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also.

3 Thou therefore ^hendure hardness, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ.

4 No man that ⁱwarreth entangleth himself with the affairs of ^jthis life; that he may please him who hath ^kchosen him to be a soldier.

5 And if a man also strive for masteries, ^lyet is he not crowned, except he strive lawfully.

6 The husbandman ^mthat labour-eth must be first partaker of the fruits.

7 Consider what I say; and ⁿthe Lord give thee understanding in all things.

8 Remember that ^oJesus Christ of the seed of David was raised from the dead according to my ^pgospel:

9 Wherein I suffer trouble, as an evil doer, ^qeven unto ^rbonds; but the word of God is not bound.

10 Therefore I endure all things for the ^select's sakes, that they may also obtain the ^tsalvation which is in Christ Jesus with eternal glory.

11 It is a faithful saying: For if we ^ube dead with ^vhim, we shall also live with ^whim:

12 If we suffer, we shall also reign with ^xhim: if we ^ydeny ^zhim, he also will deny us:

13 If we ^{aa}believe not, ^{ab}yet he abideth faithful: he ^{ac}cannot deny himself.

14 Of these things ^{ad}put ^{ae}them in 15 ^{ah}Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, ^{ai}rightly dividing the word of truth.

16 But shun profane and vain babblings: for they will increase unto more ungodliness.

17 And their word will eat as doth a canker: of whom is Hymenæus and Philetus;

18 Who concerning the truth have ^{aj}erred, ^{ak}saying that the ^{al}resurrection is past already; and overthrow the faith of some.

19 Nevertheless the ^{am}foundation of God standeth sure, having this seal, The ^{an}Lord knoweth them that are his. And, Let every one that nameth the name of ^{ao}Christ depart from iniquity.

20 But in a great house there are not only ^{ap}vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and of earth; and some to honour, and some to dishonour.

21 If a man therefore ^{aq}purge himself from these, he shall be a vessel unto honour, sanctified, and meet for the master's use, and ^{ar}prepared unto every good work.

22 Flee also youthful lusts: but follow ^{as}righteousness, faith, ^{at}charity, peace, with them that call on the Lord out of a pure heart.

23 But foolish and unlearned ^{au}questions avoid, knowing that they do gender strifes.

24 And the servant of the Lord must not strive; but be gentle unto all ^{av}men, apt to teach, ^{aw}patient,

25 In ^{ax}meekness instructing those that oppose themselves; if God peradventure will give them ^{ay}repentance to the acknowledging of the truth;

26 And ^{az}that they may recover themselves out of the snare of the ^{ba}devil, who are taken captive by him at his will.

CHAPTER 3.

Part III. The apostasy predicted: the believer's resource—the Scriptures.

THIS ^{bb}know also, ^{bc}that in the last days perilous times shall come.

¹ Apostasy, Summary: Apostasy, "falling away," is the act of professed Christians who deliberately reject revealed truth (1) as to the deity of Jesus Christ, and (2) redemption through His atoning and redeeming sacrifice (1 John 4. 1-3; Phil.

2 ^aFor men shall be lovers of their own selves, covetous, boasters, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy,

3 Without natural affection, trucebreakers, false accusers, incontinent, fierce, despisers of those that are good,

4 ^bTraitors, heady, highminded, lovers of pleasures more than lovers of God;

5 ^cHaving a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof: from such turn away.

6 For of this sort ^dare they which creep into houses, and lead captive silly women laden with ^esins, led away with divers lusts,

7 Ever learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth.

8 Now as Jannes and ^fJambres withstood Moses, so do these also resist the truth: ^gmen of corrupt minds, ^hreprobate concerning the faith.

9 But they shall proceed no further: for their folly shall be manifested unto all men, as their's also was.

10 But thou hast fully known my doctrine, manner of life, purpose, faith, longsuffering, ⁱcharity, patience,

11 Persecutions, afflictions, which came unto me at ^jAntioch, at ^kIconium, at Lystra; what persecutions I endured: but out of them all the Lord delivered me.

12 Yea, and all that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution.

13 But evil men and ^lseducers shall wax worse and worse, deceiving, and being deceived.

14 But continue thou in the things which thou hast learned and hast been assured of, knowing of whom thou hast learned them;

15 And that from a child thou hast known the ^mholy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto ⁿsalvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus.

CHAPTER 4.

Part IV. A faithful servant and his faithful Lord.

I CHARGE thee therefore before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, who shall ^jjudge the quick and the dead at his appearing and his kingdom;

2 Preach the word; be instant in season, out of season; ^kreprove, rebuke, exhort with all longsuffering and doctrine.

3 For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine; but after their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears;

4 ^lAnd they shall turn away their ears from the truth, and shall be turned unto fables.

5 But watch thou in all things, ^mendure afflictions, do the work of an evangelist, make ⁿfull proof of thy ministry.

6 For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my ^odeparture is at hand.

7 I have ^pfought ^qa good fight, I have finished ^rmy course, I have kept the faith:

8 Henceforth there is ^slaid up for me a ^tcrown of ^urighteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, shall give me at that day: and not to me only, but unto all ^vthem also that love his appearing.

9 Do thy diligence to come shortly unto me:

10 For ^wDemas hath forsaken me, having loved this present ^xworld, and is departed unto Thessalonica; Crescens to Galatia, Titus unto Dalmatia.

11 Only Luke is with me. Take Mark, and bring him with thee: for he is profitable to me for the ministry.

12 And ^yTychicus have I sent to Ephesus.

3. 18; 2 Pet. 2. 1). Apostasy differs therefore from error concerning truth, which may be the result of ignorance (Acts 19. 1-6), or heresy, which may be due to the snare of Satan (2 Tim. 2. 25, 26), both of which may consist with true faith. The apostate is perfectly described in 2 Tim. 4. 3, 4. Apostates depart from the faith, but not from the outward profession of Christianity (3. 5). Apostate teachers are described in 2 Tim. 4. 3; 2 Pet. 2. 1-19; Jude 4, 8, 11-13, 16. Apostasy in the church, as in Israel (Isa. 1. 5, 6; 5. 5-7), is irremediable, and awaits judgment (2 Thes. 2. 10-12; 2 Pet. 2. 17, 21; Jude 11-15; Rev. 3. 14-16).

TITUS.

[1 11

WRITER. The Apostle Paul (1. 1).

Date. Practically the same with First Timothy.

Theme. Titus has much in common with First Timothy. Both Epistles are concerned with the due order of the churches. The distinction is that in First Timothy sound doctrine is more prominent (1 Tim. 1. 3-10), in Titus the divine order for the local churches (Tit. 1. 5). The permanent use of these Epistles lies in this twofold application, on the one hand to churches grown careless as to the truth of God, on the other, to churches careless as to the order of God's house. The importance of this order is made solemnly emphatic in that the tests by which true elders and deacons may be known are repeated (1 Tim. 3. 1-7; Tit. 1. 6-9).

There are two divisions: I. The qualifications and functions of elders, 1. 1-16. II. The pastoral work of the true elder, 2. 1-3. 15.

CHAPTER 1.

Crete, that thou shouldest set in order the things that are ¹wanting, and ordain ²elders in every city, as I had appointed thee:

6 If any be blameless, the husband of one wife, having faithful children not accused of riot or unruly.

7 For a ³bishop must be blameless, as the steward of God; not self-willed, not soon angry, not given to wine, no striker, ⁴not given to filthy lucre;

8 But a lover of hospitality, a lover of good men, sober, just, ⁵holy, temperate;

9 ⁶Holding fast the faithful word as he hath been taught, that he may be able by sound doctrine both to exhort and to convince the gainsayers.

10 For there are many unruly and vain ⁷talkers and deceivers, specially they of the circumcision:

11 Whose mouths must be stopped,

¹ It is not at all a question of the presence in the assembly of persons having the qualifications of elders, made overseers by the Holy Spirit (Acts 20. 28); that such persons were in the churches of Crete is assumed; the question is altogether one of the appointment of such persons. These assemblies were not destitute of elders; but were "wanting," in that they were not duly appointed. There is a progress of doctrine in respect of the appointing of elders. Cf. v. 5, note.

² Elder (presbuteros) and bishop (episcopus = "overseer") designate the same office (cf. v. 7; Acts 20. 17; cf. v. 28), the former referring to the man, the latter to a function of the office. The eldership in the apostolic local churches was always plural. There is no instance of one elder in a local church. The functions of the elders are: to rule (1 Tim. 3. 4, 5; 5. 17), to guard the body of revealed truth from perversion and error (Tit. 1. 9), to "oversee" the church as a shepherd his flock (Acts 20. 28; John 21. 16; Heb. 13. 17; 1 Pet. 5. 2). Elders are made or "set" in the churches by the Holy Spirit (Acts 20. 28), but great stress is laid upon their due appointment (Acts 14. 23; Tit. 1. 5). At first they were ordained (Gr. cheiro-tono, "to elect," "to designate with the hand,") by an apostle; e.g. Acts 14. 23, but in Titus and 1 Timothy the qualifications of an elder become part of the Scriptures for the guidance of the churches in such appointment (1 Tim. 3. 1-7). who ^asubvert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for ^bfilthy lucre's sake.

12 One of themselves, even a prophet of their own, said, The Cretians are all liars, evil beasts, ^cslow bellies.

13 This witness is true. Wherefore ^drebuke them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith;

14 Not giving heed to Jewish fables, and commandments of men, that turn from the truth.

15 ^eUnto the pure all things are pure: but unto them that are defiled and unbelieving is nothing pure; but even their mind and conscience is defiled.

16 They ^fprofess that they ^gknow God; but in works they deny ^hhim, being abominable, and ⁱdisobedient, and unto every good work reprobate.

CHAPTER 2.

Part II. The pastoral work of a true minister (Tit. 2. 1-3. 15).

BUT speak thou the things which become sound doctrine:

2 That the aged men be sober, grave, temperate, sound in faith, in ^jcharity, in patience.

3 The aged women likewise, that ^kthey be in behaviour as becometh holiness, not false accusers, not given to much wine, teachers of good things;

4 That they may teach the young women to be sober, to love their husbands, to love their children,

5 ^lTo be discreet, chaste, ^mkeepers at home, good, ⁿobedient to their own husbands, that the word of God be not blasphemed.

6 Young men likewise exhort to be sober minded.

7 In all things shewing thyself a ^opattern of good works: in doctrine ^pshewing uncorruptness, gravity, sincerity,

8 ^qSound speech, that cannot be condemned; that he that is of the contrary part may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say of you.

9 ^rExhort servants to be obedient unto their own masters, and to please ^sthem well in all ^tthings; not answering again;

VER. 1]

PHILEMON.

[VER. 21

WRITER. The Apostle Paul (1. 1).

Date. Probably A.D. 64. It is one of the Prison Epistles. See Introductions to Ephesians and Colossians.

Theme. Onesimus ("profitable"), a slave of Philemon, a Christian of Colosse, had robbed his master and fled to Rome. There he became a convert through Paul, who sent him back to Philemon with this letter. It is of priceless value as a teaching (1) in practical righteousness; (2) in Christian brotherhood; (3) in Christian courtesy; (4) in the law of love.

The divisions are four: I. Greeting, 1-3. II. The character of Philemon, 4-7. III. Intercession for Onesimus, 8-21. IV. Salutations and conclusion, 22-25.

Part I. The apostolic greeting.

PAUL, a ^aprisoner of Jesus Christ, and Timothy ^{our} brother, unto Philemon our dearly beloved, and fellowlabourer,

2 And to ^{our} beloved Apphia, and ^bArchippus our fellowsoldier, and to the ^cchurch in thy house:

3 ^dGrace to you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Part II. The character of Philemon.

4 ^eI thank my God, making mention of thee always in my prayers,

5 Hearing of thy love and faith, which thou hast toward the Lord Jesus, and toward all saints;

6 That the communication of thy faith may become ^feffectual by the acknowledging of ^gevery good thing which is in you in Christ Jesus.

7 For we have great joy and consolation in thy love, because the bowels of the saints are refreshed by thee, brother.

Part III. Intercession for Onesimus.

8 Wherefore, though I might be much bold in Christ to enjoin thee that ^hwhich is ⁱconvenient,

9 Yet for love's sake I rather beseech ^jthee, being such an one as Paul the aged, and now also a prisoner of Jesus Christ.

10 I beseech thee for my son ^kOnesimus, whom I have ^lbegotten in my bonds:

A.D. 64.

11 ^mWhich in time past was to thee unprofitable, but now profitable to thee and to me:

12 Whom I have sent again: thou therefore receive him, that is, mine own bowels:

13 Whom I would have retained with me, that in thy stead he might have ministered unto me in the bonds of the ⁿgospel:

14 But without thy mind I do nothing; that thy benefit should not be as it were of necessity, but willingly.

15 For perhaps he therefore departed for a season, that thou shouldest receive him for ever;

16 Not now as a ^oservant, but above a servant, a brother beloved, specially to me, but how much more unto thee, both in the flesh, and in the Lord?

17 If thou count me therefore a ^ppartner, receive him as myself.

18 If he hath wronged thee, or oweth ^qthee ought, put that on mine ^raccount;

19 I Paul have written ^sit with mine own hand, I will repay ^tit: albeit I do not say to thee how thou owest unto me even thine own self besides.

20 Yea, brother, let me have joy of thee in the Lord: refresh my bowels ^uin the Lord.

THE JEWISH-CHRISTIAN EPISTLES.

IN Hebrews, James, First and Second Peter, and Jude we have a group of inspired writings differing in important respects from Paul's Epistles. But this difference is in no sense one of conflict. All present the same Christ, the same salvation, the same morality. The difference is one of extension, of development. The Jewish-Christian writings deal with the elementary and foundational things of the Gospel, while to Paul were given the revelations concerning the church, her place in the counsels of God, and the calling and hope of the believer as vitally united to Christ in the one body.

The other characteristic difference is that while Paul has in view the body of true believers, who are therefore assuredly saved, the Judæo-Christian writers view the church as a professing body in which, during this age, the wheat and tares are mingled (Mt. 13. 24-30). Their writings, therefore, abound in warnings calculated to arouse and alarm the mere professor. A word of caution is, however, needful at this point. The persons warned are neither mere hypocrites, nor mere formalists. So far as they have gone their experiences are perfectly genuine. It is said of the supposed persons in Heb. 6. 4-9 that they had been "enlightened," and the same word is used in Heb. 10. 32, translated "illuminated." They are said, too, to have "tasted" of the heavenly gift, and again a word importing reality is used, for it occurs in Heb. 2. 9 of the death of Christ. The true point of the divine solicitude is expressed in verses 1 and 2. It is that they shall go on. They have made a real beginning, but it is not said of them that they have faith, and it is said (verse 9) that "things that accompany salvation" are "better." This fear lest beginners will "come short" is the theme of Heb. 3. 7-4. 3. The men in Mt. 7. 21-23 are not conscious hypocrites—they are utterly surprised at their exclusion. Characteristic contrasts are, Heb. 6. 4-6 with Rom. 8. 29-39; 2 Pet. 1. 10 with Phil. 1. 6. In this respect these Epistles group with Mt. 13.-23.; Acts 2.-9. The two Epistles of Peter, however, are less Jewish and more truly catholic than the other Jewish-Christian writings. He addresses, in his first Epistle, neither Jews as such, nor even Christian Jews of Jerusalem, or Judæa, but of the dispersion; while Second Peter is not distinctively Jewish at all.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE

1 1]

HEBREWS.

WRITER. The authorship of Hebrews has been in controversy from the earliest times. The book is anonymous, but the reference in 2 Pet. 3. 15 seems conclusive that Paul was the writer. See also Heb. 13. 23. All agree that, whether by Paul or another, the point of view is Pauline. We undoubtedly have here the method of Paul's synagogue addresses. No book of Scripture more fully authenticates itself as inspired.

Date. From internal evidence it is clear that Hebrews was written before the destruction of the Temple, A.D. 70 (cf. 10. 11).

Theme. The doctrinal passages reveal the purpose of the book. It was written with a twofold intent: (1) To confirm Jewish Christians by showing that Judaism had come to an end through the fulfilment by Christ of the whole purpose of the law; and (2) the hortatory passages show that the writer had in view the danger ever present to Jewish professed believers of either lapsing back into Judaism, or of pausing short of true faith in Jesus Christ. It is clear from the Acts that even the strongest of the believers in Palestine were held to a strange mingling of Judaism and Christianity (e.g. Acts 21. 18-24), and that snare would be especially apt to entangle professed Christians amongst the Jews of the dispersion.

The key-word is "better." Hebrews is a series of contrasts between the good things of Judaism and the better things of Christ. Christ is "better" than angels, than Moses, than Joshua, than Aaron; and the New Covenant than the Mosaic Covenant. Church truth does not appear, the ground of gathering only being stated (13. 13). The whole sphere of Christian profession is before the writer; hence exhortations necessary to warn and alarm a mere professor.

Hebrews is in six divisions, but these include five parenthetic passages of exhortation. I. The great salvation, 1. 1-2. 18 (2. 1-4, parenthetic). II. The rest of God, 3. 1-4. 16 (all parenthetic). III. Our great High Priest, 5. 1-8. 6 (5. 11-6. 12, parenthetic). IV. The new covenant and the heavenly sanctuary, 8. 7-10. 39 (10. 26-39, parenthetic). V. The superiority of the faith-way, 11. 1-40. VI. The worship and walk of the believer-priest, 12. 1-13. 25 (12. 3-17, parenthetic).

CHAPTER 1.

Part I. The great salvation (Heb. 1. 1-2. 18).

4 Being made so much better than the ^hangels, as he hath by inheritance obtained a more excellent name than they.

5 For unto which of the angels

¹ Angel, Summary: Angel, "messenger," is used of God, of men, and of an order of created spiritual beings whose chief attributes are strength and wisdom (2 Sam. 14. 20; Psa. 103. 20; 104. 4). In the O.T. the expression "the angel of the LORD" (sometimes "of God") usually implies the presence of Deity in angelic form (Gen. 16. 1-13; 21. 17-19; 22. 11-16; 31. 11-13; Ex. 3. 2-4; Jud. 2. 1; 6. 12-16; 13. 3-22). See Mal. 3. 1, note. The word angel is used of men in Lk. 7. 24; Jas. 2. 25; Rev. 1. 20; 2. 1, 8, 12, 18; 3. 1, 7, 14. In Rev. 8. 3-5 Christ is evidently meant. Sometimes angel is used of the spirit of man (Mt. 18. 10; Acts 12. 15). Though angels are spirits (Psa. 104. 4; Heb. 1. 14), power is given them to become visible in the semblance of human form (Gen. 19. 1, cf. v. 5; Ex. 3. 2; Num. 22. 22-31; Jud. 2. 1; 6. 11, 22; 13. 3, 6; 1 Chr. 21. 16, 20; Mt. 1. 20; Lk. 1. 26; John 20. 12; Acts 7. 30; 12. 7, 8, etc.). The word is always said he at any time, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee? And again, ^bI will be to him a Father, and he shall be to me a Son?

6 And again, when he ^cbringeth in the firstbegotten into the world, he saith, And let all the angels of God worship him.

7 And of the angels he saith, Who maketh his angels spirits, and his ministers a flame of fire.

8 But unto the Son he saith, Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever: a sceptre of righteousness is the sceptre of thy kingdom.

9 Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquity; therefore God, even thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows.

10 And, Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth; and the heavens are the works of thine hands:

11 They shall perish; but thou remainest; and they all shall wax old as doth a garment;

12 And as a vesture shalt thou fold them up, and they shall be changed: but thou art the same, and thy years shall not fail.

14 Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be heirs of salvation?

CHAPTER 2.

(Parenthesis: hearers warned.)

THEREFORE we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard, lest at any time we should let them slip.

2 For if the word spoken by angels was stedfast, and every transgression and disobedience received a just recompence of reward;

3 How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation; which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard him;

4 God also bearing them witness, both with signs and wonders, and with divers miracles, and gifts of the Holy Ghost, according to his own will?

(3) The earth to be put under the man Christ Jesus.

5 For unto the angels hath he not put in subjection the world to come, whereof we speak.

6 But one in a certain place tesused in the masculine gender, though sex, in the human sense, is never ascribed to angels (Mt. 22. 30; Mk. 12. 25). They are exceedingly numerous (Mt. 26. 53; Heb. 12. 22; Rev. 5. 11; Psa. 68. 17). Their power is inconceivable (2 Ki. 19. 35). Their place is about the throne of God (Rev. 5. 11; 7. 11). Their relation to the believer is that of "ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be heirs of salvation," and this ministry has reference largely to the physical safety and well-being of believers (1 Ki. 19. 5; Psa. 34. 7; 91. 11; Dan. 6. 22; Mt. 2. 13, 19; 4. 11; Lk. 22. 43; Acts 5. 19; 12. 7-10). From Heb. 1. 14, with Mt. 18. 10; Psa. 91. 11, it would seem that this care for the heirs of salvation begins in infancy and continues through life. The angels observe us (1 Cor. 4. 9; Eph. 3. 10; Eccl. 5. 6), a fact which should influence conduct. They receive departing saints (Lk. 16. 22). Man is made "a little lower than the angels," and in incarnation Christ took "for a little" (time) this lower place (Psa. 8. 4, 5; Heb. 2. 6, 9) that He might lift the believer into His own sphere above angels (Heb. 2. 9, 10). The angels are to accompany Christ in His second advent (Mt. 25. 31). To them will be committed the preparation of the judgment of the nations (see Mt. 13. 30, 39, 41, 42; 25. 32, note). The kingdom is not to be subject to angels, but to Christ and those for whom He was made a little lower than the angels (Heb. 2. 5). An archangel, Michael, is mentioned as having a particular relation to Israel and to the resurrections (Dan. 10. 13, 21; 12. 1, 2; Jude 9; 1 Thes. 4. 16). The only other angel whose name is revealed, Gabriel, was employed in the most distinguished services (Dan. 8. 16; 9. 21; Lk. 1. 19, 26).

Fallen angels. Two classes of these are mentioned: (1) "The angels which kept not their first estate [place], but left their own habitation," are "chained under darkness," awaiting judgment (2 Pet. 2. 4; Jude 6; 1 Cor. 6. 3; John 5. 22). See Gen. 6. 4, note. (2) The angels who have Satan (Gen. 3. 1; Rev. 20. 10, note) as leader. The origin of these is nowhere explicitly revealed. They may be identical with the demons (Mt. 7. 22, note). For Satan and his angels everlasting fire is prepared (Mt. 25. 41; Rev. 20. 10).

tified, saying, "What is man, that thou art mindful of him? or the son of man, that thou visitest him?"

7 Thou madest him a little lower than the angels; thou crownedst him with glory and honour, and didst set him over the works of thy hands:

8 Thou hast put all things in subjection under his feet. For in that he put all in subjection under him, he left nothing that is not put under him. But now we see not yet all things put under him.

(4) Jesus, made for a little time lower than the angels, dies for man that he may lift men above angels into the family of God.

9 But we see Jesus, who was made ^aa little lower than the angels for the suffering of death, crowned with glory and honour; that he by the 'grace of God should taste death for every man.

10 For it became him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, in bringing many sons unto glory, to make the ^dcaptain of their salvation perfect through sufferings.

11 For both he that sanctifieth and they who are sanctified are all of one; for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren,

12 Saying, "I will declare thy name unto my brethren, in the midst of the church will I sing praise unto thee."

13 And again, "I will put my trust in him. And again, Behold I and the children which God hath given me."

14 Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same; that through death he might ^kdestroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil;

15 And deliver them who through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage.

16 For verily ^mhe took not on him the nature of angels; but he took on him the seed of Abraham.

17 Wherefore in all things it behoved him to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sins of the people.

18 For in that he himself hath suffered being tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

CHAPTER 3.

Part II. Parenthetic: The rest of God (Heb. 3: 1-4. 16).

(1) Christ the Son better than Moses the Servant.

WHEREFORE, ^oholy brethren, ^ppartakers of the heavenly calling, consider the Apostle and High Priest of our 'profession, Christ Jesus;

2 Who was faithful to him that appointed him, as also 'Moses was faithful in all his house.

3 For this man was counted worthy of more glory than Moses, inasmuch as he who hath 'built the house hath more honour than the house.

4 For every house is builded by some man; but he that built all things is God.

5 And 'Moses verily was faithful in all his house, as a servant, for a 'testimony of those things which were to be spoken after;

6 But Christ as a son over his own house; whose house are we, if we hold fast the confidence and the rejoicing of the hope firm unto the end.

(2) Exhortation: the generation that came out of Egypt did not enter the Canaan-rest because of unbelief.

7 Wherefore (as the ^wHoly Ghost saith, "To day if ye hear his voice,

8 Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation, in the day of temptation in the wilderness:

9 When your fathers 'tempted me, proved me, and saw my works forty years.

10 Wherefore I was grieved with that generation, and said, They do always err in their heart: and they have not known my ways.

11 So I swear in my wrath, They shall not enter into my rest.)

12 Take heed, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, in departing from the living God.

13 But exhort one another daily, while it is called To day; lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of 'sin.

14 For we are made 'partakers of Christ, if we hold the beginning of our confidence stedfast unto the end;

15 While it is said, "To day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as in the provocation.

16 For some, when they had heard, did provoke: howbeit not all that came out of Egypt by Moses.

17 But with whom was he grieved forty years? was it not with them that had ^asinned, whose carcases fell in the wilderness?

18 And to whom sware he that they should not enter into his rest, but to them that believed not?

19 So we see that they could not enter in because of unbelief.

CHAPTER 4.

(3) But there is a better rest for the believer, of which God's creation-rest is the type.

LET us therefore fear, lest, a promise being left us of entering into his rest, any of you should seem to come short of it.

2 For unto us was the ^bgospel preached, as well as unto them: but the word preached did not profit them, not being mixed with ^cfaith in them that heard it.

3 For we which have believed do enter into rest, as he said, ^d'As I have sworn in my wrath, if they shall enter into my rest: although the works were finished from the foundation of the ^eworld.

4 For he spake in a certain place of the seventh day on this wise, And ^fGod did rest the seventh day from all his works.

5 And in this place again, If they shall enter into my rest.

6 Seeing therefore it remaineth that some must enter therein, and they to whom ^git was first preached entered not in because of unbelief:

7 Again, he limiteth a certain day, saying in David, To day, after so long a time; as it is ^hsaid, To day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts.

8 For if ⁱJesus had given them rest, then would he not afterward have spoken of another day.

(4) The believer rests in a perfect work of redemption, as God rested from a perfect work of creation.

9 There remaineth therefore a ^jrest to the people of God.

10 For he that is entered into his rest, he also hath ceased from his own works, as God ^kdid from his.

11 ^kLet us labour therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man ^lfall after the same example of ^munbelief.

12 ⁿFor the word of God is ^oquick, and powerful, and sharper than any twoedged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discernor of the thoughts and intents of the heart.

13 Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are ^pnaked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do.

(5) The believer is kept in perfect rest by mercy and grace, through the Son of God.

14 Seeing then that we have a great high priest, that is ^qpassed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, ^rlet us hold fast our ^sprofession.

15 For we have not an high priest which cannot be ^ttouched with the feeling of our infirmities; but was in all points ^utempted like as we are, ^vyet without ^wsin.

16 Let us therefore come boldly unto the ^xthrone of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace ^yto help in time of need.

CHAPTER 5.

Part III. Our great High Priest (Heb. 5. 1-8. 6).

(1) The office of high priest.

FOR every high priest taken from among men is ordained for men in things ^apertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for ^bsins:

2 Who can have compassion on the ignorant, and on them that are out of the way; for that he himself also is ^ccompassed with infirmity.

3 And by reason hereof he ought, as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for ^dsins.

4 And no man taketh this honour unto himself, but he that is called of God, as was ^eAaron.

(2) Christ a high priest after the order of Melchisedec.

5 So also Christ glorified not himself to be made an high priest; but he that said unto him, ^fThou art my Son, to day have I begotten thee.

6 As he saith also in another place, "Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec."

7 Who in the days of his flesh, when he had offered up prayers and supplications with strong crying and tears unto him that was able to save him from death, and was heard in that he feared;

8 Though he were a Son, yet learned he obedience by the things which he suffered;

9 And being made perfect, he became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him;

10 Called of God an high priest after the order of Melchisedec.

(Parenthetic: appeal and warning, to 6. 12.)

11 Of whom we have many things to say, and hard to be uttered, seeing ye are dull of hearing.

12 For when for the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have need that one teach you again which be the first principles of the oracles of God; and are become such as have need of milk, and not of strong meat.

13 For every one that useth milk is unskilful in the word of righteousness: for he is a babe.

14 But strong meat belongeth to them that are of full age, even those who by reason of use have their senses exercised to discern both good and evil.

CHAPTER 6.

THEREFORE leaving the principles of the doctrine of Christ, let us go on unto perfection; not laying again the foundation of repentance from dead works, and of faith toward God,

5 And have tasted the good word of God, and the powers of the world to come,

6 If they shall fall away, to renew them again unto repentance; seeing they crucify to themselves the Son of God afresh, and put him to an open shame.

11 And we desire that every one of you do show the same diligence to the full assurance of hope unto the end:

12 That ye be not slothful, but followers of them who through faith and patience inherit the promises.

Part III Resumed. (3) Our High Priest within the veil assures our coming there too.

13 For when God made promise to Abraham, because he could

1 See Gen. 14. 18, note. Melchisedec was a suitable type of Christ as High Priest, because: (1) he was a king-priest (Gen. 14. 18 with Zech. 6. 12, 13); (2) his name means, "my king is righteous" (cf. Isa. 11. 5), and he was king of Salem (i.e. "peace," cf. Isa. 11. 6-9); (3) he had no (recorded) "beginning of days" (cf. John 1. 1), nor "end of life" (cf. Rom. 6. 9; Heb. 7. 23-25); nor (4) was he made a high priest by human appointment (Psa. 110. 4). But the contrast between the high priesthood of Melchisedec and Aaron is only as to person, "order" (or appointment), and duration. In His work Christ follows the Aaronic pattern, the "shadow" of which Christ was the substance (Heb. 8. 1-6; 9. 1-28).

2 Heb. 6. 4-8 presents the case of Jewish professed believers who halt short of faith in Christ after advancing to the very threshold of salvation, even "going along with" the Holy Spirit in His work of enlightenment and conviction (John 16. 8-10). It is not said that they had faith. This supposed person is like the spies at Kadesh-barnea (Deut. 1. 19-26) who saw the land and had the very fruit of it in their hands, and yet turned back.

swear by no greater, he sware by himself.

14 Saying, "Surely blessing I will bless thee, and multiplying I will multiply thee.

15 And so, after he had patiently endured, he obtained the promise.

16 For men verily swear by the greater: and an oath for confirmation is to them an end of all strife.

17 Wherein God, willing more abundantly to shew unto the heirs of promise the immutability of his counsel, confirmed it by an oath:

18 That by two immutable things, in which it was impossible for God to lie, we might have a strong consolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope set before us:

19 Which hope we have as an anchor of the soul, both sure and stedfast, and which entereth into that within the veil;

20 Whither the forerunner is for us entered, even Jesus, made an high priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.

CHAPTER 7.

The Melchisedec high priesthood resumed.

(4) The historic Melchisedec a type of Christ.

FOR this Melchisedec, king of Salem, priest of the most high God, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings, and blessed him;

2 To whom also Abraham gave a tenth part of all; first being by interpretation King of righteousness, and after that also King of Salem, which is, King of peace;

3 Without father, without mother, without descent, having neither beginning of days, nor end of life; but made like unto the Son of God; abideth a priest continually.

(5) Melchisedec high priesthood greater than the Aaronic.

4 Now consider how great this man was, unto whom even the patriarch Abraham gave the tenth of the spoils.

5 And verily they that are of the sons of Levi, who receive the office of the priesthood, have a commandment to take tithes of the people according to the law, that is, of their brethren, though they come out of the loins of Abraham:

6 But he whose descent is not counted from them received tithes of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises.

7 And without all contradiction the less is blessed of the better.

8 And here men that die receive tithes; but there he receiveth them, of whom it is witnessed that he liveth.

9 And as I may so say, Levi also, who receiveth tithes, payed tithes in Abraham.

10 For he was yet in the loins of his father, when Melchisedec met him.

11 "If therefore perfection were by the Levitical priesthood, (for under it the people received the law,) what further need was there that another priest should rise after the order of Melchisedec, and not be called after the order of Aaron?

12 For the priesthood being changed, there is made of necessity a change also of the law.

13 For he of whom these things are spoken pertaineth to another tribe, of which no man gave attendance at the altar.

14 For it is evident that our Lord sprang out of Juda; of which tribe Moses spake nothing concerning priesthood.

15 And it is yet far more evident: for that after the similitude of Melchisedec there ariseth another priest.

16 Who is made, not after the law of a carnal commandment, but after the power of an endless life.

17 For he testifieth, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.

18 For there is verily a disannulling of the commandment going before for the weakness and unprofitableness thereof.

19 "For the law made nothing perfect, but the bringing in of a better hope did; by the which we draw nigh unto God.

20 And inasmuch as not without an oath he was made priest:

21 (For those priests were made without an oath; but this with an oath by him that said unto him, "The Lord sware and will not repent, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec:)

22 By so much was Jesus made a surety of a better ^otestament.

(c) Because the Aaronic priests died: Christ ever liveth.

23 And they truly were many priests, because they were not suffered to continue by reason of death:

24 But this man, because he continueth ever, hath an unchangeable priesthood.

25 Wherefore he is ^bable also to ^asave them ^dto the ^cuttermost that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them.

26 For such an high priest became us, who is holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from ⁱsinners, and made higher than the heavens;

27 Who needeth not daily, as those high priests, to offer up sacrifice, first for his own ⁱsins, and then for the people's: for this he did ^konce, when he offered up himself.

28 For the law maketh men high priests which have infirmity; but the word of the oath, which was since the law, maketh the Son, who is ^hconsecrated for evermore.

CHAPTER 8.

(d) Because the Aaronic priests served the shadows of which Christ serves the realities.

NOW of the things which we have spoken this is the sum: We have such an high priest, who is set on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens; of the ^ttrue tabernacle, which the Lord pitched, and not man.

3 For every high priest is ordained to offer gifts and sacrifices: wherefore it is of necessity that this man have somewhat also to offer.

4 For if he were on earth, he should not be a priest, seeing that there are priests that offer gifts according to the law:

5 Who ^userve unto the example and shadow of heavenly things, as Moses was ^vadmonished of God when he was about to make the tabernacle: for, ^wSee, saith he, that thou make all things according to the pattern shewed to thee in the mount.

(e) Because Christ mediates a better covenant.

6 But now hath he obtained a more excellent ministry, by how much also he is the mediator of a better ^xcovenant, which was established upon better promises.

Part IV. The new covenant better than the old (Heb. 8. 7-10. 39).

7 For if ^ythat first covenant had been faultless, then should no place have been sought for the second.

8 For finding fault with them, he saith, Behold, the days come, saith the ^zLord, when I will ^amake a ^bnew ^ccovenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah:

9 Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day when I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt; because they continued

¹ The New Covenant, Summary: (1) "Better" than the Mosaic Covenant, not morally, but efficaciously (Heb. 7. 19; Rom. 8. 3, 4). (2) Established on "better" (i.e. unconditional) promises. In the Mosaic Covenant God said, "If ye will" (Ex. 19. 5); in the New Covenant He says, "I will" (Heb. 8. 10, 12). (3) Under the Mosaic Covenant obedience sprang from fear (Heb. 2. 2; 12. 25-27); under the New from a willing heart and mind (v. 10). (4) The New Covenant secures the personal revelation of the Lord to every believer (v. 11); (5) the complete oblivion of sins (v. 12; Heb. 10. 17; cf. Heb. 10. 3); (6) rests upon an accomplished redemption (Mt. 26. 27, 28; 1 Cor. 11. 25; Heb. 9. 11, 12, 18-23); (7) and secures the perpetuity, future conversion, and blessing of Israel (Jer. 31. 31-40; see also "Kingdom (O.T.)," and 2 Sam. 7. 8-17). The New Covenant is the eighth, thus speaking of resurrection and of eternal completeness.

² I. The Eight Covenants, Summary: (1) The Edenic Covenant (Gen. 1. 26-28, note) conditioned the life of man in innocency. (2) The Adamic Covenant (Gen. 3. 14-19, note) conditions the life of fallen man and gives promise of a Redeemer. (3) The Noachic Covenant (Gen. 9. 1, note) establishes the principle of human government. (4) The Abrahamic Covenant (Gen. 15. 18, note) founds the nation of Israel, and confirms, with specific additions, the Adamic promise of redemption. (5) The Mosaic Covenant (Ex. 19. 25, note) condemns all men, "for that all have sinned." (6) The Palestinian Covenant (Deut. 28.-30. 3, note) secures the final restoration and conversion of Israel. (7) The Davidic Covenant (2 Sam. 7. 8-17, note) establishes the perpetuity of the Davidic family (fulfilled in Christ, Mt. 1. 1; not in my covenant, and I regarded them not, saith the Lord.

10 For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, saith the Lord; I will put my laws into their mind, and write them in their hearts: and I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people:

11 And they shall not teach every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for all shall know me, from the least to the greatest.

12 For I will be merciful to their unrighteousness, and their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more.

13 In that he saith, A new covenant, he hath made the first old. Now that which decayeth and waxeth old is ready to vanish away.

CHAPTER 9.

(1) The ordinances and sanctuary of the old covenant were mere types.

THEN verily the first covenant had also ordinances of divine service, and a worldly sanctuary.

2 For there was a tabernacle made; the first, wherein was the candlestick, and the table, and the shewbread; which is called the sanctuary.

3 And after the second veil, the tabernacle which is called the Holiest of all;

4 Which had the golden censer, and the ark of the covenant overlaid round about with gold, wherein was the golden pot that had manna, and Aaron's rod that budded, and the tables of the covenant;

5 And over it the cherubims of glory shadowing the mercyseat; of which we cannot now speak particularly.

6 Now when these things were thus ordained, the priests went always into the first tabernacle, accomplishing the service of God.

7 But into the second went the high priest alone once every year, not without blood, which he offered for himself, and for the errors of the people:

8 The Holy Ghost thus signifying, that the way into the holiest of all was not yet made manifest, while as the first tabernacle was yet standing:

9 Which was a figure for the time then present, in which were offered both gifts and sacrifices, that could not make him that did the service perfect, as pertaining to the conscience;

10 Which stood only in meats and drinks, and divers washings, and carnal ordinances, imposed on them until the time of reformation.

(2) The sanctuary, and sacrifice of the new covenant are realities.

11 But Christ being come an high priest of good things to come, by a greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this building;

12 Neither by the blood of goats and calves, but by his own blood he entered in once into the holy place, having obtained eternal redemption for us.

13 For if the blood of bulls and of Lk. 1. 31-33; Rom. 1. 3), and of the Davidic kingdom, over Israel and over the whole earth; to be fulfilled in and by Christ (2 Sam. 7. 8-17; Zech. 12. 8; Lk. 1. 31-33; Acts 15. 14-17; 1 Cor. 15. 24). (8) The New Covenant rests upon the sacrifice of Christ, and secures the eternal blessedness, under the Abrahamic Covenant (Gal. 3. 13-29), of all who believe. It is absolutely unconditional, and, since no responsibility is by it committed to man, it is final and irreversible.

II. The relation of Christ to the eight covenants is as follows: (1) To the Edenic Covenant, Christ, as the "second Man," the "last Adam" (1 Cor. 15. 45-47), takes the place over all things which the first Adam lost (Col. 2. 10; Heb. 2. 7-8). (2) He is the "Seed of the woman" of the Adamic Covenant (Gen. 3. 15; John 12. 31; 1 John 3. 8; Gal. 4. 4; Rev. 20. 10), and fulfilled its conditions of toil (Mk. 6. 3) and obedience. (3) As the greatest son of Shem, in Him was fulfilled supremely the promise to Shem in the Noachic Covenant (Gen. 9. 1, note; Col. 2. 9). (4) He is the "Seed to whom the promises were made" in the Abrahamic Covenant; the son of Abraham obedient unto death (Gen. 22. 18; Gal. 3. 16; Phil. 2. 8). (5) He lived sinlessly under the Mosaic Covenant and bore for us its curse (Gal. 3. 10-13). (6) He lived obediently as a Jew in the land under the Palestinian Covenant, and will yet perform its gracious promises (Deut. 28.-30. 1-9). (7) He is the "Seed," "Heir," and "King" under the Davidic Covenant (Mt. 1. 1; Lk. 1. 31-33). (8) His sacrifice is the foundation of the New Covenant (Mt. 26. 28; 1 Cor. 11. 25).

goats, and the ashes of an heifer sprinkling the unclean, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh:

14 How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God?

15 And for this cause he is the mediator of the new testament, that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance.

(3) The new covenant is also the last will and testament of Christ, sealed by his blood.

16 For where a testament is, there must also of necessity be the death of the testator.

17 For a testament is of force after men are dead: otherwise it is of no strength at all while the testator liveth.

18 Whereupon neither the first testament was dedicated without blood.

19 For when Moses had spoken every precept to all the people according to the law, he took the blood of calves and of goats, with water, and scarlet wool, and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book, and all the people,

20 Saying, This is the blood of the testament which God hath enjoined unto you.

21 Moreover he sprinkled with blood both the tabernacle, and all the vessels of the ministry.

22 And almost all things are by the law purged with blood; and without shedding of blood is no remission.

that the "patterns of things in the heavens should be purified with these; but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these.

24 For Christ is not entered into the holy places made with hands, which are the figures of the true; but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God for us:

(5) The one sacrifice of the new covenant is better than the many sacrifices of the old.

25 Nor yet that he should offer himself often, as the high priest entereth into the holy place every year with blood of others;

26 For then must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world: but now once in the end of the world hath he appeared to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself.

27 And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment:

28 So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many; and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation.

CHAPTER 10.

FOR the law having a shadow of good things to come, and not the very image of the things, can never with those sacrifices which they offered year by year continually make the comers thereunto perfect.

2 For then would they not have ceased to be offered? because that the worshippers once purged should have had no more conscience of sins.

3 But in those sacrifices there is a remembrance again made of sins every year.

¹ Death, physical, Summary: (1) Physical death is a consequence of sin (Gen. 3. 19), and the universality of death proves the universality of sin (Rom. 5. 12-14). (2) Physical death affects the body only, and is neither cessation of life nor of consciousness (Hab. 2. 5, note; Lk. 16. 23, note; Rev. 6. 9, 10). (3) All physical death ends in the resurrection of the body. See "Resurrection" (Job 19. 25; 1 Cor. 15. 52, note). (4) Because physical death is a consequence of sin, it is not inevitable to the redeemed (Gen. 5. 24; 1 Cor. 15. 51, 52; 1 Thes. 4. 15-17). (5) Physical death has for the believer a peculiar qualification. It is called "sleep," because his body may be "awakened" at any moment (Phil. 3. 20, 21; 1 Thes. 4. 14-18). (6) The soul and spirit live, independently of the death of the body, which is described as a "tabernacle" (tent), in which the "I" dwells, and which may be put off (2 Cor. 5. 1-8; cf. 1 Cor. 15. 42-44; 2 Pet. 1. 13-15). (7) At the believer's death he is "clothed upon" with a "house from heaven" pending the resurrection of the "earthly house," and is at once "with the Lord" (2 Cor. 5. 1-8; Phil. 1. 23; Lk. 23. 43). As to the death of Christ, see Mt. 27. 50, note.

4 For it is not possible that the blood of bulls and of goats should take away ^asins.

5 Wherefore when he cometh into the world, he saith, 'Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not, but a body hast thou prepared me:

6 In burnt-offerings and sacrifices for ^asin thou hast had no pleasure.

7 Then said I, Lo, I come (in the volume of the book it is written of me,) to do thy will, O ^dGod.

8 Above when he said, Sacrifice and offering and burnt-offerings and offering for ^asin thou wouldest not, neither hadst pleasure therein; which are offered by the law;

9 Then said he, Lo, I come to do thy will, O God. He taketh away the first, that he may establish the second.

10 By the which will ^ewe are ^fsanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all.

11 And every priest standeth daily ministering and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, which can never take away ^asins:

12 But this man, after he had offered one ^fsacrifice for sins ^gfor ever, sat down ^hon the right hand of God;

13 From henceforth expecting till his enemies be made his footstool.

14 For by one offering he hath ⁱperfected for ever ^jthem that are sanctified.

15 Whereof the ^kHoly Ghost also is a witness to us: for after that he had said before,

16 This is the covenant that I will make with them after those days, saith the Lord, I will put my laws into their hearts, and in their minds will I write them;

(Parenthetic: The wavering warned: the Jewish sacrifices had lost their efficacy; it is Christ or judgment.)

26 For if we ^msin ^xwilfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins,

27 But a certain fearful looking for of judgment and fiery indignation, which shall devour the adversaries.

28 He that despised ^oMoses' law

¹ Cf. Psal. 40. 6; the rule, applicable to all modifications of the form of quotations in the N.T. from O.T. writings, is that the divine Author of both Testaments is perfectly free, in using an earlier statement, to recast the mere literary form of it. The variant form will be found invariably to give the deeper meaning of the earlier statement.

² Sacrifice, Summary: (1) The first intimation of sacrifice is Gen. 3. 21, the "coats of skins" having obviously come from slain animals. The first clear instance of sacrifice is Gen. 4. 4, explained in Heb. 11. 4. Abel's righteousness was the result of his sacrifice, not of his character. (2) Before the giving of the law the head of the family was the family priest. By the law an order of priests was established who alone could offer sacrifices. Those sacrifices were "shadows," types, expressing variously the guilt and need of the offerer in reference to God, and all pointing to Christ and fulfilled in Him. (3) As foreshadowed by the types and explained by the N.T., the sacrifice of Christ is penal (Gal. 3. 13; 2 Cor. 5. 21); substitutional (Lev. 1. 4; Isa. 53. 5, 6; 2 Cor. 5. 21; 1 Pet. 2. 24); voluntary (Gen. 22. 9; John 10. 18); redemptive (Gal. 3. 13; Eph. 1. 7; 1 Cor. 6. 20); propitiatory (Rom. 3. 25); reconciling (2 Cor. 5. 18, 19; Col. 1. 21, 22); efficacious (John 12. 32, 33; Rom. 5. 9, 10; 2 Cor. 5. 21; Eph. 2. 13; Heb. 9. 11, 12, 26; 10. 10-17; 1 John 1. 7; Rev. 1. 5); and revelatory (John 3. 16; 1 John 4. 9, 10).

died without mercy under two or three witnesses:

29 ^aOf how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, ^bwho hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was sanctified, ^can unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace?

30 For we know him that hath said, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord. And again, The Lord shall judge his people.

31 It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

32 But call to remembrance the former days, in which, after ye were illuminated, ye endured a great fight of afflictions;

33 Partly, whilst ye were made a gazingstock both by reproaches and afflictions; and partly, whilst ye became companions of them that were so used.

34 For ye had compassion of me in my bonds, and took joyfully the spoiling of your goods, knowing ^ein yourselves that ye have ^fin heaven a better and an enduring substance.

35 Cast not away therefore your confidence, which hath great recompence of reward.

36 For ye have need of patience, that, ^gafter ye have done the will of God, ye might receive the promise.

37 For yet a little while, and he that shall come ^hwill come, and will not tarry.

38 Now the ⁱjust shall live by faith: but if ^jany man draw back, my soul shall have no pleasure in him.

39 But we are not of them who draw back unto perdition; but of them that believe to the saving of the soul.

CHAPTER 11.

Part V. The superiority of the faith way (Heb. 11. 1-40).

(1) The sphere of faith.

NOW faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.

2 For by it the elders obtained a good report.

3 Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear.

(2) Instances of faith: Abel.

4 By faith Abel offered unto God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, by which he obtained witness that he was righteous, God testifying of his gifts: and by it he being dead yet speaketh.

Enoch.

5 By faith Enoch was translated that he should not see death; and was not found, because God had translated him: for before his translation he had this testimony, that he pleased God.

6 But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him.

Noah.

7 By faith Noah, being warned of God of things not seen as yet, moved with fear, prepared an ark to the saving of his house; by the which he condemned the world, and became heir of the righteousness which is by faith.

Abraham and Sara.

8 By faith Abraham, when he was called to go out into a place which he should after receive for an inheritance, obeyed; and he went out, not knowing whither he went.

9 By faith he sojourned in the land of promise, as in a strange country, dwelling in tabernacles with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise:

10 For he looked for a city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God.

11 Through faith also Sara herself received strength to conceive seed, and was delivered of a child when she was past age, because she judged him faithful who had promised.

12 Therefore sprang there even of one, and him as good as dead, so many as the stars of the sky in multitude, and as the sand which is by the sea shore innumerable.

13 These all died in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them afar off, and were persuaded of them, and embraced them, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth.

14 For they that say such things declare plainly that they seek a country.

15 And truly, if they had been mindful of ^athat country from whence they came out, they might have had opportunity to have returned.

16 But now they desire a better country, that is, an heavenly: wherefore God is not ashamed to be called their God: for he hath prepared for them a city.

17 By faith Abraham, when he was ^btried, offered up Isaac: and he that had received the promises offered up his only begotten son.

18 Of whom it was said, ^cThat in Isaac shall thy seed be called:

19 Accounting that God was able to raise him up, ^deven from the dead; from whence also he received him ^ein a figure.

Isaac and Jacob.

20 By faith Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau concerning things to come.

23 By faith Moses, when he was born, was hid three months of his parents, because they saw ^ghe was a proper child; and they were not afraid of the king's ^hcommandment.

24 By faith Moses, when he was come to years, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter;

25 Choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, ⁱthan to enjoy the pleasures of ^jsin for a season;

26 Esteeming the reproach of Christ greater riches than the treasures in Egypt: for he had respect unto the recompence ^kof the reward.

33 Who through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought ^{bd}righteousness, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions,

34 Quenched the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, out of weakness were made strong, waxed valiant in fight, turned to flight the armies of the aliens.

35 Women ^{be}received their dead raised to life again: and others were tortured, not ^{bf}accepting deliverance; that they might obtain a better resurrection:

36 And others had trial of ^{bg}cruel mockings and scourgings, yea, moreover of bonds and imprisonment:

37 They were stoned, they were sawn asunder, were ^{bh}tempted, were slain with the sword: they wandered about in sheepskins and goat-skins; being destitute, afflicted, ^{bi}tortured;

38 (Of whom the ^{bj}world was not worthy:) they wandered in deserts, and ^{bk}in mountains, and ^{bl}in dens and caves of the earth.

39 And these all, having obtained a good report through ^{bm}faith, received not the promise:

¹ The essence of faith consists in receiving what God has revealed, and may be defined as that trust in the God of the Scriptures and in Jesus Christ whom He hath sent, which receives Him as Saviour and Lord, and impels to loving obedience and good works (John 1. 12; Jas. 2. 14-26). The particular uses of faith give rise to its secondary definitions: (1) For salvation, faith is personal trust, apart from meritorious works, in the Lord Jesus Christ, as delivered for our offences and raised again for our justification (Rom. 4. 5, 23-25). (2) As used in prayer, faith is the "confidence that we have in him, that if we ask anything according to his will, he

WHEREFORE seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us,

2 Looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith; who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God.

(Parenthetic (to v. 17): (a) The Father's chastening.)

3 For consider him that endured such contradiction of sinners against himself, lest ye be wearied and faint in your minds.

4 Ye have not yet resisted unto blood, striving against sin.

5 And ye have forgotten the exhortation which speaketh unto you as unto children, My son, despise not thou the chastening of the Lord, nor faint when thou art rebuked of him:

6 For whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he receiveth.

7 If ye endure chastening, God dealeth with you as with sons; for what son is he whom the father chasteneth not?

8 But if ye be without chastisement, whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sons.

9 Furthermore we have had fathers of our flesh which corrected us, and we gave them reverence: shall we not much rather be in subjection unto the Father of spirits, and live?

11 Now no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous: nevertheless afterward it yieldeth the peaceable fruit of righteousness unto them which are exercised thereby.

12 Wherefore lift up the hands which hang down, and the feeble knees;

13 And make straight paths for your feet, lest that which is lame be turned out of the way; but let it rather be healed.

14 Follow peace with all men, and holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord:

15 Looking diligently lest any man fail of the grace of God; lest any root of bitterness springing up trouble you, and thereby many be defiled;

17 For ye know how that afterward, when he would have inherited the blessing, he was rejected: for he found no place of repentance, though he sought it carefully with tears.

(2) The believer-priest does not come to Mount Sinai.

18 For ye are not come unto the mount that might be touched, and that burned with fire, nor unto blackness, and darkness, and tempest,

19 And the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of words; which voice they that heard intreated that the word should not be spoken to them any more:

20 (For they could not endure that which was commanded, And if so much as a beast touch the mountain, it shall be stoned, or thrust through with a dart:

21 And so terrible was the sight, that Moses said, I exceedingly fear and quake:)

heareth us" (1 John 5. 14, 15). (3) As used in reference to unseen things of which Scripture speaks, faith "gives substance" to them, so that we act upon the conviction of their reality (Heb. 11. 1-3). (4) As a working principle in life, the uses of faith are illustrated in Heb. 11. 1-39.

22 But ye are ^acome unto mount Sion, and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to ^ban innumerable company of ^cangels,

23 To the general assembly ^dand ^echurch of the firstborn, which are written in heaven, and to God the Judge of all, and to the spirits of just men made ^fperfect,

24 And to Jesus the mediator of the new covenant, and to ^gthe blood of sprinkling, that speaketh better things than ^hthat of Abel.

(3) Warnings and instructions.

25 ⁱSee that ye refuse not him that speaketh. For if they escaped not who refused him that spake on earth, much more ^jshall not we escape, if we turn away from him that ^kspeaketh from heaven:

26 Whose voice then shook the earth: but now he hath promised, saying, ^l'Yet once more I shake not the earth only, but also heaven.

27 And this ^mword, Yet once more, signifieth the removing of those things that are shaken, as of things that are made, that those things which cannot be shaken may remain.

28 Wherefore we receiving a kingdom which cannot be ⁿmoved, let us ^ohave ^pgrace, whereby we may serve God acceptably with reverence and godly fear:

29 For our God ^qis a consuming fire.

¹ Church (true). Summary: The true church, composed of the whole number of regenerate persons from Pentecost to the first resurrection (1 Cor. 15. 52), united together and to Christ by the baptism with the Holy Spirit (1 Cor. 12. 12, 13), is the body of Christ of which He is the Head (Eph. 1. 22, 23). As such, it is a holy temple for the habitation of God through the Spirit (Eph. 2. 21, 22); is "one flesh" with Christ (Eph. 5. 30, 31); and espoused to Him as a chaste virgin to one husband (2 Cor. 11. 2-4).

THE GENERAL EPISTLE OF

1 1]

JAMES.

[1 13

WRITER. James (Mt. 4. 21, note), called "the Just," mentioned by Paul with Cephas and John as "pillars" in the church at Jerusalem (Gal. 2. 9). He seems to have been, as a religious man, austere, legal, ceremonial (Acts 21. 18-24).

Date. Tradition fixes the martyrdom of James in the year 62, but his Epistle shows no trace of the larger revelations concerning the church and the distinctive doctrines of grace made through the Apostle Paul, nor even of the discussions concerning the relation of Gentile converts to the law of Moses, which culminated in the first council (Acts 15.), over which James presided. This presumes the very early date of James, which may confidently be set down as "the first Epistle to Christians."—Weston.

Theme. By "the twelve tribes scattered abroad" we are to understand, not Jews, but Christian Jews of the Dispersion. The church began with such (Acts 2. 5-11), and James, who seems not to have left Jerusalem, would feel a particular pastoral responsibility for these scattered sheep. They still resorted to the synagogues, or called their own assemblies by that name (Jas. 2. 2, where "assembly" is "synagogue" in the Gr.). It appears from Jas. 2. 1-8 that they still held the synagogue courts for the trial of causes arising amongst themselves. The Epistle, then, is elementary in the extreme. To suppose that Jas. 2. 14-26 is a polemic against Paul's doctrine of justification is absurd. Neither Galatians nor Romans was yet written.

James' theme, then, is "religion" (Gr. threskeia, "outward religious service") as the expression and proof of faith. He does not exalt works as against faith, but faith as producing works. His style is that of the Wisdom-books of the O.T.

The divisions are five: I. The testing of faith, 1. 1-2. 26. II. The reality of faith tested by the tongue, 3. 1-18. III. The rebuke of worldliness, 4. 1-17. IV. The rich warned, 5. 1-6. V. Hortatory, 5. 7-20.

CHAPTER 1.

Part I. The testings of faith (Jas. 1. 1-2. 26).

(1) The purpose of testings.

JAMES, a ^aservant of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve tribes which are ^bscattered abroad, greeting.

2 My brethren, count it all joy when ye fall into divers ^ctemptations;

3 Knowing this, that the trying of your faith ^dworketh patience.

4 But let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be ^eperfect and ^fentire, wanting nothing.

5 If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, ^gthat giveth to all ^hmen liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him.

6 ⁱBut let him ask in faith, nothing wavering. For he that wavereth is like a wave of the sea driven with the wind and tossed.

7 For let not that man think that he shall receive any thing of the Lord.

9 ^bLet the brother of low degree rejoice in that he is exalted:

10 But the rich, ^cin that he is made low: because as the flower of the grass he shall pass away.

11 For the sun is no sooner risen with a burning heat, but it withereth the grass, and the flower thereof falleth, and the grace of the fashion of it perisheth: so also shall the rich man fade away in his ways.

12 Blessed is the man that endureth ^d'temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the ^e'crown of ^f'life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him.

(2) Solicitation to do evil is not of God.

13 Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God:

for God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth he any man:

14 But every man is ¹tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust, and enticed.

15 Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth ^asin: and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death.

16 Do not err, my beloved brethren.

17 Every good ^bgift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no ^cvariableness, neither shadow of turning.

18 ^dOf his own will begat he us with the word of truth, that we should be a kind of firstfruits of his creatures.

19 Wherefore, my beloved brethren, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath:

20 For the wrath of man worketh not the ^erighteousness of God.

21 Wherefore lay apart all filthiness and ^fsuperfluity of naughtiness, and receive with meekness the engrafted word, which is able to ^gsave your souls.

(3) The test of obedience.

22 But be ye ^hdoers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves.

23 For if any be a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding his natural face in a glass:

24 For he beholdeth himself, and goeth his way, and straightway forgetteth what manner of man he was.

25 But whoso ⁱlooketh into the ^jperfect law of liberty, and continueth ^ktherein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, this man shall be blessed in his deed.

(4) The test of true religion.

26 If any man among you seem to be ^lreligious, and brideth not his ^mtongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this man's religion is vain.

CHAPTER 2.

(5) The test of brotherly love.

MY brethren, have not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, ^athe Lord of glory, ^awith respect of persons.

2 For if there come unto your assembly a man with a gold ring, in goodly apparel, and there come in also a poor man in vile raiment;

3 And ye have respect to him that weareth the gay clothing, and say unto him, Sit thou here in a good place; and say to the poor, Stand thou there, or sit here under my footstool:

4 ^aAre ye not then partial in yourselves, and are become judges ^aof evil thoughts?

5 Hearken, my beloved brethren, ^aHath not God chosen the poor of this ^aworld ^arich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom which he hath promised to them that love him?

6 But ye have despised the poor. Do not rich men oppress you, and draw you before the judgment seats?

7 Do not they blaspheme that ^aworthy name by the which ye are called?

8 If ye fulfil the royal law according to the scripture, ^aThou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself, ye do well:

9 But ^aif ye have respect to persons, ye commit ^asin, and are convicted of the law as transgressors.

10 For whosoever shall keep the whole ^alaw, and yet ^boffend in one point, he is guilty of all.

11 For he that said, ^aDo not commit adultery, said also, Do not kill. Now if thou commit no adultery, yet if thou kill, thou art become a ^atransgressor of the law.

12 So speak ye, and so do, as they that shall be judged by the ^alaw of liberty.

13 For he shall have judgment without mercy, that hath shewed

¹ "Temptation" is used in two senses: (1) Solicitation to evil (e.g. Gen. 3. 1-6; Mt. 4. 1; 1 Cor. 10. 13; 2 Cor. 11. 3, 4; Jas. 1. 14). (2) Testing under trial (e.g. Gen. 22. 1; Lk. 22. 28; cf. Lk. 4. 2). Cf. Mt. 6. 13 (solicitation to evil) and 1 Pet. 1. 6 (testing under trial).

no mercy; and ^amercy ^brejoiceth against judgment.

(6) The test of good works.

14 What doth it profit, my brethren, though a man say he hath faith, and have not works? can ^afaith ^asave him?

15 If a brother or sister be naked, and destitute of daily food,

16 And ^aone of you say unto them, Depart in peace, be ye warmed and filled; notwithstanding ye give them not those things which are needful to the body; what doth it profit?

17 Even so ^afaith, if it hath not works, is ^adead, being alone.

18 Yea, a man may say, Thou hast faith, and I have works: ^ashew me thy faith without thy works, and I will shew thee my faith by my works.

19 Thou believest that ^athere is one God; thou doest well: the ^adevils also believe, and tremble.

20 But wilt thou know, O vain man, that ^afaith without works is dead?

(7) The illustration of Abraham.
(Cf. Rom. 4. 1-25.)

21 Was not Abraham our father ^ajustified by works, when he had offered Isaac his son upon the altar?

22 Seest thou how faith wrought with his works, and by works was faith made ^aperfect?

23 And the scripture was fulfilled which saith, Abraham believed ^aGod, and it was ^aimputed unto him for ^arighteousness: and he was called the ^aFriend of God.

24 Ye see then how that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only.

25 Likewise also was not ^aRahab the harlot justified by works, when she had received the messengers, and had sent them out another way?

26 For as the ^abody without the spirit is dead, so faith without works is dead also.

shall receive the greater condemnation.

2 For in many things ^awe offend all. If any man offend not in word, the same is ^aperfect man, and able also to bridle the whole body.

3 Behold, we put ^abits in the horses' mouths, that they may obey us; and we turn about their whole body.

4 Behold also the ships, which though they be so great, and are driven of fierce winds, yet are they turned about with a very small helm, whithersoever the governor listeth.

5 Even so ^athe tongue is a little member, and boasteth great things. Behold, how great a matter a little fire kindleth!

6 ^aAnd the tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity: so is the tongue among our members, that it ^adefileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the course of nature; and it is set on fire of ^ahell.

7 For every kind of beasts, and of birds, and of ^aserpents, and of things in the sea, is tamed, and hath been tamed of man-kind:

8 But the tongue can no man tame; it is an unruly evil, ^afull of deadly poison.

9 Therewith bless we ^aGod, even the Father; and therewith curse we men, which are made ^aafter the similitude of God.

10 Out of the same mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing. My brethren, these things ought not so to be.

11 Doth a fountain send forth at the same place sweet water and bitter?

12 Can the ^afig tree, my brethren, bear olive berries? either a vine, figs? so can no fountain both yield salt water and fresh.

13 Who is a wise man and endued with knowledge among you? let him shew out of a good ^aconversation his works with meekness of wisdom.

14 But if ye have bitter envying and strife in your hearts, glory not, and lie not against the truth.

¹ Imputation is the act of God whereby He accounts righteousness to the believer in Christ, who has borne the believer's sins in vindication of the law. See Phm. 17, 18, note.

15 "This wisdom descendeth not from above, but is earthly, sensual, devilish.

16 For where envying and strife is, there is confusion and every evil work.

17 But the wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easy to be intreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without partiality, and without hypocrisy.

18 And the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace of them that make peace.

CHAPTER 4.

Part III. The rebuke of worldliness.

FROM whence come wars and fightings among you? come they not hence, even of your lusts that war in your members?

2 Ye lust, and have not: ye kill, and desire to have, and cannot obtain: ye fight and war, yet ye have not, because ye ask not.

3 Ye ask, and receive not, because ye ask amiss, that ye may consume it upon your lusts.

4 Ye adulterers and adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world is the enemy of God.

5 Do ye think that the scripture saith in vain, "The spirit that dwelleth in us lusteth to envy?"

6 But he giveth more grace. Wherefore he saith, "God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble."

7 Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you.

8 Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and purify your hearts, ye double minded.

9 Be afflicted, and mourn, and weep: let your laughter be turned to mourning, and your joy to heaviness.

10 Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up.

11 Speak not evil one of another, brethren. He that speaketh evil of his brother, and judgeth his brother, speaketh evil of the law, and judgeth the law: but if thou judge the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge.

GO to now, ye rich men, weep and howl for your miseries that shall come upon you.

5 Ye have lived in pleasure on the earth, and been wanton; ye have nourished your hearts, as in a day of slaughter.

6 Ye have condemned and killed the just; and he doth not resist you.

Part V. Exhortations in view of the coming of the Lord.

7 Be patient therefore, brethren, unto the coming of the Lord. Behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and hath long patience for it, until he receive the early and latter rain.

8 Be ye also patient; stablish your hearts: for the coming of the Lord draweth nigh.

9 Grudge not one against another, brethren, lest ye be condemned: behold, the judge standeth before the door.

10 Take, my brethren, the prophets, who have spoken in the name of the Lord, for an example of suffering ^aaffliction, and of patience.

11 Behold, we count them ^bhappy which endure. Ye have heard of the ^cpatience of Job, and have seen the ^dend of the Lord; that the Lord is very pitiful, and of tender mercy.

12 But above all things, my brethren, ^eswear not, neither by heaven, neither by the earth, neither by any other oath: but let your yea be yea; and ^fyour nay, nay; lest ye fall into condemnation.

WRITER. The Apostle Peter (1. 1).

Date. Probably A.D. 60. That "Babylon" refers to the former city on the Euphrates, or to Rome, cannot be inferred from 5. 13. The text is obscure.

Theme. While Peter undoubtedly has scattered Jewish believers in mind, his Epistles comprehend Gentile believers also (1 Pet. 2. 10). The present Epistle, written from a church on Gentile ground (5. 13), presents all the foundational truths of the Christian faith, with special emphasis on the atonement. The distinctive note of First Peter is preparation for victory over suffering. The last-named word occurs about fifteen times, and is the key-word of the Epistle.

The Epistle is in three parts: I. Christian suffering and conduct in the light of full salvation, 1. 1-2. 8. II. The believer's life in view of his sevenfold position, and of the vicarious suffering of Christ, 2. 9-4. 19. III. Christian service in the light of the coming of the Chief Shepherd, 5. 1-14.

CHAPTER 1.

5 Who are kept by the power of God through "faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time.

6 Wherein ye greatly rejoice, though now for a season, if need be, ye are in heaviness through manifold temptations:

7 That the trial of your faith, being much more precious than of gold that perisheth, though it be tried with fire, "might be found unto praise and honour and glory at the "appearing of Jesus Christ:

8 Whom having not seen, ye love; in whom, though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice with joy unspeakable and full of glory:

9 Receiving the end of your faith, even the "salvation of your souls.

¹ Election, Summary: In both Testaments the Hebrew and Greek words are rendered "elect," "election," "choose," "chosen." In all cases they mean, simply, "chosen," or "to choose"; and are used of both human and divine choices. (1) In the latter use election is: (a) corporate, as of the nation of Israel, or the church (Isa. 45. 4; Eph. 1. 4); and (b) individual (1 Pet. 1. 2). (2) Election is according to the foreknowledge of God (1 Pet. 1. 2), and wholly of grace, apart from human merit (Rom. 9. 11; 11. 5, 6). (3) Election proceeds from the divine volition (John 15. 16).

Election is, therefore: (1) The sovereign act of God in grace whereby certain are chosen from among mankind for Himself (John 15. 19). (2) The sovereign act of God whereby certain elect persons are chosen for distinctive service for Him (Lk. 6. 13; Acts 9. 15; 1 Cor. 1. 27, 28).

² Suffering, in First Peter, is set in the light of: (1) assured salvation, 1. 2-5; (2) the greater glory at Christ's appearing, 1. 7; (3) Christ's sufferings and coming glories, 1. 11; (4) the believer's association with Him in both, 2. 20, 21; 3. 17, 18; 4. 12, 13; (5) the purifying effect of suffering, 1. 7; 4. 1, 2; 5. 10; (6) that Christ is now glorified in the believer's patient suffering, 4. 16; (7) that suffering is disciplinary, 4. 17-19. (1 Cor. 11. 31, 32; Heb. 12. 5-13.)

10 Of which ^asalvation the prophets have inquired and searched diligently, ^bwho prophesied of the grace that should come unto you:

11 Searching what, or what manner of time the ^c'Spirit of Christ' which was in them did signify, when it testified beforehand the sufferings of Christ, and the glory that should follow.

12 Unto whom it was revealed, that not unto themselves, but unto us they did minister the things, which are now reported unto you by them that have preached the gospel unto you with the ^d'Holy Ghost' sent down from heaven; which things the angels desire to look into.

13 Wherefore gird up the loins of your mind, be sober, and hope to the end ^e'for the grace that is to be brought unto you at the revelation of Jesus Christ';

14 As obedient children, not ^f'fashioning yourselves according to the former lusts in your ignorance';

15 But as he which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation;

16 Because it is written, ^g'Be ye ^h'holy; for I am holy'.

17 And if ye call on the Father, who without respect of persons judgeth according to every man's work, pass the time of your sojourning ⁱhere in fear:

18 Forasmuch as ye know that ye were not ^j'redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation ^kreceived by tradition from your fathers;

19 But ^l'with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot';

20 Who verily was ^m'foreordained before the foundation of the world, but was manifest in ⁿthese last times for you.

21 Who by him do believe in God, that raised him up from the dead,

CHAPTER 2.

Part I. continued.

WHEREFORE laying aside all malice, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and all evil speakings,

2 As newborn babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby:

3 If so be ye have ^a'tasted that the Lord is gracious.

4 To whom coming, ^b'as unto a living stone, ^c'disallowed indeed of men, but chosen of God, and precious,

5 Ye also, as lively stones, ^d'are built up a spiritual house, an holy priesthood, to offer up ^e'spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ.

6 Wherefore also it is contained in the ^f'scripture, Behold, I lay in Sion a chief corner stone, elect, precious: and he that believeth on him shall not be confounded.

7 Unto you therefore which ^g'believe ^h'he is precious: but unto them which be disobedient, the stone which the builders ⁱ'disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner,

8 And a ^j'stone of stumbling, and

¹ The divine order is foreknowledge, election, predestination. That foreknowledge determines the election or choice is clear from 1 Pet. 1. 2, and predestination is the bringing to pass of the election. "Election looks back to foreknowledge; predestination forward to the destiny." But Scripture nowhere declares what it is in the divine foreknowledge which determines the divine election and predestination. The foreknown are elected, and the elect are predestinated, and this election is certain to every believer by the mere fact that he believes (1 Thes. 1. 4, 5). See "Predestination," Eph. 1. 5.

² Christ crucified is the Rock: (1) Smitten that the Spirit of life may flow from Him to all who will drink (Ex. 17. 6; 1 Cor. 10. 4; John 4. 13, 14; 7. 37-39). (2) To the church the foundation and chief corner Stone (Eph. 2. 20). (3) To the Jews at His first coming a "stumbling stone" (Rom. 9. 32, 33; 1 Cor. 1. 23). (4) To Israel a rock of offence, even to them which stumble at the word, being disobedient: whereunto also they were appointed.

Part II. The believer's life in view of his sevenfold position, and of the vicarious suffering of Christ.

9 But ye are a ^achosen generation, a royal ^bpriesthood, an ^choly nation, a ^dpeculiar people; that ye should shew forth the ^epraises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light:

10 Which in time past were not a people, but are now the people of God: which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy.

11 Dearly beloved, I beseech you as ^fstrangers and pilgrims, abstain from fleshly lusts, which ^gwar against the soul:

12 Having your conversation honest among the Gentiles: that, whereas they speak against you as evildoers, they may by your ^hgood works, which they shall behold, glorify God in the day of visitation.

13 Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake: whether it be to the king, as supreme;

14 Or unto governors, as unto them that are sent by him for the punishment of evildoers, and for the praise of them that do well.

15 For so is the will of God, that with well doing ye may put to silence the ignorance of foolish men:

21 For even ^ghereunto were ye called: because Christ also suffered for us, leaving us an example, that ye should follow his steps:

22 ^hWho did no ⁱsin, neither was guile found in his mouth:

23 Who, ^jwhen he was reviled, reviled not again; when he suffered, he threatened not; but committed ^khimself to him that judgeth righteously:

24 ^lWho his own self ^mbare our ⁿsins in his own body on the tree, that we, being dead to sins, should live unto ^orighteousness: by whose stripes ye were healed.

25 For ye were as sheep going astray; but are now returned unto the ^pShepherd and ^qBishop of your souls.

at His second coming the "headstone of the corner" (Zech. 4. 7). (5) To the Gentile world-power the smiting "stone cut out without hands" (Dan. 2. 34). (6) In the divine purpose the Stone which, after the destruction of Gentile world-power, is to grow and fill the earth. (7) To unbelievers the crushing Stone of judgment (Mt. 21. 44).

¹ The New Testament priesthood, Summary: (1) Until the law was given the head of each family was the family priest (Gen. 8. 20; 26. 25; 31. 54). (2) When the law was proposed, the promise to perfect obedience was that Israel should be unto God "a kingdom of priests" (Ex. 19. 6); but Israel violated the law, and God shut up the priestly office to the Aaronic family, appointing the tribe of Levi to minister to them, thus constituting the typical priesthood (Ex. 28. 1). (3) In the dispensation of grace, all believers are unconditionally constituted a "kingdom of priests" (1 Pet. 2. 9; Rev. 1. 6), the distinction which Israel failed to achieve by works. The priesthood of the believer is, therefore, a birthright; just as every descendant of Aaron was born to the priesthood (Heb. 5. 1). (4) The chief privilege of a priest is access to God. Under law the high priest only could enter "the holiest of all," and that but once a year (Heb. 9. 7). But when Christ died, the veil, type of Christ's human body (Heb. 10. 20), was rent, so that now the believer-priests, equally with Christ the High Priest, have access to God in the holiest (Heb. 10. 19-22). The High Priest is corporeally there (4. 14-16; Heb. 9. 24; 10. 19-22). (5) In the exercise of his office the New Testament believer-priest is (1) a sacrificer who offers a threefold sacrifice: (a) his own living body (Rom. 12. 1; Phil. 2. 17; 2 Tim. 4. 6;

LIKEWISE, ye wives, be in subjection to your own husbands; that, if any obey not the word, they also may without the word be won by the conversation of the wives;

2 While they behold your chaste conversation coupled with fear.

3 Whose adorning let it not be that outward adorning of plaiting the hair, and of wearing of gold, or of putting on of apparel;

4 But let it be the hidden man of the heart, in that which is not corruptible, even the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price.

5 For after this manner in the old time the holy women also, who trusted in God, adorned themselves, being in subjection unto their own husbands:

6 Even as Sara obeyed Abraham, calling him lord: whose daughters ye are, as long as ye do well, and are not afraid with any amazement.

7 Likewise, ye husbands, dwell with them according to knowledge, giving honour unto the wife, as unto the weaker vessel, and as being heirs together of the grace of life; that your prayers be not hindered.

8 Finally, be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another, love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous:

9 Not rendering evil for evil, or railing for railing; but contrariwise blessing; knowing that ye are thereunto called, that ye should inherit a blessing.

10 For he that will love life, and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile:

11 Let him eschew evil, and do good; let him seek peace, and ensue it.

12 For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, and his ears are open unto their prayers: but the face of the Lord is against them that do evil.

13 And who is he that will harm you, if ye be followers of that which is good?

14 But and if ye suffer for 'righteousness' sake, happy are ye: and be not afraid of their terror, neither be troubled;

15 But "sanctify the Lord God in your hearts: and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear:

16 Having a good conscience; that, whereas they speak evil of you, as of evildoers, they may be ashamed that falsely accuse your good conversation in Christ.

17 For it is better, if the will of God be so, that ye suffer for well doing, than for evil doing.

(The vicarious suffering of Christ, preached by Christ through the Spirit in Noah.)

18 For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the Spirit:

19 By which also he went and preached unto the spirits in prison;

20 Which sometime were disobedient, when once the longsuffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was a preparing, wherein few, that is, eight souls were saved by water.

21 The like figure whereunto even baptism doth also now save us (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience toward God,) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ:

22 Who is gone into heaven, and is on the right hand of God; angels and authorities and powers being made subject unto him.

CHAPTER 4.

Part II. continued.

FORASMUCH then as Christ hath suffered for us in the flesh, arm yourselves likewise with the same mind: for he that hath suffered in the flesh hath ceased from sin;

2 That he no longer should live the rest of his time in the flesh to the lusts of men, but to the will of God.

1 John 3.16; Jas. 1.27; (b) praise to God, "the fruit of the lips that make mention of His name" (R.V.), to be offered "continually" (Heb. 13.15; Ex. 25.22; "I will commune with thee from above the mercy seat"); (c) his substance (Heb. 13.16; Rom. 12.13; Gal. 6.6; 3 John 5-8; Heb. 13.2; Gal. 6.10; Tit. 3.14). (2) The N.T. priest is also an intercessor (1 Tim. 2.1; Col. 4.12).

3 For the time past of our life may suffice us to have wrought the will of the Gentiles, when we walked in lasciviousness, lusts, excess of wine, revellings, banquetings, and abominable idolatries:

4 Wherein think it strange that ye run not with them to the same excess of riot, speaking evil of you:

5 Who shall give account to him that is ready to judge the quick and the dead.

6 For for this cause was the gospel preached also to them that are dead, that they might be judged according to men in the flesh, but to live according to God in the spirit.

7 But the end of all things is at hand: be ye therefore sober, and watch unto prayer.

8 And above all things have fervent charity among yourselves: for charity shall cover the multitude of sins.

9 Use hospitality one to another without grudging.

10 As every man hath received the gift, even so minister the same one to another, as good stewards of the manifold grace of God.

11 If any man speak, let him speak as the oracles of God; if any man minister, let him do it as of the ability which God giveth: that God in all things may be glorified through Jesus Christ, to whom be praise and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

12 Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you:

13 But rejoice, inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings; that, when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy.

14 If ye be reproached for the name of Christ, happy are ye; for the spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you: on their part he is evil spoken of, but on your part he is glorified.

15 But let none of you suffer as a murderer, or as a thief, or as an evildoer, or as a busybody in other men's matters.

16 Yet if any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify God on this behalf.

17 For the time is come that judgment must begin at the house

Part III. Christian service in view of the coming again of the Chief Shepherd.

THE elders which are among you I exhort, who am also an elder, and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory that shall be revealed:

2 Feed the flock of God which is among you, taking the oversight thereof, not by constraint, but willingly; not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind;

3 Neither as being lords over God's heritage, but being ensamples to the flock.

4 And when the chief Shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive a crown of glory that fadeth not away.

5 Likewise, ye younger, submit yourselves unto the elder. Yea, all of you be subject one to another, and be clothed with humility: for God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble.

6 Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time:

7 Casting all your care upon him; for he careth for you.

8 Be sober, be vigilant; because your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour:

9 Whom resist steadfast in the faith, knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in your brethren that are in the world.

10 But the God of all grace, who hath called us unto his eternal glory by Christ Jesus, after that ye have suffered a while, make you perfect, stablish, strengthen, settle you.

11 To him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

THE SECOND EPISTLE GENERAL OF

1 1]

PETER.

[1 16

WRITER. The Apostle Peter (1. 1).

Date. Probably A.D. 66.

Theme. Second Peter and Second Timothy have much in common. In both, the writers are aware that martyrdom is near (2 Tim. 4. 6; 2 Pet. 1. 14 with John 21. 18, 19); both are singularly sustained and joyful; both foresee the apostasy in which the history of the professing church will end. Paul finds that apostasy in its last stage when the so-called laity (Rev. 2. 6, note) have become infected (2 Tim. 3. 1-5; 4. 3, 4); Peter traces the origin of the apostasy to false teachers (2 Pet. 2. 1-3, 15-19). In Peter the false teachers deny redemption truth (2. 1); we shall find in First John a deeper depth—denial of the truth concerning Christ's person (1 John 4. 1-5). In Jude all phases of the apostasy are seen. But in none of these Epistles is the tone one of dejection or pessimism. God and His promises are still the resource of the believer.

The Epistle is in four divisions: I. The great Christian virtues, 1. 1-14. II. The Scriptures exalted, 1. 15-21. III. Warnings concerning apostate teachers, 2. 1-22. IV. The second coming of Christ and the day of Jehovah, 3. 1-18.

CHAPTER 1.

Part I. The great Christian virtues.

SIMON Peter, a ^aservant and an apostle of Jesus Christ, to them that have obtained like precious faith with us through the ^brighteousness of God and our ^cSaviour Jesus Christ:

2 ^dGrace and peace be multiplied unto you through the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lord,

3 According as his divine power hath given unto us all things that ^epertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that hath called us ^fto glory and virtue:

4 ^gWhereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises: that by these ye might be ^hpartakers of the divine nature, having ⁱescaped the corruption that is in the ^jworld through lust.

5 And beside this, giving all diligence, ^kadd to your faith virtue; and to virtue knowledge;

6 And to knowledge temperance; and to temperance patience; and to patience godliness;

7 And to godliness brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness ^lcharity.

9 But he that lacketh these things is ^ablind, and cannot see afar off, and hath forgotten that he was purged from his old ^bsins.

10 Wherefore the rather, brethren, give diligence to make your calling and election sure: ^cfor if ye do these things, ye shall never fall:

11 For so an entrance shall be ministered unto you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

12 Wherefore I will not be negligent to put you always in remembrance of these things, though ye know ^dthem, and be established in the present truth.

13 Yea, I think it meet, as long as I am in this tabernacle, ^eto stir you up by putting ^fyou in remembrance;

14 Knowing that shortly I must ^gput off ^hthis my tabernacle, even as our Lord Jesus Christ hath ⁱshewed me.

Part II. The Scriptures exalted.

15 Moreover I will endeavour that ye may be able after my decease to have these things always in remembrance.

16 For we have not followed cunningly devised ^jfables, when we made known unto you the ^kpower and ^lcoming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but were ^aeyewitnesses of his majesty.

17 For he received from God the Father honour and glory, when there came such a voice to him from the excellent glory, ^bThis is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

18 And this voice which came from heaven we heard, when we were with him in the ¹holy mount.

19 We have also ^aa more sure word of prophecy; ²whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a ^cdark place, ³until the day dawn, and the ^dday star arise in your hearts:

20 Knowing this first, that no prophecy of the scripture is of ^hany private interpretation.

21 For the prophecy came not in ⁱold time by the will of man; but ^jholy men of God ^kspake as they were moved by the ^lHoly Ghost.

CHAPTER 2.

Part III. Warnings concerning apostate teachers.

(1) They will deny redemption by blood; many will follow them.

BUT there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be ^mfalse teachers among you, who privily shall bring in ⁿdammable heresies, even ^odenying the ^pLord that bought them and bring upon themselves swift destruction.

2 And many shall follow their pernicious ways; by reason of whom the way of truth shall be evil spoken of.

3 And through covetousness shall they with feigned words make merchandise of you: whose judgment now of a long time lingereth not, and their ^qdammation slumbereth not.

4 For if God ^sspared not the angels that sinned, but cast them down to hell, and delivered them into chains of darkness, to be reserved unto judgment;

5 And spared not the old world, but saved Noah the eighth person, a preacher of righteousness, bringing in the flood upon the ³world of the ungodly;

6 And turning the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah into ashes condemned them with an overthrow, making them an ensample unto those that after should live ungodly;

7 And delivered just Lot, vexed with the filthy conversation of the wicked.

8 (For that righteous man dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, vexed his righteous soul from day to day with their unlawful deeds;)

9 The Lord knoweth how ^tto deliver the godly out of ^utemptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the ^vday of judgment to be punished:

10 But chiefly them that walk after the flesh in the lust of uncleanness, and despise government. Presumptuous are they, selfwilled, they are not afraid to speak evil of dignities.

11 Whereas angels, which are greater in power and might, bring not railing accusation against them before the Lord.

12 But these, as ^wnatural brute beasts, made to be taken and destroyed, speak evil of the things that they understand not; and shall utterly perish in their own corruption;

13 And shall receive the reward of unrighteousness, as they that count it pleasure to riot in the day time. Spots they are and blemishes, sporting themselves with their own deceivings while they feast with you;

¹ Where the reference is to things, the meaning of "holy" or "sanctified" is, simply, set apart for the use of God, or rendered sacred by the divine presence.

² That is, made more sure by fulfilment in part. Fulfilled prophecy is a proof of inspiration because the Scripture predictions of future events were uttered so long before the events transpired that no merely human sagacity or foresight could have anticipated them, and these predictions are so detailed, minute, and specific, as to exclude the possibility that they were mere fortunate guesses. Hundreds of predictions concerning Israel, the land of Canaan, Babylon, Assyria, Egypt, and numerous personages—so ancient, so singular, so seemingly improbable, as well as so detailed and definite that no mortal could have anticipated them—have been fulfilled by the elements, and by men who were ignorant of them, or who utterly disbelieved them, or who struggled with frantic desperation to avoid their fulfilment. It is certain, therefore, that the Scriptures which contain them are inspired. "Prophecy came not in olden time by the will of man; but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost" (2 Pet. 1. 21).

14 Having eyes full of adultery, and that cannot cease from sin; beguiling unstable souls: an heart they have exercised with covetous practices; cursed children:

(2) The marks of the false teachers. (a) They are like Balaam.

15 Which have forsaken the right way, and are gone astray, following the way of ^{1b}Balaam the son of Bosor, who loved the wages of unrighteousness;

16 But was rebuked for his iniquity: the dumb ass speaking with man's voice forbade the madness of the prophet.

(b) They are destitute of the Spirit. (Cf. John 4. 14; 7. 37-39; Rom. 8. 9.)

17 These are wells without water, clouds that are carried with a tempest; to whom the mist of darkness is reserved for ever.

(c) Their words are learned and pretentious. (Cf. 1 Cor. 2. 1-5.)

18 For when they speak great swelling words of vanity, they allure through the lusts of the flesh, through much wantonness, those that were clean escaped from them who live in error.

19 While they promise them liberty, they themselves are the servants of corruption: for of whom a man is overcome, of the same is he brought in bondage.

20 For if after they have escaped the pollutions of the world through the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again entangled therein, and overcome, the latter end is worse with them than the beginning.

21 For it had been better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than, after they have known it, to turn from the holy commandment delivered unto them.

22 But it is happened unto them according to the true proverb, The dog is turned to his own vomit again; and the sow that was washed to her wallowing in the mire.

CHAPTER 3.

Part IV. The return of the Lord and the day of the Lord (Isa. 2. 12, refs.).

THIS second epistle, beloved, I now write unto you; in both which I stir up your pure minds by way of remembrance:

2 That ye may be mindful of the words which were spoken before by the holy prophets, and of the commandment of us the apostles of the Lord and Saviour:

3 Knowing this first, that there shall come in the last days scoffers, walking after their own lusts,

(1) The return of the Lord to be generally disbelieved.

4 And saying, Where is the promise of his coming? for since the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation.

5 For this they willingly are ignorant of, that by the word of God the heavens were of old, and the earth standing out of the water and in the water:

6 Whereby the world that then was, being overflowed with water, perished:

7 But the heavens and the earth, which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men.

8 But, beloved, be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day.

9 The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some men count slackness; but is longsuffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance.

(2) The day of the Lord (Isa. 2. 12, refs.).

10 But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up.

11 Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation and godliness,

12 Looking for and hasting unto the coming of the day of God, wherein the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat?

13 Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness.

14 Wherefore, beloved, seeing that ye look for such things, be diligent that ye may be found of him in peace, without spot, and blameless.

15 And account that the long-suffering of our Lord is salvation;

even as our beloved brother Paul also according to the wisdom given unto him hath written unto you;

17 Ye therefore, beloved, seeing ye know these things before, beware lest ye also, being led away with the error of the wicked, fall from your own steadfastness.

18 But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. To him be glory both now and for ever. Amen.

¹ Grace (imparted), Summary (see "Grace," John 1. 17): Grace is not only dispensationally a method of divine dealing in salvation (John 1. 17, note), but is also the method of God in the believer's life and service. As saved, he is "not under the law, but under grace" (Rom. 6. 14). Having by grace brought the believer into the highest conceivable position (Eph. 1. 6), God ceaselessly works through grace, to impart to, and perfect in him, corresponding graces (John 15. 4, 5; Gal. 5. 22, 23). Grace, therefore, stands connected with service (Rom. 12. 6; 15. 15, 16; 1 Cor. 1. 3-7; 3. 10; 15. 10; 2 Cor. 12. 9, 10; Gal. 2. 9; Eph. 3. 7, 8; 4. 7; Phil. 1. 7; 2 Tim. 2. 1, 2; 1 Pet. 4. 10); with Christian growth (2 Cor. 1. 12; Eph. 4. 29; Col. 3. 16; 4. 6; 2 Thes. 1. 12; Heb. 4. 16; 12. 28, 29; 13. 9; Jas. 4. 6; 1 Pet. 1. 2; 3. 7; 5. 5, 10; 2 Pet. 3. 18; Jude 4); and with giving (2 Cor. 4. 15; 8. 1, 6, 7, 19; 9. 14).

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERAL OF

1 1]

JOHN.

[1 8

WRITER. The Apostle John, as unbroken tradition affirms, and as internal evidence and comparison with the Gospel of John prove.

Date. Probably A.D. 90.

Theme. First John is a family letter from the Father to His "little children" who are in the world. With the possible exception of the Song of Solomon, it is the most intimate of the inspired writings. The world is viewed as without. The sin of a believer is treated as a child's offence against his Father, and is dealt with as a family matter (1. 9; 2. 1). The moral government of the universe is not in question. The child's sin as an offence against the law has been met in the Cross, and "Jesus Christ the righteous" is now his "Advocate with the Father." John's Gospel leads across the threshold of the Father's house; his first Epistle makes us at home there. A tender word is used for "children," teknia, "born ones," or "bairns." Paul is occupied with our public position as sons; John with our nearness as born-ones of the Father.

First John is in two principal divisions: I. The family with the Father, 1.1-3. 24. II. The family and the world, 4. 1-5. 21. There is a secondary analysis, in each division of which occurs the phrase, "My little children," as follows: (I.) Introductory, the incarnation, 1. 1, 2. (II.) The little children and fellowship, 1. 3-2. 14. (III.) The little children and the secular and "religious" world, 2. 15-28. (IV.) How the little children may know each other, 2. 29-3. 10. (V.) How the little children must live together, 3. 11-24. (VI.) Parenthetical: How the little children may know false teachers, 4. 1-6. (VII.) The little children assured and warned, 4. 7-5. 21.

CHAPTER 1.

Part I. The family with the Father: fellowship.

(1) The incarnation makes fellowship possible.

THAT which was ^afrom the beginning, which we have ^bheard, which we have ^cseen with our eyes, which we have ^dlooked upon, and our hands have ^ehandled, of the ^fWord of life;

2 (For the ^glife was manifested, and we have seen ^hit, and bear witness, and shew unto you that ⁱeternal life, which was ^jwith the Father, and was manifested unto us;)

(2) Fellowship is with the Father and with the Son.

3 That which we have seen and heard declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us; and truly our fellowship is ^vwith the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ.

4 And these things write we unto you, that ^wyour joy may be full.

(3) The conditions of fellowship. (a) The walk in the light.

5 This then is the message which we have heard of him, and declare unto you, that ^xGod is light, and in him is no darkness at all.

6 If we ^ysay that we have fellowship with him, and walk in darkness, we lie, and ^zdo not the truth:

7 But if we walk in the ^{aa}light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship ^{ab}one with another, and ^{ac}the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin.

(b) The fact of indwelling sin admitted. (Cf. 1 Cor. 11. 31, note.)

8 If we say that we have no sin,

¹ What it is to "walk in the light" is explained by vs. 8-10. "All things . . . are made manifest by the light" (Eph. 5. 13). The presence of God brings the consciousness of sin in the nature (v. 8), and sins in the life (vs. 9, 10). The blood of Christ is the divine provision for both. To walk in the light is to live in fellowship with the Father and the Son. Sin interrupts, but confession restores that fellowship. Immediate confession keeps the fellowship unbroken.

we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us.

(c) Sins confessed, forgiven, and cleansed.

9 If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

10 If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

CHAPTER 2.

(d) Fellowship maintained by Christ's advocacy.

MY little children, these things I write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, we have an Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous:

2 And he is the propitiation for our sins: and not for our's only, but also for the sins of the whole world.

(e) The tests of fellowship: obedience and love.

3 And hereby we do know that we know him, if we keep his commandments.

4 He that saith, I know him, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him.

5 But whoso keepeth his word, in him verily is the love of God perfected: hereby know we that we are in him.

6 He that saith he abideth in him, wrought himself also so to walk, even as he walked.

7 Brethren, I write no new commandment unto you, but an old commandment which ye had from the beginning. The old commandment is the word which ye have heard from the beginning.

8 Again, a new commandment I write unto you, which thing is true in him and in you: because the darkness is past, and the true light now shineth.

10 He that loveth his brother abideth in the light, and there is none occasion of stumbling in him.

11 But he that hateth his brother is in darkness, and walketh in darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because that darkness hath blinded his eyes.

12 I write unto you, little children, because your sins are forgiven you for his name's sake.

13 I write unto you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I write unto you, young men, because ye have overcome the wicked one. I write unto you, little children, because ye have known the Father.

14 I have written unto you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I have written unto you, young men, because ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye have overcome the wicked one.

The children must not love the present world (Rev. 13. 8, note).

15 Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him.

16 For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world.

17 And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever.

The children warned against apostates who deny the true deity of Christ.

18 Little children, it is the last time: and as ye have heard that antichrist shall come, even now are there many antichrists: whereby we know that it is the last time.

19 They went out from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would not

² John uses "commandments" (1) in the general sense of the divine will, however revealed, "his word" (v. 5); and (2) especially of the law of Christ (Gal. 6. 2; 2 John 5). See, also, John 15. 10-12.

³ "Went out from us," that is, doctrinally. Doubtless then, as now, the deniers of the Son (vs. 22, 23) still called themselves Christians. Cf. 2 Tim. 1. 15.

doubt have continued with us: but they went out, ^athat they might be made manifest that ^bthey were not all of us.

20 But ye have an ^cunction from the Holy One, and ye know all things.

21 I have not written unto you because ye know not the truth, but ^dbecause ye know it, and that no lie is of the truth.

22 Who is ^ea liar but he that denieth that ^fJesus is the Christ? He is ^gantichrist, that ^hdenieth the Father and the Son.

23 Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: ⁱbut he that acknowledgeth the Son hath the Father also.

24 Let that therefore abide in you which ye have heard from the beginning. If that which ye have heard from the beginning shall remain in you, ye also shall ^jcontinue in the Son, and in the Father.

25 And this is the ^kpromise that he hath promised us, ^leven ^meternal life.

26 These ⁿthings have I written unto you concerning them that ^oseduce you.

27 But the ^panointing which ye have received of him abideth in you, and ye need not that any man teach you: but as the same anointing teacheth you of all things, and is truth, and is no lie, and even as it hath taught you, ye shall abide in him.

28 And now, ^qlittle children, abide in him; that, when ^rhe shall appear, we may have confidence, and not be ashamed before him at his coming.

How the little children may know each other.

29 If ye know that he is ^srighteous, ye know that every one that ^tdoeth righteousness is born of him.

knoweth us not, because it knew him not.

2 Beloved, now are we the ^usons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, ^vwhen he shall appear, ^wwe shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is.

3 And every man that hath this hope in him purifieth himself, even as he is pure.

4 Whosoever ^xcommitteth ^ysin transgresseth also the law: for sin is the transgression of the law.

5 And ye know that he was manifested to ^ztake away our sins; and ^ain him is no sin.

6 Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not: whosoever sinneth hath not seen him, neither known him.

7 Little children, let no man deceive you: he that doeth ^brighteousness is righteous, even as he is righteous.

8 He that committeth sin is of the ^cdevil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, ^dthat he might ^edestroy the works of the devil.

9 Whosoever is ^fborn of God doth not ^gcommit sin; for his seed remaineth in him: and he cannot sin, because he is born of God.

10 In this the children of God are manifest, and the children of the devil: whosoever ^hdoeth not ⁱrighteousness is not of God, neither he that loveth not his brother.

How the little children must live together.

11 For this is the ^jmessage that ye heard from the beginning, that ^kwe should love one another.

12 Not as Cain, who was of that wicked one, and slew his brother. And wherefore slew he him? Because his own works were evil, and his brother's righteous.

13 Marvel not, my brethren, if the ^lworld hate you.

14 We know that we have passed from death unto life, because we love the brethren. He that loveth not his brother abideth in death.

15 Whosoever hateth his brother

¹ "Righteousness" here, and in the passages having marginal references to this, means the righteous life which is the result of salvation through Christ. The righteous man under law became righteous by doing righteously; under grace he does righteously because he has been made righteous (Rom. 3. 22; Rom. 10. 3, note).

is a murderer; and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him.

16 Hereby ^bperceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us; and we ought to ^dlay down our lives for the brethren.

17 But whoso hath this world's good, and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him, how ^ddwelleth the love of God in him?

18 My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue; but in deed and in truth.

19 And hereby we know that we are of the truth, and shall assure our hearts before him.

20 ^dFor if our heart condemn us, God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all things.

21 Beloved, if our heart condemn us not, ^hthen have we confidence toward God.

22 And whatsoever we ask, we receive of him, because we keep his commandments, and do those things that are pleasing in his sight.

23 And ^dthis is his commandment, That we should ^bbelieve on the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and ^dlove one another, as he gave us commandment.

24 And he that keepeth his commandments ^ddwelleth in him, and he in him. And hereby we know that he abideth in us, by the ^sSpirit which he hath given us.

(b) The world-marks of false teachers.

5 ^wThey are of the world: therefore speak they of the world, and ^wthe world heareth them.

6 We are of God: he that knoweth God heareth us; he that is not of God heareth not us. ^dHereby know we the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.

The true children are born of God through faith in the propitiation of the Son of God.

7 ^dBeloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that ^dloveth is born of God, and knoweth God.

8 He that loveth not knoweth not God; for ^bGod is love.

9 In this was ^manifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent his only begotten ^sSon into the ^wworld, that we might live through him.

10 Herein is love, ^fnot that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the ^spropitiation for our sins.

The love-life is shown by the life of love.

11 Beloved, if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another.

12 No man hath seen God at any time. ^dIf we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is ^pperfected in us.

13 Hereby know we that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit.

14 And we have seen and do testify that the Father sent the Son to be the ^sSaviour of the ^wworld.

15 Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God dwelleth in him, and he in God.

16 And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him.

17 Herein ⁱs our love made perfect, that we may have boldness in the ^mday of judgment: because as he is, so are we in this world.

18 There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear: because fear hath torment. He that feareth is not made ^aperfect in love.

19 ^bWe love him, because he first loved us.

20 ^cIf a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen?

21 And ^dthis commandment have we from him, That he who loveth God love his brother also.

CHAPTER 5.

Faith is the overcoming principle in the world-conflict.

WHOSOEVER ^ebelieveth that ^fJesus is the Christ is ^gborn of God: and ^hevery one that loveth him that begat loveth him also that is begotten of him.

2 By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God, and ⁱkeep his commandments.

3 For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments: and his commandments ^jare not grievous.

4 For whatsoever is born of God overcometh the ^kworld: and this is the victory that overcometh the world, ^leven our faith.

5 Who is he that overcometh the world, but he that ^mbelieveth that Jesus is the Son of God?

6 This is he that came by ⁿwater and blood, ^oeven Jesus Christ; not by water only, but by water and blood. And it is the ^pSpirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is truth.

7 ^qFor there are three that bear record in heaven, the Father, the Word, and the Holy Ghost: and these three are one.

8 ^rAnd there are three that bear witness ^sin earth, the ^tSpirit, and the water, and the blood: and these three ^uagree in one.

9 If we receive the ^vwitness of men, the witness of God is greater:

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF

VER. 1]

JOHN.

[VER. 13

WRITER. The Apostle John.

Date. Probably A.D. 90.

Theme. Second John gives the essentials of the personal walk of the believer in a day when "many deceivers are entered into the world" (v. 7). The key-phrase is "the truth," by which John means the body of revealed truth, the Scriptures. The Bible, as the only authority for doctrine and life, is the believer's resource in a time of declension and apostasy.

The Epistle is in three divisions: I. The pathway of truth and love, vs. 1-6. II. The peril of unscriptural ways, vs. 7-11. III. Superscription, vs. 12, 13.

Part I. "The truth" and love inseparable in the Christian life.

THE ^aelder unto the ^belect lady and her children, whom I love in the truth; and not I only, but also all they that have known the truth;

2 For the truth's sake, ^cwhich dwelleth in us, and ^dshall be with us for ever.

3 Grace be with you, mercy, and peace, from God the Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, in truth and love.

4 I ^erejoiced greatly that I found of thy children walking in truth, as we have received a commandment from the Father.

5 And now I beseech thee, lady, not as though I wrote a new commandment unto thee, but that which we had from the beginning, ^fthat we love one another.

6 And this is ^glove, that we walk after his commandments. This is the commandment, ^hThat, as ye have heard from the beginning, ye should walk in it.

7 For many deceivers are ^aentered into the ^bworld, who confess not ^cthat Jesus Christ is come in the flesh. This is ^da deceiver and ^ean ^fantichrist.

8 Look to yourselves, that we lose not those things which we have wrought, but that we receive a full ^greward.

9 Whosoever ^htransgresseth, and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God. He that abideth in the doctrine of Christ, he hath both the Father and the Son.

10 If there come any unto you, and bring not this doctrine, receive him ⁱnot into ^jyour house, neither ^kbid him God speed:

11 For he that ^lbiddeth him God speed is partaker of his evil deeds.

Part III. Superscription.

12 Having many things to write unto you, I would not ^mwrite with paper and ink; but I ⁿtrust to come unto you, and speak face to face, that our joy may be full.

13 The children of thy ^oelect sister greet thee. Amen.

¹ Law (of Christ). Summary: The new "law of Christ" is the divine love, as wrought into the renewed heart by the Holy Spirit (Rom. 5. 5; Heb. 10. 16), and outflowing in the energy of the Spirit, unforced and spontaneous, toward the objects of the divine love (2 Cor. 5. 14-20; 1 Thes. 2. 7, 8). It is, therefore, "the law of liberty" (Jas. 1. 25; 2. 12), in contrast with the external law of Moses. Moses' law demands love (Lev. 19. 18; Deut. 6. 5; Lk. 10. 27); Christ's law is love (Rom. 5. 5; 1 John 4. 7, 19, 20), and so takes the place of the external law by fulfilling it (Rom. 13. 10; Gal. 5. 14). It is the "law written in the heart" under the New Covenant (Heb. 8. 8, note).

THE THIRD EPISTLE OF

VER. 1]

JOHN.

[VER. 14

WRITER. The Apostle John.

Date. Probably about A.D. 90.

Theme. The aged Apostle had written to a church which allowed one Diotrephes to exercise an authority common enough in later ages, but wholly new in the primitive churches. Diotrephes had rejected the apostolic letters and authority. It appears also that he had refused the ministry of visiting brethren (v. 10), and cast out those who received them. Historically, this letter marks the beginning of that clerical and priestly assumption over the churches in which the primitive church order disappeared. This Epistle reveals, as well, the believer's resource in such a day. No longer writing as an apostle, but as an elder, John addresses this letter, not to the church as such, but to a faithful man in the church for the comfort and encouragement of those who were standing fast in the primitive simplicity. Second John conditions the personal walk of a Christian in a day of apostasy; Third John the personal responsibility in such a day of the believer as a member of the local church. The key-phrase is "the truth" (see 2 John, Introduction).

There are three divisions: I. Personal greetings, vs. 1-4. II. Instructions concerning ministering brethren, vs. 5-8. III. The apostate leader, and the good Demetrius, vs. 9-14.

Part I. Personal greetings.

THE elder unto the wellbeloved Gaius, whom I love in the truth.

2 Beloved, I wish ^babove all things that thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth.

3 For I rejoiced greatly, when the brethren came and testified of the truth that is in thee, even as thou walkest in the truth.

4 I have no greater ^djoy than to hear that ^emy children walk in ^ftruth.

Part II. Concerning ministering brethren.

5 Beloved, thou doest faithfully whatsoever thou doest to the brethren, and to strangers;

6 Which have borne witness of thy ^acharity before the church: whom if thou bring ^hforward on their journey ⁱafter a godly sort, thou shalt do well:

7 Because that for his name's sake they went forth, ^jtaking nothing of the Gentiles.

8 We therefore ought to ^kreceive such, that we might be fellow-helpers to the truth.

THE GENERAL EPISTLE OF

JUDE.

VER. 1]

[VER. 11

WRITER. Jude, the brother of James (1. 1).

Date. Probably A.D. 66.

Theme. It is not so much Jude who speaks, as the constraining Spirit (v. 3), and the theme is, "Contending for the faith" (Lk. 18. 8, refs.). In this brief letter the apostasy (2 Thes. 2. 3, note) of the professing church is predicted, and the cause and course described. As in Second Timothy and Second Peter the apostasy is treated as having already set in.

The Epistle is in five divisions: I. Introduction, vs. 1, 2. II. Occasion of the Epistle, vs. 3, 4. III. Apostasy is possible, vs. 5-7. IV. Apostate teachers described, vs. 8-19. V. The saints assured and comforted, vs. 20-25.

Part I. Introduction.

2 Mercy unto you, and peace, and love, be multiplied.

Part II. Occasion of the Epistle: the apostasy.

3 Beloved, when I gave all diligence to write unto you of the common ^dsalvation, ^eit was needful for me to write unto you, and exhort you that ye should earnestly contend for the ^ffaith which was ^gonce delivered unto the saints.

4 For there are certain men crept in unawares, ^hwho were before of old ordained to this condemnation, ungodly men, turning the grace of our God into lasciviousness, and denying ⁱthe only Lord God, and our Lord Jesus Christ.

Part III. Historical instances of apostasy.

¹ Assurance is the believer's full conviction that, through the work of Christ alone, received by faith, he is in possession of a salvation in which he will be eternally kept. And this assurance rests only upon the Scripture promises to him who believes.

² The judgment of the fallen angels. The "great day" is the day of the Lord (Isa. 2. 9-22, refs.). As the final judgment upon Satan occurs after the thousand years, and preceding the final judgment (Rev. 20. 10), it is congruous to conclude, as to the time, that other fallen angels are judged with him (2 Pet. 2. 4; Rev. 20. 10). Christians are associated with Christ in this judgment (1 Cor. 6. 3). See other judgments, Rev. 20. 12, note.

20 But ye, beloved, building up yourselves on your most ^wholy faith, praying in the ^xHoly Ghost, 21 Keep yourselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto ^yeternal life.

and in "religion," but after his own will, and who rejects redemption by blood. Compelled as a teacher of religion to explain the atonement, the apostate teacher expells it away.

¹ Balaam. The "error" of Balaam must be distinguished from his "way" (2 Pet. 2. 15, note), and his "doctrine" (Rev. 2. 14, note). The "error" of Balaam was that, reasoning from natural morality, and seeing the evil in Israel, he supposed a righteous God must curse them. He was blind to the higher morality of the Cross, through which God maintains and enforces the authority and awful sanctions of His law, so that He can be just and the justifier of a believing sinner. The "reward" of v. 11 may not be money, but popularity, or applause.

² See Num. 16. The sin of Korah was denial of the authority of Moses as God's chosen spokesman, and intrusion into the priest's office.

³ Flesh, Summary: "Flesh," in the ethical sense, is the whole natural or unregenerate man, spirit, soul, and body, as centered upon self, prone to sin, and opposed to God (Rom. 7. 18). The regenerate man is not "in [the sphere of] the flesh, but in [the sphere of] the Spirit" (Rom. 8. 9); but the flesh is still in him, and he may, according to his choice, "walk after the flesh" or "in the Spirit" (1 Cor. 3. 1-4; Gal. 5. 16, 17). In the first case he is a "carnal," in the second a "spiritual," Christian. Victory over the flesh will be the habitual experience of the believer who walks in the Spirit (Rom. 8. 2, 4; Gal. 5. 16, 17).

Theme. The theme of the Revelation is Jesus Christ (1. 1), presented in a threefold way: (1) As to time: "which is, and which was, and which is to come" (1. 4); (2) as to relationships—to the churches (1. 9-3. 22), to the tribulation (4. 1-19. 21), to the kingdom (20. 1-22. 21); (3) in His offices—High Priest (8. 3-6), Bridegroom (19. 7-9), King-Judge (20. 1-15).

But while Christ is thus the central theme of the book, all of the events move toward one consummation, the bringing in of the covenanted kingdom. The keyphrase is the prophetic declaration of the "great voices in heaven" (11. 15), lit. "The world kingdom of our Lord and of his Christ has come." The book is, therefore, a prophecy (1. 3).

The three major divisions of Revelation must be clearly held if the interpretation is to be sane and coherent. John was commanded to "write" concerning three classes of "things" (1. 19): I. Things past, "the things which thou hast seen," i.e. the Patmos vision, 1. 1-20. II. Things present, "the things which are," i.e. things then existing—obviously the churches. The temple had been destroyed, the Jews dispersed: the testimony of God had been committed to the churches (1 Tim. 3. 15). Accordingly we have seven messages to seven representative churches, 2. 1-3. 22. It is noteworthy that the church is not mentioned in chapters 5-18. III. Things future, "things which shall be hereafter," lit. "after these," i.e. after the church period ends, 4. 1-22. 21. The third major division, as Erdman (W. J.) has pointed out, falls into a series of six sevens, with five parenthetical passages, making, with the church division, seven sevens. The six sevens are: 1. The seven seals, 4. 1-8. 1. 2. The seven trumpets, 8. 2-11. 19. 3. The seven personages, 12. 1-14. 20. 4. The seven vials (bowls), 15. 1-16. 21. 5. The seven dooms, 17. 1-20. 15. 6. The seven new things, 21. 1-22. 21.

The parenthetical passages are: (I) The Jewish remnant and the tribulation saints, 7. 1-17. (II) The angel, the little book, the two witnesses, 10. 1-11. 14. (III) The Lamb, the Remnant, and the everlasting Gospel, 14. 1-13. (IV) The gathering of the kings at Armageddon, 16. 13-16. (V) The four alleluias in heaven, 19. 1-6. These passages do not advance the prophetic narrative. Looking backward and forward they sum up results accomplished, and speak of results yet to come as if they had already come. In 14. 1, for example, the Lamb and Remnant are seen prophetically on Mount Zion, though they are not actually there till 20. 4-6.

The end of the church period (2.-3.) is left indeterminate. It will end by the fulfilment of 1 Thes. 4. 14-17. Chapters 4.-19. are believed to synchronize with Daniel's Seventieth Week (Dan. 9. 24, note). The great tribulation begins at the middle of the "week," and continues three and a half years (Rev. 11. 3-19. 21). The tribulation is brought to an end by the appearing of the Lord and the battle of Armageddon (Mt. 24. 29, 30; Rev. 19. 11-21). The kingdom follows (Rev. 20. 4, 5); after this the "little season" (Rev. 20. 7-15), and then eternity.

Interpreters of the Revelation should bear in mind two important passages: 1 Pet. 1. 12; 2 Pet. 1. 20, 21. Doubtless much which is designedly obscure to us will be clear to those for whom it was written as the time approaches.

CHAPTER 1.

Part I. "The things which thou hast seen" (Rev. 1. 1-20).

sent and signified it by his angel unto his servant John:

2 Who bare record of the word of God, and of the testimony of Jesus Christ, and of all things that he saw.

3 Blessed is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of this prophecy, and keep those things which are written therein: for the time is at hand.

4 JOHN to the seven ^achurches which are in Asia: Grace be unto you, and peace, from him which is, and which was, and which is to come; and from the seven ^bSpirits which are before his throne;

5 And from Jesus Christ, who is the faithful ^cwitness, and the ^dfirst begotten of the dead, and the ^eprince of the kings of the earth: Unto him that ^floved us, and ^gwashed us from our ^hsins in his own blood,

6 And hath made us ⁱkings and priests unto God and his Father; to him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

7 Behold, he cometh with clouds; and ^jevery eye shall see him, and they also which pierced him: and all kindreds of the earth shall wail because of him. Even so, Amen.

8 I am ^kAlpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord, which is, and which was, and which is to come, the ^lAlmighty.

(3) The Patmos vision.

9 I John, who also am your brother, and companion in ^mtribulation, and in the kingdom and patience ⁿof Jesus Christ, was in the ^oisle that is called Patmos, for the word of God, and for the testimony of Jesus Christ.

10 I ^pwas in the ^qSpirit on the Lord's day, and heard behind me a great ^rvoice, as of a trumpet,

11 Saying, I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last: and, What thou seest, write in a book, and send ^sit unto the seven churches which are in Asia; unto Ephesus, and unto Smyrna, and unto Pergamos, and 12 And I turned to see the voice that spake with me. And being turned, I saw seven golden ¹candlesticks;

13 And in the midst of the seven ²candlesticks one like unto the Son of man, clothed with a garment down to the foot, and girt about the paps with a golden girdle.

14 His head and his hairs were ³white like wool, as white as snow; and his eyes were as a flame of fire;

15 And his feet like unto fine brass, as if they burned in a furnace; and his voice as the sound of many waters.

16 And he had in his right hand ⁴seven stars: and out of his mouth went a sharp twoedged sword: and his countenance was as the sun shineth in his strength.

17 And when I saw him, I fell at his feet as dead. And he laid his right hand upon me, saying unto me, Fear not; I am the first and the last:

18 I am he that liveth, and was dead; and, behold, I am alive for evermore, Amen; and have the keys of ⁵hell and of death.

(4) The command to write.

19 Write the things which thou hast seen, and the things which are, and the things which shall be ⁶hereafter;

20 The ⁷mystery of the seven stars which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seven golden ⁸candlesticks. The seven stars are the ⁹angels of the seven ¹⁰churches; and the seven candlesticks which thou sawest are the seven ¹¹churches.

¹ From 1. 1 to 1. 20 the Seer is on the earth, looking at the vision of Christ. From 2. 1 to 3. 22 he is on the earth looking forward through the church-age. From 4. 1 to 11. 1 he is "in the Spirit" (4. 2; cf. Ezk. 3. 12-14) observing things in heaven and on earth. From 11. 1 to 11. 12 he is in Jerusalem with the two witnesses. From 11. 13 to the end he is in heaven observing and recording things in heaven and upon the earth.

² The natural explanation of the "messengers" is that they were men sent by the seven churches to ascertain the state of the aged apostle, now an exile in Patmos (cf. Phil. 4. 18); but they figure any who bear God's messages to a church.

³ The messages to the seven churches have a fourfold application: (1) Local, to the churches actually addressed; (2) admonitory, to all churches in all time as tests by which they may discern their true spiritual state in the sight of God; (3) personal, in the exhortations to him "that hath an ear," and in the promises "to him that overcometh"; (4) prophetic, as disclosing seven phases of the spiritual history of the church from, say, A.D. 96 to the end. It is incredible that in a prophecy covering the church period there should be no such foreview. These messages must contain that foreview if it is in the book at all, for the church does not appear after 3. 22. Again, these messages by their very terms go beyond the local assemblies mentioned. Most conclusively of all, these messages do present an exact foreview

CHAPTER 2.

Part II. "The things which are":
the seven churches.(1) The message to Ephesus.
The church at the end of the apostolic age; first love left.

UNTO the ^aangel of the church of Ephesus write; These things saith he that holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, who walketh in the midst of the seven golden ^acandlesticks;

2 I know thy works, and thy labour, and thy patience, and how thou canst not bear them which are evil: and thou hast tried them which say they are apostles, and are not, and hast found them liars:

3 And hast borne, and hast patience, and for my name's sake hast laboured, and hast not faint.

4 Nevertheless I have somewhat against thee, because thou hast left thy first love.

5 Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works; or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will remove thy candlestick out of his place, except thou repent.

6 But this thou hast, that thou hatest the deeds of the ¹Nicolaitanes, which I also hate.

7 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the tree of life, which is in the midst of the paradise of God.

(3) The message to Pergamos.
The church under imperial favour, settled in the world,
A.D. 316 to the end.

12 And to the ^aangel of the church in Pergamos write; These things saith he which hath the sharp sword with two edges;

13 I know thy works, and where thou dwellest, even where ^bSatan's seat is: and thou holdest fast my name, and hast not ^cdenied my faith, even in those days wherein Antipas was my faithful ^dmartyr, who was slain among you, where Satan dwelleth.

14 But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast there them that hold the doctrine of ^eBalaam, who taught Balak to cast a ^fstumblingblock before the ^gchildren of Israel, to eat things sacrificed unto idols, and to commit fornication.

15 So hast thou also them that hold the doctrine of the ^hNicolaitanes, which thing I hate.

16 Repent; or else I will come of the spiritual history of the church, and in this precise order. Ephesus gives the general state at the date of the writing; Smyrna, the period of the great persecutions; Pergamos, the church settled down in the world, "where Satan's throne is," after the conversion of Constantine, say, A.D. 316. Thyatira is the Papacy, developed out of the Pergamos state: Balaamism (worldliness) and Nicolaitanism (priestly assumption) having conquered. As Jezebel brought idolatry into Israel, so Romanism weds Christian doctrine to pagan ceremonies. Sardis is the Protestant Reformation, whose works were not "fulfilled." Philadelphia is whatever bears clear testimony to the Word and the Name in the time of self-satisfied profession represented by Laodicea.

¹ From nikao, "to conquer," and laos, "the people," or "laity." There is no ancient authority for a sect of the Nicolaitanes. If the word is symbolic it refers to the earliest form of the notion of a priestly order, or "clergy," which later divided an equal brotherhood (Mt. 23. 8), into "priests" and "laity." What in Ephesus was "deeds" (2. 6) had become in Pergamos a "doctrine" (Rev. 2. 15).

² The "doctrine" of Balaam (cf. 2 Pet. 2. 15, note; Jude 11, note) was his teaching Balak to corrupt the people who could not be cursed (Num. 31. 15, 16; 22. 5; 23. 8), unto thee quickly, and will fight against them with the sword of my mouth.

17 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the hidden manna, and will give him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth saving he that receiveth it.

(4) The message to Thyatira.
A.D. 500-1500: the triumph of Balaamism and Nicolaitanism; a believing remnant (vs. 24-28).

18 And unto the angel of the church in Thyatira write; These things saith the Son of God, who hath his eyes like unto a flame of fire, and his feet are like fine brass;

19 I know thy works, and charity, and service, and faith, and thy patience, and thy works; and the last to be more than the first.

20 Notwithstanding I have a few things against thee, because thou sufferest that woman Jezabel, which calleth herself a prophetess, to teach and to seduce my servants to commit fornication, and to eat things sacrificed unto idols.

21 And I gave her space to repent of her fornication; and she repented not.

22 Behold, I will cast her into a bed, and them that commit adultery with her into great tribulation, except they repent of their deeds.

23 And I will kill her children with death; and all the churches shall know that I am he which searcheth the reins and hearts; and I will give unto every one of you according to your works.

24 But unto you I say, and unto the rest in Thyatira, as many as have not this doctrine, and which have not known the depths of Satan, as they speak; I will put upon you none other burden.

25 But that which ye have already hold fast till I come.

26 And he that overcometh, and keepeth my works unto the end, to him will I give power over the nations:

27 And he shall rule them with a

(5) The message to Sardis. The period of the Reformation; a believing remnant (vs. 4, 5).

AND unto the angel of the church in Sardis write; These things saith he that hath the seven Spirits of God, and the seven stars; I know thy works, that thou hast a name that thou livest, and art dead.

2 Be watchful, and strengthen the things which remain, that are ready to die: for I have not found thy works perfect before God.

3 Remember therefore how thou hast received and heard, and hold fast, and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come on thee as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee.

4 Thou hast a few names even in Sardis which have not defiled their garments; and they shall walk with me in white: for they are worthy.

5 He that overcometh, the same shall be clothed in white raiment; and I will not blot out his name out of the book of life, but I will confess his name before my Father, and before his angels.

6 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

(6) The message to Philadelphia. The true church in the professing church.

7 And to the angel of the church in Philadelphia write; These things saith he that is holy, he that is true, he that hath the key of David, he that openeth, and no man shutteth; and shutteth, and no man openeth;

8 I know thy works: behold, I have set before thee an open door, by tempting them to marry women of Moab, defile their separation, and abandon their pilgrim character. It is that union of the world and the church which is spiritual unchastity (Jas. 4. 4). Pergamos had lost the pilgrim character and was "dwelling" (v. 13) "where Satan's throne is," in the world (John 12. 31; 14. 30; 16. 11).

and no man can shut it: for thou hast a little strength, and hast kept my word, and hast not denied my name.

9 Behold, I will make them of the synagogue of ^aSatan, which say they are Jews, and are not, but do lie; behold, I will make them to come and ^bworship before thy feet, and to know that I have loved thee.

10 Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, I also will keep thee from the ^chour of ^dtemptation, which shall come upon all the ^eworld, to try them that dwell upon the earth.

11 Behold, I come quickly; hold that fast which thou hast, that no man take thy ^fcrown.

22 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the ⁱSpirit saith unto the ^j"churches.

CHAPTER 4.

Part III. "Things which shall be hereafter" (Rev. 4, 1-22, 21).

The seven seals (Rev. 4, 1-8, 1).

(a) Introduction (to Rev. 5, 14). The throne in heaven.

AFTER this I looked, and, behold, a ^kdoor was opened in heaven: and the first voice which I heard was as it were of a ^l"trumpet talking with me; which said, ^mCome up hither, and I will shew thee things which must be ⁿhereafter.

2 And immediately I ^owas in the spirit: and, behold, a ^pthrone was set in heaven, and ^qone sat on the throne.

3 And he that sat was to look upon ^rlike a jasper and a sardine stone: and ^sthere was a ^trainbow round about the throne, in sight like unto an emerald.

The enthroned elders.

4 And round about the throne were four and twenty ^useats: and upon the seats I saw four and twenty elders sitting, clothed in ^vwhite raiment; and they had on their heads ^wcrowns of gold.

5 And out of the throne proceeded lightnings and thunderings and voices: and ^xthere were seven lamps of fire burning before the

¹ This passage, in harmony with Lk. 1, 32, 33; Mt. 19, 28; Acts 2, 30, 34, 35; 15, 14-16, is conclusive that Christ is not now seated upon His own throne. The Davidic Covenant, and the promises of God through the prophets and the Angel Gabriel concerning the Messianic kingdom await fulfilment.

² This call seems clearly to indicate the fulfilment of 1 Thes. 4, 14-17. The word "church" does not again occur in the Revelation till all is fulfilled.

throne, which are the seven ^aSpirits of God.

The four living creatures.

6 And before the throne there was ^aa sea of glass like unto crystal: and in the midst of the throne, and round about the throne, were four ^bbeasts full of eyes before and behind.

7 And the first ^cbeast was like a lion, and the second beast like a calf, and the third beast had a face as a man, and the fourth beast was like a flying eagle.

8 And the four ^dbeasts had each of them six wings about him; and they were full of eyes ^ewithin: and they rest not day and night, saying, Holy, holy, holy, Lord ^fGod Almighty, which was, and is, and is to come.

The living creatures and elders worship because of creation. (Cf. Rev. 5. 8-10.)

9 And when those ^gbeasts give glory and honour and thanks to him that ^hsat on the throne, who liveth for ever and ever,

10 The four and twenty ⁱelders fall down before him that sat on the throne, and worship him that liveth for ever and ever, and cast their crowns before the throne, saying,

11 Thou art worthy, ^jO Lord, to receive glory and honour and power: for thou hast ^kcreated all things, and for ^lthy pleasure they are and were created.

CHAPTER 5.

The seven-sealed book.

AND I saw ^min the right hand of him that sat on the throne a ⁿbook written within and on the backside, sealed with seven seals.

2 And I saw a strong ^omangel proclaiming with a loud voice, ^pWho is worthy to open the book, and to loose the seals thereof?

3 And ^qno man in heaven, nor in earth, neither under the earth, was able to open the book, neither to look thereon.

4 And I wept much, because no man was found worthy to open and to read the book, neither to look thereon.

Christ in his kingly character (Isa. 11. 1; Jer. 23. 5; Lk. 1. 32, 33) opens the book.

5 And one of the elders saith unto me, Weep not: behold, the Lion of the tribe of Juda, the ^aRoot of David, hath ^bprevailed to open the book, and to loose the seven seals thereof.

6 And I beheld, and, lo, in the midst of the throne and of the four ^cbeasts, and in the midst of the elders, stood a ^dLamb as it had been slain, having seven horns and seven ^eeyes, which are the seven Spirits of God sent forth into all the earth.

7 And he ^fcame and took the book out of the right hand of him that sat upon the throne.

The living creatures and elders worship because of redemption. (Cf. Rev. 4. 9-11.)

8 And when he had taken the book, the four ^gbeasts and four ^hand twenty elders ⁱfell down before the Lamb, having every one of them harps, and golden vials full of ^jodours, which are the prayers of saints.

9 And they sung ^ka new song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: for thou wast slain, and hast ^lredeemed us to God ^mby thy blood out of every kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation;

10 And hast made us unto our ⁿGod kings and priests: and we shall ^oreign ^pon the earth.

The angels exalt the Lamb.

11 And I beheld, and I heard the voice of many angels round about the throne and the ^qbeasts and the elders: and the number of them was ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousands of thousands;

12 Saying with a loud voice, ^rWorthy is the Lamb that was slain to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing.

Universal adoration of the Lamb who is King.

13 And every creature which is in heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and such as are ^sin the sea, and all that are in them, heard I saying, Blessing, and honour, and glory, and power, ^tbe unto him that ^usitteth upon the throne,

¹ Cf. Dan. 7. 13, 14. The two visions are identical; the Revelation adding that which was hidden from Daniel, that the kings and priests of the church-age are to and unto the ^aLamb for ever and ever.

14 And the four ^bbeasts said, Amen. And the four and twenty ^celders fell down and worshipped him that liveth for ever and ever.

CHAPTER 6.

(b) The seals (to Rev. 8. 1).

(1) The first seal.

AND I saw when the Lamb opened ^aone of the seals, and I heard, as it were the noise of thunder, one of the four ^bbeasts saying, ^cCome and see.

2 And I saw, and behold ^awhite horse: and he that sat on him had ^abow; and a crown was given unto him: and he went forth ^bconquering, and to conquer.

(2) The second seal: peace taken from earth.

3 And when he had opened the second seal, I heard the second ^bbeast say, ^cCome and see.

4 And there went out another horse ^athat was ^ared: and power was given to him that sat thereon to ^atake peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another: and there was given unto him ^agreat sword.

(3) The third seal: famine.

5 And when he had opened the third seal, I heard the third ^bbeast say, ^cCome and see. And I beheld, and lo ^ablack horse; and he that sat on him had a pair of ^abalances in his hand.

6 And I heard a voice in the midst of the four ^bbeasts say, ^aA ^ameasure of wheat for ^apenny, and three measures of barley for a penny; and see thou hurt not the oil and the wine.

(4) The fourth seal: death.

7 And when he had opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth ^bbeast say, ^cCome and see.

8 And I looked, and behold ^apale horse: and his name that sat on him was ^aDeath, and ^aHell followed with him. And power was given unto ^athem over the ^afourth part of the earth, to kill with sword, and with hunger, and with death, and with the beasts of the earth.

(5) The fifth seal: the martyred remnant.

9 And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of them that were ^aslain for the word of God, and for the testimony which they held:

10 And they cried with a loud voice, saying, ^aHow long, O Lord, holy and true, dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?

11 And white robes were given unto ^aevery one of them; and it was said unto them, that they should rest yet for a little season, until their fellowservants also and their brethren, that should be killed as they were, should be ^afulfilled.

(6) The sixth seal: anarchy.

12 And I beheld when he had opened the sixth seal, and, lo, there was a great ^aearthquake; and the sun became ^ablack as sackcloth of hair, and the moon became as blood; 13 And the stars of heaven fell unto the earth, even as a fig tree casteth her untimely figs, when she is shaken of a mighty wind.

14 And the ^aheaven departed as a scroll when it is rolled together; and every ^amountain and island were moved out of their places.

15 And the ^akings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chief captains, and the mighty men, and every bondman, and every free man, ^ahid themselves in the dens and in the rocks of the mountains;

16 And said to the mountains and rocks, ^aFall on us, and hide us from the face of him that ^asitteth on the throne, and from the ^awrath of the Lamb:

17 ^aFor the great ^aday of his wrath is come; and who shall be able to stand?

¹ The great tribulation is the period of unexampled trouble predicted in the passages cited under that head from Psa. 2. 5 to Rev. 7. 14 and described in Rev. 11. 1-18. Involving in a measure the whole earth (Rev. 3. 10), it is yet distinctively "the time of Jacob's trouble" (Jer. 30. 7), and its vortex Jerusalem and the Holy Land. It involves the people of God who will have returned to Palestine in unbelief. Its duration is three and a half years, or the last half of the seventieth week of Daniel (Dan. 9. 24-27, note; Rev. 11. 2, 3). The elements of the tribulation are: (1) The cruel reign of the "beast out of the sea" (Rev. 13. 1), who, at the beginning of the three and a half years, will break his covenant with the Jews (by virtue of which they will have re-established the temple worship, Dan. 9. 27), and show himself in the temple, demanding that he be worshipped as God (Mt. 24. 15; 2 Thes. 2. 4). (2) The active interposition of Satan "having great wrath" (Rev. 12. 12), who gives his power to the Beast (Rev. 13. 4, 5). (3) The unprecedented activity of demons (Rev. 9. 2, 11); and (4) the terrible "bowl" judgments of Rev. 16.

The great tribulation will be, however, a period of salvation. An election out of Israel is seen as sealed for God (Rev. 7. 4-8), and, with an innumerable multitude of Gentiles (Rev. 7. 9), are said to have come "out of the great tribulation" (Rev. 7. 14). They are not of the priesthood, the church, to which they seem to stand somewhat in the relation of the Levites to the priests under the Mosaic Covenant. The great tribulation is immediately followed by the return of Christ in glory, and the events associated therewith (Mt. 24. 29, 30). See "Remnant" (Isa. 1. 9; Rom. 11. 5, note); "Beast" (Dan. 7. 8; Rev. 19. 20, note); "Armageddon" (Rev. 16. 14; 19. 17, note).

ing fountains of waters: and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes.

CHAPTER 8.

The seals resumed: the seventh seal, out of which the trumpets come.

AND when he had opened the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven about the space of half an hour.

The seven trumpets

(Rev. 8. 2-11. 19).

(a) Introduction: Christ as High Priest.

2 And I saw the seven ^bangels which stood before God; and to them were given seven ^ctrumpets.

3 And another ^bangel came and stood at the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given unto him much incense, that he should offer it with the prayers of all saints upon the golden altar which was before the throne.

4 And the ^csmoke of the incense, which came with the prayers of the saints, ascended up before God out of the ^bangel's hand.

5 And the ^bangel took the censer, and filled it with fire of the altar, and cast it into the earth: and there were voices, and thunderings, and lightnings, and an earthquake.

6 And the seven ^bangels which had the seven trumpets prepared themselves to sound.

7 The first ^bangel sounded, and there followed hail and fire mingled with blood, and they were cast upon the earth: and the third part of trees was burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up.

8 And the second ^bangel sounded, and as it were ^aa great mountain burning with fire was cast into the sea: and the third part of the sea became ^bblood:

9 And the third part of the ^mcreatures which were in the sea, and had life, died; and the third part of the ships were destroyed.

(3) The third trumpet.

10 And the third ^bangel sounded, and there fell a great ^astar from heaven, burning ^aas it were a lamp, and it fell upon the third part of the rivers, and upon the ^pfountains of waters:

12 And the fourth ^bangel sounded, and the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars; so as the third part of them was darkened, and the day shone not for a third part of it, and the night likewise.

13 And I beheld, and heard an ^bangel flying ^athrough the midst of heaven, saying with a loud voice, ^wWoe, woe, woe, to the inhabitants of the earth by reason of the other voices of the trumpet of the three angels, which are ^ayet to sound!

CHAPTER 9.

(5) The fifth trumpet: the first woe.

AND the fifth ^bangel sounded, and I saw a ^astar ^afall from heaven unto the earth: and to him was given the key of the ^abottomless pit.

2 And he opened the ^abottomless pit; and there arose a ^asmoke out of the pit, as the smoke of a great furnace; and the sun and the air were darkened by reason of the smoke of the pit.

3 And there came out of the smoke ^alocusts upon the earth: and unto them was given power, as the ^ascorpions of the earth have power.

4 And it was commanded them that they should not hurt the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree; but only those men ^bwhich have not the seal of God in their foreheads.

5 And to them it was given that they should not kill them, but that they should be ^atormented five months: and their torment was as the torment of a scorpion, when he striketh a man.

6 And in those days shall men ^aseek death, and shall not find it; and shall desire to die, and death shall flee from them.

7 And the ^ashapes of the locusts were like unto horses prepared unto battle; and on their heads were as it were ^acrowns like gold, and their ^afaces were as the faces of men.

8 And they had hair as the hair of women, and their ^ateeth were as the ^bteeth of lions.

9 And they had ^bbreastplates, as it were breastplates of iron; and the sound of their wings was as the sound of chariots of many horses running to battle.

10 And they had tails like unto scorpions, and ^athere were stings in their tails: and their power was to hurt men five months.

11 And they had ^aa king over them, which is the angel of the bottomless pit, whose name in the Hebrew tongue is Abaddon, but in the Greek tongue hath his name Apollyon.

12 One woe is past; and, behold, there come two woes more ^ahereafter.

(6) The sixth trumpet.

13 And the sixth angel sounded, and I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altar which is before God,

14 Saying to the sixth angel which had the trumpet, Loose the four angels which are bound in the great river Euphrates.

15 And the four angels were loosed, which were ^bprepared for an hour, and a day, and a month, and a year, for to slay the ^mthird part of men.

16 And the number of the army of the horsemen were two hundred thousand thousand: and I heard the number of them.

17 And thus I saw the horses in the vision, and them that sat on them, having ^bbreastplates of fire, and of jacinth, and brimstone: and the heads of the horses were as the heads of lions; and out of their mouths issued fire and smoke and brimstone.

18 By these ^athree was the third part of men killed, by the fire, and by the smoke, and by the brimstone, which issued out of their mouths.

19 For ^atheir power is in their mouth, and in their tails: for their tails were like unto serpents, and had heads, and with them they do hurt.

20 And the rest of the men which were not killed by these plagues yet repented not of the works of their hands, that they should not worship devils, and idols of gold, and silver, and brass, and stone, and of wood: which neither can see, nor hear, nor walk:

CHAPTER 10.

(c) Parenthetical (to Rev. 11. 14).

(1) The mighty angel and the "little book."

AND I saw another mighty angel come down from heaven, clothed with a cloud: and a rainbow was upon his head, and his face was as it were the sun, and his feet as pillars of fire:

2 And he had in his hand a little book open: and he set his right foot upon the sea, and his left foot on the earth,

3 And cried with a loud voice, as when a lion roareth: and when he had cried, seven thunders uttered their voices.

4 And when the seven thunders had uttered their voices, I was about to write: and I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Seal up those things which the seven thunders uttered, and write them not.

5 And the angel which I saw stand upon the sea and upon the earth lifted up his hand to heaven,

6 And swore by him that liveth for ever and ever, who created heaven, and the things that therein are, and the earth, and the things that therein are, and the sea, and the things which are therein, that there should be time no longer:

7 But in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he shall begin to sound, the mystery of God should be finished, as he hath declared to his servants the prophets.

(2) The "little book" eaten.

8 And the voice which I heard from heaven spake unto me again, and said, Go and take the little book which is open in the hand of the angel which standeth upon the sea and upon the earth.

9 And I went unto the angel, and said unto him, Give me the little book. And he said unto me, Take it, and eat it up; and it shall make thy belly bitter, but it shall be in thy mouth sweet as honey.

10 And I took the little book out of the angel's hand, and ate it up; and it was in my mouth sweet as honey: and as soon as I had eaten it, my belly was bitter.

11 And he said unto me, Thou must ^aprophesy again ^bbefore many peoples, and nations, and tongues, and ^ckings.

CHAPTER 11.

(3) The "times of the Gentiles" to end in forty-two months.

AND there was given me a ^dreed like unto a rod: and ^ethe angel stood, saying, Rise, and measure the temple of God, and the altar, and them that worship therein.

2 But the ^fcourt which is without the temple leave out, and measure it not; for it is given unto the Gentiles: and the holy city shall they ^g tread under foot forty and two months.

(4) The two witnesses to prophesy forty-two months.

3 And I will give power unto my two ^hwitnesses, and they shall prophesy a thousand two hundred and threescore days, clothed in sackcloth.

4 ⁱThese are the two olive trees, and the two ^jcandlesticks standing before the ^kGod of the earth.

5 And if any man will hurt them, ^lfire proceedeth out of their mouth, and devoureth their enemies: and if any man will hurt them, he must in this manner be killed.

6 These have power to ^mshut heaven, that it rain not in the days of their prophesy: and have power over waters ⁿto turn them to blood, and to ^osmite the earth with all plagues, as often as they will.

7 And when they shall have finished their testimony, the ^pbeast that ascendeth out of the ^qbottomless pit shall make ^rwar against them, and shall overcome them, and kill them.

8 And their dead bodies ^sshall lie in the street of the great ^tcity, which spiritually is called Sodom and Egypt, where also ^uour Lord was crucified.

9 And they of the people and kindreds and tongues and nations shall ^vsee their dead bodies three days and an half, and shall not suffer their dead bodies to be put in graves.

10 And they that dwell upon the earth shall ^wrejoice over them, and make merry, and shall send gifts one to another; because these two prophets tormented them that dwelt on the earth.

11 And after three days and an half the ^xspirit of life from God entered into them, and they stood

The trumpet judgments resumed.

(7) The seventh trumpet.

15 And the seventh ^aangel sounded; and there were great voices in heaven, saying, ^bThe kingdoms of this ^cworld are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ; and he shall reign for ever and ever.

16 And the four and twenty ^delders, which sat before God on their ^eseats, fell upon their faces, and worshipped God.

19 ⁱAnd the temple of God was opened in heaven, and there was seen in his temple the ark of his ^jtestament: and there were lightnings, and voices, and thunderings, and an earthquake, and great hail.

CHAPTER 12.

The seven personages.

(1) The woman: Israel.

The woman clothed with the sun, and the man-child.

AND there appeared a great ^awonder in heaven; a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars:

2 And she being with child cried, ^{travailing} in birth, and pained to be delivered.

(2) Satan.

3 And there appeared another wonder in heaven; and behold a great red dragon, having seven heads and ten horns, and seven crowns upon his heads.

4 And his tail drew the third part of the stars of heaven, and did cast them to the earth: and the dragon stood before the woman which was ready to be delivered, for to devour her child as soon as it was born.

(3) The Child: Christ.

5 And she brought forth a man child, who was to rule all nations with a rod of iron: and her child was caught up unto God, and to his throne.

6 And the woman fled into the wilderness, where she hath a place prepared of God, that they should feed her there a thousand two hundred and threescore days.

(4) The archangel.

7 And there was war in heaven: Michael and his angels fought against the dragon; and the dragon fought and his angels,

8 And prevailed not; neither was their place found any more in heaven.

9 And the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world: he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

10 And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accused them before our God day and night.

14 And to the woman were given two wings of a great eagle, that she might fly into the wilderness, into her place, where she is nourished for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent.

15 And the serpent cast out of his mouth water as a flood after the woman, that he might cause her to be carried away of the flood.

(6) The Beast out of the sea.

AND I stood upon the sand of the sea, and saw a beast rise up out of the sea, having seven heads and ten horns, and upon his horns ten crowns, and upon his heads the name of blasphemy.

2 And the beast which I saw was like unto a leopard, and his feet

1 The Dispensation of the Kingdom (2 Sam. 7. 16, refs.) begins with the return of Christ to the earth, runs through the "thousand years" of His earth-rule, and ends when He has delivered up the kingdom to the Father (1 Cor. 15. 24, note).

2 Daniel's fourth beast (Dan. 7. 26, note). The "ten horns" are explained in Dan. 7. 24, Rev. 17. 12, to be ten kings, and the whole vision is of the last form of Gentile world-power, a confederated ten-kingdom empire covering the sphere of authority of ancient Rome. Rev. 13. 1-3 refers to the ten-kingdom empire; vs. 4-10 to the emperor, who is emphatically "the Beast" (Rev. 19. 20, note).

3 The three animals, leopard, bear, and lion, are found in Dan. 7. 4-6 as symbols of the empires which preceded Rome, and whose characteristics all entered into the qualities of the Roman empire: Macedonian swiftness of conquest, Persian tenacity of purpose, Babylonish voracity.

were as the feet of a bear, and his mouth as the mouth of a lion: and the dragon gave him his power, and his seat, and great authority.

3 And I saw one of his heads as it were wounded to death; and his deadly wound was healed: and all the world wondered after the beast.

4 And they worshipped the beast: which gave power unto the beast: and they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like unto the beast? who is able to make war with him?

5 And there was given unto him a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies; and power was given unto him to continue forty and two months.

6 And he opened his mouth in blasphemy against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heaven.

7 And it was given unto him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: and power was given him over all kindreds, and tongues, and nations.

8 And all that dwell upon the earth shall worship him, whose names are not written in the book of life of the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world.

9 If any man have an ear, let him hear.

10 He that leadeth into captivity: shall go into captivity: he that killeth with the sword must be killed with the sword. Here is the patience and the faith of the saints.

12 And he exerciseth all the power of the first beast before him, and causeth the earth and them which dwell therein to worship the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed.

13 And he doeth great wonders, so that he maketh fire come down from heaven on the earth in the sight of men,

14 And deceiveth them that dwell on the earth by the means of those miracles which he had power to do in the sight of the beast; saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast, which had the wound by a sword, and did live.

15 And he had power to give life unto the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speak, and cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast should be killed.

16 And he causeth all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and bond, to receive a mark in their right hand, or in their foreheads:

17 And that no man might buy or sell, save he that had the mark, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name.

18 Here is wisdom. Let him that hath understanding count the number of the beast: for it is the number of a man; and his number is Six hundred three score and six.

CHAPTER 14.

Paraphrased: vision of the Lamb and the one hundred and forty and four thousand.

AND I looked, and lo, a Lamb stood on the mount Sion, and with him an hundred forty and four

1 Fragments of the ancient Roman empire have never ceased to exist as separate kingdoms. It was the imperial form of government which ceased; the one head wounded to death. What we have prophetically in Rev. 13. 3 is the restoration of the imperial form as such, though over a federated empire of ten kingdoms; the "head" is "healed," i.e. restored; there is an emperor again—the Beast.

2 Kosmos, Summary: In the sense of the present world-system, the ethically bad sense of the word, refers to the "order," "arrangement," under which Satan has organized the world of unbelieving mankind upon his cosmic principles of force, greed, selfishness, ambition, and pleasure (Mt. 4. 8, 9; John 12. 31; 14. 30; 18. 36; Eph. 2. 2; 6. 12; 1 John 2. 15-17). This world-system is imposing and powerful with armies and fleets; is often outwardly religious, scientific, cultured, and elegant; but, seething with national and commercial rivalries and ambitions, is upheld in any real crisis only by armed force, and is dominated by Satanic principles.

3 Antichrist the person is to be distinguished from the "many antichrists" (1 John 2. 18), and the "spirit of antichrist" (1 John 4. 3) which characterizes all. The supreme mark of all is the denial of the Christian truth of the incarnation of the Logos, the eternal Son in Jesus as the Christ (John 1. 1, 14; Mt. 1. 16, note). The "many antichrists" precede and prepare the way for the Antichrist, who is "the Beast out of the earth" of Rev. 13. 11-17, and the "false prophet" of Rev. 16. 13; 19. 20; 20. 10. He is the last ecclesiastical head, as the Beast of Rev. 13. 1-8 is the last civil head. For purposes of persecution he is permitted to exercise the autocratic power of the emperor-Beast (Rev. 19. 20, note).

¹ Gospel. This great theme may be summarized as follows:

I. In itself the word Gospel means good news.

II. Four forms of the Gospel are to be distinguished:

(1) The Gospel of the kingdom. This is the good news that God purposes to set up on the earth, in fulfilment of the Davidic Covenant (2 Sam. 7. 16, and refs.), a kingdom, political, spiritual, Israelitish, universal, over which God's Son, David's heir, shall be King, and which shall be, for one thousand years, the manifestation of the righteousness of God in human affairs. See Mt. 3. 2, note.

Two preachings of this Gospel are mentioned, one past, beginning with the ministry of John the Baptist, continued by our Lord and His disciples, and ending with the Jewish rejection of the King. The other is yet future (Mt. 24. 14), during the great tribulation, and immediately preceding the coming of the King in glory.

(2) The Gospel of the grace of God. This is the good news that Jesus Christ, the rejected King, has died on the cross for the sins of the world, that He was raised from the dead for our justification, and that by Him all that believe are justified from all things. This form of the Gospel is described in many ways. It is the Gospel "of God" (Rom. 1. 1) because it originates in His love; "of Christ" (2 Cor. 10. 14) because it flows from His sacrifice, and because He is the alone Object of Gospel faith; of "the grace of God" (Acts 20. 24) because it saves those whom the law curses; of "the glory" (1 Tim. 1. 11; 2 Cor. 4. 4) because it concerns Him who is in the glory, and who is bringing the many sons to glory (Heb. 2. 10); of "our salvation" (Eph. 1. 13) because it is the "power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth" (Rom. 1. 16); of "the uncircumcision" (Gal. 2. 7) because it saves wholly apart from forms and ordinances; of "peace" (Eph. 6. 15) because through Christ it makes peace between the sinner and God, and imparts inward peace.

(3) The everlasting Gospel (Rev. 14. 6). This is to be preached to the earth-dwellers at the very end of the great tribulation and immediately preceding the judgment of the nations (Mt. 25. 31, refs.). It is neither the Gospel of the kingdom, nor of grace. Though its burden is judgment, not salvation, it is good news to Israel and to those who, during the tribulation, have been saved (Rev. 7. 9-14; Lk. 21. 28; Psa. 96. 11-13; Isa. 35. 4-10).

(4) That which Paul calls, "my Gospel" (Rom. 2. 16, refs.). This is the Gospel of the grace of God in its fullest development, but includes the revelation of the result of that Gospel in the outcalling of the church, her relationships, position, privileges, and responsibility. It is the distinctive truth of Ephesians and Colossians, but interpenetrates all of Paul's writings.

III. There is "another Gospel" (Gal. 1. 6; 2 Cor. 11. 4) "which is not another," but a perversion of the Gospel of the grace of God, against which we are warned. It has had many seductive forms, but the test is one—it invariably denies the sufficiency of grace alone to save, keep, and perfect, and mingles with grace some kind of human merit. In Galatia it was law, in Colosse fanaticism (Col. 2. 18, etc.). In any form its teachers lie under the awful anathema of God.

God, and give glory to him; for the hour of his judgment is come: and worship him that made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and the fountains of waters.

The fall of Babylon announced.

8 And there followed another angel, saying, Babylon is fallen, is fallen, that great city, because she made all nations drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication.

The doom of the Beast-worshippers announced.

9 And the third angel followed them, saying with a loud voice, If any man worship the beast and his image, and receive his mark in his forehead, or in his hand,

10 The same shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is poured out without mixture into the cup of his indignation; and he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb:

11 And the smoke of their torment ascendeth up for ever and ever: and they have no rest day nor night, who worship the beast and his image, and whosoever receiveth the mark of his name.

12 Here is the patience of the saints: here are they that keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus.

The blessedness of the holy dead.

13 And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours; and their works do follow them.

Vision of Armageddon.

14 And I looked, and behold a white cloud, and upon the cloud one sat like unto the Son of man, having on his head a golden crown, and in his hand a sharp sickle.

15 And another angel came out of the temple, crying with a loud voice to him that sat on the cloud, Thrust in thy sickle, and reap: for the time is come for thee to reap; for the harvest of the earth is ripe.

16 And he that sat on the cloud thrust in his sickle on the earth; and the earth was reaped.

17 And another angel came out of the temple which is in heaven, he also having a sharp sickle.

18 And another angel came out

CHAPTER 15.

The seven vials (to Rev. 16. 21).

(1) Vision of the angels of the seven last plagues: the bowls of the wrath of God.

AND I saw another sign in heaven, great and marvellous, seven angels having the seven last plagues; for in them is filled up the wrath of God.

2 And I saw as it were a sea of glass mingled with fire; and them that had gotten the victory over the beast, and over his image, and over his mark, and over the number of his name, stand on the sea of glass, having the harps of God.

3 And they sing the song of Moses the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying, Great and marvellous are thy works, Lord God Almighty; just and true are thy ways, thou King of saints.

4 Who shall not fear thee, O Lord, and glorify thy name? for thou only art holy: for all nations shall come and worship before thee; for thy judgments are made manifest.

5 And after that I looked, and behold, the temple of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened:

6 And the seven angels came out of the temple, having the seven plagues, clothed in pure and white linen, and having their breasts girded with golden girdles.

7 And one of the four beasts gave unto the seven angels seven golden vials full of the wrath of God, who liveth for ever and ever.

8 And the temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God, and from his power; and no man was able to enter into the temple, till the seven plagues of the seven angels were fulfilled.

CHAPTER 16.

(2) The vials of the wrath of God upon the earth.

AND I heard a great voice out of the temple saying to the seven ^aangels, Go your ways, and pour out the ^bvials of the wrath of God upon the earth.

The first vial.

2 And the first went, and poured out his vial upon the earth; and there fell a noisome and grievous ^asore upon the men which had the mark of the beast, and upon them which worshipped his image.

The second vial.

3 And the second ^aangel poured out his vial upon the ^asea; and it became ^aas the blood of a dead man; and every living soul died in the sea.

The third vial.

4 And the third ^aangel poured out his vial upon the ^arivers and fountains of waters; and they became blood.

5 And I heard the angel of the waters say, Thou art ^arighteous, O Lord, which art, and wast, and shalt be, because thou hast judged thus.

6 For they have ^ashed the blood of saints and prophets, and thou hast given them blood to drink; for they are ^aworthy.

7 And I heard ^aanother out of the altar say, Even so, Lord God Almighty, true and righteous are thy judgments.

The fourth vial.

8 And the fourth ^aangel poured out his vial upon the ^asun; and ^apower was given unto him to scorch men with fire.

9 And men were scorched with great heat, and blasphemed the name of God, ^awhich hath power over these plagues; and they repented not to give him glory.

The fifth vial.

10 And the fifth ^aangel poured out his vial upon the ^aseat of the beast; and his kingdom ^awas full of darkness; and they gnawed their tongues for pain,

(Parenthetical, vs. 13-16.)

13 And I saw three unclean ^aspirits like frogs come out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the ^afalse prophet.

14 For they are the spirits of ^adevils, working ^amiracles, which go forth unto the ^akings of the earth and of the whole ^aworld, to gather them to the ^abattle of that great day of God Almighty.

15 Behold, ^aI come as a thief. Blessed is he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments, lest he walk naked, and they see his shame.

16 And he gathered them together into a place called in the Hebrew tongue ^aArmageddon.

The seventh vial.

17 And the seventh ^aangel poured out his vial ^ainto the air; and there came a great voice out of the temple of heaven, from the throne, saying, ^aIt is done.

18 ^aAnd there were voices, and thunders, and lightnings; and there was a great ^aearthquake, such as was not since men were upon the earth, so mighty an earthquake, and so great.

19 And the great city was divided into three parts, and the cities of the ^anations fell: and great ^aBabylon came in remembrance before God, to give unto her ^athe cup of the wine of the fierceness of his wrath.

20 And every ^aisland fled away, and the mountains were not found.

21 And there fell upon men a great hail out of heaven, every stone about the weight of a talent: and men blasphemed God because of the plague of the hail; for the plague thereof was exceeding great.

¹ Summary: The Times of the Gentiles is that long period beginning with the Babylonian captivity of Judah, under Nebuchadnezzar, and to be brought to an end by the destruction of Gentile world-power by the "stone cut out without hands" (Dan. 2. 34, 35, 44), i.e. the coming of the Lord in glory (Rev. 19. 11, 21), until which time Jerusalem is politically subject to Gentile rule (Lk. 21. 24).

CHAPTER 17.

The seven dooms: (1) The doom of "Babylon."

The divine view of "Babylon."
(Cf. Rev. 18. 1-8.)

AND there came one of the seven ^aangels which had the seven vials, and talked with me, saying unto me, Come hither; I will shew unto thee the judgment of the ^bgreat whore that sitteth upon many waters:

2 With whom the ^ckings of the earth have committed fornication, and the inhabitants of the earth have been made drunk with the wine of her fornication.

3 So he carried me away in the ^dspirit into the wilderness; and I saw a woman sit upon a ^escarlet coloured beast, full of ^fnames of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns.

4 And the woman was ^garrayed in purple and scarlet colour, and decked with gold and precious stones and pearls, having a ^hgolden cup in her hand full of abominations and filthiness of her fornication:

5 And upon her forehead was a name written, ⁱMYSTERY, ^jBABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF HARLOTS AND ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH.

6 And I saw the woman drunken ^kwith the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the martyrs of Jesus: and when I saw her, I wondered with great ^ladmiration.

7 And the ^mangel said unto me, Wherefore didst thou marvel? I will tell thee the ⁿmystery of the woman, and of the beast that carrieth her, which hath the seven heads and ten horns.

The last form of Gentile world-power.

8 The beast that thou sawest was, and is not; and ^oshall ascend out of the ^pbottomless pit, and go into perdition: and they that dwell on the earth ^qshall wonder, whose names were not written in the book of ^rlife from the foundation of the ^sworld, when they behold the beast ^tthat was, and is not, and ^uyet is.

9 And ¹there is the mind which hath wisdom. ²The seven heads are seven mountains, on which the woman sitteth.

10 And there are seven ³kings: five are fallen, and one is, and the other is not yet come; and when he cometh, he must ⁴continue a short space.

11 And the ⁵beast that was, and is not, even he is the eighth, and is of the seven, and goeth into perdition.

12 And the ten horns which thou sawest are ten kings, which have received no kingdom as yet; but receive ⁶power as kings one hour with the beast.

13 These have one mind, and shall give their power and ⁷strength unto the beast.

14 These shall make ⁸war with the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them: for he is ⁹Lord of lords, and King of kings: and they that are with him are called, and ¹⁰chosen, and faithful.

15 And he saith unto me, The ¹¹waters which thou sawest, where the ¹²whore sitteth, are peoples, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues.

16 And the ten horns which thou sawest ¹³upon the beast, these shall ¹⁴hate the whore, and shall make her desolate and naked, and shall eat her flesh, and ¹⁵burn her with fire.

18 And the woman which thou sawest is ¹⁷that great city, which reigneth over the kings of the earth.

CHAPTER 18.

The last form of apostate Christendom: the warning to God's people.

AND after these things I saw another ¹angel come down from heaven, having great ²power; and the earth was lightened with his glory.

2 And he cried mightily with a strong voice, saying, ³Babylon the ¹ Babylon, "confusion," is repeatedly used by the prophets in a symbolic sense (see Isa. 13. 1, note). Two "Babylons" are to be distinguished in the Revelation: ecclesiastical Babylon, which is apostate Christendom, headed up under the Papacy; and political Babylon, which is the Beast's confederated empire, the last form of Gentile world-dominion. Ecclesiastical Babylon is "the great whore" (Rev. 17. 1), and is destroyed by political Babylon (Rev. 17. 15-18), that the beast may be the alone object of worship (2 Thes. 2. 3, 4; Rev. 13. 15). The power of political Babylon is destroyed by the return of the Lord in glory. (See "Armageddon," Rev. 16.

14; 19. 17.) The notion of a literal Babylon to be rebuilt on the site of ancient Babylon is in conflict with Isa. 13. 19-22. But the language of Rev. 18. (e.g. vs. 10, 16, 18) seems beyond question to identify "Babylon," the "city" of luxury and traffic, with "Babylon" the ecclesiastical centre, viz. Rome. The very kings who hate ecclesiastical Babylon deplore the destruction of commercial Babylon.

AND after these things I heard a great voice of much people in heaven, saying, Alleluia; Salvation, and glory, and honour, and power, unto the Lord our God:

2 For true and righteous are his judgments: for he hath judged the great whore, which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and hath avenged the blood of his servants at her hand.

3 And again they said, Alleluia. And her smoke rose up for ever and ever.

4 And the four and twenty elders and the four beasts fell down and worshipped God that sat on the throne, saying, Amen; Alleluia.

5 And a voice came out of the throne, saying, Praise our God, all ye his servants, and ye that fear him, both small and great.

6 And I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunders, saying, Alleluia: for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth.

9 And he saith unto me, Write, Blessed are they which are called unto the marriage supper of the Lamb. And he saith unto me, These are the true sayings of God.

10 And I fell at his feet to worship him. And he said unto me, See thou do it not: I am thy fellow-servant, and of thy brethren that have the testimony of Jesus: worship God: for the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.

The second coming of Christ in glory. (Cf. Mt. 24. 16-30.)

11 And I saw heaven opened, and behold a white horse; and he that sat upon him was called Faithful and True, and in righteousness he doth judge and make war.

12 His eyes were as a flame of fire, and on his head were many crowns; and he had a name written, that no man knew, but he himself.

13 And he was clothed with a vesture dipped in blood: and his name is called The Word of God.

14 And the armies which were in heaven followed him upon white horses, clothed in fine linen, white and clean.

15 And out of his mouth goeth a sharp sword, that with it he should smite the nations: and he shall rule them with a rod of iron: and he treadeth the winepress of the fierceness and wrath of Almighty God.

16 And he hath on his vesture and on his thigh a name written, KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS.

¹ The "Lamb's wife" here is the "bride" (Rev. 21. 9), the Church, identified with the "heavenly Jerusalem" (Heb. 12. 22, 23), and to be distinguished from Israel, the adulterous and repudiated "wife" of Jehovah, yet to be restored (Isa. 54. 1-10; Hos. 2. 1-17), who is identified with the earth (Hos. 2. 23). A forgiven and restored wife could not be called either a virgin (2 Cor. 11. 2, 3), or a bride.

² The garment in Scripture is a symbol of righteousness. In the bad ethical sense it symbolizes self-righteousness (e.g. Isa. 64. 6; see Phil. 3. 6-8, the best that a moral and religious man under law could do). In the good ethical sense the garment symbolizes "the righteousness of God . . . upon all them that believe." See Rom. 3. 21, note.

³ The vision is of the departure from heaven of Christ and the saints and angels preparatory to the catastrophe in which Gentile world-power, headed up in the Beast, is smitten by the "stone cut out without hands" (Dan. 2. 34, 35).

⁴ Armageddon (the ancient hill and valley of Megiddo, west of Jordan in the plain of Jezreel) is the appointed place for the beginning of the great battle in which the Satan bound in the abyss during the kingdom-age.

AND I saw an angel come down from heaven, having the key of the bottomless pit and a great chain in his hand.

2 And he laid hold on the dragon, that old serpent, which is the Devil, and Satan, and bound him a thousand years,

3 And cast him into the bottomless pit, and shut him up, and set a seal upon him, that he should deceive the nations no more, till the thousand years should be fulfilled: and after that he must be loosed a little season.

The first resurrection (1 Cor. 15:52, note), and the kingdom-age.

4 And I saw thrones, and they sat upon them, and judgment was given unto them: and I saw the souls of Lord, at His coming in glory, will deliver the Jewish remnant besieged by the Gentile world-powers under the Beast and False Prophet (Rev. 16: 13-16; Zech. 12: 1-9). Apparently the besieging hosts, whose approach to Jerusalem is described in Isa. 10: 28-32, alarmed by the signs which precede the Lord's coming (Mt. 24: 29, 30), have fallen back to Megiddo, after the events of Zech. 14: 2, where their destruction begins; a destruction consummated in Moab and the plains of Idumea (Isa. 63: 1-6). This battle is the first event in "the day of Jehovah" (Isa. 2: 12, refs.), and is the fulfilment of the smiting-stone prophecy of Dan. 2: 35.

The day of Jehovah (called, also, "that day," and "the great day") is that lengthened period of time beginning with the return of the Lord in glory, and ending with the purgation of the heavens and the earth by fire preparatory to the new heavens and the new earth (Isa. 65: 17-19; 66: 22; 2 Pet. 3: 13; Rev. 21: 1). The order of events appears to be: (1) The return of the Lord in glory (Mt. 24: 29, 30); (2) the destruction of the Beast and his host, "the kings of the earth and their armies," and the false prophet, which is the "great and terrible" aspect of the day (Rev. 19: 11-21); (3) the judgment of the nations (Zech. 14: 1-9; Mt. 25: 31-46); (4) the thousand years, i.e. the kingdom-age (Rev. 20: 4-6); (5) the Satanic revolt and its end (Rev. 20: 7-10); (6) the second resurrection and final judgment (Rev. 20: 11-15); and (7) the "day of God," earth purged by fire (2 Pet. 3: 10-13).

The day of the LORD is preceded by seven signs: (1) The sending of Elijah (Mal. 4: 5; Rev. 11: 3-6); (2) cosmical disturbances (Joel 2: 1-12; Mt. 24: 29; Acts 2: 19, 20; Rev. 6: 12-17); (3) the insensibility of the professing church (1 Thes. 5: 1-3); (4) the apostasy of the professing church, then become "Laodicea" (2 Thes. 2: 3); (5) the rapture of the true church (1 Thes. 4: 17); (6) the manifestation of the "man of sin," the Beast (2 Thes. 2: 1-8); (7) the apocalyptic judgments (Rev. 11-18.).

The Beast, Summary: This "Beast" is the "little horn" of Dan. 7: 24-26, and "desolator" of Dan. 9: 27; the "abomination of desolation" of Mt. 24: 15; the "man of sin" of 2 Thes. 2: 4-8; earth's last and most awful tyrant, Satan's fell instrument of wrath and hatred against God and the Jewish saints. He is, perhaps, identical with the rider on the white horse of Rev. 6: 2, who begins by the peaceful conquest of three of the ten kingdoms into which the former Roman empire will then be divided, but who soon establishes the ecclesiastical and governmental tyranny described in Dan. 7: 9, 11; Rev. 13. To him Satan gives the power which he offered to Christ (Mt. 4: 8, 9; Rev. 13: 4). See "The great tribulation," Psalms 2: 5; Rev. 7: 14, note.

them that were beheaded for the witness of Jesus, and for the word of God, and which had not ^bworshipped the beast, neither his image, neither had received his mark upon their foreheads, or in their hands; and they lived and reigned with Christ a thousand years.

5 But the rest of the dead lived not again until the thousand years were finished. This is the first ^dresurrection.

6 Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: on such the second death hath no power, but they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand years.

¹ The "resurrection of the just" is mentioned in Lk. 14. 13, 14, and the resurrection of "life" distinguished from the "resurrection unto damnation" in John 5. 29. We here learn for the first time what interval of time separates these two resurrections. See 1 Cor. 15. 52, note.

² Satan, Summary: This fearful being, apparently created one of the cherubim (Ezk. 1. 5, note; 28. 12-14, note) and anointed for a position of great authority, perhaps over the primitive creation (Gen. 1. 2, note 3; Ezk. 28. 11-15), fell through pride (Isa. 14. 12-14). His "I will" (Isa. 14. 13) marks the introduction of sin into the universe. Cast out of heaven (Lk. 10. 18), he makes earth and air the scene of his tireless activity (Eph. 2. 2; 1 Pet. 5. 8). After the creation of man he entered into the serpent (Gen. 3. 1, note), and, beguiling Eve by his subtlety, secured the downfall of Adam and through him of the race, and the entrance of sin into the world of men (Rom. 5. 12-14). The Adamic Covenant (Gen. 3. 14-19, note) promised the ultimate destruction of Satan through the "Seed of the woman." Then began his long warfare against the work of God in behalf of humanity, which still continues. The present world-system (Rev. 13. 8), organized upon the principles of force, greed, selfishness, ambition, and sinful pleasure, is his work and was the bribe which he offered to Christ (Mt. 4. 8, 9). Of that world-system he is prince (John 14. 30; 16. 11), and god (2 Cor. 4. 4). As "prince of the power of the air" (Eph. 2. 2) he is at the head of a vast host of demons (Mt. 7. 22, note). To him, under God, was committed upon earth the power of death (Heb. 2. 14). Cast out of heaven as his proper sphere and "first estate," he still has access to God as the "accuser of the brethren" (Rev. 12. 10), and is permitted a certain power of sifting or testing the self-confident and carnal among believers (Job 1. 6-11; Lk. 22. 31, 32; 1 Cor. 5. 5; 1 Tim. 1. 20), but this is a strictly permissive and limited power, and believers so sifted are kept in faith through the advocacy of Christ (Lk. 22. 31, 32; 1 John 2. 1, note). At the beginning of the great tribulation Satan's privilege of access to God as accuser will be withdrawn (Rev. 12. 7-12). At the return of Christ in glory Satan will be bound for one thousand years (Rev. 20. 2); after which he will be "loosed for a little season" (Rev. 20. 3, 7, 8), and will become the head of a final effort to overthrow the kingdom. Defeated in this, he will be finally cast into the lake of fire, his final doom. The notion that he reigns in hell is Miltonic, not biblical. He is prince of this present world-system, but will be tormented in the lake of fire.

³ The expressions, "the judgment," or, "day of judgment," as the passages and their contexts show, refer to the final judgment of Rev. 20. 11-15.

⁴ The "day of destruction" is that aspect of the day of Jehovah (Isa. 2. 12; Rev. 19. 19, Summary) which visits final and eternal judgment upon the wicked. Three such "days" are included in the "day" of Jehovah, and are described in the references beginning with Isa. 34. 1-9. (See Mt. 25. 32, note; Rev. 20. 11, refs.)

¹ The final judgment. The subjects are the "dead." As the redeemed were raised from among the dead one thousand years before (v. 5), and have been in glory with Christ during that period, the "dead" can only be the wicked dead, from the beginning to the setting up of the great white throne in space. As there are degrees in punishment (Lk. 12. 47, 48), the dead are judged according to their works. The book of life is there to answer such as plead their works for justification, e.g. Mt. 7. 22, 23; an awful blank where the name might have been.

The Judgments, Summary: Among the many judgments mentioned in Scripture, seven are invested with especial significance. These are: (1) The judgment of the believers' sins in the cross of Christ (John 12. 31, note); (2) the believers' self-judgment (1 Cor. 11. 31, note); (3) the judgment of the believers' works (2 Cor. 5. 10, note); (4) the judgment of the nations at the return of Christ (Mt. 25. 32, note); (5) the judgment of Israel at the return of Christ (Ezk. 20. 37, note); (6) the judgment of angels after the one thousand years (Jude 6, note); and (7) the judgment of the wicked dead with which the history of the present earth ends.

² Second death, Summary: "The second death" and the "lake of fire" are identical terms (Rev. 20. 14) and are used of the eternal state of the wicked. It is "second" relatively to the preceding physical death of the wicked in unbelief and rejection of God; their eternal state is one of eternal "death" (i.e. separation from God) in sins (John 8. 21, 24). That the second death is not annihilation is shown by a comparison of Rev. 19. 20 with Rev. 20. 10. After one thousand years in the lake of fire the Beast and False Prophet are still there, undestroyed. The words her light was like unto a stone most precious, even like a jasper stone, clear as crystal;

12 And had a wall great and high, and had twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels, and names written thereon, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Israel:

13 On the east three gates; on the north three gates; on the south three gates; and on the west three gates.

14 And the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and in them the names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.

15 And he that talked with me had a golden reed to measure the city, and the gates thereof, and the wall thereof.

16 And the city lieth foursquare, and the length is as large as the breadth: and he measured the city with the reed, twelve thousand furlongs. The length and the breadth and the height of it are equal.

17 And he measured the wall thereof, an hundred and forty and four cubits, according to the measure of a man, that is, of the angel.

18 And the building of the wall of it was of jasper: and the city was pure gold, like unto clear glass.

19 And the foundations of the wall of the city were garnished with all manner of precious stones. The first foundation was jasper; the second, sapphire; the third, a chalcedony; the fourth, an emerald;

20 The fifth, sardonyx; the sixth, sardius; the seventh, chrysolite; the eighth, beryl; the ninth, a topaz; the tenth, a chrysoprasus; the eleventh, a jacinth; the twelfth, an amethyst.

21 And the twelve gates were twelve pearls; every several gate was of one pearl: and the street of the city was pure gold, as it were transparent glass.

(5) The new temple.

22 And I saw no temple therein: for the Lord God Almighty and the Lamb are the temple of it.

(6) The new light.

23 And the city had no need of the sun, neither of the moon, to shine in it: for the glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof.

24 And the nations of them which are saved shall walk in the light of it: and the kings of the earth do bring their glory and honour into it.

The last message of the Bible.

8 And I John saw these things, and heard them. And when I had heard and seen, I fell down to worship before the feet of the angel which shewed me these things.

9 Then saith he unto me, See thou do it not: for I am thy fellow-servant, and of thy brethren the prophets, and of them which keep the sayings of this book: worship God.

10 And he saith unto me, Seal not the sayings of the prophecy of this book: for the time is at hand.

11 He that is unjust, let him be "forever and forever" ("to the ages of the ages") are used in Heb. 1. 8 for the duration of the throne of God, eternal in the sense of unending.

unjust still: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he that is righteous, let him be 'righteous still: and he that is ²holy, let him be holy still.

12 And, behold, I ^acome quickly; and my ^areward is with me, to give every man ^aaccording as his work shall be.

13 I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end, the first and the last.

14 Blessed are they that ^ado his commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city.

15 For without are dogs, and sorcerers, and whoremongers, and murderers, and idolaters, and whosoever loveth and maketh a lie.

16 I Jesus have sent mine angel to testify unto you these things in the churches. I am the root and the offspring of David, and the bright and morning star.

18 ^aFor I testify unto every man that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book, If any man shall add unto these things, God shall add unto him the plagues that are written in this book:

19 And if any man shall take away from the ^awords of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part out of the ^abook of ^alife, and out of the holy city, and from the things which are written in this book.

20 He which testifieth these things saith, Surely ^aI come quickly.

^aAmen. Even so, come, Lord Jesus.

¹ See definitions O.T. righteousness (Lk. 2. 25); N.T. righteousness (Rom. 3. 21, note; 10. 10); righteous living (1 John 3. 7); self-righteousness (Rom. 10. 3).

² Sanctification, holiness, Summary: (1) In both Testaments the same Hebrew and Greek words are rendered by the English words "sanctify" and "holy," in their various grammatical forms. The one uniform meaning is, "to set apart for God." (2) In both Testaments the words are used of things and of persons. (3) When used of things no moral quality is implied; they are sanctified or made holy because set apart for God.

(4) Sanctification when used of persons has a threefold meaning. (a) In position, believers are eternally set apart for God by redemption, "through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once" (Heb. 10. 9, 10). Positionally, therefore, believers are "saints" and "holy" from the moment of believing (Phil. 1. 1; Heb. 3. 1). (b) In experience, the believer is being sanctified by the work of the Holy Spirit through the Scriptures (John 17. 17; 2 Cor. 3. 18; Eph. 5. 25, 26; 1 Thes. 5. 23, 24). (c) In consummation, the believer's complete sanctification awaits the appearing of the Lord (Eph. 5. 27; 1 John 3. 2). See "Salvation," Rom. 1. 16, note.

³ Inspiration: Summary. The testimony of the Bible to itself.

(1) The writers affirm, where they speak of the subject at all, that they speak by direct divine authority. (2) They invariably testify that the words, and not the ideas merely, are inspired. The most important passage is 1 Cor. 2. 7-15, which see. (3) The whole attitude of Jesus Christ toward the Old Testament, as disclosed in His words, both before His death and after His resurrection, confirms its truth and divine origin, and He explicitly ascribes the Pentateuch to Moses. (4) In promising subsequent revelations after the predicted advent of the Spirit (John 16. 12-15), our Lord prepared the way for the New Testament. (5) The writers of the New Testament invariably treat the Old Testament as authoritative and inspired. See 2 Pet. 1. 19, note; 1 Cor. 2. 13, note.

⁴ Eternal life, Summary of the teaching:

(1) The life is called "eternal" because it was from the eternity which is past unto the eternity which is to come—it is the life of God revealed in Jesus Christ, who is God (John 1. 4; 5. 26; 1 John 1. 1, 2). (2) This life of God, which was revealed in Christ, is imparted in a new birth by the Holy Spirit, acting upon the word of God, to every believer on the Lord Jesus Christ (John 3. 3-15). (3) The life thus imparted is not a new life except in the sense of human possession; it is still "that which was from the beginning." But the recipient is a "new creation" (2 Cor. 5. 17; Gal. 6. 15). (4) The life of God which is in the believer is an unsevered part of the life which eternally was, and eternally is, in Christ Jesus—one life, in Him and in the believer. Vine and branches; Head and members (1 Cor. 6. 17; Gal. 2. 20; Col. 1. 27; 3. 3, 4; 1 John 5. 11, 12; John 15. 1-5; 1 Cor. 12. 12-14).

THE END

THE USE OF THE INDEX;

Its Value to the Preacher, Sunday School Teacher, Evangelist, Christian Worker.

THE Index covers all of the editorial matter in the Scofield Reference Bible except the Introductions to the Books and the running Analysis which constitutes the new system of paragraphing, and which has been one of the most acceptable features of this Bible.

In arranging the Index the Editor, who is himself a preacher, has had largely in view the helping of preachers to sermonic material. Experience had taught him the need and the best way to meet the need.

These main features are prominent:—

(1) The suggestion of a theme. The demands upon the time of the modern minister are so various as to leave the mind, often, in some measure of distraction when the time comes for preparing the two inevitable sermons for the Lord's day.

It will be found that simply to go over the Index thoughtfully will afford a wealth of suggestion for topical, expository, and thematic sermons, from which the preacher may choose.

(2) The editorial notation to which the Index gives reference will often be found to suggest at once the logical and biblical outline which a sermon on that theme should follow, while the passages referred to in the note or summary will give both the background and a wealth of biblical illustration.

(3) But perhaps the best service of the Index to the Bible preacher is in the suggestion of series of sermons on the great themes of Scripture.

The experience of the great constructive ministers is conclusive that no other form of teaching so permanently interests congregations. They soon come to feel that they are "getting somewhere."

Take, for example, the central theme of the Bible—Christ. The Index will be found to refer to one hundred and thirty-four distinct lines of truth concerning Christ. From these may be selected series of sermon subjects which will enable the preacher to give connected studies of that supreme Person once a year through many years without repetition. And this is true of the Holy Spirit, as also of all the great words of the Bible.

And not the preacher only, but the Sunday School teacher, or Evangelist—indeed any Christian worker, will find the Index the open door to the mighty riches of the Bible.
